FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

This Prospectus contains certain “forward-looking statements”. These forward-looking statements include statements which can generally be identified by words or phrases such as “aim”, “anticipate”, “believe”, “expect”, “estimate”, “intend”, “likely to”, “objective”, “plan”, “propose”, “project”, “will”, “will continue”, “seek to”, “strive to”, “achieve”, “will pursue”, or other words or phrases of similar import. Similarly, statements that describe our Company’s strategies, objectives, plans or goals are also forward-looking statements. However, these are not the exclusive means of identifying forward-looking statements.

These forward-looking statements, whether made by us or a third-party, are based on our current plans, estimates, presumptions and expectations and actual results may differ materially from those suggested by such forward-looking statements. All forward-looking statements are subject to risks, uncertainties and assumptions about us that could cause actual results to differ materially from those contemplated by the relevant forward-looking statement.

This may be due to risks or uncertainties or assumptions associated with the expectations with respect to, but not limited to, regulatory changes pertaining to the industry in which our Company operates and our ability to respond to them, our ability to successfully implement our strategy, our growth and expansion, technological changes, our exposure to market risks, general economic and political conditions in India which have an impact on our business activities or investments, the monetary and fiscal policies of India, inflation, deflation, unanticipated turbulence in interest rates, foreign exchange rates, equity prices or other rates or prices, the performance of the financial markets in India and globally, changes in domestic laws, regulations and taxes, changes in competition in the industry and incidence of any natural calamities and/or acts of violence. Important factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from our Company’s expectations include, but are not limited to, the following:

1. We primarily conduct our business through our two online platforms ‘Augmont SPOT’ and ‘Augmont Gold For All’, which are owned and operated by us, and any significant disruptions in our information technology systems or breaches of data security could adversely affect our business and reputation.
2. Volatility in the market price of gold and silver affects the demand for our products and the valuation of our inventory, and such volatility may adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.
3. We derive a substantial portion of our revenues from enterprise sales through our ‘Augmont SPOT’ platform and international sales (representing 92.90%, 95.72% and 95.88% of our revenue from operations for Fiscals 2026, 2025 and 2024, respectively) and any decline in revenues generated from this business could adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.
4. Our business is dependent on the continuous and cost-effective procurement of gold and silver bullion. The countries or regions we currently import bullion from, may become subject to sanctions, import duties or export controls and our inability to procure sufficient quantities of bullion may have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.
5. We have issued Equity Shares during the preceding 12 months at prices that may be lower than the Offer Price.
6. We depend on our price discovery capabilities to set competitive benchmark prices for gold and silver products and inaccuracies in pricing our products or disruptions in the technology driving it, could have an adverse effect on our business and reputation.
7. We depend on certain key customers for a significant portion of our revenues with our top 10 customers accounting for 52.09%, 35.72% and 36.63%, of our revenue from operations for Fiscals 2026, 2025 and 2024, respectively. We do not execute any long-term agreements with any of our customers. Consequently, any inability to procure new orders on a regular basis or our inability to diversify our customer base could have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.
8. We are exposed to risks associated with our hedging activities, and any failure in our hedging strategy or execution may adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.
9. We cannot access debt financing to finance our working capital requirements. INTERNAL RISK FACTORS

- We primarily conduct our business through our two online platforms ‘Augmont SPOT’ and ‘Augmont Gold For All’, which are owned and operated by us, and any significant disruptions in our information technology systems or breaches of data security could adversely affect our business and reputation.

We primarily conduct our business through our two online platforms ‘Augmont SPOT’ and ‘Augmont Gold For All’ which are owned and operated by us. Our ‘Augmont SPOT’ platform enables businesses such as jewellers, bullion dealers and manufacturers with valid GST registrations to purchase gold and silver bars online with assured physical delivery. Further, our ‘Augmont Gold For All’ platform enables consumers to buy, sell and store gold and silver digitally; purchase gold through systematic investment plans; liquidate and sell their old gold; and purchase jewellery starting from 1 gm. If we fail to integrate our platforms with a variety of operating systems, and certain software applications and hardware that are developed by others, our services may become less marketable and less competitive or obsolete, and our operating results may be adversely impacted.

Particulars	Fiscal 2026		Fiscal 2025		Fiscal 2024
	Amount (₹ million)	As a percentage of revenue from operations (%)	Amount (₹ million)	As a percentage of revenue from operations (%)	Amount (₹ million)	As a percentage of revenue from operations (%)
Augmont SPOT	817,505.69	86.80%	553,397.69	83.56%	318,389.03	91.17%
Augmont Gold For All	30,120.51	3.20%	11,834.87	1.79%	6,389.65	1.83%
Total	847,626.20	90.00%	565,232.56	85.34%	324,778.68	93.00%

While we have security and continuity frameworks in place which are governed through our business continuity plan and disaster recovery plan, any failure or disruption in the performance of these platforms, whether due to system malfunctions, cyber-attacks, data breaches, or other unforeseen events, could interrupt our operations and adversely impact our ability to serve our customers. Any data security breaches or compromises of technology systems could result in institution of legal proceedings against us and potential imposition of penalties, which may have an adverse effect on our business and reputation. We cannot assure you that our existing privacy and personal protection systems and technical measures, such as web application firewalls, anti-bot software, automated throttling and IP reputation checks, will be considered sufficient under applicable laws and regulations. We also cannot assure you that we will be able to prevent all attempts of hacking, leakage and/or unauthorized disclosures of service professionals’ or consumers’ data. Our platforms also rely on artificial intelligence (“AI”) and machine learning tools for pricing and personalization, which may introduce risks of algorithmic errors or bias.

We rely on third-party payment gateways and other digital channels to process transactions. Any technical failure, settlement delay, charge-back fraud, phishing attack, SIM-swap fraud, or compromise of communications channels could disrupt collections, erode customer trust and result in financial losses. As we expand our customer base, transaction volumes, and product offerings, we may need to make frequent upgrades to our software architecture, data processing systems, cybersecurity protocols, and user interfaces. Any failure to effectively manage these upgrades, whether due to delays in implementation, software bugs, system incompatibilities, or inadequate testing, could result in service disruptions, transaction errors, or degraded user experience. Such issues may lead to customer dissatisfaction, reputational damage, and potential financial or legal liabilities. Moreover, if our systems are not upgraded in a timely manner to reflect changes in regulatory requirements, such as those related to data protection, KYC/AML compliance, or financial reporting, we may be exposed to penalties, audits, or restrictions on our operations.

While we have not faced any of the abovementioned instances in the past three Fiscals, we cannot assure you that such instances will not occur in the future. The occurrence of such events may adversely affect our business, results of operations and cash flows and our insurance coverage may not be adequate to cover all the costs related to such attacks or disruptions resulting from such events.

2. Volatility in the market price of gold and silver affects the demand for our products and the valuation of our inventory, and such volatility may adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

Our business is significantly exposed to fluctuations in the market prices of gold and silver, which are influenced by a wide range of global and domestic factors including macroeconomic conditions, interest rates, inflation expectations, currency movements, geopolitical developments, and changes in investor sentiment. Since we are engaged in the procurement, refining, and trading of gold and silver bullion and jewellery, any volatility in the prices of these precious metals can materially impact both, the demand for our products and the valuation of our inventory. The table below sets forth details of prices of gold and silver as of the dates indicated:

	2026	2025	2024*
Price of gold per gram ^ (₹)	999/15,085.30	999/8,916.00	999/6,866.00
Price of silver per kilo^ (₹)	999/239,836	999/100,892.00	999/75,111.00

^{}Rates mentioned as of April 1, 2026 as March 31, 2026 was a public holiday

When gold and silver prices rise sharply, consumer demand, particularly for jewellery and discretionary purchases, may decline due to affordability concerns. Conversely, during periods of falling prices, customers may delay purchases in anticipation of further declines, which can lead to reduced transaction volumes on our platforms and lower sales across our product lines. In addition to affecting demand, price volatility also impacts the valuation of our bullion and jewellery inventory. While we generally do not maintain large bullion inventories in the ordinary course of business, we are required to hold gold and silver for longer periods due to production cycles in certain operations, such as refining and jewellery manufacturing. During such periods, adverse movements in prices may result in mark-to-market losses or inventory write-downs, which could negatively affect our profitability and financial condition. In falling market conditions, customers holding digital gold may choose to redeem their holdings in large volumes, either through physical delivery or cash settlement. Such redemptions tend to coincide with periods when the value of our underlying inventory is depreciating, thereby compounding liquidity pressures. This may compel us to liquidate physical inventory or arrange cash outflows at a time when market realizations are unfavourable, potentially resulting in financial losses.

Further, the imposition of tariffs by the US government under its “Fair and Reciprocal Plan” may impact Indian businesses, especially those with a substantial export presence in the US market. This policy has resulted in the imposition of tariffs across a diverse range of sectors. As a result, Indian exporters may encounter heightened costs and uncertainties, potentially constraining their market competitiveness and profitability. For further information, see “- Political, economic or other factors that are beyond our control may have an adverse effect on our business and results of operations” on page 71. Accordingly, we may be subject to additional or increased tariffs or other trade-restrictive measures which could raise our cost of sales and erode the price competitiveness of our products in the USA, which may have an adverse impact on our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

While we have not faced any significant price volatility or reduction in demand in the past three Fiscals that materially impacted our operations, we cannot assure you that such instances will not occur in the future. Any sustained or extreme volatility in gold and silver prices could therefore have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations, financial condition, and cash flows.

3. We derive a substantial portion of our revenues from enterprise sales through our ‘Augmont SPOT’ platform and international sales (representing 92.90%, 95.72% and 95.88% of our revenue from operations for Fiscals 2026, 2025 and 2024, respectively) and any decline in revenues generated from this business could adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

We derive a substantial portion of our revenues from our enterprise sales business. We conduct our enterprise sales business through our ‘Augmont SPOT’ platform which enables businesses such as jewellers, bullion dealers and manufacturers with valid GST registrations to purchase gold and silver bars online with assured physical delivery, and through international sales. The table below sets forth revenue generated by us from enterprise sales for the years indicated:

Particulars	Fiscal 2026		Fiscal 2025		Fiscal 2024
	Amount (₹ million)	As a percentage of revenue from operations (%)	Amount (₹ million)	As a percentage of revenue from operations (%)	Amount (₹ million)	As a percentage of revenue from operations (%)
Revenue generated on the 'Augmont SPOT' platform	817,505.69	86.80%	553,397.69	83.56%	318,389.03	91.17%
Revenue from our international sales business	57,014.86	6.05%	80,521.67	12.16%	16,309.84	4.67%
Revenue from other sales	469.21	0.05%	38.88	0.01%	121.41	0.03%
Total	874,989.76	92.90%	633,958.24	95.72%	334,820.28	95.88%

This high concentration exposes us to significant risks. Any decline in the demand for gold and silver bullion or jewellery, whether due to changes in consumer preferences, macroeconomic conditions, regulatory developments, or shifts in investment behaviour, could adversely affect our business, results of operations, and financial condition.

Gold and silver prices in India are influenced by several interrelated international and domestic factors. The international drivers include global gold and silver prices such as gold prices set by the LBMA, international supply and demand trends, international logistics and freight rates, the US dollar volatility index, and volatility in alternative gold or silver assets. Whereas, the domestic factors that affect gold and silver prices include disparity between domestic and international gold and silver prices, domestic supply and demand fluctuations, the Indian Rupee to US Dollar exchange rate, premiums charged by banks, applicable central and local taxes. (Source: Technopak Report) A sustained decline in gold prices or a shift in consumer or investor preference away from precious metals could reduce the attractiveness of our products. Further, a sharp or sustained increase in prices of gold and silver may also adversely affect our business. Elevated prices may lead to reduced consumer affordability, particularly in the jewellery segment, and may result in lower transaction volumes across our platforms. In the international markets, macroeconomic factors such as fluctuations in gold lease rates, changes in international premiums, and shifts in global demand for gold and silver products, including export jewellery, may impact our pricing strategies and margins. A reduction in export margins due to increased input costs or changes in customer preferences in key overseas markets could adversely affect our profitability. A sustained or sharp decline in customer demand, whether triggered by macro-economic slowdowns, regulatory tightening, or shifts in consumer preferences, could result in excess inventory which could expose us to volatile price risk and lock up significant working capital, increase inventory-carrying costs and potentially necessitate write-downs, thereby straining liquidity and amplifying financing requirements. Additionally, volatility in international pricing benchmarks may impair our ability to competitively price our offerings, potentially leading to a loss of market share. Any such developments could have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

In addition, the jewellery business is highly sensitive to seasonal trends, cultural factors, and discretionary spending patterns. Any downturn in consumer spending, particularly during key festive or wedding seasons, could lead to reduced sales volumes. Further, the increasing popularity of alternative materials, changing fashion trends, or a shift toward lightweight or minimalist jewellery could impact demand for traditional gold and silver jewellery.

We also face competition from organized and unorganized players in the bullion and jewellery markets, both online and offline. Any inability to differentiate our offerings, maintain competitive pricing, or respond to evolving customer expectations could result in a loss of market share. Moreover, regulatory changes affecting the sale, taxation, or import of bullion and jewellery, such as revisions in taxes, hallmarking requirements, or restrictions on gold holdings, could also impact consumer demand and our ability to operate efficiently. While we have not faced any such instances of decline in revenue generated from the sale of gold and silver bullion and jewellery in the past three Fiscals, we cannot assure you that such instances will not occur in the future. Any failure by us to effectively react to these situations could adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

4. Our business is dependent on the continuous and cost-effective procurement of gold and silver bullion. The countries or regions we currently import bullion from, may become subject to sanctions, import duties or export controls and our inability to procure sufficient quantities of bullion may have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Our business is dependent on the continuous and cost-effective procurement of gold and silver bullion. We source bullion through a combination of domestic and international procurement from nominated Indian and international banks, import of doré bars, and acquisition of scrap metals from retailers and jewellery auctions. We also operate through our Subsidiary, Augmont IFSC Private Limited, in the Gujarat International Finance Tec-City, which enables us to import bullion through the India International Bullion Exchange. These sourcing channels are critical to maintaining the supply chain continuity required to support our operations.

The table below sets forth the breakdown of our bullion procurement from domestic and international markets for the years indicated:

Particulars	Fiscal 2026		Fiscal 2025		Fiscal 2024
	Amount (₹ million)	Percentage of total materials procured (%)	Amount (₹ million)	Percentage of total materials procured (%)	Amount (₹ million)	Percentage of total materials procured (%)
Domestic procurement	766,566.94	81.83%	517,459.37	78.40%	263,045.47	75.77%
International procurement	170,265.36	18.17%	142,591.74	21.60%	84,107.56	24.23%
Total procurement	936,832.30	100.00%	660,051.11	100.00%	347,153.03	100.00%

For information on our domestic and international procurement, see “Our Business - Procurement” on page 250.

Our ability to procure bullion is subject to a wide range of risks and uncertainties. These include volatility in global commodity prices, fluctuations in foreign exchange rates, changes in import duties and tariffs, and evolving regulatory frameworks governing bullion trade. Any adverse changes in these factors could significantly increase our procurement costs or restrict our access to bullion. Additionally, geopolitical tensions, trade restrictions, or sanctions affecting key bullion-exporting countries could disrupt international supply chains and delay shipments. Further, we operate under licenses such as authorisation for import of restricted items issued by the Directorate General of Foreign Trade, Delhi that permit us to procure only a limited quantity of gold and silver bullion, which is typically 10 metric tonnes at once for a Company of our size, during the term of the license which is valid for a period of 18 months from the date of issuance. If we fail to maintain or renew these licenses, or if the permitted limits are reduced, our operations and financial performance could be adversely affected. Any adverse movement in exchange rates, increase in import duties, delays in customs clearance or disruptions in global supply chains could increase our procurement costs or restrict timely availability of bullion, which could adversely affect our margins and operations.

Further, the countries or regions we currently import bullion from, may become subject to sanctions or export controls. Any such sanctions or export controls in the future could trigger fines, supply chain disruptions and reputational harm which may adversely impact our business and results of operations. Further, in the event that our Company is unable to justify that the gold/silver imported by it is sourced ethically, we may be subject to reputational harm and supply chain disruption. For risks associated with the reputation of our Company, see “ - Our inability to maintain or enhance the popularity of our ‘Augmont’ brand may adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition and any negative publicity, customer complaints, or adverse media coverage could also damage our brand reputation and impact customer perception” on page 41.

Further, the Government of India, in May 2026, has recently implemented an increase in import duties on precious metals, from 6% to 15% for gold and silver, by raising the basic customs duty to 10% and agriculture infrastructure and development cess to 5%. The move is aimed at conserving foreign exchange reserves, managing current account pressures, supporting the rupee amid the West Asia crisis. The heightened duties are likely to reduce import volumes, raise our procurement cost, constrain working capital, suppress consumer demand for bulk bullion purchases.

The table below sets forth the geographical breakdown of our imports for the years indicated:

Geography	Fiscal 2026		Fiscal 2025		Fiscal 2024
	Amount (₹ million)	Percentage of total materials procured (%)	Amount (₹ million)	Percentage of total materials procured (%)	Amount (₹ million)	Percentage of total materials procured (%)
United Arab Emirates	52,697.12	5.63%	76,183.55	11.54%	14,712.73	4.24%
South America	16,611.05	1.77%	35,761.68	5.42%	40,423.01	11.64%
Africa	100,957.19	10.78%	30,646.51	4.64%	28,971.82	8.35%
Total	170,265.36	18.17%	142,591.74	21.60%	84,107.56	24.23%

We are also exposed to operational risks such as delays in customs clearance, port congestion, transportation bottlenecks, and disruptions in logistics infrastructure, all of which could impact the timely delivery of bullion. Our reliance on doré bar imports further exposes us to risks related to refining capacity, quality assurance, and compliance with international sourcing standards. For details, please see “ – Refining doré bars involves inherent costs, time delays and risk of metal losses that could adversely affect our operational efficiency, inventory valuation and profitability” on page 51. Domestically, the availability of scrap gold and silver is influenced by consumer behaviour, liquidity in the secondary market, and the frequency of jewellery auctions, which may not always align with our operational requirements.

Certain key suppliers have not provided consent for disclosure of their identities in this Prospectus. Accordingly, their names have been anonymized. While we have disclosed all material information available regarding these suppliers, the inability to identify them may limit investors' ability to fully assess the nature and extent of our supplier relationships or the pedigree of such suppliers.

Additionally, the table below sets forth details of the geographical bifurcation of our suppliers for the top 5 states as of March 31, 2026, from which procurement has been done for Fiscals 2026, 2025 and 2024:

Karnataka	20,733.20	2.70	12,529.77	2.42	6550.03	2.49

Our reliance on key suppliers presents several risks, including potential shortages, increased costs, and reduced control over delivery schedules. Additionally, some suppliers may not have the capacity to handle sudden increases in orders or may prioritize other customers over us. Moreover, the absence of definitive supply agreements with suppliers could further complicate these challenges. Without such agreements, we face the risk of supply shortages. This uncertainty in our supply chain can result in increased costs as we may need to source bullions at higher prices. Additionally, we may not be able to plan and forecast our requirements for bullions accurately, potentially leading to inefficiencies and increased operational risks. Also see “- We have entered into certain transactions with related parties in the past and may continue to do so in the future. These transactions or any future transactions with our related parties could potentially involve conflicts of interest” on page 34.

While we have not faced any instances of inability to procure sufficient quantities of bullion in the past three Fiscals that materially impacted our operations, we cannot assure you that such instances will not occur in the future. Any such instances in the future may adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

5. We have issued Equity Shares during the preceding 12 months at prices that may be lower than the Offer Price.

We have, in the 12 months preceding the filing of this Prospectus, issued Equity Shares at prices that may be lower than the Offer Price. Our Company has issued 294,760 Equity Shares of face value ₹5 each at an issue price of ₹678.51 per Equity Share to Utpal Hemendra Sheth on a private placement basis on August 29, 2025. For further details, see “Capital Structure – Notes to the Capital Structure” on page 108. The price at which our Company has issued the Equity Shares in the past is not indicative of the price at which they will be issued or traded.

6. We depend on our price discovery capabilities to set competitive benchmark prices for gold and silver products and inaccuracies in pricing our products or disruptions in the technology driving it, could have an adverse effect on our business and reputation.

We have developed price discovery capabilities for the gold and silver products that are traded on our Augmont SPOT platform and have established a technology-driven price discovery mechanism that ensures real-time, competitive spot prices. Our pricing engine leverages global and domestic market intelligence, supported by our proprietary technology and risk management systems. For details, see “Our Business – Our Strengths – Scalable technology enabled ecosystem with robust price discovery mechanism” on page 240. Any inaccuracies in our pricing, whether due to data feed errors, algorithmic miscalculations, latency in market updates, or incorrect data inputs or application of pricing logic, could result in mispriced products, contractual or legal liabilities, regulatory scrutiny, financial losses, or arbitrage opportunities that erode our margins. Moreover, such errors could damage our credibility and undermine customer confidence in our platforms. As we scale our operations and expand our offerings, the complexity and sensitivity of our pricing systems will continue to increase. We are also exposed to risks related to system outages, software bugs, cyber-attacks, and third-party data feed disruptions. Any failure in the underlying technology infrastructure, whether due to internal system errors or external threats, could impair our ability to provide accurate and timely pricing, disrupt trading activity, and expose us to legal or regulatory scrutiny. Challenges relating to the revamping or implementation of new IT structures can also subject us to certain errors, disruptions and inefficiencies. Also see, “– We primarily conduct our business through our two online platforms ‘Augmont SPOT’ and ‘Augmont Gold For All’, which are owned and operated by us, and any significant disruptions in our information technology systems or breaches of data security could adversely affect our business and reputation.” on page 26.

While we have not faced any such instances in the past three Fiscals, we cannot assure you that such instances will not occur in the future. Given the centrality of our price discovery capabilities to our business model, any sustained disruption or loss of accuracy in our pricing systems could have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations, financial condition, and reputation.

7. We depend on certain key customers for a significant portion of our revenues with our top 10 customers accounting for 52.09%, 35.72% and 36.63%, of our revenue from operations for Fiscals 2026, 2025 and 2024, respectively. We do not execute any long-term agreements with any of our customers. Consequently, any inability to procure new orders on a regular basis or our inability to diversify our customer base could have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

A significant portion of our revenue from operations is derived from a limited number of key customers. The table below sets forth the breakdown of revenue derived from our top 10 customers and as a percentage of our total revenue from operations for the years indicated:

	Amount (₹ million)	Percentage of revenue from operations (%)	Amount (₹ million)	Percentage of revenue from operations (%)	Amount (₹ million)	Percentage of revenue from operations (%)

Top 10 customers	490,587.21	52.09%	236,572.07	35.72%	127,904.94	36.63%

* Our largest customer for Fiscal 2026 and Fiscal 2025 is Riddisiddhi Bullions Limited, one of the members of our Promoter Group and our Group Company. Further, Riddisiddhi Bullions Limited is also one of our top 5 customers in Fiscal 2024. For further details, see “– We have entered into certain transactions with related parties in the past and may continue to do so in the future. These transactions or any future transactions with our related parties could potentially involve conflicts of interest” on page 34.

This concentration exposes us to the risk of revenue volatility and business disruption in the event that any of these customers reduce their order volumes, delay payments, or terminate their relationship with us. We do not enter into long-term contracts with any of our customers. As a result, there is no assurance that these customers will continue to place orders with us at historical levels, or at all, in the future. Also see “– We have entered into certain transactions with related parties in the past and may continue to do so in the future. These transactions or any future transactions with our related parties could potentially involve conflicts of interest” on page 34. Any adverse change in the financial condition, procurement strategy, or business priorities of one or more of our key customers could impact our revenue and profitability. In addition, the loss of a major customer could result in underutilization of our refining or manufacturing capacities, disruption in our supply chain planning, and increased working capital requirements due to unsold inventory. While we have not experienced any loss of key customers in the past three Fiscals, we cannot assure you that such instances will not occur in the future.

The growth and performance in the business of our key customers also impact our business and profitability. Our revenues are dependent on the sale of products and/ or services by our customers to their end customers. We rely on the success of our customers in marketing and selling of these products/ services and therefore any negative impact on their reputation may also have an adverse effect on our business and operations. Accordingly, risks that could seriously harm our key customers could harm us as well, including, recession in the geography or industry in which our key customers operate their businesses, strikes, natural calamities, fire and other such incidents at our customer's facilities leading to shutdown of their facilities, our key customers' inability to effectively manage their operations or changes in laws and policies affecting our customers to operate profitably. While we have not faced losses due to adverse performance of any of our key customers during Fiscals 2026, 2025 and 2024 that led to any material adverse impact on our business and operations, there can be no assurance that these instances will not occur in the future.

8. We are exposed to risks associated with our hedging activities, and any failure in our hedging strategy or execution may adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

We engage in hedging activities to mitigate the impact of price volatility in precious metals. We typically utilise the margin funds held by us to furnish the margin requirements for our hedging activities with recognized commodity exchanges and banks. While these strategies are intended to reduce risk, they may not always be effective. Inadequate or improperly structured hedging mechanisms, errors in execution, or adverse movements in market prices may result in significant financial losses. Our hedging operations are also subject to counterparty and systemic risks associated with the exchanges or platforms through which such transactions are executed. In the event of default, insolvency, or operational failure of any counterparty or exchange, we may be unable to recover our positions or may incur substantial losses. Such events could adversely affect our financial condition, results of operations, and cash flows. Further, any regulatory changes affecting the hedging instruments or platforms we rely on may limit our ability to manage price risks effectively. Although we did not face any significant failure in our hedging strategy or execution during the past three Fiscals, we cannot guarantee that such incidents will not occur in the future.

Further, we do not intend to utilize the Net Proceeds earmarked towards funding future working capital requirements for margin requirements towards hedging activities with recognized commodity exchanges.

9. We cannot access debt financing to finance our working capital requirements. If we are unable to access adequate and cost-effective funding in a timely manner due to these restrictions, it may have an adverse effect on our business operations, liquidity position and overall financial performance.

The Reserve Bank of India (“RBI”) has, through various circulars and directions issued over the years, restricted banks and NBFCs from granting loans or financing for the purchase of gold in any form.

- In the past, RBI had, through its circular DBOD. No. Dir.BC.57/13.03.00/2012-13 dated November 19, 2012, prohibited scheduled commercial banks notified under Schedule I of The Reserve Bank of India Act, 1934, from granting advances for the purpose of purchasing gold in any form, including primary gold, gold bullion, gold jewellery, gold coins, units of gold exchange traded funds (“ETFs”) and gold mutual funds, other than providing finance for genuine working capital requirements of jewellers.
- The Master Direction – Reserve Bank of India (Non-Banking Financial Company – Credit Facilities) Directions, 2025, issued by the RBI, prohibit NBFCs from granting any advance for purchase of gold in any form including primary gold, gold bullion, gold jewellery, gold coins, units of exchange traded funds and units of gold mutual funds.
- The Reserve Bank of India (Commercial Banks – Credit Facilities) Directions, 2025, Reserve Bank of India (Small Finance Banks – Credit Facilities) Directions, 2025, Reserve Bank of India (Local Area Banks – Credit Facilities) Directions, 2025, Reserve Bank of India (Regional Rural Banks – Credit Facilities) Directions, 2025, Reserve Bank of India (Urban Co-operative Banks – Credit Facilities) Directions, 2025, Reserve Bank of India (Rural Cooperative Banks – Credit Facilities) Directions, 2025 prohibit commercial banks, (small finance banks, local area banks, regional rural banks, urban co-operative banks and rural co-operative banks) from granting any advances or loan for the purpose of purchasing gold in any form, including primary gold, ornaments, gold jewellery, gold coins, or for purchase of financial assets backed by gold such as units of gold ETFs and units of gold mutual funds. However, commercial banks, urban co-operative banks (Tier 3 and Tier 4), regional rural banks, and small finance banks may extend need-based working capital finance to borrowers who use gold or silver as raw material or as input for manufacturing or industrial processing activity.

In the past, our Company has relied on inter-corporate deposits and capital infusions through issuance of equity shares and preference shares to fund the working capital requirements, including towards purchase of gold. However, in light of the restrictions imposed by the RBI, our Company cannot access debt financing as a source of funding the working capital facilities in the future for purchase of gold stock-in-trade. This could limit our ability to raise timely funding for procurement of raw materials and may increase our dependence on alternative funding sources, such as equity infusion, inter-corporate borrowings or non-banking financial institutions, which may not be available to us on commercially reasonable terms or at all.

If we are unable to access adequate and cost-effective funding in a timely manner due to these restrictions, it may have an adverse effect on our business operations, liquidity position and overall financial performance. Further, our Company has in the past availed business loans and deposits from our related parties. For details, see “Restated Consolidated Financial Statements – Note 36(E)(b) – Related Party Disclosures” on page 363. While we believe that such loans were advanced to us in compliance with laws applicable to lending transactions, in the event the RBI or any regulatory authority were to take a different view, such related parties may be subject to regulatory scrutiny or actions.

10. We have entered into certain transactions with related parties in the past and may continue to do so in the future. These transactions or any future transactions with our related parties could potentially involve conflicts of interest.

We have engaged in transactions with related parties and we may continue to do so in the future. Although these transactions have been conducted on an arm's length basis and in the ordinary course of business, in compliance with the Companies Act, 2013, there is no guarantee that we could not have secured more favourable terms with unrelated third parties. Additionally, future related party transactions may arise, potentially leading to conflicts of interest. In particular, Riddisiddhi Bullions Limited, our Group Company and member of our Promoter Group, was one of our largest suppliers and largest customers in certain of the past three Fiscals. In Fiscals 2026, 2025 and 2024, Riddhisiddhi Bullions Limited, as a customer, contributed 27.44%, 11.90% and 7.37%, respectively, to our revenue from operations in the respective periods. During the same period, Riddhisiddhi Bullions Limited, as a supplier, contributed 6.36%, 4.03% and 3.34%, respectively, to our total materials procured. For further information, see “- Our business is dependent on the continuous and cost-effective procurement of gold and silver bullion. The countries or regions we currently import bullion from, may become subject to sanctions, import duties or export controls and our inability to procure sufficient quantities of bullion may have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition” and “- We depend on certain key customers for a significant portion of our revenues with our top 10 customers accounting for 52.09%, 35.72% and 36.63%, of our revenue from operations for Fiscals 2026, 2025 and 2024, respectively. We do not execute any long-term agreements with any of our customers. Consequently, any inability to procure new orders on a regular basis or our inability to diversify our customer base could have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition” on pages 29 and 32, respectively.

Further, our Company through Augmont Goldtech Private Limited has entered into a service level agreement dated June 26, 2024 with our Group Company, Finkurve Financial Services Limited (“Finkurve”), which is effective from July 1, 2024, pursuant to which Augmont Goldtech Private Limited provides technology, marketing and brand support through our platform for gold loans provided by them. Our business operations and revenue from this arrangement are dependent on the continued performance of this agreement. Any termination, non-renewal, or material modification of the agreement, or any failure by Finkurve to comply with its obligations, could adversely affect our business, financial condition, and results of operations. As this arrangement is with a related party, it may give rise to potential conflicts of interest. Decisions regarding pricing, resource allocation, and prioritization of services could be perceived as not being made on an arm’s-length basis. Such perceptions or actual conflicts could attract regulatory scrutiny, impact our reputation, and result in additional compliance obligations, which may have an adverse impact on our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows. The table below provides details of our related party transactions in the relevant years:

Absolute sum of Related Party Transactions – (Balance Sheet Items) (A) (₹ million)	138,671.07	112,047.89	51,995.57

Revenue from Operations (₹ million)	941,862.12	662,307.79	349,214.93

*Includes all transactions entered into with related party during the relevant year.

Further, all the related party transactions entered into by our Company in Fiscals 2026, 2025 and 2024 were on an arm’s length basis. For further information relating to our related party transactions, see “Restated Consolidated Financial Statements – Note 36(E)” on page 363.

Although all related-party transactions that we may enter into post-listing of our Equity Shares will be subject to approval by our Audit Committee, Board or Shareholders, as required under the Companies Act and the Listing Regulations and other circulars and notifications issued by relevant regulators, we cannot assure you that such transactions, individually or in aggregate, will not have an adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations or that we could not have achieved more favorable terms if such transactions had not been entered into with related parties. Such related-party transactions may potentially involve conflicts of interest which may be detrimental to the interest of our Company, if unresolved, and we cannot assure you that such transactions, will not have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

11. We derive a portion of our revenues from franchise/partner/associate/other channels (representing 3.05%, 1.84% and 2.05% of our revenue from operations for Fiscals 2026, 2025 and 2024, respectively), any decline in revenues generated from franchise/partner/associate/other channels operations could adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Our Company through Augmont Goldtech Private Limited, has entered into a service level agreement dated June 26, 2024 with our Group Company, Finkurve Financial Services Limited (“Finkurve”), which is effective from July 1, 2024, pursuant to which Augmont Goldtech Private Limited provides technology, marketing and brand support through our platform for gold loans provided by them. As of March 31, 2026, Finkurve operates 106 Gold-For-All centers, where consumers can avail our gold and silver related services. We have also entered into arrangements with third-party digital platforms and offline distribution networks to expand the reach and accessibility of our offerings. For example, we have agreements with leading jewellers such as Kalyan Jewellers and Caratlane pursuant to which consumers can redeem digital gold at their outlets for physical gold. We have also entered into agreements with over 218 partners such as Gullak, and Candere, pursuant to which consumers can place orders for digital gold and silver products directly on these platforms and we fulfil such orders. Further, our investment jewellery products are available across 3,700 physical branches of Muthoot Fincorp. (Source: Technopak Report) We have also entered into an agreement with an NBFC pursuant to which customers can purchase our jewellery and bullion products at the NBFC’s stores. We had served our digital gold products to over 49.62 million registered consumers directly and through our alliances, as of March 31, 2026. The table below sets forth details of revenue generated by us directly through our own operations and revenue derived from franchise/partner/associate/other channels’ operations during the years indicated:

	Amount (₹ million)	Percentage of revenue from operations (%)	Amount (₹ million)	Percentage of revenue from operations (%)	Amount (₹ million)	Percentage of revenue from operations (%)
Revenue generated directly from our own operations	913,163.90	96.95%	650,141.07	98.16%	342,045.69	97.95%
Revenue derived from franchise/partner/associate/other channels operations*	28,698.22	3.05%	12,166.72	1.84%	7,169.24	2.05%
Revenue from operations	941,862.12	100.00%	662,307.79	100.00%	349,214.93	100.00%

*We have also entered into arrangements with third-party digital platforms and offline distribution networks to expand the reach and accessibility of our offerings. Further, we have also entered into agreements with over 218 partners, pursuant to which consumers can place orders for digital gold and silver products directly on these platforms and we fulfil such orders. Such franchise/ partner/ associate/ other channel operations include Finkurve Financial Services Limited, Muthoot Exim Private Limited, Jar Gold Retail Private Limited, Kalyan Jewellers India Limited and Trendybiz Enterprises Private Limited, among others.

Consequently, any adverse developments in our franchise/partner/associate/other channels such as operational disruptions, regulatory changes, competitive pressures, or inability to maintain service quality could materially and adversely impact our business, financial condition, and results of operations as we may not be able to offset declines in revenues from these channels with revenues from other channels.

12. Our refining and jewellery manufacturing operations involve activities and materials which are hazardous in nature and are subject to operating risks, and any accident, equipment failure, interruption in such operations may adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

For our refining operations, we have set up two gold and silver refining units, in Rudrapur, Uttarakhand and Mumbai, Maharashtra. We also manufacture various jewellery products at our unit in Sitapur SEZ, Jaipur, Rajasthan. Refining and manufacturing processes inherently involve the use of high-temperature equipment, chemicals, and other hazardous materials. While we believe we maintain adequate insurance policies as per our business requirements, certain of these operations can cause accidents during the refining or manufacturing process resulting in serious injuries or death of employees or other persons, if improperly handled, and cause damage to our properties or equipment and the properties of others or to the environment. Our operations are also subject to significant hazards, including explosions, fires, mechanical failures and other operational problems, discharges or releases of hazardous substances and other environmental risks resulting in fatal personal injury, permanent disablement, and property damage and consequent imposition of civil and criminal penalties. While we provide a safe and healthy working environment which is compliant with applicable occupational health and safety management system, requisite approvals from the pollution control boards, and environmental management system standards such as the standards prescribed by the Responsible Jewellery Council, there is a risk that an accident may occur at our manufacturing facilities. Our manufacturing and refining operations rely on specialized equipment and machinery, which require regular maintenance and timely upgrades to remain efficient and compliant with applicable standards. Any failure to adequately maintain, upgrade, or replace aging equipment may result in breakdowns, reduced productivity, or safety hazards, potentially leading to operational disruptions and increased costs. In addition, our operations are critically dependent on the continuous and reliable supply of essential utilities such as electricity and fuel. Any disruption in the availability of these utilities, whether due to infrastructure failures, natural disasters, fuel shortages, or regulatory constraint, could impair our ability to operate our facilities at optimal capacity. Such interruptions may adversely affect our production schedules, increase operating costs, and impact our financial condition and results of operations. While we have not experienced any such instances in the past three Fiscals, we cannot assure you that it will not occur in the future. In case of any such occurrences, we may be required to temporarily reduce our refining or manufacturing capacity or suspend our operations. Such occurrences may adversely affect our business operations, financial condition and results of operations. In addition, we may be required to incur costs to remedy the damage caused by such incidents. Such incidents could subject us to litigation resulting from occupational exposure to hazards at our units and adversely affect our reputation. If these claims and lawsuits, individually or in the aggregate, are resolved against us, our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition could be adversely affected. Also see, “Key Regulations and Policies” on page 258.

- 13. *There have been certain instances of delays, or errors in the past in relation to form filings with the Registrar of Companies, Maharashtra at Mumbai and instances of delays of filing of Forms GSTR3B with the tax authorities. We may be subject to regulatory actions and penalties for any such past or future delays or errors and our business, financial condition and reputation may be adversely affected.

There have been certain instances of errors in form filings which has led to delayed refiling of such form filings in the past by our Company. For instance, the Form MGT-14 filed by our Company in relation to the resolution of our Board dated February 18, 2019 and the Form MGT-14 filed by our Company in relation to the resolution of our Shareholders dated February 28, 2019, included clerical errors. To rectify these errors, our Company has refiled the Form MGT-14 forms for each of the Board resolution and Shareholders’ resolution, subsequently after the prescribed time period for filing such forms, along with delay fee for such refiling.

There have been certain instances of delays in filing GST returns (Form GSTR-3B) during the financial year 2020-21. Our Company has delayed in filing the GST returns for two establishments for the month of March 2021 for which our Company had delayed filing of the GST returns exceeding the COVID-19 related extended timelines granted by the relevant tax authorities, which were primarily attributable to the temporary unavailability of responsible personnel due to COVID-19-related hospitalisation and quarantine of key staff during the relevant period. The said delays were subsequently regularised, applicable late fees were paid, and the relevant returns have since been duly filed.

We cannot assure you that, in future, we will not be subjected to any liability on account of such delay in form filings and incorrect form filings. Although no legal proceedings or regulatory actions have been initiated or pending against us in relation to such delays in form filings and incorrect form filings, if we are subject to any such proceedings or regulatory actions in the future, it may have a material adverse effect on our reputation, financial condition and results of operations. Further, there can be no assurance that there will be no such delays in form filings or incorrect form filings in the future and our Company will not be subject to adverse actions by the authorities on account of any inadvertent discrepancies in, or delays in filing of, any of its secretarial filings, which may adversely affect our reputation.

- 14. *We require sizeable amounts of working capital for our continued operation and growth. Our inability to meet our working capital requirements could have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Our business requires extensive working capital for day-to-day operations. The table below sets forth our working capital ratios for the years indicated:

Further, the RBI, through Reserve Bank of India (Commercial Banks – Credit Facilities) Directions, 2025, prohibits commercial banks from granting advances or working capital loans for the purpose of purchasing gold in any form, including primary gold, gold bullion, gold jewellery, gold coins, units of gold ETFs and gold mutual funds. For details, see “ - We cannot access debt financing to finance our working capital requirements. If we are unable to access adequate and cost-effective funding in a timely manner due to these restrictions, it may have an adverse effect on our business operations, liquidity position and overall financial performance” on page 34. Our inability to meet our working capital requirements through borrowings or cash from our operations, as the case may be, could have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition. A lack of working capital may force us to reduce production, delay orders, or limit inventory purchases, leading to disruptions in our ability to meet customer demand. This could harm customer relationships, erode brand reputation, and result in lost sales. While we have not had instances of not being able to meet working capital requirements in the past three Fiscals, we cannot assure you that such instances will not occur in the future.

Also see “- Our funding requirements and proposed deployment of the Net Proceeds of the Offer are proposed to be utilised to fulfil our working capital requirements and have not been appraised by a bank or a financial institution and if there are any delays or cost overruns, our business, cash flows, financial condition and results of operations may be adversely affected.”

15. We are exposed to risks relating to theft and fraud in our operations, including the potential for misappropriation of gold and silver, fraudulent transactions, and cyber theft. Any incidents of theft or fraud, whether internal or external, could adversely affect our business, results of operations, and financial condition.

Given the high-value nature of the gold and silver products we procure, refine, trade, store, and deliver, we are inherently exposed to risks of theft, fraud, and misappropriation across various points in our value chain. These risks may arise from both internal sources, such as employee misconduct, collusion, or procedural lapses, and external threats, including criminal activity, cyberattacks, and fraudulent customer behaviour. Physical theft or tampering may occur during procurement, refining, storage, or transportation of bullion and jewellery, particularly given our extensive delivery network and reliance on third-party logistics providers. Instances of fraud, theft or other misconduct can be difficult to detect, deter and prevent, and could subject us to financial losses and reputational harm. We may be unable to prevent, detect or deter all such instances of misconduct. While we have not faced any such instances in the past three Fiscals and have obtained insurance policies against such instances, we cannot assure you that such instances will not occur in the future. Any such misconduct committed against our interests, which may include past acts that have gone undetected or future acts, may have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations, financial condition, cash flows, reputation and prospects.

Additionally, in case of losses due to theft there can be no assurance that we will be able to recover from our insurer the full amount of any such loss in a timely manner, or at all. If we incur a significant inventory loss due to third-party or employee theft and if such loss exceeds the limits of, or is subject to an exclusion from, coverage under our insurance policies, it could have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition. In addition, if we file claims under an insurance policy it could lead to increase in the insurance premiums payable by us or the termination of coverage under the relevant policy. Theft of our customer data may also adversely affect our results of operations and financial condition. Also see, “- Our insurance coverage may not adequately protect us against all losses or the insurance cover may not be available for all the losses as per the insurance policy, which could adversely affect business, results of operations and financial condition.” on page 46.

16. We are required to adhere to stringent quality management processes to ensure that the gold and silver we sell meet specific quality requirements. Any failure to comply with these quality standards could adversely affect our business and reputation.

We are required to maintain rigorous quality management systems across our refining, bullion trading, and jewellery manufacturing operations to ensure that the gold and silver products we sell meet applicable purity, weight, and certification standards. Our assay laboratories located in Rudrapur, Uttarakhand and Mumbai, Maharashtra have obtained the certificate of accreditation issued by the National Accreditation Board for testing and calibration laboratories on bearing certification number ISO/IEC 17025:2017, and have also obtained the license for the use of hallmark issued by the Bureau of Indian Standards. We are also recognized as an Authorized Economic Operator (T-2 category) by the Authorised Economic Operator Programme Manager, Directorate of International Customs, which facilitates faster clearance of goods. Our Company has also obtained a certificate of registration issued by Intertek, United Kingdom Accreditation Service (UKAS) accredited body, certifying compliance of the management system of the Company with the requirements of ISO 9001:2015. Additionally, one of our Material Subsidiaries, AGTPL has also received a certificate of registration from the United registrar of systems, certifying compliance of the management system of AGTPL with the requirements of ISO/IEC 27001:2022. Our Company is certified under the 'India Good Delivery' standards and one of the few refiners in India authorized to deliver refined bullion on commodity exchanges operated by the BSE and MCX. (Source: Technopak Report) Compliance with these quality standards is critical to maintaining customer trust, regulatory approvals, and our competitive positioning. Any deviation, whether due to process lapses, equipment malfunction, human error, or supplier-related inconsistencies, could result in the sale or delivery of substandard or non-compliant products. This could lead to customer complaints, product returns, financial claims, or regulatory penalties. In the case of jewellery, failure to meet hallmarking or purity standards could also result in reputational damage and loss of consumer confidence. We may be subject to regulatory penalties and initiation of legal proceedings against us. Our products are subject to different regulatory, certification, and testing requirements, and any failure to adapt our systems accordingly could expose us to compliance risks. While we have not experienced any such instances in the past three Fiscals, we cannot assure you that it will not occur in the future. Any failure to consistently meet the required quality standards could have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations, financial condition, and reputation.

In the event our products do not comply with the specification provided, our products may be rejected and we may also be required to reimburse such customers for any losses suffered as a result of our non-compliance together with other penalties. This may also reduce customer confidence in our products and strain our relationships with these customers, who may refuse our services and choose to engage our competitors. Moreover, in the event that any of our products do not meet regulatory standards or are defective (including due to reasons of failure of our quality control procedures, negligence or human error), we may be responsible for damages relating to any defective products, and may be required to replace or recall such products or incur significant costs to defend any such claims.

Customer complaints and queries resolved, on a consolidated basis (number of complaints)	12,495	3,667	5,432

However, we cannot assure you that we comply or can continue to comply with all regulatory requirements or the quality requirement standards of our customers. While we have not faced any instances of liability claims on account of product defects or failure by us to comply with quality standards that led to any adverse effect on our business or operations during Fiscals 2026, 2025 and 2024, there can be no assurance that we will not be subject to such product liability, related legal proceedings or loss of business in the future. Further, while we have obtained a comprehensive general liability insurance policy which, among others, covers product liability claims up to certain specified limits, there can be no assurance that we will be able to make a successful claim or recover losses in full or at all.

17. Our Company, Subsidiaries, Promoters, Group Companies, Directors, Key Managerial Personnel and Senior Management Personnel are involved in certain legal and regulatory proceedings. Any adverse decision in such proceedings may have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.

There are outstanding legal and regulatory proceedings involving our Company, our Subsidiaries, our Group Companies, our Promoters, Directors, Key Managerial Personnel and Senior Management Personnel which are pending at different levels of adjudication before various courts, tribunals and other authorities. Such proceedings could divert the management's time and attention and consume financial resources in their defence or prosecution. The amounts claimed in these proceedings have been disclosed to the extent that such amounts are ascertainable and quantifiable and include amounts claimed jointly and severally, as applicable. Any unfavourable decision in connection with such proceedings, individually or in the aggregate, could adversely affect our reputation, continuity of our management, business, cash flows, financial condition and results of operations.

^{*} To the extent ascertainable and quantifiable.

Further, there are no pending litigation proceedings involving our Group Companies which will have a material impact on our Company.

Further, certain members of our Promoter Group are involved in legal proceedings. Any matter, specifically regulatory matters, which are not decided in their favor may have an impact on our reputation due to association with the said entities. For instance, one of the members of our Promoter Group and our Group Company, Riddisiddhi Bullions Limited, in January 2015, was fined ₹1,000.00 million by India's Directorate General of Foreign Trade and its status as nominated agency was revoked, following allegations in relation to alleged customs violations. The matter is currently pending before the Hon'ble High Court of Bombay. While RiddiSiddhi Bullions Limited undertook such imports in the regular course of business and while the goods were in transit, RBI restricted imports of such gold only for export purposes. However, since the customs cleared the goods, import duties were paid and banks remitted the money, RiddiSiddhi sold these 200 kilos of gold in the domestic market on the presumption that the applicable change was not for goods in transit as the goods were cleared by Customs for home consumption on payment of duties and the Authorized Dealer Bank made the payment of the said imports. While Riddisiddhi Bullions Limited undertook such imports in the regular course of business and the conditions for imports were imposed while goods were in transit and the said matter does not have any direct impact on us, any unfavorable development in the said matter will not impact the reputation of our Promoter Group and our Company.

In relation to such outstanding litigation matters involving our Company, our Directors, our KMP and SMP, and our Promoters, the amounts and interests involved in many pending litigations are not ascertainable or quantifiable and are hence not disclosed. In addition, our Company does not consider the entire amount involved or unquantifiable amount in respect of outstanding legal proceedings to be a present or a potential liability and hence contingency for the entire amount has not been provided for in our financial statements. Such proceedings could divert management time and attention, and consume financial resources in their defense or prosecution. Individuals and interest groups may sue to challenge our Company's intellectual property registrations and applications. We cannot assure you that any of these matters will be settled in favour of our Company, our Subsidiaries, our Group Companies, Promoters, Directors, Key Managerial Personnel or Senior Management Personnel respectively, or that no additional liability will arise out of these proceedings. An adverse outcome in any of these proceedings may have an adverse effect on our business, financial position, prospects, cash flows, results of operations and our reputation. For further information, see "Outstanding Litigation and Material Developments" on page 422.

18. Our inability to maintain or enhance the popularity of our 'Augmont' brand may adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition and any negative publicity, customer complaints, or adverse media coverage could also damage our brand reputation and impact customer perception.

Our brand, 'Augmont', is critical to our business success, and is dependent on our ability to maintain and enhance the popularity of our brand. As we operate in a highly competitive and commoditized industry where product differentiation is limited, the strength and recognition of our brand play a vital role in attracting and retaining customers, building strategic alliances, and expanding into new verticals. Our ability to maintain and enhance the popularity of our brand depends on several factors, including the consistent quality of our products and services, the reliability of our online platforms, the effectiveness of our marketing and communication strategies, and our responsiveness to evolving customer expectations. The table below sets forth expenses undertaken by us on marketing and advertisement for the years indicated.

	Amount (₹ million)	As a percentage of revenue from operations (%)	Amount (₹ million)	As a percentage of revenue from operations (%)	Amount (₹ million)	As a percentage of revenue from operations (%)
Advertisement Expenses	56.70	Negligible	32.63	Negligible	18.80	Negligible

If our marketing and advertising campaigns are poorly executed, or we are required to incur additional expenditures than budgeted, our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition may be adversely affected.

Any failure to deliver a seamless and trustworthy customer experience, including due to operational disruptions, pricing inaccuracies, service delays, or product quality issues, could erode brand equity and customer loyalty. Moreover, as we expand our footprint across digital and offline channels, and enter new markets and product categories, we face the risk of brand dilution if we are unable to maintain a consistent brand identity and value proposition. Negative publicity, customer complaints, or adverse media coverage could also damage our brand reputation and impact customer perception. Any instance of sub-optimal customer experience, whether arising from delivery delays, quality concerns, or inadequate grievance resolution, may be rapidly disseminated across social media and digital platforms. The consequent adverse commentary, particularly if amplified by algorithmic content propagation, can swiftly erode brand perception, deter prospective customers, and intensify regulatory or consumer-advocacy scrutiny. Such reputational deterioration, independent of operational merit, has the potential to materially diminish demand and adversely affect our business, and financial condition. While we have not experienced any such instances in the past three Fiscals, we cannot assure you that it will not occur in the future. Also see, “Our Business – Intellectual Property” and “Government and Other Approvals” on pages 256 and 431, respectively.

19. We are required to comply with a stringent regulatory framework for operations and maintain several licenses and permits. Our failure to comply with applicable rules and regulations or maintain the licenses required for our business, or any changes to the existing legal framework or the introduction of new regulations, could have an adverse effect on our business and reputation.

We operate in a highly regulated industry and are required to comply with a complex and evolving framework of laws, rules, and regulations across multiple jurisdictions and business verticals. Our operations span across procurement, refining, manufacturing, bullion trading, digital gold services, jewellery manufacturing and international sales, and providing gold backed financial solutions. We are required to obtain and maintain numerous approvals, registrations and licenses from various regulatory authorities including, but not limited to, the Directorate General of Foreign Trade (“DGFT”), Bureau of Indian Standards (“BIS”), Goods and Services Tax (“GST”) authorities, local municipal bodies, customs authorities, and securities market regulators. Our refining units must comply with environmental, health, and safety regulations, and our assay laboratories are accredited under ISO/IEC 17025:2017 by NABL. Additionally, consequent upon the change of the name of our Company from ‘Augmont Enterprises Private Limited’ to ‘Augmont Enterprises Limited’, pursuant to conversion of our Company from a private limited company to a public limited company, we have filed and will file certain applications / intimations for issuance of fresh licenses, consents, registrations, permissions and approvals or to take on record the change of name in various licenses obtained from regulatory or statutory authorities under the applicable laws, as applicable. We are also recognized as an Authorized Economic Operator (T-2 category) by the Authorised Economic Operator Programme Manager, Directorate of International Customs, which facilitates faster clearance of goods. We have also obtained registration under the Prevention of Money Laundering Act, 2002, issued by the Financial Intelligence Unit, Ministry of Finance. Any failure to maintain these certifications or comply with applicable standards could result in penalties, suspension of operations, or loss of accreditation. In addition, our digital platforms handle sensitive customer data and financial transactions, making us subject to data protection, KYC/AML, and cybersecurity regulations. As we expand into new verticals, we may become subject to additional sector-specific regulations and licensing requirements. Further, as part of our import and export operations, our Company is required to maintain several licenses/approvals, including those arising from strategic partnerships between nations.

Additionally, ATL, one of our Subsidiaries, has obtained a certificate of registration from SEBI to carry on the activities of buying, selling or dealing in securities, clearing and settlement of trades and such other activities as may be permitted by stock exchanges or clearing corporations, subject to the conditions specified by SEBI from time to time. Any failure by ATL to comply with the conditions applicable to such registration or the relevant legal and regulatory framework, including SEBI regulations, circulars and directions, and the applicable rules, bye-laws and operating requirements of stock exchanges and clearing corporations, may result in inspections, penalties, suspension or cancellation of such registration, restrictions on its operations, or other regulatory actions, that may adversely affect our financial condition, reputation and results of operations. We are also subject to environmental, health and safety, and labour laws. Environmental laws and regulations impose controls on air and water discharge, noise levels, storage handling, employee exposure to hazardous substances and other aspects of our manufacturing and refining operations. We are subject to the laws and regulations governing employees in such areas as minimum wage and maximum working hours, overtime, working conditions, hiring and termination of employees, and work permits. For details on such regulations and policies, see “Key Regulations and Policies” and “Government and Other Approvals” on pages 258 and 431, respectively. Amendments to existing laws, introduction of new compliance obligations, or stricter enforcement by authorities could increase our operational costs, require changes to our business model, or expose us to legal and financial liabilities. We have incurred and expect to continue incurring costs for compliance with all applicable environmental, health and safety, and labor laws and regulations, which may become more stringent in the future. Non-compliance with such environmental laws and regulations may subject us to regulatory action. There is a risk that we may fail to comply with such regulations, which could lead to enforced shutdowns and other sanctions imposed by the relevant authorities, as well as the withholding or delay in receipt of regulatory approvals.

The regulatory environment in which we operate is dynamic and subject to frequent changes. For instance, the gold industry in India operates under a fragmented regulatory framework, with no single unified regulator overseeing the entire value chain. Various aspects of our operations fall under the purview of multiple regulatory authorities, including the Directorate General of Foreign Trade for bullion imports, the Bureau of Indian Standards and the National Accreditation Board for Testing and Calibration Laboratories for refinery standards, and the Reserve Bank of India for gold loan activities undertaken through our partner non-banking financial companies or banks. Further, we are also exposed to regulatory uncertainty for areas of operations such as digital gold and gold leasing. Any changes in applicable regulations, including revisions to import duties, licensing conditions, or the implementation or withdrawal of free trade agreements, could adversely impact our operations, cost structures, and profitability. Additionally, unforeseen regulatory developments, such as restrictions or bans on the import of gold, changes in tax treatment, or the introduction of new compliance obligations, may adversely affect our business model, product offerings, and market access.

Additionally, one of our Material Subsidiaries, Augmont Goldtech Private Limited, is engaged in the digital gold business in India, which, at present, does not fall under a specific regulatory framework. As a result, the business is currently carried on without any sector-specific approvals or licenses. However, if in the future the Government of India, the Reserve Bank of India, the Securities and Exchange Board of India or any other regulatory authority introduces a regulatory regime governing the offering, storage, sale, purchase or transfer of products such as digital gold, we may be required to obtain requisite approvals, registrations or licenses, and/or comply with additional conditions and obligations, including capital adequacy, governance, disclosure, consumer protection or other compliance requirements. There can be no assurance that we will be able to obtain such approvals, registrations or licenses in a timely manner, or at all, or that the cost of compliance will not be significant. Any inability to obtain such approvals or comply with future regulations may adversely affect our business involving products such as digital gold, which could in turn have an adverse impact on our operations, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations. Furthermore, the potential convergence of electronic gold receipts (EGRs) with the regulatory framework and product standards applicable to the India International Bullion Exchange may also result in the introduction of new rules or standards governing the digital gold ecosystem. Such convergence, if implemented, may require significant changes to our Company's operating model in order to align with the revised regulatory requirements.

Further, we are required to obtain and maintain various statutory, regulatory and other approvals, licenses, registrations and permits in connection with our business operations. While we have made applications for certain approvals which are currently pending, there can be no assurance that these will be granted in a timely manner, or at all, or that the terms of such approvals will be in line with our expectations. For instance, our Company is yet to apply for the New Tariff Rate Quota (TRQ + MFN) before Directorate General of Foreign Trade, New Delhi. Any delay in obtaining, or inability to obtain, such approvals may restrict our ability to carry on our operations as planned and may have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects. For details of our pending approvals, see – “Government and Other Approvals” on page 431.

While we have not faced any instances of failure to comply with regulatory requirements, or revocation of regulatory approvals and licenses, or delay in or refusal of grant of relevant approvals during the past three Fiscals, if there is any failure by us to comply with the applicable regulations or if the regulations governing our business are amended, we may incur increased costs, be subject to penalties, have our approvals and permits revoked or suffer a disruption in our operations, any of which could adversely affect our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

20. Government measures and public appeals discouraging gold purchases may adversely impact demand for gold and our business.

In May 2026, the Prime Minister of India publicly urged citizens to refrain from purchasing gold for a period of at least one year to reduce non-essential imports and conserve foreign exchange reserves. Such measures and public policy guidance may adversely impact consumer sentiment and demand for gold, which has traditionally been a preferred investment and savings asset in India.

Further, increasing emphasis on alternative investment instruments such as debt securities, REITs/InvITs, mutual funds and digital assets may shift investor preference away from gold. While such measures are currently advisory in nature, any continued discouragement, regulatory actions or policy changes impacting gold consumption may lead to reduced demand for our products. Any such decline in demand could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

21. One of our Material Subsidiaries, Augmont Goldtech Private Limited, operates a digital gold business in an evolving regulatory environment, and any future regulatory framework, including potential convergence with electronic gold receipts and bullion exchange norms, may impose significant compliance requirements and adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

One of our Material Subsidiaries, Augmont Goldtech Private Limited, is engaged in the digital gold business in India. As on date, the digital gold business does not fall under a specific, comprehensive regulatory framework in India and, accordingly, the business is presently carried on without any sector-specific approvals, registrations or licenses. However, there can be no assurance that the regulatory position will remain unchanged.

In the future, the Government of India, RBI, SEBI or any other regulatory authority may introduce a regulatory regime governing the offering, storage, sale, purchase or transfer of products such as digital gold. In such an event, we may be required to obtain various approvals, registrations or licenses and/or comply with additional conditions and obligations, including those relating to capital adequacy, governance standards, disclosures, consumer protection and other compliance requirements.

There can be no assurance that we will be able to obtain such approvals, registrations or licenses in a timely manner or at all, or that the cost of compliance with such future regulatory requirements will not be significant. Any delay, failure or inability to obtain the requisite approvals or to comply with future regulations may adversely affect our digital gold business. Such regulatory changes could also require material modifications to our business model, operating structure and product offerings, which may not be commercially viable. SEBI has issued a caution to public regarding dealing in ‘Digital Gold’ on November 8, 2025, under which SEBI has clarified which digital gold instruments fall within the regulatory purview of SEBI and also cautioned the investor that protection mechanisms under the securities market purview would not be available for investments in digital gold products which aren’t under the purview of SEBI.

Furthermore, the potential convergence of electronic gold receipts (“EGRs”) with the regulatory framework and product standards applicable to the India International Bullion Exchange (“IIBX”) may also result in the introduction of new rules, standards or norms governing the digital gold ecosystem. Such convergence, if implemented, may require significant changes to our Company’s operating model in order to align with the revised regulatory requirements, and there can be no assurance that such changes can be implemented in a timely manner or without material costs.

Any of the foregoing could have a material adverse effect on our business operations, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.

22. Under-utilization of our manufacturing and refining facilities could have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

The level of our capacity utilization at our manufacturing and refining facilities can impact our operating results. High capacity utilization allows us to spread our fixed costs, resulting in higher gross profit margin. Failure to optimally use our existing capacities could lead to a strain on our financial and operational efficiency. The tables below set forth certain information relating to the installed capacity, actual production and capacity utilisation of our facilities for the years indicated:

Note: Assumptions and estimates taken into account for measuring installed capacities and the available capacities include 300 working days in a year, at three shifts per day, operating for 24 hours a day.

Notes:

(1) Installed capacity represents the installed capacity as of the last date of the relevant year.

(3) Capacity utilization has been calculated on the basis of actual production in the relevant year divided by the available capacity during such year.

Our capacity utilisation is directly related to our strategy of choosing between refining or purchasing pure bars. We continuously evaluate whether to refine or purchase pure bars based on prevailing international prices, applicable government incentives, and other relevant factors. Whenever procuring pure bars offers the higher margin, we prioritize it. Conversely, when refining proves more advantageous, we increase the utilization in our units. Accordingly, the availability of fine gold bars at lower costs as compared to doré bars may also result in lower capacity utilization. Procurement of doré bars is batch-based and non-uniform with consignments typically received in bulk lots rather than on a daily basis or evenly distributed. Refining capacity has been created to enable rapid processing of bulk consignments within a short turnaround time, to minimise the inventory holding period, manage price risk, and ensure timely delivery of refined bullion to customers. The refineries operate at high utilisation during active periods while remaining partially or fully non-operational between consignments. Accordingly, the capacity has been intentionally kept high to process bulk consignments on a timely basis on a particular day. Further, since capacity utilization disclosed in this Prospectus has been calculated on an annual average basis, such utilisation figures do not reflect peak operating levels leading to low capacity utilization on a yearly basis. However, if such demand does not materialize as anticipated or customers have lower demand, the capacity may remain underutilized, which could adversely impact our return on investment and overall financial performance.

Additionally, our Subsidiary, Augmont International Limited, had applied for grant of licence/permission under the Special Warehouse Licensing Regulations, 2016 and the Manufacture and Other Operations in Special Warehouse Regulations, 2020 in respect of its proposed operations at its facility situated at Block D, Khasra No. 60/4, Rungta Industries Compound, Rampura Dehat, Kashipur Road, Rudrapur, Udham Singh Nagar – 263 152, Uttarakhand, India. The aforesaid application remained pending with the jurisdictional customs authorities for approximately one year. Despite submission of requisite documents and compliance with procedural requirements from time to time, the application had not attained finality. In view of the prolonged pendency and the resulting operational and compliance costs without commencement of the intended activities, the Company, vide its letter dated May 20, 2026, requested the Office of the Commissioner of Customs, Noida Customs Commissionerate, to treat the said application as withdrawn with immediate effect and vacated the said premises with effect from May 1, 2026, after issuing prior notice to the landlord.

Further, we make significant decisions, including determining the levels of business that we will seek and accept, manufacturing and refining schedules, personnel requirements and other resource requirements, based on our estimates of customers' demand. Changes in demand could reduce our ability to estimate accurately future customer requirements, make it difficult to schedule manufacturing and refining, which could adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

23. Our insurance coverage may not adequately protect us against all losses or the insurance cover may not be available for all the losses as per the insurance policy, which could adversely affect business, results of operations and financial condition.

We maintain insurance coverage for anticipated risks which are standard for our type of business and operations. The following table sets forth our total insurance coverage and such coverage as a percentage of our total assets for the years indicated:

Particulars	As of March 31, 2026	As of March 31, 2025	As of March 31, 2024
Aggregate insurance coverage* (₹ in million)	62,113.01	15,531.57	17,191.57

As a percentage of total assets	1,674.19%	538.97%	2,113.18%

 Total assets consist of property, plant and equipment, capital work in progress, right of use assets and inventories.

* Based on details of insurance policies of our Company and Subsidiaries.

Note: Total assets as per Restated Consolidated Financial Statements are as of the last date of the relevant year, while the aggregate insurance coverage encompasses coverage through the year.

We have not filed any insurance claims in the past three Fiscals. Our insurance policies include jewellers block insurance and jewellers package insurance, all risk insurance and insurance against acts of terrorism to safeguard against potential risks associated with our operations. For further details of insurance, see “Our Business – Insurance” on page 256. There are many events that could significantly impact our operations, or expose us to third-party liabilities, including those arising from cyber incidents, hazardous operations, (including explosions, fires, mechanical failures and other operational problems, discharges or releases of hazardous substances and other environmental risks resulting in fatal personal injury, permanent disablement, and property damage and consequent imposition of civil and criminal penalties), for which we may not be adequately insured. While we have not faced any such instances in the past three Fiscals, we cannot assure you that such instances will not occur in the future.

We cannot assure you that our insurance coverage is sufficient to prevent us from any loss or that we will be able to successfully claim our losses under our current insurance policy on a timely basis, or at all. If we incur any loss that is not covered by our insurance policies, or the compensated amount is significantly less than our actual loss, our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations could be materially and adversely affected. If our insurance carriers change the terms of our policies in a manner unfavorable to us, our insurance costs could increase. While there has been no instance in the last three Fiscals where we experienced losses exceeding our insurance coverage, there can be no assurance that such instances will not occur in the future. If our losses significantly exceed or differ from our insurance coverage or cannot be recovered through insurance in the future, our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations could be adversely affected.

Any payments we make to cover any losses, damages or liabilities or any delays we experience in receiving appropriate payments from our insurers could have a material adverse impact on our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations. Further, our insurance coverage expires from time to time and we apply for the renewal of our insurance coverage in the ordinary course of our business.

24. Riddisiddhi Bullions Limited, one of our promoter group entities, was in the past restrained from buying, selling or dealing in the securities markets from August 20, 2015 to April 5, 2018 in a matter involving trading in illiquid stock options. Further, our Company had also voluntarily availed benefit of a settlement scheme initiated by SEBI and settled the matter by paying the applicable settlement amount.

One of our promoter group entities, Riddisiddhi Bullions Limited, was in the past restrained from buying, selling, or dealing in the securities market, directly or indirectly, pursuant to an interim order dated August 20, 2015 (“Restraining Order”) in a matter involving trading in illiquid stock options in the F&O segment of BSE Limited. Subsequently, through an order dated April 5, 2018, issued by its Whole Time Member, SEBI vacated the Restraining Order with immediate effect and indicated that SEBI’s investigation found that 14,720 entities were involved in the trading of illiquid stock options. SEBI later introduced a one-time settlement scheme in 2020, enabling entities to resolve pending matters, defaults, and adjudication proceedings related to illiquid stock options trades by paying specified amounts (“Settlement Scheme”). Riddisiddhi Bullions Limited filed a settlement application under the Settlement Scheme and paid the applicable settlement amount. Through orders dated January 14, 2021, and January 29, 2021, the matter against Riddisiddhi Bullions Limited was disposed off by SEBI.

While our Company was not made a party to the Restraining Order and no action or directions were either taken or issued by SEBI to our Company, we voluntarily paid an amount aggregating to ₹ 542,500 on October 21, 2020 under the Settlement Scheme (which involved 1,018 applicants), in relation to trading in illiquid stock options in the F&O segment of BSE Limited.

25. We depend on third-party logistics providers to enable the doorstep delivery of our products and any disruption in the services provided by these logistics providers, or security breaches during transportation could have an adverse effect on our business and reputation.

We rely on third-party logistics providers to facilitate the secure and timely delivery of our products. The table below sets forth details in relation to such third-party logistics providers as of/for the years indicated.

Particulars	As of/for the year ended March 31, 2026	As of/for the year ended March 31, 2025	As of/for the year ended March 31, 2024
Number of third-party logistics providers	8	8	5
Expenses incurred on third-party logistics providers (₹ million)	66.16	96.07	68.85
Expenses incurred on third-party logistics providers as a percentage of revenue from operations (%)	0.01%	0.01%	0.02%

Given the high value and sensitivity of the products we handle, the efficiency, reliability, and security of our logistics partners are critical to our operations and customer experience. We monitor our inventory movements on a real time basis via the logistics providers’ platforms and associated tracking identifiers. We also perform a daily reconciliation among physical stock, customer liabilities, and accounting records. Transportation strikes may have an adverse effect on supplies to our customers. A failure to deliver our products to the right customers in an efficient and reliable manner could have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition. In certain remote or rural areas, delivery partners may not have adequate infrastructure or coverage, which could result in delays, failed deliveries, or suboptimal customer experience. Further, our logistics providers must comply with RBI’s KYC/AML standards (for cash on delivery or gold buyback), as well as security protocols under BIS or SEZ authorities for precious metals. Any non-compliance by a logistics partner could expose us to liability or scrutiny, which may have an impact on our business and reputation. Additionally, our logistics network is exposed to a range of risks, including natural disasters, labor unrest, theft, and systemic cyberattacks targeting supply chain systems. Any such disruption could impair our ability to fulfill orders, manage inventory, or maintain service levels, thereby adversely affecting our business operations, customer satisfaction, and financial condition. We may also be affected by an increase in fuel costs, as it will have a corresponding impact on freight charges levied by our third-party transportation providers. This could require us to expend considerable resources in addressing our distribution requirements, including by way of absorbing these excess freight charges to maintain our selling price, which could adversely affect our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition, or passing these charges on to our customers, which could adversely affect demand for our products. Certain arrangements with our transportation service providers are terminable by either party with prior notice. Any termination or non-renewal of such arrangements, or our inability to promptly identify and appoint suitable replacements, could result in a disruption of transportation services and adversely impact our ability to meet delivery timelines, which in turn may negatively affect our business operations and customer satisfaction. Further, in the event of a sharp increase in freight charges, we may be required to either absorb these additional costs (thereby impacting our margins) or pass them on to our customers, which could reduce the competitiveness and demand for our products.

In addition, the transportation of high-value precious metals and jewellery carries inherent security risks, including the potential for theft, tampering, or loss during transit. While all our inventory is adequately insured, we remain exposed to the risk of security breaches. While there have been no such instances in the past three Fiscals, any such incident in the future could result in financial losses, insurance claims, legal disputes, and negative publicity, all of which could adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition, and reputation.

26. We are exposed to the industry-wide threats and challenges inherent to our operations, and any failure in effectively managing such threats and challenges may have an adverse impact on our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

We are an integrated gold and silver platform in India serving businesses and consumers. We operate in two business verticals through distinct online platforms, which are complemented by our physical distribution network: (i) enterprise sales (through our ‘Augmont SPOT’ platform) owned and operated by our Company and international sales undertaken by our Company and through Ideal Fiscal Services Limited, our Subsidiary; and (ii) consumer-focused offerings, delivered through our ‘Augmont Gold For All’ platform and offline channels undertaken by our Company through Augmont Goldtech Private Limited, one of our Material Subsidiaries. Our operations are susceptible to the threats and challenges inherent in the gold and silver industry. According to the Technopak Report, such industry-wide threats and challenges include but are not limited to:

(Source: Technopak Report)

Industry threat/challenge	Impact on our Company
Bullion price and import duty volatility	Gold and silver prices are highly sensitive to macroeconomic events, central bank actions, and geopolitical tensions. In Fiscal 2025, the LBMA gold price peaked at U.S.$2,386 per troy ounce, while the ₹ depreciated approximately 2.4% against the U.S.$, amplifying domestic price fluctuations. Such volatility may impact our inventory valuation, consumer sentiment, and trading margins. Additionally, changes in import duties can further increase domestic bullion prices and create short-term market disruptions, affecting demand patterns, procurement decisions, and inventory planning across the value chain. Frequent duty revisions can also amplify price volatility by altering the landed cost of precious metals and influencing import flows.
Underutilisation of refining capacity	India has over 57 BIS-accredited gold refineries with a combined capacity exceeding 1,800 tonnes, yet utilisation hovers at less than 30%. High import duties on doré and tariff anomalies under CEPA with UAE have diverted demand toward bullion imports, directly impacting domestic viability.
Dominance of Unorganised Gold Loan Segment	Despite increasing penetration of banks and NBFCs, approximately 55% to 60% of gold loans in India are still issued by informal lenders due to ease of access, cash-based disbursement, and flexible terms. This inhibits transparency, reduces recycling efficiency, and limits the reach of formal finance channels for the bullion ecosystem.
Lab-grown diamond export headwinds	While the lab-grown diamond market in India is growing domestically, exports declined by 9.64% in value in Fiscal 2025, driven by reduced demand from key markets like the US and China. Additionally, G7 sanctions on Russian-origin natural diamonds and global inventory corrections have disrupted international supply chains.
Structural shift in jewellery retail	As India's jewellery market continues to formalise, organised players now account for approximately 35% to 40% of total retail. However, the unorganised sector remains sizeable, posing challenges for traceability, hallmarking compliance, and quality control. This fragmentation complicates standardisation in bullion distribution and customer service.
High entry and operation barriers	There are high entry barriers in place for existing and new companies operating within the industry. In terms of operations, companies require high working capital on account of funds to purchase gold and silver. We are required to hold multiple licenses and permits to conduct their operations and comply with stringent rules and regulations. Industry is technology intensive and requires continuous monitoring of systems and processes in line with the increase in business volume as well as changing regulations. We are required to adhere to stringent quality management processes to ensure that the gold and silver that we sell meet specific quality requirements. Possessing effective price discovery capabilities for gold and silver products acts as an additional entry barrier. Further, we have to keep expanding our delivery network to efficiently service our end customers. Apart from regulatory and financial barriers, the consumer trust on domestic jewellers and traders built with years of experience also make it an additional challenge for new entrants.

If we fail to anticipate, adapt to or mitigate these evolving challenges in a timely and cost-effective manner, our business, results of operations, financial condition or cash flow may be adversely affected.

27. A decline in gold or silver prices could reduce our revenues and, given our thin operating margins, may materially impact our profitability and net worth.

Our revenues are directly linked to prevailing gold and silver prices. While we operate majorly on a hedged and back-to-back basis and do not take directional exposure to metal prices, any significant decline in gold or silver prices would result in a corresponding reduction in our reported revenues. Given that our business operates on thin operating margins, even limited disruptions in hedging effectiveness, execution timing, liquidity conditions or counterparty performance during periods of sharp price correction may have a disproportionate adverse effect on our EBITDA, profitability, net worth and cash flows. Further, periods of extreme volatility may impact transaction volumes and customer behaviour. Any such adverse developments could materially affect our business, results of operations and financial condition. For details of our EBITDA margin and profit for the year margin, see “Our Business – Our strengths – Track record of improved profit after tax of ₹ 759.66 million in Fiscal 2024 to ₹ 3,483.00 million in Fiscal 2026” on page 242 of this Prospectus.

28. Our inability to effectively manage or grow our delivery network may adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

We have set up an extensive delivery network to help us deliver our products across the country and grow our business. We have 20 spot delivery centers across 13 states in India to deliver the gold and silver bars that are purchased on our Augmont SPOT platform, as of March 31, 2026. Of these, nine spot delivery centers are operated directly by us, while 11 are operated through franchisees. For our consumer-focused offerings vertical, we have 106 Gold-For-All centers that are primarily located in the states of Andhra Pradesh, Telangana, Karnataka and Tamil Nadu and are operated by a member of our Promoter Group and our Group Company, Finkurve Financial Services Limited, as of March 31, 2026. For further details, see “- Our refining units are located in Rudrapur, Uttarakhand and Mumbai, Maharashtra, and our jewellery manufacturing unit is located in Sitapur SEZ, Jaipur, Rajasthan. Further, 101 of our ‘Gold for All’ centers are located in the states of Andhra Pradesh, Telangana and Karnataka, and 5 ‘Gold for All’ centres are located in Tamil Nadu in the Southern region of India. Any adverse developments affecting these regions could have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows” on page 54. Further, our investment jewellery products are available across 3,700 physical branches of Muthoot Fincorp. (Source: Technopak Report)

We have also entered into an agreement with an NBFC pursuant to which customers can purchase our jewellery and bullion products at their stores, while we handle the fulfilment and secure delivery of such orders. Our strategy for our enterprise business is to increase the number of customers to whom we sell gold and silver bullion, particularly in Tier 3 and Tier 4 cities where we believe there is demand for such products. In order to increase our penetration and service capabilities in these markets, we intend to set up new physical delivery centers across some Tier 3 and Tier 4 cities in India and set up 15 new centers by Fiscal 2029, in a phased manner of setting up five spot delivery centres in each of Fiscals 2027, 2028 and 2029, and such cities may include (i) Agra, Moradabad, Aligarh, Bareilly, Meerut, Saharanpur, Gwalior, Bilaspur, Akola, Amravati and Hapur in northern/central India; (ii) Madurai, Tiruchirapalli, Salem, Erode, Mangalore, Mysore, Chittoor, Eluru, Nellore, Karimnagar and Warangal in southern India; (iii) Rourkela, Dhanbad, Jamshedpur, Ranchi and Cuttack in eastern/north-eastern India; and (iv) Kolhapur, Solapur, Aurangabad, Nanded, Jodhpur, Udaipur, Bikaner, Bhavnagar, Gandhidham and Vapi-Valsad in western India. Such expansion would require substantial working capital and overhead costs. Given the uncertainty associated with evaluating and finalising new locations across Tier 3 and Tier 4 cities, and the dependency of these decisions on future conditions, if we are unable to set up new physical delivery centers across Tier 3 and Tier 4 cities in a timely manner or at all, our business, results of operations and financial condition could be adversely affected. For details, see “Our Business – Our Strategies – Expansion of Enterprise and International Sales” on page 243 and “Objects of the Offer” on page 130. Our ability to manage and expand this delivery infrastructure in line with our business growth is essential to maintaining service quality, meeting customer expectations, and supporting the scalability of our platforms. Any failure to effectively manage logistics, staffing, inventory coordination, or technology integration across these centers could result in operational inefficiencies, delays in order fulfilment, or customer dissatisfaction. Moreover, our planned expansion requires significant investment in infrastructure, technology, and partnerships. If we are unable to identify suitable locations, secure regulatory approvals, or recruit and train qualified personnel, our ability to scale our delivery footprint may be constrained. Any disruption in our central logistics or platform connectivity could impair the ability of these centers to function effectively. While we have not experienced any such instances in the past three Fiscals, we cannot assure you that it will not occur in the future.

29. Our revenues and working capital requirements are sensitive to movements in gold and silver prices.

Our revenue from operations is mechanically linked to prevailing gold and silver prices, as the majority of our revenue is derived from the sale of bullion. Accordingly, an increase or decrease in precious metal prices results in a corresponding increase or decrease in reported revenue, assuming transaction volumes remain unchanged pursuant to such increase or decrease in precious metal prices. Further, changes in gold and silver prices impact our working capital requirements, as higher prices increase the monetary value of inventory, trade receivables and margin money placed with suppliers and exchanges, while lower prices reduce such requirements.

Although our operating model is based on back-to-back transactions and hedging mechanisms that protect margins and limit exposure to directional price risk, any sudden and significant movements in precious metal prices could increase our liquidity requirements, strain short-term funding arrangements, or impact transaction volumes. Further, any inability to efficiently manage such fluctuations could adversely affect our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.

30. We depend on strategic arrangements for our current operations and to grow our business and the termination of such arrangements may have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

We have entered into a number of strategic arrangements with third-party platforms, financial institutions, logistics providers, and retail networks to expand the reach of our products and services, enhance customer accessibility, and support the scalability of our operations. These arrangements are integral to our business model and include partnerships with Gullak and Candere. Further, our investment jewellery products are available across 3,700 physical branches of Muthoot Fincorp. (Source: Technopak Report). We have also entered into an agreement with an NBFC pursuant to which customers can purchase our jewellery and bullion products at their stores. These partnerships allow us to leverage the distribution networks, customer bases, and technological infrastructure of our partners, thereby accelerating our market penetration and reducing customer acquisition costs. However, most of these arrangements are non-exclusive and may be subject to termination or non-renewal at the discretion of the counterparties. We do not have long-term contractual commitments with many of these partners, and there can be no assurance that they will continue to collaborate with us on the same terms, or at all, in the future.

The termination or non-renewal of any of these strategic arrangements, whether due to commercial disagreements, changes in business priorities, regulatory developments, or performance-related issues, could disrupt our operations, reduce our market reach, and adversely impact our revenue. In particular, the loss of access to large partner networks or high-volume distribution channels could significantly affect our ability to serve customers efficiently and at scale. Furthermore, our dependence on third-party platforms and networks also exposes us to reputational and operational risks arising from their conduct, service quality, or compliance practices. Any lapses or breaches on the part of our partners could result in unauthorized access to customer or operational data, potentially leading to reputational damage, regulatory scrutiny, and disruption of services. Any failure on their part to meet customer expectations or regulatory obligations could reflect negatively on our brand and subject us to scrutiny or liability by association. For further details, see “ - We primarily conduct our business through our two online platforms ‘Augmont SPOT’ and ‘Augmont Gold For All’, which are owned and operated by us, and any significant disruptions in our information technology systems or breaches of data security could adversely affect our business and reputation” on page 26. In the past, there have been instances of certain partners terminating their agreements with us pursuant to interventions from SEBI prohibiting trading members from offering digital gold, which is not a recognized security under Rule 8(3)(f) of the Securities Contracts Regulation Act, 1956, and we cannot assure you that such regulatory interventions will not adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

31. We export our products to various countries and our revenue from outside India represented 6.05%, 12.16% and 4.67% of our revenue from operations for Fiscals 2026, 2025 and 2024, respectively. As such, our international operations expose us to complex management, legal, tax and economic risks, which could adversely affect our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

We manufacture and sell gold jewellery articles, primarily chains, to jewellery traders outside India through our international sales business, and such sales are executed directly by our Company and through Ideal Fiscal Services Limited, our Subsidiary. The following table sets forth our revenues generated from outside India for the years indicated:

Particulars	Fiscal
Revenue from customers located outside India (₹ million)	57,014.86	80,521.67	16,309.84
Revenue from customers located outside India as a percentage of the total revenue from operations (%)	6.05%	12.16%	4.67%

The following table sets forth our revenues generated from outside India for the years indicated:

We are subject to various laws and regulations in the countries where we operate, including regulations related to product quality, labor laws, and trade restrictions. Non-compliance with these regulations can result in legal penalties, fines, and reputational damage. Our global operations also expose us to complex tax regimes and potential changes in tax laws, with differences in tax rates, tax incentives, and tax treaties between countries impacting our overall tax liability. Additionally, audits or disputes with tax authorities in various jurisdictions could lead to unexpected tax assessments and penalties. Economic instability, political unrest, and changes in government policies in the countries where we operate can adversely affect our business, with factors such as inflation, currency fluctuations, and trade barriers impacting our profitability and financial condition. Our reliance on international logistics networks makes us vulnerable to disruptions caused by geopolitical tensions, natural disasters, and other unforeseen events, leading to delays, increased costs, and potential loss of revenue. Protecting our intellectual property rights across multiple jurisdictions is challenging and costly, and increases the risk of infringement and unauthorized use of our proprietary technologies and products. Understanding and adapting to the diverse cultural preferences and market dynamics in different regions is crucial for our success, as failure to effectively tailor our products and marketing strategies to local markets can result in reduced customer acceptance and market share.

Although we did not have any non-compliance with accounting standards, tax laws and other regulations in overseas markets which resulted in penalties imposed by or action taken by government or tax authorities during the past three Fiscals, we cannot guarantee that such incidents will not occur in the future.

Further, we may face competition in other countries from companies that may have more experience with operations in such countries or with international operations generally. If we do not effectively manage our international operations, it may affect our profitability from such countries, which may adversely affect our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

32. Refining doré bars involves inherent costs, time delays and risk of metal losses that could adversely affect our operational efficiency, inventory valuation and profitability.

Our refining operations depend on the import of doré bars, which are then processed into refined bullion at our facilities in Rudrapur, Uttarakhand and Mumbai, Maharashtra. Since our refining operations depend on the timely import of doré bars, any disruption in international supply chains, trade restrictions, customs delays, or geopolitical tensions could impact the availability of doré bars, affecting our refining schedule and inventory.

The refining process entails significant direct and indirect costs, including chemicals, energy, labour, assay fees and facility overheads, and is subject to yield losses that arise from volatilisation, slag formation and residue retention. The actual recovery rate may vary due to variations in doré-bar composition, equipment performance or human error, resulting in a shortfall in the final quantity of refined gold and silver available for sale. Any material deviation between the estimated and actual recovery rates could lead to inventory write-downs or higher per-unit costs. In addition, since the refining cycle spans several hours to days, significant changes in gold or silver prices during this period could affect the value of our inventory and profitability.

Any delay in the refining schedule, due to equipment breakdown, regulatory inspection, power disruption or shortage of critical inputs, could defer our ability to monetise inventory, compel us to purchase additional bullion at prevailing market prices and increase our working-capital requirements. Moreover, if refined output falls short of customer commitments or purity specifications, we may incur re-processing costs, penalties or loss of customer confidence. While we have not faced any delays in our refining schedules due to equipment breakdown, regulatory inspection, power disruption or shortage of critical inputs in the last three Fiscals which had an adverse impact on our business, results of operations, financial conditions and cash flows, we cannot assure you that such instances will not occur in the future. Any significant increase in refining costs, time overruns or unexpected metal losses could have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

33. Our business operates on thin operating margins, and even minor disruptions, hedging, liquidity or execution could materially impact our profitability.

Our business operates on thin operating margins, which are characteristic of the bullion trading and refining industry. While we seek to mitigate thin margin and price risks through hedging and back-to-back arrangements, such measures may not always be effective under volatile market conditions. As a result, even minor delays or inefficiencies in hedging, operational disruptions, liquidity constraints, counterparty delays or execution mismatches may result in a disproportionate impact on our profitability. Any failure to manage these risks could adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows. For details of our EBITDA margin and profit for the year margin, see “Our Business – Our strengths – Track record of improved profit after tax of ₹ 759.66 million in Fiscal 2024 to ₹ 3,483.00 million in Fiscal 2026” on page 242 of this Prospectus.

34. Our past performance may not be indicative of our future growth, primarily since our business is characterized by high transaction volumes and low operating margins, which exposes us to significant operational, financial and market risks. We may not be able to effectively sustain or manage our growth or execute our growth strategies, which could have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

We have demonstrated a consistent track record of operational and financial performance. However, our business is characterised by high-volume, low-margin environment where profitability is driven by the scale and velocity of transactions rather than individual unit economics. The following table sets forth our revenue from operations, profit and profit after tax margins for the years indicated:

Particulars	Fiscal 2026	Fiscal 2025	Fiscal 2024	CAGR (Fiscal 2024 – Fiscal 2026) (%)
Revenue from operations (₹ million)	941,862.12	662,307.79	349,214.93	64.23%
Profit for the year (₹ million)	3,483.00	2,271.88	759.66	114.12%
Profit for the year margin ⁽¹⁾ (%)	0.37%	0.34%	0.22%	-

Note:

(1) Profit for the year margin is calculated as the percentage of profit after tax divided by revenue from operations.

Our profit for the year increased from ₹ 759.66 million in Fiscal 2024 to ₹ 2,271.88 million in Fiscal 2025, to ₹ 3,483.00 million in Fiscal 2026, primarily on account of increased sales volumes, with higher margins and increase in export and retail business. There can be no assurance that we will be able to sustain or effectively manage this growth going forward. The development of future business could be adversely affected by many factors, including our ability to identify market opportunities and demands in the industry, introduce new products, compete with existing companies in our markets, consistently exercise effective quality control, hire and train qualified personnel, general political and economic conditions in India, government policies or strategies in respect of specific industries, prevailing interest rates, and labour costs, among others. If we are unable to manage our growth effectively, we may not be able to take advantage of market opportunities, execute our business strategies successfully or respond to competitive pressures. Our margins are particularly sensitive to fluctuations in gold and silver prices, foreign exchange rates, import duties and other input costs, which we may not always be able to pass on to customers due to competitive pressures. A sustained increase in procurement costs, logistics expenses or regulatory compliance costs without a corresponding increase in selling prices could materially erode our margins. Additionally, our high-volume model requires continuous capital deployment for inventory procurement and working capital management. We cannot assure you that we will be able to maintain or improve our margins in the future.

Additional difficulties in executing our growth strategy, particularly in new geographical locations, may include, among others, obtaining applicable regulatory approvals and other permits; managing local operational, capital investment or sourcing regulatory requirements; managing fluctuations in the economy and financial markets, as well as credit risks; and managing possible unfavorable labor conditions or employee strikes. We cannot assure you that our growth and expansion strategy will continue to be successful or will continue to grow at historical rates or that we will be able to execute our business plans efficiently in a cost-effective manner. While we have not faced any such instances in the past that materially affected our performance and operations, any significant issues in executing our growth strategy could adversely affect our business, results of operations, and financial condition.

35. If we fail to integrate or manage acquired companies or businesses efficiently, our overall profitability and growth plans could be adversely affected.

We acquired 95.87% of the paid-up equity share capital of Augmont Goldtech Private Limited (“AGTPL”) and AGTPL became a subsidiary of our Company with effect from August 12, 2024. Additionally, pursuant to a share purchase agreement dated January 29, 2026, entered into between Sachin G. Kothari, one of the directors of our Company and our Company has acquired an additional 0.68% of the paid-up equity share capital of AGTPL. Accordingly, as on the date of this Prospectus, our Company holds 96.55% of the paid-up share capital of AGTPL. Further, we acquired 99.94% of Augmont Trading Limited (formerly known as Arvog Enterprises Limited) (“ATL”) and ATL became a subsidiary of our Company with effect from April 22, 2025. Additionally, Ideal Fiscal Services Limited (“IFSL”) became a subsidiary of our Company with effect from July 28, 2022 and Augmont International Limited (“AIL”) became a subsidiary of our Company with effect from October 30, 2020. For further information, see “History and Certain Corporate Matters - Details regarding material acquisitions or divestments of business/ undertakings, mergers, amalgamations, slump sale or any revaluation of assets, in the last 10 years” on page 272. The table below sets forth details of revenue contributed by the abovementioned entities in the overall revenue from operations of our Company, including as a percentage of our revenue from operations, in the years indicated:

	Amount (₹ million)	As a percentage of revenue from operations (%)	Amount (₹ million)	As a percentage of revenue from operations (%)	Amount (₹ million)	As a percentage of revenue from operations (%)

Revenue contribution from Augmont International Limited^	0.00	0.00%	0.00	0.00%	0.00	0.00%

*ATL became a subsidiary of our Company with effect from April 22, 2025. Further, Augmont Trading Limited (formerly known as Arvog Enterprises Limited) did not contribute any revenue during Fiscals 2025 and 2024, as it had not commenced business operations pending the receipt of its certificate of registration under the Securities and Exchange Board of India (Stock Brokers) Regulations, 1992. It received its certificate of registration on January 8, 2026.

^AIL became a subsidiary of our Company with effect from October 30, 2020. AIL was acquired to undertake future business activities and is currently in the process of establishing the necessary operational, regulatory and business infrastructure. Accordingly, no revenue has been recognized during the abovementioned Fiscals.

In the future, while we may acquire additional businesses. Integrating the operations of such acquired entities successfully or otherwise realising any of the anticipated benefits of acquisitions, including anticipated cost savings and additional revenue opportunities, involves a number of potential challenges. These integration activities are complex and time-consuming, and we may encounter unexpected difficulties or incur unexpected costs, including:

- our inability to achieve the operating synergies anticipated in the acquisitions;
- possible cash flow interruption or loss of revenue as a result of transitional matters;
- generating sufficient revenues and net income to offset acquisition costs;
- retaining key senior management and key sales and marketing and research and development personnel, particularly those of the acquired operations;
- diversion of management attention from on-going business concerns to integration matters;
- failing to realise the potential cost savings or other financial benefits and/or the strategic benefits of the acquisition; and
- integrating and documenting processes and controls.

While we have not experienced any of the aforesaid instances with respect to the acquisitions of the abovementioned Subsidiaries, we cannot assure you that such instances will not arise in the future. If we fail to properly evaluate acquisitions or investments, we may not achieve the anticipated benefits of any such future acquisitions, and we may incur costs in excess of what we anticipate. The failure to successfully integrate the operations or otherwise to realise any of the anticipated benefits of the acquisition could seriously harm our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

36. We operate in a competitive business environment and if we are unable to compete effectively, we may lose market share and our profits may decline, which may adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

We operate in a highly competitive and rapidly evolving business environment across multiple verticals, including bullion trading, digital gold services, jewellery manufacturing and sales and refining. Each of these segments is characterized by intense competition from both organized and unorganized players, including large domestic and international companies, regional jewellers, fintech platforms, e-commerce marketplaces, and traditional bullion dealers. For further details on our competitors, see “Our Business – Competition”, “Basis for Offer Price” and “Industry Overview” on pages 255, 144 and 161, respectively.

In the bullion trading space, we compete with other electronic trading platforms, banks, and brokers offering similar services. In the digital gold segment, we face competition from fintech companies and mobile wallet providers that offer gold investment products with aggressive pricing and customer acquisition strategies. Our jewellery business competes with established national brands, regional players, and online retailers, many of whom have strong brand recognition, extensive retail networks, and significant marketing budgets. Additionally, our refining operations compete with other private and government-affiliated refiners, some of whom may benefit from scale advantages or preferential sourcing arrangements.

The competitive pressures in these markets may lead to pricing pressures, increased marketing and promotional expenses, and the need for continuous innovation in product offerings and customer experience. If we are unable to differentiate our offerings, maintain competitive pricing, or respond effectively to changing consumer preferences and technological advancements, we may lose market share to existing or new entrants. Moreover, as we expand into new businesses such as lab-grown diamonds, alloy materials, and value-added services for jewellers, we may face established incumbents with deeper expertise, stronger supplier relationships, and entrenched customer bases. Our ability to compete in these businesses will depend on our capacity to scale operations, build trust, and deliver consistent value to customers. Failure to compete effectively in any of our business segments could result in reduced revenue, lower margins, and diminished brand equity, all of which could have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations, financial condition, and long-term growth prospects.

37. Our refining units are located in Rudrapur, Uttarakhand and Mumbai, Maharashtra, and our jewellery manufacturing unit is located in Sitapur SEZ, Jaipur, Rajasthan. Further, 101 of our ‘Gold for All’ centers are located in the states of Andhra Pradesh, Telangana and Karnataka, and 5 ‘Gold for All’ centres are located in Tamil Nadu in the Southern region of India. Any adverse developments affecting these regions could have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

Our refining units are located in Rudrapur, Uttarakhand and Mumbai, Maharashtra, and our jewellery manufacturing unit is located in Sitapur SEZ, Jaipur, Rajasthan. Further, as on March 31, 2026, 101 ‘Gold for All’ centers are located in the states of Andhra Pradesh, Telangana and Karnataka and 5 ‘Gold for All’ centres are located in Tamil Nadu, in the Southern region of India. The table below sets forth the details of the number of ‘Gold for All’ centers across states in Southern India in as of March 31, 2026, as of March 31, 2025 and as of March 31, 2024:

States	As of March 31, 2026	As of March 31, 2025	As of March 31, 2024
Andhra Pradesh	38	24	17
Karnataka	13	12	9
Telangana	50	37	34
Total	106	73	60

Any significant social, political or economic disruption, or natural calamities or civil disruptions in these regions, or changes in the policies of the state or local governments of these regions or the Government of India, could adversely affect our business and may require us to incur significant capital expenditure and change our business strategy. Disruptions resulting from such events could lead to partial or complete shutdown of one or more of our facilities, damage to products or inventory, delays in production or delivery schedules, and adverse impacts on our contractual obligations. While we have not experienced any such instances in the past three Fiscals, we cannot assure you that it will not occur in the future. The occurrence of, or our inability to effectively respond to any such event, could have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

38. Our business depends upon maintaining high levels of customer trust and satisfaction for our operations. Any negative incidents, such as disputes over quality and standard of gold and silver provided, and trading discrepancies, could have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Maintaining high levels of customer trust and satisfaction is critical to our ability to retain customers, grow transaction volumes, and expand our market presence. We offer a range of services that involve sensitive and high-stakes interactions with customers, such as acting as an online platform provider for customers to avail gold loans, the sale and delivery of hallmarked bullion and jewellery, and the execution of real-time trades on our ‘Augmont SPOT’ and ‘Augmont Gold For All’ platforms. For details of our certifications and accreditations, see “Our Business - Quality Assurance” on page 254. Any negative customer experience, such as disputes over loan terms, delays in disbursement or redemption, discrepancies in product quality or weight, or errors in pricing and trade execution, could lead to dissatisfaction, complaints, initiation of legal proceedings and reputational damage. For details, see “- We are required to adhere to stringent quality management processes to ensure that the gold and silver we sell meet specific quality requirements. Any failure to comply with these quality standards could adversely affect our business and reputation” on page 39. While we have not experienced any such instances in the past three Fiscals that materially impacted our operations, we cannot assure you that it will not occur in the future. Any failure to manage customer expectations, resolve grievances promptly, or uphold the integrity of our offerings could materially impact our brand, customer retention, and financial performance. Accordingly, any decline in customer trust or satisfaction, whether due to operational lapses, product issues, or service failures, could have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations, financial condition, and prospects.

39. Our Group Company and member of our Promoter Group, including Riddisiddhi Bullions Limited and our Company have common pursuits and any conflicts of interest may affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Our Group Company and member of our Promoter Group, including Riddisiddhi Bullions Limited, and our Company share certain business pursuits, and may operate in areas overlapping with our business interests. This overlap could lead to potential conflicts in strategy, competition for customers, and allocation of resources. While such entities pursue independent growth, such common pursuits may adversely impact our Company’s competitive positioning, business operations, and future prospects. While we have not faced any instances of conflict of business interests with RSBL or other members of the Promoter Group and Group Companies in the last three Fiscals, which had an adverse impact on our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows, we cannot assure you that such instances will not occur in the future. Our Company identifies and manages potential conflicts of interest through following certain corporate governance practices, including review and approval of related party transactions by the Audit Committee, oversight by the Board of Directors, compliance with the Companies Act, 2013 and disclosures made in accordance with applicable accounting standards. Since no conflict of business interests have arisen in Fiscals 2026, 2025 and 2024 between our Group Companies and our Company or between our Company and any of our Promoters, other members of our Promoter Group and Group Companies, no agreements or arrangements have been entered into to manage any conflict of interest.

40. For our jewellery business, if we are unable to provide new designs or update our collections in accordance with customer preferences, it could adversely affect our business prospects, results of operations and cash flows.

The jewellery business fluctuates according to changes in customer preferences. The following table sets forth details of revenue generated from our EMI jewellery business for the years indicated:

Particulars	Fiscal 2026		Fiscal 2025		Fiscal 2024
	Amount (₹ million)	As a percentage of revenue from operations (%)	Amount (₹ million)	As a percentage of revenue from operations (%)	Amount (₹ million)	As a percentage of revenue from operations (%)
EMI jewellery	8,469.08	0.90%	5,159.46	0.78%	3,422.20	0.98%

To the extent we misjudge the market for our products or are unable to design new products or modify our existing products in line with changes in trends, our sales may get adversely affected. New product development also involves in-house designing, manufacturing the products and cost closure, which adds to these timelines. We cannot assure you that the demand for our products with end-customers will continue to grow or that we will be able to continue to develop appealing styles or meet rapidly changing customer demands in the future. A decline in demand for our products, or a misjudgment on our part could, among other things, lead to lower sales, excess inventories and higher markdowns, each of which could have an adverse effect on our results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

Customer preferences regarding gold also influence the level of our sales. Customer preferences could be affected by a variety of issues, including promotion of specific types of jewellery by the fashion industry, a decrease in the perceived value and customer satisfaction of the jewellery compared to its price, the availability of alternate metals and customer attitudes towards the substitution of our products with other products. If we are unable to anticipate, gauge and respond to changing customer preferences or jewellery design trends, or if we are unable to adapt to such changes by modifying our existing products or collections, or launch new products or collections on a timely basis, we may lose, or fail to attract customers, our inventory may become obsolete and we may need to melt the gold and use any precious stones in other products, incurring loss of raw materials, primarily gold, in the melting process.

Our success depends on our ability to identify, originate and define product and market trends, both on a pan – India and local level, as well as to anticipate, gauge and react to rapidly changing consumer demands in a timely manner. Our products must also appeal to a broad range of customers whose preferences may vary significantly and cannot be predicted with certainty. We cannot assure you that the demand for our products with end-consumers will continue to grow or that we will be able to continue to develop appealing styles or meet rapidly changing consumer demands in the future, misjudging the market for our jewellery products or failing to anticipate a shift in the consumer preferences could adversely affect our brand image, our business and financial condition. Further, our process for designing our jewellery is a key aspect of our operations for which we rely heavily on data analysis and the study of customer preference and trends to introduce new and original concepts for our collections. We cannot assure you that our current portfolio of designs and any jewellery products or collections we launch, will be well received by our customers, or that we will be able to recover costs we incurred in designing and developing such products or that the new launches will not hurt the perception of our brand and existing product portfolio.

41. We do not have significant experience in facilitating the trading of lab grown diamonds on our platform. Our inability to compete successfully against other companies that are well established may adversely affect our business and results of operations.

We enabled the trading of lab grown diamonds on our Augmont SPOT platform in Fiscal 2026 to capitalize on the growing demand for such products. Since we do not have significant experience in this business, it remains unproven in terms of scale, profitability, and long-term viability within our overall portfolio.

The LGD industry is highly competitive and includes several well-established players with significant experience, brand recognition, supplier relationships, and customer loyalty. Many of these competitors operate with larger scale, deeper distribution networks, and more mature product offerings. Our ability to compete effectively in this space will depend on our capacity to build trust with jewellers and end consumers, offer transparent and competitive pricing, ensure consistent product quality and certification, and deliver a seamless digital trading experience. Any failure to meet these expectations could limit our ability to gain market share or achieve meaningful revenue contribution from this business. Additionally, the LGD market is subject to evolving consumer preferences, regulatory standards, and certification norms. LGDs may face ongoing scrutiny regarding their environmental claims, resale value, and differentiation from natural diamonds. The supply chain for LGDs, particularly in the B2B segment, remains fragmented and relatively less mature compared to traditional precious metals. As a recent entrant in the LGD trading space, we may face challenges in sourcing consistent, certified-quality LGDs at competitive prices. The absence of standardized grading protocols, limited availability of reliable suppliers, and variability in production quality may affect our ability to meet customer expectations and scale this business segment effectively. As our venture into LGDs and the industry in which we operate continue to develop and as competition increases in the LGD market, we may not be able to adjust our offerings on our platform or modify our business model. Any disruption in supply, inconsistency in quality, or inability to procure LGDs at commercially viable terms could adversely impact our product offerings, margins, and overall growth in this vertical. Any negative perception or regulatory tightening could impact demand and affect our ability to scale this business. We may also face challenges in forecasting demand, managing platform performance, and integrating LGD trading with our existing operations. If we are unable to successfully establish and grow our presence in the LGD market, or if the market itself fails to develop as anticipated, our investment in this business may not yield the expected returns and could adversely affect our business, and results of operations.

42. Our inability to accurately forecast demand for our products and manage our inventory may have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

Our business depends on our estimate of the long term demand for our products from our customers. If we underestimate demand or have inadequate capacity due to which we are unable to meet the demand for our products, we may manufacture fewer quantities of products than required, which could result in the loss of business. Any error in our forecast could result in surplus stock, which may not be sold in a timely manner. The table below sets forth our total inventory and inventory turnover days as of the dates indicated.

Particulars	As of March 31,
Total inventory (₹ million)	3,419.33	2,641.84	579.83
Inventory days*	1.33	1.46	0.61

* Inventory days is calculated as closing inventory divided by revenue from operations multiplied by number of days for the year.

Our inability to accurately forecast demand for our products and manage our inventory may have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition. Additionally, we make decisions, such as determining the levels of business to pursue, setting production schedules, and allocating personnel and other resources, based on our estimates of orders. Fluctuations in demand for our products can complicate production and refining scheduling and lead to mismatches in production and capacity utilization. Such mismatches, whether resulting in over or underutilization of our manufacturing and refining units, could adversely affect our business, operational results, and financial condition.

43. Our continued success is dependent on our Directors, senior management and skilled manpower. Our inability to attract and retain key personnel or the loss of services of such personnel may have an adverse effect on our business prospects.

Our Directors, senior management and skilled manpower have significantly contributed to the growth of our business, and our future success is dependent on the continued services of our senior management team. For further details, see “Our Management” on page 284. Our business also depends on our ability to attract, train, motivate and retain highly skilled professionals, particularly at managerial levels. We might face challenges in recruiting suitably skilled personnel, particularly as we continue to grow and diversify our operations. In the future, we may also not be able to compete with other companies for suitably skilled personnel due to their ability to offer more competitive compensation and benefits. An inability to retain any key managerial personnel with technical expertise or the loss of any of the members of our senior management team, our whole time directors or other key personnel or an inability on our part to manage the attrition levels; may adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and growth prospects. While we have not faced any such instances in the past three Fiscals, we cannot assure you that such instances will not occur in the future.

Additionally, our business success hinges on our ability to recruit, retain, and effectively utilize skilled personnel with the necessary experience and expertise. As of March 31, 2026, we had 296 permanent employees. Set forth below are the details of the attrition rate of our Key Managerial Personnel, Senior Management Personnel and permanent employees for the years indicated:

Particulars	As of March 31,
	2026	2025	2024
Number of Key Managerial Personnel	4	4	4
Number of Key Managerial Personnel exited	Nil	Nil	1
Attrition rate of Key Managerial Personnel* (%)	-	-	25.00%
Number of Senior Management Personnel	22	25	22
Number of Senior Management Personnel exited	4	7	2
Attrition rate of Senior Management Personnel (%)	18.18%	28.00%	9.09%
Number of permanent employees	296	232	365
Number of employees exited	76	266	106
Attrition rate of employees (%)	25.68%	114.66%^	29.04%

*Attrition rate is calculated as overall exits including retired Key Managerial Personnel divided by average number of Key Managerial Personnel in the relevant financial year.

Attrition rate is calculated as overall exits including retired Senior Management Personnel divided by average number of Senior Management Personnel in the relevant financial year.

Attrition rate is calculated as overall exits including retired employees divided by average number of employees in the relevant financial year.

^ Attrition was on account of employees being transferred from our Subsidiary to Finkurve Financial Services Limited following the closure of backend operations.

We face intense competition for qualified personnel with relevant industry expertise in India and no assurance can be given that we will be successful in hiring or retaining appropriately qualified people. If we cannot hire or retain appropriately qualified people, our ability to expand our business could be impaired and our revenue could decline. Further, recruiting new employees who require training tailored to our business and business operations, as well as providing training to our existing employees on our internal policies, procedures, controls and risk management frameworks, could be costly, in terms of time, money and resources. We may be required to increase our levels of employee compensation and benefits more rapidly than in the past to remain competitive in attracting skilled personnel. Such skilled personnel may also not be easily available in the market. Moreover, we may be unable to manage knowledge developed internally, which may be lost in the event of our inability to retain employees. In addition, as some of our key personnel approach retirement age, we need to have appropriate succession plans in place and to successfully implement such plans. If we cannot attract and retain qualified personnel or effectively implement appropriate succession plans, it could have an adverse impact on our business, financial condition, and results of operations.

44. Certain of our Promoters and Senior Management Personnel do not have formal educational qualifications and / or prior work experience, which may affect their ability to contribute effectively to our business.

Some of our Promoters and Senior Management Personnel do not possess formal educational qualifications and / or significant prior work experience. Certain of our Promoters, such as Mohinidevi Bhawarlal Kothari, Kalawati Prithviraj Kothari, Devkumari Manekchand Kothari, Dimpal Mukesh Kothari and Dimpal Vivek Kothari do not have prior experience in the business in which we operate and may not be able to contribute to the growth of our business. Other Promoters without formal educational qualifications and / or prior work experience include Manakchand Saremal Kothari, and the Senior Management Personnel include Bishon Bihari Singh and Aaskaran Singh. While they bring practical knowledge and insights, the absence of formal qualifications or professional experience may limit their ability to address complex business, regulatory, financial or operational challenges in a manner comparable to individuals with such qualifications or experience. This could place us at a disadvantage in competing with companies that are led by individuals with stronger educational or professional backgrounds. Any inability of such personnel to perform their roles effectively could adversely affect our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

45. Our contingent liabilities could adversely affect our financial condition if they materialise.

As of March 31, 2026, our contingent liabilities were as follows:

Particulars	(₹ million)
Disputed tax liability in respect of income tax A.Y. 2017-2018	6.58
Bank guarantee to Assistant State Tax officer and Commercial Tax Office, I Circle Thrissur, Kerala against the disputed amount of ₹ 0.85 million	Nil
Bank guarantee to Maharashtra Pollution Control Board for due compliance of Air Act, Water Act and Environment Protection Act	0.20
Bank Guarantee to Hutti Gold Mines company limited as security deposit	Nil
First loan default guarantee	Nil
Disputed tax liability in respect of Customs Act, 1962	13.83
Tax levied for incorrect document for branch transfer in Kerala	Nil
Dispute related to purity for gold doore imported (Custom)	14.76
Penalty imposed due to discrepancy on scanned copy of E-Invoice by TN GST Authority	1.16
Balances attached by the bank for alleged cyber incident involving third party	15.25
Penalty on ITC wrongly taken and reversed	16.38
Denial of claim of ITC in GSTR 3B	73.22
Excess claim of ITC in GSTR 3B	9.18
Total	150.55

For further information, see “Restated Consolidated Financial Statements – Note 36(C) – Contingent Liability” on page 362. There can be no assurance that we will not have similar or increased levels of contingent liabilities in the future. If any of these contingent liabilities materialises, our results of operations and financial condition may be adversely affected.

46. We have incurred negative cash flows from operating activities in the past and may incur negative cash flows in the future.

We have incurred negative cash flows from operating activities in the past. The following table sets forth certain information relating to our cash flows in the years indicated:

	(₹ in million)
Net cash generated from/(used in) operating activities	(421.57)	1,054.48	967.39
Net cash generated from/(used in) investing activities	(512.70)	610.18	1,684.25
Net cash generated from/(used in) financing activities	67.07	(470.08)	(1,598.56)
Net increase/(decrease) in cash and cash equivalents	(867.21)	(25.79)	1,053.07

We incurred negative a cash flow from operating activities in Fiscal 2026 primarily due to an increase in trade receivables, a decrease in other current financial liability and an increase in taxes paid (net of refund). For further information, see “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations – Cash Flows” on page 412. We will need to generate and sustain increased revenue from operations in the future in order to achieve positive cash flows from operating activities. We cannot assure you that we will be able to generate positive cash flow from operating activities in the future, and any future negative cash flow from operating activities may impact our ability to meet working capital expenditures, repay loans without raising finance from external resources, which may have an adverse impact on our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

47. There have been certain instances of non-payments or delays in payment of statutory dues by us in the past. Any non-payment or delay in payment of statutory dues by us in the future, may result in the imposition of penalties and in turn may have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operation and cash flows.

We are required to pay certain statutory dues including provident fund contributions, employee state insurance contributions (“ESIC”), professional taxes, labour welfare fund, goods and services tax (“GST”), tax deducted at source (“TDS”), tax collected at source (“TCS”) and income tax. The table below sets forth details of the statutory dues payable by us for the years indicated:

Accordingly, the instances relating to earlier years have not been reported separately, as the payments were duly made on the said date.

The table set forth below details the delays in statutory dues payable by our Company for the years indicated:

Note:

1. The delay occurred as the reversal of ineligible ITC taken in earlier months in both cases.

2. The delay occurred as the threshold amount for TDS deduction was yet to be determined at that point of time in certain cases.

3. The Company availed the benefit of the Employee’s Enrolment Campaign (EEC) – 2025 and remitted the Provident Fund (Employer’s Contribution) as well as EPS contributions pertaining to earlier years up to December 2025 on 21 January 2026. Accordingly, the instances relating to earlier years have not been reported separately, as the payments were duly made on the said date.

4. The delay in payment of Professional Tax occurred due to an oversight and was subsequently rectified in the following month in both instances. Further, the corresponding returns for the State of Maharashtra from April 2025 to March 2026 could not be filed due to technical issues/non-functioning of the portal.

We cannot assure you that we will not be subject to such penalties and fines in the future for delays in payment of statutory dues, which may have an adverse impact on our business, financial condition and cash flows.

- 48. We are subject to various Indian laws and regulations regarding privacy and data security, and we or our customers may be subject to regulations related to the handling and transfer of certain types of sensitive and confidential information. Any failure to comply with these laws and regulations could impose significant penal burden and could adversely impact our business and results of operations.

In our processing of transactions, we receive and store a large volume of personally identifiable data, including PAN Card, mobile number, GSTIN, Aadhaar number, address of the customers. This data is increasingly subject to legislations and regulations such as the Indian Information Technology Act, 2000 (“IT Act”), as amended, which would subject us to civil and criminal liability including compensation to persons affected, penalties and imprisonment for various cyber related offences that may stem from negligence by us in implementing and maintaining reasonable security practices and procedures with respect to sensitive personal data or information that we possess in our computer systems, networks, databases and software. The IT Act also imposes stringent punishment, including imprisonment in case a person (including an intermediary), while providing services as per a contract, accesses, reveals or discloses personal information about another individual in violation of the contract or without consent of such other individual, knowing it will cause wrongful loss or wrongful gain.

The Department of Information Technology, Ministry of Electronics and Information Technology (“MEITY”), Government of India has also implemented other privacy laws, including the Information Technology (Reasonable Security Practices and Procedures and Sensitive Personal Data or Information) Rules, 2011 (“IT Security Rules”), which impose limitations and restrictions on the collection, use and disclosure of personal information. It also mandates body corporates to adopt a privacy policy, to obtain consent from data subjects for collecting or transferring their sensitive personal data or information and intimate them about recipients of such collected data, as a mechanism of establishing a robust security standard. Additionally, the Information Technology (Intermediary Guidelines and Digital Media Ethics Code) Rules, 2021 (“IT Intermediary Rules”) requires intermediaries (respectively) receiving, storing, transmitting or providing any service with respect to electronic messages to not knowingly host, publish, transmit, select or modify any information prohibited under these IT Intermediary Rules and to disable hosting, publishing, transmission, selection or modification of such information once they become aware of it, as well as specifying the due diligence to be observed by intermediaries.

Further, the DPDP Act, a comprehensive legal framework governing digital personal data protection in India, received the assent of the President on August 11, 2023. The DPDP Act, has replaced the existing data protection provision, as contained in Section 43A of the IT Act. The DPDP Act provides for the processing of digital personal data in a manner that recognises both the rights of individuals to protect their personal data and the need to process personal data for lawful purposes and matters incidental thereto. The DPDP Rules regulate the processing of personal data in India, ensuring that the privacy rights of individuals are protected and to provide an actionable framework. If similar legislations are enacted, we may incur additional compliance costs, which may impact our results of operation and financial condition.

While we are currently compliant with applicable Indian laws concerning data security, privacy and information technology, there can be no assurance that we will continue to remain in compliance in the future. Any actual or perceived failure to comply with our privacy policies or applicable legal and regulatory requirements may result in proceedings or actions by governmental entities or others, exposing us to significant penalties, negative publicity, increased costs, and potential disruption to our business. As our operations expand, we may become subject to more stringent or conflicting requirements in other jurisdictions, which could require significant resources, increase compliance costs, and materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects. For further details on key statutes and regulations regarding privacy and data security applicable to us, see “Key Regulations and Policies” on page 258.

49. Failures in internal control systems could cause operational errors which may have an adverse effect on our reputation, business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

We are responsible for establishing and maintaining adequate internal control measures commensurate with the size and complexity of operations. Our internal audit functions make an evaluation of the adequacy and effectiveness of internal systems on an ongoing basis so that our operations adhere to our policies, compliance requirements and internal guidelines. We periodically test and update our internal processes and systems and there have been no instances of failure to maintain effective internal controls and compliance systems in the last three Fiscals. However, we are exposed to operational risks arising from the potential inadequacy or failure of internal processes or systems, and our actions may not be sufficient to ensure effective internal checks and balances in all circumstances. As risks evolve and develop, internal controls must be reviewed on an ongoing basis. Maintaining such internal controls requires human diligence and compliance and is therefore subject to lapses in judgment and failures that result from human error. Any lapses in judgment or failures that result from human error can affect the accuracy of our financial reporting, resulting in a loss of investor confidence and a decline in the price of our equity shares.

50. Any failure to protect our intellectual property rights could adversely affect our competitive position, business, financial condition and results of operations.

We have two registered trademarks including trademarks for classes 14 and 35 in the Company's name. Further, one of our Material Subsidiaries, namely, Augmont Goldtech Private Limited has five registered trademarks for class 14 in its name. For further information, see "Our Business – Intellectual Property" on page 256 and "Government and Other Approvals – Intellectual Property Rights" on page 439. The use of our intellectual property by third parties could adversely affect our reputation, which could in turn adversely affect our business and results of operations. The measures we take to protect our intellectual property may not be adequate to prevent unauthorized use of our intellectual property by third parties. We have filed trademark applications under classes 14 and 36 for the registration of thirteen trademarks in the Company's name. Further, our Material Subsidiary, Augmont Goldtech Private Limited, has seven pending applications for the registration of trademarks under various classes. We cannot assure you that such registrations will be granted to us in a timely manner, or at all. As a result, we may not be able to prevent infringement of our intellectual property until such time that such registration is granted.

The registration of intellectual property is a time-consuming process and there can be no assurance that any registration applications we may pursue will be successful and that such registration will be granted to us. If we fail to register the appropriate intellectual property, or our efforts to protect relevant intellectual property prove to be inadequate, the value attached to our brand and proprietary property could deteriorate, which could have an adverse effect on our business growth and prospects, financial condition, results of operations, and cash flows.

Further, the defence of intellectual property suits and related legal and administrative proceedings can be both costly and time-consuming and may significantly divert the efforts and resources of our technical and management personnel. We may not achieve a favourable outcome in any such litigation. While we have not faced any such instances in the past three Fiscals, we cannot assure you that such instances will not occur in the future.

51. If we inadvertently infringe on the intellectual property rights of others, our business and results of operations may be adversely affected.

While we take care to ensure that we comply with the intellectual property rights of others, we cannot determine with certainty as to whether we are infringing on any existing third-party intellectual property rights, which may force us to alter our techniques and technologies, obtain licences or cease some of our operations. We may also be susceptible to claims from third parties asserting infringement and other related claims. If claims or actions are asserted against us, we may be subject to costly litigation or may be required to obtain a licence, modify our existing procedures/technology or cease the use of such technology/procedures, which can be extremely costly. Further, necessary licences may not be available to us on satisfactory terms, if at all. In addition, we may decide to settle a claim or action against us, which settlement could be costly. We may also be liable for any past infringement. Any of the foregoing could adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition. An inadvertent breach or any misuse of intellectual property or proprietary data by any of our employees may expose us to expensive infringement claims and may diminish our goodwill and reputation, making it difficult for us to operate our business and compete effectively. While we have not faced any such instances in the past three Fiscals, we cannot assure you that such instances will not occur in the future.

52. Certain sections of this Prospectus disclose information from the Technopak Report which has been prepared exclusively for the Offer and commissioned and paid for by us exclusively in connection with the Offer and any reliance on such information for making an investment decision in the Offer is subject to inherent risks.

We have availed the services of an independent third-party research agency, Technopak Advisors Private Limited, appointed by us pursuant to an engagement letter dated April 21, 2025 and letter of authorization dated March 24, 2026, to prepare an industry report titled "Industry Report on India's Gold Landscape: Insights into a Modernising Industry" dated August 6, 2026, for the purposes of inclusion of such information in this Prospectus to understand the industry in which we operate. Our Company, our Promoters, and our Directors are not related to Technopak Advisors Private Limited. The Technopak Report has been commissioned by our Company exclusively in connection with the Offer for a fee. The Technopak Report is subject to various limitations and based upon certain assumptions that are subjective in nature. Further, it presents industry and market data based on estimates, assumptions, and discussions with industry sources. Such estimates and assumptions may prove to be inaccurate or may change over time, and certain data may not reflect current market trends. Further the commissioned report is not a recommendation to invest or divest in our Company. Prospective investors are advised not to unduly rely on the commissioned report or extracts thereof as included in this Prospectus, when making their investment decisions.

- 53. *Our Promoters, members of our Promoter Group and Priyank Rakesh Kothari, nephew of Dimple Mukesh Kothari and grandson of Manakchand Saremal Kothari and Devkumari Manekchand Kothari will continue to hold a significant equity stake in our Company after the Offer and their interests may differ from those of the other shareholders.

Our Promoters, members of the Promoter Group and Priyank Rakesh Kothari, nephew of Dimple Mukesh Kothari and grandson of Manakchand Saremal Kothari and Devkumari Manekchand Kothari collectively hold 95.45% of the paid-up equity share capital of our Company on a fully diluted basis. For further information on their shareholding pre- and post-Offer, see “Capital Structure” on page 107. After the completion of the Offer, our Promoters along with the members of Promoter Group and Priyank Rakesh Kothari, nephew of Dimple Mukesh Kothari and grandson of Manakchand Saremal Kothari and Devkumari Manekchand Kothari will continue to collectively hold majority of the shareholding in our Company and will continue to exercise significant influence over our business policies and affairs and all matters requiring Shareholders’ approval. This concentration of ownership also may delay, defer or even prevent a change in control of our Company and may make some transactions more difficult or impossible without the support of these stockholders. The interests of the Promoters as our controlling shareholders could conflict with our interests or the interests of our other shareholders. We cannot assure you that the Promoters will act to resolve any conflicts of interest in our favour and any such conflict may adversely affect our ability to execute our business strategy or to operate our business. For further information in relation to the interests of our Promoters, see “Our Promoter and Promoter Group” and “Our Management” on pages 310 and 284, respectively.

- 54. *Certain non-GAAP financial measures relating to our operations and financial performance have been included in this Prospectus. These non-GAAP financial measures are not measures of operating performance or liquidity defined by Ind AS and may not be comparable.

Certain non-GAAP financial measures relating to our operations and financial performance have been included in this Prospectus. We compute and disclose such non-GAAP financial measures as we consider such information to be useful measures of our business and financial performance.

These Non-GAAP Measures are not a measurement of our financial performance or liquidity under Ind AS and should not be considered in isolation or construed as an alternative to cash flows, profit/ (loss) for the periods or any other measure of financial performance or as an indicator of our operating performance, liquidity, profitability or cash flows generated by operating, investing or financing activities derived in accordance with Ind AS. In addition, these are not standardised terms, hence a direct comparison of these Non-GAAP Measures between companies may not be possible. Other companies may calculate these Non-GAAP Measures differently from us, limiting its usefulness as a comparative measure. These non-GAAP financial measures and other statistical and other information relating to our operations and financial performance may not be computed on the basis of any standard methodology that is applicable across the industry and therefore may not be comparable to financial measures and statistical information of similar nomenclature that may be computed and presented by other companies and are not measures of operating performance or liquidity defined by Ind AS and may not be comparable to similarly titled measures presented by other companies.

- 55. *Our funding requirements and proposed deployment of the Net Proceeds of the Offer are proposed to be utilised to fulfil our working capital requirements and have not been appraised by a bank or a financial institution and if there are any delays or cost overruns, our business, cash flows, financial condition and results of operations may be adversely affected.

We intend to use the Net Proceeds of the Fresh Issue for future working capital requirements towards procurement and maintenance of inventory and funding advance margin requirements for procurement purposes by our Company, which is based on management estimates and certain assumptions and certified by M/s K.K. Mankeshwar & Co., Chartered Accountants. For details, see “Objects of the Offer” on page 130. Our business requires significant working capital, and the actual amount of our future working capital requirements may differ from estimates as a result of, among other factors, unanticipated expenses, availability of raw material, economic conditions, growth in revenue, changes in the terms of our financing arrangements, additional market developments, and other external factors which may not be within the control of our management. Any delay in the Offer may impact the funding of our working capital requirements, and adversely affect our business, operations, cash flows and financial condition.

Further, the objects of the Fresh Issue and deployment of funds have not been appraised by any external agency or any bank or financial institution or any other independent agency. While a monitoring agency has been appointed for monitoring utilization of the Net Proceeds, the proposed utilization of Net Proceeds is based on our current business plan, management estimates, prevailing market conditions and other commercial considerations, which are subject to change and may not be within the control of our management. Based on the competitive nature of our industry, we may have to revise our business plan and/ or management estimates from time to time and consequently our funding requirements may also change. Our internal management estimates may exceed fair market value or the value that would have been determined by third party appraisals, which may require us to reschedule or reallocate our project and capital expenditure and may have an adverse impact on our business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

Our Company, in accordance with the policies established by the Board from time to time, will have flexibility to deploy the Net Proceeds. Further, pending utilization of Net Proceeds towards the Objects of the Offer, our Company will have the flexibility to deploy the Net Proceeds and to deposit the Net Proceeds temporarily in deposits with one or more scheduled commercial banks included in Second Schedule of Reserve Bank of India Act, 1934, as may be approved by our Board or IPO Committee. Accordingly, prospective investors in the Offer will need to rely upon our management's judgment with respect to the use of Net Proceeds.

56. Any variation in the utilization of the Net Proceeds as disclosed in this Prospectus shall be subject to certain compliance requirements, including prior approval of the shareholders of our Company.

We propose to utilize the Net Proceeds towards future working capital requirements towards procurement and scaling of inventory and funding advance margin requirements for procurement purposes by our Company. For further details of the proposed objects of the Offer, see "Objects of the Offer" beginning on page 130. The proposed deployment of Net Proceeds has not been appraised by any bank or financial institution or other independent agency and is based on internal management estimates based on current market conditions and historic level of expenditures. Further, we cannot determine with any certainty if we would require the Net Proceeds to meet any other expenditure or fund any exigencies arising out of the competitive environment, business conditions, economic conditions or other factors beyond our control. In accordance with the Companies Act, 2013 and the SEBI ICDR Regulations, we cannot undertake variation in the utilization of the Net Proceeds as disclosed in this Prospectus without obtaining the approval of the Shareholders through a special resolution. In the event of any such circumstances that require us to vary the disclosed utilization of the Net Proceeds, we may not be able to obtain the approval of the Shareholders in a timely manner, or at all. Any delay or inability in obtaining such approval of the Shareholders may adversely affect our business or operations. Further, our Promoters would be required to provide an exit opportunity to the shareholders of our Company who do not agree with our proposal to modify the objects of the Offer, at a price and manner as prescribed by SEBI.

Additionally, the requirement on Promoters to provide an exit opportunity to such dissenting shareholders of our Company may deter our Promoters or controlling shareholders from agreeing to the variation of the proposed utilization of the Net Proceeds, even if such variation is in the interest of our Company. Further, we cannot assure you that our Promoters will have adequate resources at their disposal at all times to enable them to provide an exit opportunity. In light of these factors, we may not be able to vary the objects of the Offer to use any unutilized proceeds of the Fresh Issue, if any, even if such variation is in the interest of our Company. This may restrict our ability to respond to any change in our business or financial condition by re-deploying the unutilized portion of Net Proceeds, if any, which may adversely affect our business, financial conditions, cash flows and results of operations. Further, any unauthorized use of Net Proceeds by our Company would adversely impact our reputation, results of operations and particularly the Allottees under the Offer.

57. Our Company does not have any comparable listed peers and, therefore, investors must rely on their own examination of our Company.

We are an integrated gold and silver platform in India serving businesses and consumers. Our operations span across multiple segments of the gold and silver value chain including procurement and refining, bullion trading, digital gold offerings, jewellery manufacturing, international sales and facilitating gold-backed financial services. Our Company operates in a specialized market and, as such, does not have any comparable listed peers whose business models or financial performance can be used as a benchmark for evaluating our Company. While certain listed companies may operate in related industries or engage in some similar business activities, these companies differ significantly from our business in terms of (i) the contribution of their respective business activities to total revenue and (ii) the nature and scope of operations across diverse sectors. As a result, no Indian publicly listed company can be considered a true peer group for our Company. Given this lack of comparability, investors must rely on their own analysis and evaluation of our Company's financial metrics, including accounting ratios, when making an investment decision for the purposes of investment in the Offer. Additionally, the performance of our Company is not comparable with listed entities which operate in the retail jewellery segment through retail outlets and any comparison undertaken by investors between our Company with such entities may lead to incorrect analysis and conclusions considering the unique nature of our business. For further details on the basis of our Offer Price, see also "Basis for Offer Price" on page 144.

58. Our ability to pay dividends in the future will depend upon our future earnings, financial condition, cash flows, working capital requirements and capital expenditures and the terms of our financing arrangements.

Any dividends to be declared and paid in the future are required to be recommended by our Company's Board of Directors and approved by its Shareholders, at their discretion, subject to the provisions of the Articles of Association and applicable law, including the Companies Act. Our Company's ability to pay dividends in the future will depend upon our future business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition, working capital requirements and capital expenditure requirements. We cannot assure you that we will generate sufficient revenues to cover our operating expenses and, as such, have profits to pay dividends to our Company's shareholders in future. We may decide to retain all of our earnings to finance the development and expansion of our business and, therefore, may not declare dividends on our Equity Shares. We cannot assure you that we will be able to pay dividends at any point in the future. As a result, shareholders may not receive a return on their investment in the form of dividends. For further information pertaining to dividends declared by our Company in the past, see "Dividend Policy" on page 319.

59. Our Registered and Corporate Office, and key operational centers including manufacturing facilities are located on premises that is held by us on a leave and license basis. If these leases and license agreements are terminated or not renewed and we are not able to identify alternative premises on terms acceptable to us, it could adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations, and cash flows.

Our Registered and Corporate Office and other operational centers, such as manufacturing facilities and delivery centers are located on leased or rented premises. Our Registered and Corporate Office is situated on premises taken on leave and license basis for a period of 36 months, with effect from April 1, 2024 till March 31, 2027. The lease agreement for our Registered and Corporate Office is a short-term lease, valid only for a period of three years. If we are unable to renew or extend this agreement on commercially acceptable terms, or at all, we may have to relocate our Registered and Corporate Office. Further, we may be required to re-negotiate rent or other terms and conditions of such agreements. Furthermore, our manufacturing facilities and refinery facilities are situated on non-agricultural land and our Company has the requisite approvals to operate such facilities. In the event we are unable to renew the lease for the manufacturing facilities and the refineries which are operated on a leasehold premises, our Company would be required to relocate to an alternate premises which, should be situated on non-agricultural lands and have all the requisite approvals, as a result of which our operations may be disrupted.

Given that our corporate business operations are conducted on leased or rented premises, any encumbrance or adverse impact, or deficiency in, the title, ownership rights or development rights of the owners from whose premises we operate, breach of the contractual terms of any lease or leave and license agreements, or any inability to renew such agreements on acceptable terms or at all may adversely affect our business operations. The lease agreements entered by us include a lock-in period during which we are restricted from exercising our right to terminate the lease. We may also face the risk of being evicted in the event that our landlords allege a breach on our part of any terms under these lease/ leave and license agreements and there is no assurance that we will be able to identify suitable locations to re-locate our operations. In the event of relocation, we may be required to obtain fresh regulatory licenses and approvals. Until we receive these, we may suffer disruptions in our operations which may adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

60. The lease agreements with our landlords are required to be stamped in accordance with the relevant state stamp duty legislation and registered under the Registration Act, 1908. Any failure to register and/or appropriately pay stamp duty on such agreements may affect our ability to enforce such agreements.

The lease agreements we enter into with our landlords and certain of our agreements with our clients are required to be stamped in accordance with the relevant state stamp duty legislation and registered under the Registration Act, 1908. Such agreements which are (i) unregistered, may be declared legally invalid, or (ii) if not stamped or insufficiently stamped, may be declared inadmissible as evidence in a court in India and we may be required to pay the additional stamp duty as assessed by the concerned authority along with certain fines in accordance with the relevant provisions of the Indian Stamp Act, 1899 and the Registration Act, 1908 as applicable. As on the date of this Prospectus, other than the lease agreement for one of the branch offices of our subsidiary, AGTPL located in Telangana, all our lease agreements are registered as required under applicable laws. Further, as on the date of this Prospectus, all our lease agreements are stamped as required under applicable laws. Further, a majority of the significant leases are short term in nature. Accordingly, delay in registration and stamping may attract additional charges and costs. There can be no assurance that all our agreements have been and will be registered in accordance with the requirements of the Registration Act, 1908 and that appropriate stamp duty has been and will be paid in respect of all such agreements. While we strive to register all our future lease agreements, we cannot assure you that we may be able to register and appropriately pay stamp duty due to reasons such as logistical or technical delays. Any failure to register and appropriately pay stamp duty may affect our ability to enforce such agreements which may cause disruptions in our operations.

61. Acquisitions of certain of our Subsidiaries by our Company, were undertaken without obtaining valuation reports.

Our Company acquired its Subsidiaries, IFSL, AIL and ATL, pursuant to share purchase agreements through transfer of equity shares of these Subsidiaries. For details, see “History and Certain Corporate Matters - Details regarding material acquisitions or divestments of business/ undertakings, mergers, amalgamations, slump sale or any revaluation of assets, in the last 10 years.” The acquisitions were carried out at the face value of each equity share of these Subsidiaries. However, our Company did not obtain valuation reports as may be required and such acquisitions may be regarded as not being fully in compliance with applicable laws. While the acquisitions have been completed and the Subsidiaries have been consolidated into our Company, there can be no assurance that the relevant regulatory authorities, including the registrar of companies, may not take adverse action, impose penalties or direct other remedial measures against our Company or its officers for such non-compliance.

Any adverse regulatory action, litigation, penalty or requirement to carry out a fresh valuation exercise could impact our Company’s reputation, delay or complicate future corporate actions involving these subsidiaries, and may also affect the perception of investors regarding the robustness of our corporate governance and compliance framework. Further, if any future regulatory directions or judicial pronouncements were to invalidate, question or require modification of the acquisitions on account of the absence of such valuation reports, our business, financial condition and results of operations could be adversely affected.

62. We have incurred indebtedness and an inability to comply with repayment and other covenants in our financing agreements could adversely affect our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

We have incurred indebtedness in the form of unsecured loans which are interest-bearing corporate deposits, and certain vehicle loans availed to meet our business requirements. Our ability to service this indebtedness depends significantly on the performance of our business and our operating cash flows. Any deterioration in our business, delays in collections, or unanticipated expenses could impair our ability to meet repayment obligations or comply with the terms and covenants of our financing arrangements.

If we default in repayment of principal or interest, or breach any covenant, our lenders may declare us in default and/or require us to repay the amounts outstanding immediately, which could adversely affect our liquidity. Further, we may be required to refinance existing borrowings on terms less favorable than those currently available, or may be unable to obtain alternative financing at all.

Further, certain of the inter-corporate loans availed by our company are unsecured in nature and entail the lender with the right to demand repayment of the entire or partial loan amount at any time and our Company would then be obligated to repay the said loan amount with the outstanding interest. While there has been no instance in the last three Fiscals where we have failed to meet repayment obligations or comply with the terms and covenants of our financing arrangements or where our lenders of unsecured loans have demanded repayment of the loan amount, any such event could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition. For details, see “Financial Indebtedness” on page 419.

Further, Dimpal Vivek Kothari, one of our Promoters, has undertaken transfer of 524,723 Equity Shares of face value ₹5 each at a transfer price of ₹991.00 per Equity Share to 20 transferees across May 23, 2026, May 25, 2026 and May 26, 2026. For details of such transfers, see “Capital Structure – Build-up of Promoters’ shareholding, Minimum Promoters’ Contribution and lock-in” on page 111 of this Prospectus.

64. We have relied on affidavits for evidencing past work experience or educational qualifications for one of our Promoters and one of our Senior Management Personnel, and we cannot independently verify the accuracy of such information.

For our Promoter, Dimple Vivek Kothari, we have obtained an affidavit to evidence her prior work experiences with Anand Rathi and Arvog Forex, and for our Promoter and Senior Management Personnel, Vivek Prithviraj Kothari, we have obtained an affidavit in relation to his educational qualification of bachelor’s of commerce from the University of Mumbai. While we believe such affidavits to be reliable, we cannot assure you of the accuracy, authenticity or completeness of the information provided therein and included in the section “Our Management” on page 284.

65. The Offer Price, market capitalization to total revenue multiple and price to earnings ratio based on the Offer Price of our Company, may not be indicative of the market price of the Equity Shares on listing.

Our revenue from operations and profit after tax for Fiscal 2026 was ₹ 941,862.12 million and ₹ 3,483.00 million, respectively and our price to earnings (Fiscal 2026) multiple is 19.48 times at the upper end of the Price Band. Our market capitalization to revenue from operations (Fiscal 2026) multiple is 0.08 times at the upper end of the Price Band.

The table below provides details of our price to earnings ratio and market capitalization to revenue from operations:

Particulars	Price to Earnings Ratio	Market Capitalization to Revenue
For Fiscal 2026	19.48	0.08

The Offer Price of the Equity Shares is proposed to be determined on the basis of assessment of market demand for the Equity Shares offered through the book-building process prescribed under the SEBI ICDR Regulations, and certain quantitative and qualitative factors as set out in the section titled “Basis for Offer Price” on page 144 and the Offer Price, multiples and ratios may not be indicative of the market price of the Equity Shares on listing or thereafter.

Prior to the Offer, there has been no public market for the Equity Shares, and an active trading market on the Stock Exchanges may not develop or be sustained after the Offer. Listing and quotation does not guarantee that a market for the Equity Shares will develop, or if developed, the liquidity of such market for the Equity Shares. The market price of the Equity Shares may be subject to significant fluctuations in response to, among other factors, variations in our operating results, market conditions specific to the industry we operate in, developments relating to India and international markets, regulatory amendments or similar situations, volatility in the securities markets in India and other jurisdictions, variations in the growth rate of financial indicators, variations in revenue or earnings estimates by research publications, and changes in economic, legal and other regulatory factors. As a result, the market price of the Equity Shares may decline below the Offer Price. We cannot assure you that you will be able to sell your Equity Shares at or above the Offer Price.

EXTERNAL RISK FACTORS

66. A slowdown in economic growth in India could cause our business to suffer.

Our performance and the growth of our business are necessarily dependent on the health of the overall Indian economy. Any slowdown or perceived slowdown in the Indian economy or future volatility in global commodity prices could adversely affect our business. Additionally, an increase in trade deficit, a downgrading in India's sovereign debt rating or a decline in India's foreign exchange reserves could negatively affect interest rates and liquidity, which could adversely affect the Indian economy and our business. Any downturn in the macroeconomic environment in India could also adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

India's economy could be adversely affected by a general rise in interest rates or inflation, adverse weather conditions affecting agriculture, commodity and energy prices as well as various other factors. A slowdown in the Indian economy could adversely affect the policy of the GoI towards our industry, which may in turn adversely affect our financial performance and our ability to implement our business strategy.

The Indian economy is also influenced by economic and market conditions in other countries, particularly emerging market conditions in Asia. A decline in India's foreign exchange reserves and exchange rate fluctuations may also affect liquidity and interest rates in the Indian economy, which could adversely impact our financial condition. A loss of investor confidence in other emerging market economies or any worldwide financial instability may adversely affect the Indian economy, which could materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

Further, other factors which may adversely affect the Indian economy are scarcity of credit or other financing in India, resulting in an adverse impact on economic conditions in India and scarcity of financing of our expansions; volatility in, and actual or perceived trends in trading activity on, India's principal stock exchanges; changes in India's tax, trade, fiscal or monetary policies, like application of GST; political instability, terrorism or military conflict in India or in countries in the region or globally, including in India's various neighbouring countries; occurrence of natural or man-made disasters; infectious disease outbreaks or other serious public health concerns; prevailing regional or global economic conditions, including in India's principal export markets; and other significant regulatory or economic developments in or affecting India or its financial services sectors.

67. Subsequent to the listing of the Equity Shares, we may be subject to pre-emptive surveillance measures, such as the Additional Surveillance Measures and the Graded Surveillance Measures by the Stock Exchanges in order to enhance the integrity of the market and safeguard the interest of investors.

Subsequent to the listing of the Equity Shares, we may be subject to Additional Surveillance Measures ("ASM") and Graded Surveillance Measures ("GSM") by the Stock Exchanges. These measures are in place to enhance the integrity of the market and safeguard the interest of investors. The criteria for shortlisting any security trading on the Stock Exchanges for ASM is based on objective criteria, which includes market-based parameters such as high low price variation, concentration of client accounts, close to close price variation, market capitalization, average daily trading volume and its change, and average delivery percentage, among others. Securities are subject to GSM when its price is not commensurate with the financial health and fundamentals of the issuer. Specific parameters for GSM include net worth, net fixed assets, price to earnings ratio, market capitalization and price to book value, among others. Factors within and beyond our control may lead to our securities being subject to GSM or ASM. In the event our Equity Shares are subject to such surveillance measures implemented by any of the Stock Exchanges, we may be subject to certain additional restrictions in connection with trading of our Equity Shares such as limiting trading frequency (for example, trading either allowed once in a week or a month) or freezing of price on upper side of trading which may have an adverse effect on the market price of our Equity Shares or may in general cause disruptions in the development of an active trading market for our Equity Shares.

68. Our business, results of operations and financial condition may be affected by global economic conditions and the geographies to which we cater.

Our business depends substantially on global economic conditions. Our international customers may be adversely impacted by the economic downturn in their national or regional economies, disruption in their banking and financial systems, economic weakness, unfavourable government policies, rising inflation, lowering of spending power and customer confidence, and political uncertainty.

The Indian market and the Indian economy are influenced by economic and market conditions in other countries, particularly emerging market countries in Asia. Financial turmoil in Asia, U.S. and elsewhere in the world in recent years has affected the Indian economy. Although economic conditions are different in each country, investors' reactions to developments in one country can have adverse effects on the securities of companies in other countries, including India. A loss of investor confidence in the financial systems of other emerging markets may cause increased volatility in Indian financial markets and, indirectly, in the Indian economy in general. Any worldwide financial instability could also have a negative impact on the Indian economy. Financial disruptions may occur again and could harm our business, results of operations and financial condition.

The global credit and equity markets have experienced substantial dislocations, liquidity disruptions and market corrections in recent years. Financial markets and the supply of credit could continue to be negatively impacted by ongoing concerns surrounding the sovereign debts and/or fiscal deficits of several countries in Europe, the possibility of further downgrades of, or defaults on, sovereign debt, concerns about a slowdown in growth in certain economies and uncertainties regarding the stability and overall standing of the European Monetary Union.

A loss of investor confidence in the financial systems of other emerging markets may cause increased volatility in the Indian financial markets and indirectly in the Indian economy in general. Any worldwide financial instability could influence the Indian economy. In response to such developments, legislators and financial regulators in the United States, Europe and other jurisdictions, including India, have implemented several policy measures designed to add stability to the financial markets. In addition, any increase in interest rates by the United States Federal Reserve will lead to an increase in the borrowing costs in the United States which may in turn impact global borrowing as well. Furthermore, in several parts of the world, there are signs of increasing retreat from globalization of goods, services and people, as pressure for the introduction of a protectionist regime is building and such developments could adversely affect Indian exports. However, the overall impact of these and other legislative and regulatory efforts on the global financial markets is uncertain, and they may not have the intended stabilizing effects. In the event that the current adverse conditions in the global credit markets continue or if there is any significant financial disruption, this could have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

If we are unable to successfully anticipate and respond to changing economic and market conditions, our business, results of operations and financial condition and prospects may be adversely affected.

69. Changing regulations in India could lead to new compliance requirements that are uncertain.

The regulatory and policy environment in which we operate is evolving and is subject to change. The GoI may implement new laws or other regulations and policies that could affect our business in general, which could lead to new compliance requirements, including requiring us to obtain approvals and licenses from the GoI and other regulatory bodies, or impose onerous requirements.

For instance, in order to rationalize and reform labour laws in India, the Government of India has introduced four labour codes which came into effect on November 21, 2025, namely (a) the Code on Wages, 2019; (b) the Code on Social Security, 2020; (c) the Occupational Safety, Health and Working Conditions Code, 2020; and (d) the Industrial Relations Code, 2020 which consolidate, subsume and replace numerous existing central labour legislations. While the Codes have been implemented at the central level, we are yet to determine the impact of all or some such laws on our business and operations which may restrict our ability to grow our business in the future and increase our expenses. For instance, under the Social Security Code, a new concept of deemed remuneration has been introduced, such that where an employee receives more than half (or such other percentage as may be notified by the Central Government) of their total remuneration in the form of allowances and other amounts that are not included within the definition of wages under the Social Security Code, the excess amount received shall be deemed as remuneration and accordingly be added to wages for the purposes of the Social Security Code and the compulsory contribution to be made towards the employees' provident fund. In the absence of any precedents on the subject, the application of these provisions is uncertain and may or may not have an adverse tax impact on us. For further information, see "Key Regulations and Policies" on page 258.

Uncertainty in the applicability, interpretation or implementation of any amendment to, or change in, governing law, regulation or policy in the jurisdictions in which we operate, including by reason of an absence, or a limited body, of administrative or judicial precedent may be time consuming as well as costly for us to resolve and may impact the viability of our current business or restrict our ability to grow our business in the future. We may incur increased costs and other burdens relating to compliance with such new requirements, which may also require significant management time and other resources, and any failure to comply may adversely affect our business, results of operations and prospects. Uncertainty in the applicability, interpretation or implementation of any amendment to, or change in, governing law, regulation or policy, including by reason of an absence, or a limited body, of administrative or judicial precedent may be time consuming as well as costly for us to resolve and may impact the viability of our current businesses or restrict our ability to grow our businesses in the future.

70. Natural calamities, climate change and health epidemics and pandemics could adversely affect our business, financial condition, and results of operations. In addition, hostilities, terrorist attacks, civil unrest and other acts of violence could adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

India has experienced natural calamities, such as earthquakes and floods in recent years. Natural calamities could have an adverse impact on the Indian economy which, in turn, could adversely affect our business. A number of countries in Asia, including India, as well as countries in other parts of the world, are susceptible to contagious diseases and, for example, have had confirmed cases of the highly pathogenic H7N9, H5N1 and H1N1 strains of influenza in birds and swine. Any future outbreak of health epidemics may restrict the level of business activity in affected areas, which may, in turn, adversely affect our business.

Such events may lead to the disruption of information systems and telecommunication services for sustained periods. They also may make it difficult or impossible for employees to reach our business locations. Damage or destruction that interrupts our provision of services could adversely affect our reputation, our relationships with our customers, our senior management team's ability to administer and supervise our business or it may cause us to incur substantial additional expenditure to repair or replace damaged equipment or rebuild parts of our facility. Further, our business continuity and disaster-recovery plans, backup systems and cyber-resilience measures may prove insufficient to prevent disruptions to our digital platforms and operations or counter cyber-attacks, supply-chain failures, prolonged power or telecom outages, or other force-majeure events. While we have not experienced any disruptions or shutdowns as a result of natural or man-made disasters in the last three Fiscals, we cannot assure you that any of the above factors may adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

India has from time-to-time experienced instances of social, religious and civil unrest and hostilities between neighbouring countries. In case there are mass protests leading to civil unrest, such incidents could impact both our operations and adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition. Present relations between India and Pakistan continue to be fragile on sensitive issues such as terrorism, armaments and Kashmir. For instance, the conflict between the two nations exacerbated following the terrorist attacks in May, 2025 in Kashmir that led to adverse socio- political implications on the relationship between the nations. Military activity or terrorist attacks in the future could influence the Indian economy by disrupting communications and making travel more difficult. Such political tensions also could create a greater perception that investments in Indian companies involve higher degrees of risk. Events of this nature in the future, as well as social and civil unrest within other countries in Asia and the Middle East, could influence the Indian economy and could have a material adverse effect on the market for securities of Indian companies.

71. Inflation in India could have an adverse effect on our profitability and if significant, on our financial condition.

Inflation rates in India have been volatile in recent years, and such volatility may continue in the future. Increased inflation can contribute to an increase in interest rates and increased costs to our business, including increased costs of wages and other expenses relevant to our business. High fluctuations in inflation rates may make it more difficult for us to accurately estimate or control our costs. Any increase in inflation in India can increase our expenses, which we may not be able to adequately pass on to our customers, whether entirely or in part, and may adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows. In particular, we might not be able to reduce our costs or increase the price of our products to pass the increase in costs on to our consumers. In such case, our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows may be adversely affected. Further, the GoI has previously initiated economic measures to combat high inflation rates, and it is unclear whether these measures will remain in effect. There can be no assurance that Indian inflation levels will not worsen in the future.

72. Significant differences exist between Ind-AS and other accounting principles, such as U.S. GAAP and IFRS, which may be material to the Restated Consolidated Financial Statements prepared and presented in accordance with Ind-AS contained in this Prospectus.

Our Restated Consolidated Financial Statements and as of, and for the years ended March 31, 2026, 2025 and 2024, have been prepared and presented in accordance with Ind-AS. Accordingly, the degree to which the financial information included in this Prospectus will provide meaningful information is dependent on the prospective investor's familiarity with Ind-AS and the Companies Act. Any reliance by persons not familiar with Ind-AS on the financial disclosures presented in this Prospectus should accordingly be limited.

73. Political, economic or other factors that are beyond our control may have an adverse effect on our business and results of operations.

The Indian market and the Indian economy are influenced by economic and market conditions in other countries, including conditions in the United States of America, Europe and certain emerging economies in Asia. In particular, the ongoing military conflicts between Russia and Ukraine could result in increased volatility in, or damage to, the worldwide financial markets and economy. Increased economic volatility and trade restrictions could result in increased volatility in the markets for certain securities and commodities and may cause inflation. Any worldwide financial instability including possibility of default in the US debt market may cause increased volatility in the Indian financial markets and, directly or indirectly, adversely affect the Indian economy and financial sector and us. Although economic conditions are different in each country, investors' reactions to developments in one country can have adverse effects on the securities of companies in other countries, including India. A loss of investor confidence in the financial systems of other emerging markets may cause increased volatility in Indian financial markets and, indirectly, in the Indian economy in general. Concerns related to a trade war between large economies may lead to increased risk aversion and volatility in global capital markets and consequently have an impact on the Indian economy. Further, ongoing global geopolitical conflicts and tensions, including in the Middle East involving Israel, the United States and Iran, and broader instability across the Middle East region, may disrupt global supply chains, increase energy and commodity prices, and create volatility in international trade and financial markets, which may adversely impact our business and operations.

In addition, China is one of India's major trading partners and there are rising concerns of a possible slowdown in the Chinese economy as well as a strained relationship with India, which could have an adverse impact on the trade relations between the two countries. In response to such developments, legislators and financial regulators in the United States and other jurisdictions, including India, implemented a number of policy measures designed to add stability to the financial markets. Further, the imposition of tariffs by the US government under its "Fair and Reciprocal Plan" may impact Indian businesses, especially those with a substantial export presence in the US market. This policy has resulted in the imposition of tariffs across a diverse range of sectors. As a result, Indian exporters may encounter heightened costs and uncertainties, potentially constraining their market competitiveness and profitability. These developments, or the perception that any of them could occur, have had and may continue to have an adverse effect on global economic conditions and the stability of global financial markets, and may significantly reduce global market liquidity, restrict the ability of key market participants to operate in certain financial markets or restrict our access to capital. However, the overall long-term effect of these and other legislative and regulatory efforts on the global financial markets is uncertain, and they may not have the intended stabilising effects.

74. The Indian tax regimes are currently undergoing substantial changes which could adversely affect our business and the trading price of the Equity Shares.

Our business, results of operations and financial condition could be adversely affected by any change in the extensive central and state tax regime in India as applicable to us and our business.

Any change in Indian tax laws could have an effect on our operations. The Government of India has implemented two major reforms in Indian tax laws, namely the Goods and Services Tax ("GST"), and provisions relating to general anti-avoidance rules ("GAAR"). The indirect tax regime in India has undergone a complete overhaul. The indirect taxes on goods and services, such as central excise duty, service tax, central sales tax, state value added tax, surcharge and excise have been replaced by GST with effect from July 1, 2017. The GST regime continues to be subject to amendments and its interpretation by the relevant regulatory authorities is constantly evolving. GAAR became effective from April 1, 2017. The tax consequences of the GAAR provisions being applied to an arrangement may result in, among others, a denial of tax benefit to us and our business. In the absence of any substantial precedents on the subject, the application of these provisions is subjective. If the GAAR provisions are made applicable to us, it may have an adverse tax impact on us. Further, if the tax costs associated with certain of our transactions are greater than anticipated because of a particular tax risk materializing on account of new tax regulations and policies, it could affect our profitability from such transactions.

Earlier, distribution of dividends by a domestic company was subject to Dividend Distribution Tax (“DDT”), in the hands of the company at an effective rate of 20.56% (inclusive of applicable surcharge and cess). Such dividends were generally exempt from tax in the hands of the shareholders. However, DDT is no longer levied. Accordingly, any dividend distribution by a domestic company is subject to tax in the hands of the investor at the applicable rate. Additionally, we are required to withhold tax on such dividends distributed at the applicable rate.

Additionally, the Government of India announced the Union Budget for the Fiscal 2027 on February 1, 2026. Following this, the Finance Bill 2026 was enacted by the Parliament of India and received the President’s assent on March 30, 2026, becoming the Finance Act, 2026. We are yet to determine the impact of all or some such laws on our business and operations, which may restrict our ability to grow our business in the future. Further, the Government of India has enacted the Income-tax Act, 2025, that came into effect from April 1, 2026, which seeks to rationalize, consolidate and modernize the direct tax framework, replacing and restructuring various provisions of the Income Tax Act, 1961. As the provisions of the new legislation are interpreted and implemented over time, uncertainties may arise in relation to their scope, applicability and transitional arrangements. Any adverse interpretation, increased tax liability or additional compliance burden arising from such changes could materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

Investors are advised to consult their own tax advisors and to carefully consider the potential tax consequences of owning, investing or trading in the Equity Shares. There is no certainty on the impact that the Finance Act may have on our business and operations or on the industry in which we operate. Uncertainty in the applicability, interpretation or implementation of any amendment to, or change in, governing law, regulation or policy, including by reason of an absence, or a limited body, of administrative or judicial precedent may be time consuming as well as costly for us to resolve and may affect the viability of our current business or restrict our ability to grow our business in the future.

We cannot predict whether any new tax laws or regulations impacting our services will be enacted, what the nature and impact of the specific terms of any such laws or regulations will be or whether if at all, any laws or regulations would have an adverse effect on our business. Further, any adverse order passed by the appellate authorities/ tribunals/ courts would have an effect on our profitability. In addition, we are subject to tax related inquiries and claims.

75. A downgrade in ratings of India and other jurisdictions we operate in may affect the trading price of the Equity Shares.

Our borrowing costs and our access to the debt capital markets depend significantly on the credit ratings of India. Any further adverse revisions to credit ratings for India and other jurisdictions we operate in by international rating agencies may adversely impact our ability to raise additional financing. This could have an adverse effect on our ability to fund our growth on favourable terms and consequently adversely affect our business and financial performance and the price of the Equity Shares.

76. Our business may be adversely affected by competition laws in India.

The Competition Act, 2002, as amended (“Competition Act”) was enacted for the purpose of preventing practices that have or are likely to have an adverse effect on competition in India and has mandated the Competition Commission of India (“CCI”) to prevent such practices. Under the Competition Act, any formal or informal arrangement, understanding or action in concert, which causes or is likely to cause an appreciable adverse effect on competition (“AAEC”) is considered void and results in the imposition of substantial monetary penalties. Furthermore, any agreement among competitors which directly or indirectly involves the determination of purchase or sale prices, limits or controls production, supply, markets, technical development, investment or provision of services, shares the market or source of production or provision of services by way of allocation of geographical area, type of goods or services or number of customers in the relevant market or directly or indirectly results in bid-rigging or collusive bidding is presumed to have an appreciable adverse effect on competition. The Competition Act also prohibits abuse of a dominant position by any enterprise.

On March 4, 2011, the Government of India notified and brought into force the provisions under the Competition Act in relation to combinations (the “Combination Regulation Provisions”) with effect from June 1, 2011. The Combination Regulation Provisions require that acquisition of shares, voting rights, assets or control or mergers or amalgamations, which cross the prescribed asset and turnover based thresholds, be mandatorily notified to and pre-approved by the CCI. In addition, on May 11, 2011, the CCI issued the final Competition Commission of India (Procedure in regard to the transaction of business relating to combinations) Regulations, 2011, as amended, which sets out the mechanism for implementation of the Combination Regulation Provisions under the Competition Act. The manner in which the Competition Act and the CCI affect the business environment in India may adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

The Competition (Amendment) Act, 2023 (“Competition Amendment Act”) was notified on April 11, 2023, which amends the Competition Act and give the CCI additional powers to prevent practices that harm competition and the interests of consumers. The Competition Amendment Act, inter alia, modifies the scope of certain factors used to determine AAEC, reduces the overall time limit for the assessment of combinations by the CCI from 210 days to 150 days and empowers the CCI to impose penalties based on the global turnover of entities, for anti-competitive agreements and abuse of dominant position.

The applicability or interpretation of the Competition Act to any merger, amalgamation or acquisition proposed or undertaken by us, or any enforcement proceedings initiated by CCI for alleged violation of provisions of the Competition Act may have an adverse impact on our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

77. Foreign investors are subject to foreign investment restrictions under Indian laws which limit our ability to attract foreign investors, which may adversely impact the market price of our Equity Shares.

Under the foreign exchange regulations currently in force in India, transfers of shares between non-residents and residents are permitted, subject to certain restrictions detailed under the Foreign Exchange Management Act, 1999 read with the rules made thereunder, along with other relevant laws. Such restrictions include compliance with the sectoral investment thresholds, pricing guidelines and reporting requirements specified by the RBI. If the transfer of shares is not in compliance with inter alia the sectoral investment thresholds, the pricing guidelines or reporting requirements, then the prior approval of the RBI will be required. Additionally, shareholders who seek to convert the Indian Rupee proceeds from a sale of shares in India into foreign currency and repatriate that foreign currency from India will require a no objection/tax clearance certificate from the income tax authority. We cannot assure investors that any required approval from the RBI or any other Indian government agency can be obtained on any particular terms, or at all. For further details, please see on “Restrictions on Foreign Ownership of Indian Securities” on page 498.

As provided in the foreign exchange laws currently in effect in India, the RBI has provided that the price at which the Equity Shares are transferred be calculated in accordance with internationally accepted pricing methodology for the valuation of shares at an arm’s length basis, and a higher (or lower, as applicable) price per share may not be permitted. We cannot assure investors that any required approval from the RBI or any other Indian government agency can be obtained on any particular terms, or at all. Further, due to possible delays in obtaining requisite approvals, investors in the Equity Shares may be prevented from realizing gains during periods of price increase or limiting losses during periods of price decline.

The Equity Shares will be quoted in Indian Rupees on the Stock Exchanges. Any dividends in respect of the Equity Shares will be paid in Indian Rupees and subsequently converted into appropriate foreign currency for repatriation. In addition, any adverse movement in exchange rates during a delay in repatriating the proceeds from a sale of Equity Shares outside India, for example, because of a delay in regulatory approvals that may be required for the sale of Equity Shares, may reduce the net dividends received by shareholders.

Further, pursuant to the Press Note No. 3 (2020 Series), dated April 17, 2020, issued by the DPIIT, which has been incorporated as the proviso to Rule 6(a) of the FEMA Non-debt Rules, all investments under the foreign direct investment route by entities of a country which shares land border with India or where the beneficial owner of the Equity Shares is situated in or is a citizen of any such country, can only be made through the Government approval route, as prescribed in the Consolidated FDI Policy dated October 15, 2020 and the FEMA Rules. While the term “beneficial owner” is defined under the Prevention of Money-Laundering (Maintenance of Records) Rules, 2005 and the General Financial Rules, 2017, neither the foreign direct investment policy nor the FEMA Rules provide a definition of the term “beneficial owner”. The interpretation of “beneficial owner” and enforcement of this regulatory change involves certain uncertainties, which may have an adverse effect on our ability to raise foreign capital. Further, there is uncertainty regarding the timeline within which the said approval from the GoI may be obtained, if at all.

The regulatory framework governing foreign investment in India is also subject to ongoing changes. In this regard, the RBI has recently released the draft Foreign Exchange Management (Foreign Investment) Rules, 2026, which is proposed to supersede the FEMA Non-debt Instruments Rules, 2019 and, among other matters, provide a revised framework governing foreign investment in India. Any changes to, or uncertainties in the interpretation and implementation of, such regulatory framework may adversely affect our ability to raise foreign capital.

Additionally, though under the Indian foreign exchange laws the primary business of the Company allows for 100% foreign direct investment in our Company, the business of our Material Subsidiary, Augmont Goldtech Private Limited is classified as a B2C inventory-based e-commerce entity, and foreign direct investment is not permitted in such B2C inventory-based e-commerce entities under the foreign exchange laws of India. Hence, if at any point of time, the investment of foreign persons or entities in our Company equals 51% or more, then the Company's stake in Augmont Goldtech Private Limited, may be considered as a downstream investment or indirect foreign investment under the Indian foreign exchange laws. This would be in non-compliance with the Indian foreign exchange laws which may affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows. However, our Company has limited the threshold for foreign investments in our Company to 49% through a resolution of the Board dated June 12, 2025 and a resolution of the Shareholders dated June 13, 2025.

78. Our Equity Shares have never been publicly traded, and after the Offer, the Equity Shares may experience price and volume fluctuations, and an active trading market for the Equity Shares may not develop. Further, the Offer Price may not be indicative of the market price of the Equity Shares after the Offer.

Prior to the Offer, there has been no public market for the Equity Shares, and an active trading market on the Stock Exchanges may not develop or be sustained after the Offer. Listing and quotation does not guarantee that a market for the Equity Shares will develop, or if developed, the liquidity of such market for the Equity Shares. The Offer Price of the Equity Shares is proposed to be determined through a book-building process and may not be indicative of the market price of the Equity Shares at the time of commencement of trading of the Equity Shares or at any time thereafter. The market price of the Equity Shares may be influenced by many factors, some of which are beyond our control, including:

- the failure of security analysts to cover the Equity Shares after this Offer, or changes in the estimates of our performance by analysts;
- the activities of competitors and suppliers;
- future sales of the Equity Shares by our Company or our shareholders;
- investor perception of us and the industry in which we operate;
- our quarterly or annual earnings or those of our competitors;
- developments affecting fiscal, industrial or environmental regulations;
- the public's reaction to our press releases and adverse media reports; and
- general economic conditions.

As a result of these factors, investors may not be able to resell their Equity Shares at or above the initial public offering price. In addition, the stock market often experiences price and volume fluctuations that are unrelated or disproportionate to the operating performance of a particular company. These broad market fluctuations and industry factors may materially reduce the market price of the Equity Shares, regardless of our Company's performance. There can be no assurance that the investor will be able to resell their Equity Shares at or above the Offer Price.

79. Currency exchange rate fluctuations may affect the value of the Equity Shares.

The exchange rate between the Rupee and other foreign currencies, including the U.S. Dollar, the British pound sterling, the Euro, the Hong Kong Dollar, the Singapore Dollar and the Japanese Yen, has changed substantially in recent years and may fluctuate substantially in the future. Fluctuations in the exchange rate between the foreign currencies with which an investor may have purchased Rupees may affect the value of the investment in the Company's Equity Shares. Specifically, if there is a change in relative value of the Rupee to a foreign currency, each of the following values will also be affected:

- the foreign currency equivalent of the Rupee trading price of the Company's Equity Shares in India;
- the foreign currency equivalent of the proceeds that you would receive upon the sale in India of any of the Company's Equity Shares; and
- the foreign currency equivalent of cash dividends, if any, on the Company's Equity Shares, which will be paid only in Rupees.

You may be unable to convert Rupee proceeds into a foreign currency of your choice, or the rate at which any such conversion could occur could fluctuate. In addition, the Company's market valuation could be seriously harmed by a devaluation of the Rupee if investors in jurisdictions outside India analyse its value based on the relevant foreign currency equivalent of the Company's results of operations and financial condition.

80. Investors may be subject to Indian taxes arising out of income arising on the sale of and dividend on the Equity Shares.

Under current Indian tax laws, unless specifically exempted, capital gains arising from the sale of equity shares held as investments in an Indian company are generally taxable in India. Any capital gain realized on the sale of listed equity shares on a Stock Exchange held for more than 12 months immediately preceding the date of transfer will be subject to long term capital gains in India at the specified rates depending on certain factors, such as whether the sale is undertaken on or off the Stock Exchanges, the quantum of gains and any available treaty relief. Accordingly, we may be subject to payment of long term capital gains tax in India, in addition to payment of securities transaction tax ("STT"), on the sale of any Equity Shares held for more than 12 months immediately preceding the date of transfer. STT will be levied on and collected by a domestic stock exchange on which the Equity Shares are sold.

Further, any capital gains realized on the sale of listed equity shares held for a period of 12 months or less immediately preceding the date of transfer will be subject to short term capital gains tax in India. Capital gains arising from the sale of the Equity Shares will not be chargeable to tax in India in cases where relief from such taxation in India is provided under a treaty between India and the country of which the seller is resident and the seller is entitled to avail benefits thereunder, subject to certain conditions. Generally, Indian tax treaties do not limit India's ability to impose tax on capital gains. As a result, residents of other countries may be liable for tax in India as well as in their own jurisdiction on a gain upon the sale of the Equity Shares.

Similarly, any business income realized from the transfer of Equity Shares held as trading assets is taxable at the applicable tax rates subject to any treaty relief, if applicable, to a non-resident seller.

Under the Income Tax Act, 2025 that became effective from April 1, 2026, where short term capital gains arise from the transfer of equity shares in a company, the tax on such gains must be calculated at the rate of 20%, subject to applicable conditions and reliefs, including specified relief available to certain resident individuals and Hindu undivided families. Further, for long-term capital gains arising from the transfer of equity shares, tax must be calculated at the rate of 12.5% on such gains exceeding the prescribed threshold, subject to applicable conditions, exceptions and reliefs, including specified reliefs available to certain resident individuals and Hindu undivided families.

Further, the Finance Act, 2019 has made various amendments in the taxation laws and has also clarified that, in the absence of a specific provision under an agreement, the liability to pay stamp duty in case of sale of securities through stock exchanges will be on the buyer, while in other cases of transfer for consideration through a depository, the onus will be on the transferor. The stamp duty for transfer of securities other than debentures, on a delivery basis is specified at 0.015% and on a non-delivery basis is specified at 0.003% of the consideration amount. These amendments have come into effect from July 1, 2020.

Additionally, the Finance Act does not require DDT to be payable in respect of dividends declared, distributed or paid by a domestic company after March 31, 2020, and accordingly, such dividends would not be exempt in the hands of the shareholders, both resident as well as non-resident. The Company may or may not grant the benefit of a tax treaty (where applicable) to a non-resident shareholder for the purposes of deducting tax at source pursuant to any corporate action including dividends.

Although the new Income Tax Act, 2025 has come into effect, there is no certainty regarding the manner in which the new tax regime will operate in practice, including in relation to capital gains tax, dividend taxation, and withholding tax obligations. Any future amendment, clarification, regulatory guidance or judicial interpretation may adversely affect investors and could also impact our business, financial condition, results of operations and the market price of the Equity Shares.

81. QIBs and Non-Institutional Investors are not permitted to withdraw or lower their Bids (in terms of quantity of Equity Shares or the Bid Amount) at any stage after submitting a Bid, and Retail Individual Investors are not permitted to withdraw their Bids after Bid/Offer Closing Date.

Pursuant to the SEBI ICDR Regulations, QIBs and Non-Institutional Investors are required to pay the Bid Amount on submission of the Bid and are not permitted to withdraw or lower their Bids (in terms of quantity of Equity Shares or the Bid Amount) at any stage after submitting a Bid. Retail Individual Investors can revise their Bids during the Bid/Offer Period and withdraw their Bids until Bid/Offer Closing Date. While our Company is required to complete all necessary formalities for listing and commencement of trading of the Equity Shares on all Stock Exchanges where such Equity Shares are proposed to be listed including Allotment pursuant to the Offer within such period as may be specified by the SEBI from the Bid/Offer Closing Date, events affecting the Bidders' decision to invest in the Equity Shares, including material adverse changes in international or national monetary policy, financial, political or economic conditions, our business, results of operation or financial condition may arise between the date of submission of the Bid and Allotment. Our Company may complete the Allotment of the Equity Shares even if such events occur, and such events limit the Bidders' ability to sell the Equity Shares Allotted pursuant to the Offer or cause the trading price of the Equity Shares to decline on listing.

82. There is no guarantee that our Equity Shares will be listed on the BSE and NSE in a timely manner or at all.

In accordance with Indian law and practice, permission for listing and trading of our Equity Shares will not be granted until after certain actions have been completed in relation to this Offer and until Allotment of Equity Shares pursuant to this Offer. In accordance with current regulations and circulars issued by SEBI, our Equity Shares are required to be listed on the BSE and NSE within such time as mandated under UPI Circulars, subject to any change in the prescribed timeline in this regard. However, we cannot assure you that the trading in our Equity Shares will commence in a timely manner or at all. Any failure or delay in obtaining final listing and trading approvals may restrict your ability to dispose of your Equity Shares.

83. Holders of Equity Shares could be restricted in their ability to exercise pre-emptive rights under Indian law and could thereby suffer future dilution of their ownership position.

Under the Companies Act, a company having share capital and incorporated in India must offer holders of its Equity Shares pre-emptive rights to subscribe and pay for a proportionate number of Equity Shares to maintain their existing ownership percentages prior to the issuance of any new equity shares, unless the pre-emptive rights have been waived by the adoption of a special resolution by holders of three-fourths of the Equity Shares who have voted on such resolution. However, if the laws of the jurisdiction that holders are in does not permit the exercise of such pre-emptive rights without us filing an offering document or registration statement with the applicable authority in such jurisdiction, the holders will be unable to exercise such pre-emptive rights unless we make such a filing. The Company may elect not to file a registration statement in relation to pre-emptive rights otherwise available by Indian law to the holders. To the extent that the holders are unable to exercise pre-emptive rights granted in respect of the Equity Shares, they may suffer future dilution of their ownership position and their proportional interests in our Company would be reduced.

84. Any future issuance of Equity Shares or convertible securities or other equity linked securities by our Company may dilute holders' shareholding and sales of the Equity Shares by our major shareholders may adversely affect the trading price of the Equity Shares.

Any future equity issuances by us, including a primary offering, may lead to the dilution of investors' shareholdings in us. Any disposal of Equity Shares by our major shareholders or the perception that such issuance or sales may occur, including to comply with the minimum public shareholding norms applicable to listed companies in India may adversely affect the trading price of the Equity Shares, which may lead to other adverse consequences including difficulty in raising capital through offering of the Equity Shares or incurring additional debt. There can be no assurance that we will not issue further Equity Shares or that the shareholders will not dispose of the Equity Shares. Any future issuances could also dilute the value of your investment in the Equity Shares. In addition, any perception by investors that such issuances or sales might occur may also affect the market price of the Equity Shares.

85. A third party could be prevented from acquiring control of our Company because of anti-takeover provisions under Indian law.

There are provisions in Indian law that may delay, deter or prevent a future takeover or change in control of our Company, even if a change in control would result in the purchase of your Equity Shares at a premium to the market price or would otherwise be beneficial to you. Such provisions may discourage or prevent certain types of transactions involving actual or threatened change in control of our Company. Under the SEBI Takeover Regulations, an acquirer has been defined as any person who, directly or indirectly, acquires or agrees to acquire shares or voting rights or control over a company, whether individually or acting in concert with others. Although these provisions have been formulated to ensure that interests of investors/shareholders are protected, these provisions may also discourage a third party from attempting to take control of our Company. Consequently, even if a potential takeover of our Company would result in the purchase of the Equity Shares at a premium to their market price or would otherwise be beneficial to its stakeholders, it is possible that such a takeover would not be attempted.

86. Rights of shareholders of companies under Indian law may be more limited than under the laws of other jurisdictions.

Our Articles of Association, composition of our Board, Indian laws governing our corporate affairs, the validity of corporate procedures, directors' fiduciary duties, responsibilities and liabilities, and shareholders' rights may differ from those that would apply to a company in another jurisdiction. Shareholders' rights under Indian law may not be as extensive and widespread as shareholders' rights under the laws of other countries or jurisdictions.

87. Investors may have difficulty enforcing foreign judgments in India against us or our management.

All of our Directors, Key Managerial Personnel and Senior Management Personnel are residents of India and all of our assets are located in India. As a result, it may not be possible for investors to effect service of process on us or such persons in jurisdictions outside of India, or to enforce against them judgments obtained in courts outside of India predicated upon civil liabilities on us or such directors and executive officers under laws other than Indian Law.

India is not a party to any international treaty in relation to the recognition or enforcement of foreign judgments. India has reciprocal recognition and enforcement of judgments in civil and commercial matters with only a limited number of jurisdictions, such as the United Kingdom; however, no reciprocity has been established with the United States. In order to be enforceable, a judgment from a jurisdiction with reciprocity must meet certain requirements of the Indian Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 (the "CPC"). Recognition and enforcement of foreign judgments is provided for under Sections 13, 14 and 44A of the CPC on a statutory basis. Section 44A of the CPC provides that where a certified copy of a decree of any superior court, within the meaning of that section, obtained in any country or territory outside India which the government has by notification declared to be in a reciprocating territory, may be enforced in India by proceedings in execution as if the judgment had been rendered by a district court in India. However, Section 44A of the CPC is applicable only to monetary decrees and does not apply to decrees for amounts payable in respect of taxes, other charges of a like nature or in respect of a fine or other penalties and does not apply to arbitration awards (even if such awards are enforceable as a decree or judgment). The CPC only permits the enforcement and execution of monetary decrees in the reciprocating jurisdiction, not being in the nature of any amounts payable in respect of taxes, other charges, fines or penalties. Judgments or decrees from jurisdictions which do not have reciprocal recognition with India cannot be enforced by proceedings in execution in India. Therefore, a final judgment for the payment of money rendered by any court in a non-reciprocating territory for civil liability, whether or not predicated solely upon the general laws of the non-reciprocating territory, would not be enforceable in India. Even if an investor obtained a judgment in such a jurisdiction against us, our officers or directors, it may be required to institute a new proceeding in India and obtain a decree from an Indian court. Section 13 of the CPC provides that foreign judgments shall be conclusive regarding any matter directly adjudicated upon except: (i) where the judgment has not been pronounced by a court of competent jurisdiction; (ii) where the judgment has not been given on the merits of the case; (iii) where it appears on the face of the proceedings that the judgment is founded on an incorrect view of international law or refusal to recognise the law of India in cases to which such law is applicable; (iv) where the proceedings in which the judgment was obtained were opposed to natural justice; (v) where the judgment has been obtained by fraud; and/ or (vi) where the judgment sustains a claim founded on a breach of any law then in force in India. However, the party in whose favour such final judgment is rendered may bring a fresh suit in a competent court in India based on a final judgment that has been obtained in a non-reciprocating territory within three years of obtaining such final judgment. Generally, there are considerable delays in the disposal of suits by Indian courts.

It is unlikely that a court in India would award damages on the same basis as a foreign court if an action were to be brought in India. Furthermore, it is unlikely that an Indian court would enforce foreign judgments if that court was of the view that the amount of damages awarded was excessive or inconsistent with Indian practice. A party seeking to enforce a foreign judgment in India is required to obtain prior approval from the RBI to repatriate any amount recovered. Any judgment in a foreign currency would be converted into Indian Rupees on the date of the judgment and not on the date of the payment. We cannot predict whether a suit brought in an Indian court will be disposed of in a timely manner or be subject to considerable delays.

Subject to applicable law, in case of a shortfall in raising requisite capital from the Net Proceeds or an increase in the total estimated cost of the Objects, business considerations may require us to explore a range of options including utilising our internal accruals and seeking additional debt from third party lenders other than scheduled commercial banks and NBFCs for such portion of the objects of the Fresh Issue as permitted under applicable law.

Details of the Objects:

1. Funding future working capital requirements towards procurement, maintenance and scaling up of inventory and funding advance margin requirements for procurement of inventory by our Company

Our Company's business involves transactions in bullion where profitability is driven by volume, scale and pace of the transactions, rather than individual unit economics, requiring us to maintain a significant working capital. We fund our working capital requirements in the ordinary course of business from our internal accruals and inter-corporate loans.

Our Company's working capital cycle is influenced by several interconnected elements across the bullion value chain. On the procurement side, we source bullion from domestic and international banks, jewellers, NBFCs, bullion aggregators and international bullion suppliers. We also imports doré bars (which attract lower duties on import by 0.65% as compared to importing refined gold, as on the date of this Prospectus) which are refined at our Company's facilities located at Rudrapur, Uttarakhand (with an installed capacity of 144 MTPA as of March 31, 2026) and Mumbai, Maharashtra (with an installed capacity of 140 MTPA as of March 31, 2026). Our procurement function is capital intensive given the high value of bullion. Refining activities further prolong the working capital cycle as they involve processing doré bars, recycled jewellery and scrap gold procured from jewellers.

Our Company conducts enterprise sales business through our 'Augmont SPOT' platform, which is a fully electronic, proprietary, over-the-counter delivery-based bullion platform. This platform enables businesses such as jewellers, bullion dealers and manufacturers with valid GST registrations to purchase gold and silver bars online with assured physical delivery. Deliveries are typically fulfilled within two working days of an order being placed on the platform through 20 spot delivery centers across 13 states in India. Overall, our Company's working capital requirements remain sensitive to movements in bullion prices, changes in import duty structures such as between doré and refined gold, seasonal variations in demand, and regulatory changes affecting bullion imports, trading, or settlement practices.

As part of our strategy to expand into Tier 3 and Tier 4 cities, we intend to establish additional spot delivery centers to strengthen our last-mile reach. While this expansion is expected to broaden our customer base and deepen our market presence, it will also increase our working capital intensity. Delivery centers in these geographies will require higher levels of bullion inventory to ensure timely fulfilment and reliable service. Further, the expansion will add to logistical and operational costs, extend the cycle of inventory storage and movement, and may require additional liquidity buffers to manage fluctuations in regional demand.

Considering the sizable procurement needs of our Company, maintaining and enhancing the working capital is a predominant factor affecting the growth prospects and profitability of our Company. For further details, see, "Risk Factors – We require sizeable amounts of working capital for our continued operation and growth. Our inability to meet our working capital requirements could have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition." on page 37.

Our current working capital requirements are driven primarily by the following factors:

a) Increase in the cost of procurement as a result of rise in the price of gold and silver:

Our future working capital requirements are primarily influenced by the cost of gold and silver and the volume of procurement. The procurement cost is directly impacted by fluctuations in gold and silver prices, which are determined by a combination of international and domestic factors. According to the Technopak Report, gold and silver prices in India are influenced by several interrelated international and domestic factors. The international drivers include global gold and silver prices such as gold prices set by the LBMA, international supply and demand trends, international logistics and freight rates, the US Dollar volatility index, futures and options, volatility in alternative digital assets and global gold ETF demand. The domestic factors that affect gold and silver prices include disparity between domestic and international gold and silver prices, domestic supply and demand fluctuations, the Indian Rupee to US Dollar exchange rate, premiums charged by banks, applicable central and local taxes. (Source: Technopak Report) The table below sets forth the details of gold prices over the past five years:

	July 31, 2026	March 31, 2026	March 31, 2025	March 31, 2024	March 31, 2023	March 31, 2022	March 31, 2021

								till March 31, 2026 (%)
Price of gold per gram (in ₹)	14,286	14,673	8,916	6,866	5,975	5,148	4,419	27.13
Price of silver per kilogram (in ₹)	218,295	230,135	100,892	75,111	71,582	66,990	62,862	29.63

(Source: <https://ibja.co/>)

The steady increase in the price of gold and silver over the last few fiscals, has led to a considerable increase in the cost of procurement for the same amount of gold or silver we would have procured in the previous fiscals. Further, volume of gold and silver procured by our Company, over the last three fiscals, along with the steady increase in the prices of gold and silver have led to considerable increase in the working capital requirements of our Company.

The table below sets forth details of the volume and cost of gold and silver procured in the last three fiscals, on a standalone basis:

Particulars	For the Fiscal ended March 31, 2026	For the Fiscal ended March 31, 2025	For the Fiscal ended March 31, 2024
Gold
Volume of gold procured (MT)	54.06	63.91	46.60
Cost of gold procured (in ₹ million)	638,264.23	464,036.64	259,654.92
Average price of one kilogram of gold procured (in ₹ million) ⁽¹⁾	11.81	7.26	5.57
Silver
Volume of silver procured (MT)	1,050.62	1,036.11	759.92
Cost of silver procured (in ₹ million)	168,240.07	90,412.51	53,069.98
Average price of one kilogram of silver procured (in ₹ million) ⁽²⁾	0.16	0.09	0.07

Notes:

Our working capital fund requirement has increased significantly over the years. Assuming the prices of gold and silver continue to increase in line with the historical trend, complemented by increasing demand for gold and silver, the working capital requirements of our Company will proportionately increase. While stabilization or a decline in bullion prices may moderate the pace of growth in our working capital requirements, the strong and sustained demand for gold and silver, coupled with their inherent price volatility, drives our proactive approach to maintaining healthy liquidity buffers. These buffers enable us to ensure uninterrupted procurement and smooth operational continuity, positioning us to capitalise on emerging market opportunities and support our business expansion.

b) Procurement of gold and silver in line with the growth of our business and future growth strategies:

We plan to expand enterprise sales by increasing procurement of gold and silver. Accordingly, to grow our business, increasing procurement of gold and silver is paramount and this necessitates the need for additional working capital. As of March 31, 2026, we have 20 spot delivery centers across 13 states in India to deliver the gold and silver bars that are sold on our 'Augmont SPOT' platform. Our strategy for our enterprise business is to increase the number of customers to whom we sell gold and silver bullion, particularly in Tier 3 and Tier 4 cities where we believe there is demand for such products. In order to increase our penetration and service capabilities in these markets, we plan to set up new physical delivery centers across Tier 3 and Tier 4 cities by Fiscal 2029, leading to elevated working capital needs due to the requirement of additional inventory, logistics, and storage capacities. Further, in order to effectively service gold and silver requirements of enterprise clients in such Tier 3 and Tier 4 cities, we will be required to maintain a minimum degree of inventory, as we believe that we may incur significant logistics costs till our delivery networks are set up and the absence of inventory may hamper our ability to service client requirements in a timely manner. In order to increase our customer base, we require additional capital since our operations are working capital intensive and time sensitive.

The following table sets forth the details of revenue generated on standalone basis for the Fiscals indicated:

Particulars	For the Fiscal ended
	March 31, 2026	March 31, 2025	March 31, 2024
Revenue from operations of our Company on standalone basis (₹ million)	824,751.56	562,415.60	325,057.81
Year on Year Growth (%)	46.64	73.02	8.29

Our operations are inherently working capital intensive and time sensitive, driven by the nature of procurement cycles, price volatility, and real-time order execution on the 'Augmont SPOT' platform. Our Company receives payment for the gold or silver sold within half a day to two days, from the time we place an order with our Company's supplier to secure the customer's order, which we further utilise towards securing future orders on an on-going basis reflecting the continuous and cyclical nature of our procurement and sales operations. Due to this operational cash flow cycle, the funds realized from customer payments are largely committed towards fulfilling existing orders and cannot be fully leveraged to enhance inventory levels without the infusion of additional working capital. To support our growth plans which include expanding our customer base and increasing the volume of gold and silver sales beyond the levels achieved in the fiscal year ended March 31, 2026, raising additional working capital is essential. However, as we scale our business, these sources alone are insufficient to meet the rising demands of inventory procurement and margin funding. While we have successfully increased the proportion of revenue generated through sale of gold, both as a percentage of our revenue from operations, this growth has been primarily through funding from internal accruals and inter-corporate loans in the past. However, to sustain this upward trajectory and meet increasing market demand, we require additional funds on a continuous basis, to ensure we are able to maintain and progressively increase sale of gold and silver in terms of metric tonnes and consequently improve our revenue from operations.

c) Restriction from accessing debt for financing our working capital requirements:

Our Company cannot access debt financing from commercial banks for funding working capital requirements, pursuant to the Master Direction - Reserve Bank of India (Commercial Banks – Credit Facilities) Directions, 2025 dated November 28, 2025 issued by the RBI, which prohibits commercial banks from granting advances for the purpose of purchasing gold in any form, including primary gold, gold bullion, gold jewellery, gold coins, units of gold ETFs and gold mutual funds, other than providing finance for genuine working capital requirements of jewellers. Similarly, our Company cannot fund the working capital requirements through debt financing from NBFCs pursuant to the Master Direction – Reserve Bank of India (Non-Banking Financial Company – Credit Facilities) Directions, 2025, issued by the RBI, which prohibits NBFCs from granting any advance for purchase of gold in any form including primary gold, gold bullion, gold jewellery, gold coins, units of exchange traded funds and units of gold mutual funds. Further, pursuant to the the Reserve Bank of India (Commercial Banks – Credit Facilities) Directions, 2025, Reserve Bank of India (Local Area Banks – Credit Facilities) Directions, 2025, Reserve Bank of India (Regional Rural Banks – Credit Facilities) Directions, 2025, Reserve Bank of India (Urban Co-operative Banks – Credit Facilities) Directions, 2025, Reserve Bank of India (Rural Cooperative Banks – Credit Facilities) Directions, 2025, commercial banks, small finance banks, local area banks, regional rural banks, urban co-operative banks and rural co-operative banks are prohibited from granting any advances or loan for the purpose of purchasing gold in any form, including primary gold, ornaments, gold jewellery, gold coins, or for purchase of financial assets backed by gold such as units of gold ETFs and units of gold mutual funds. However, commercial banks, urban co-operative banks (Tier 3 and Tier 4), regional rural banks, and small finance banks may extend need-based working capital finance to borrowers who use gold or silver as raw material or as input for manufacturing or industrial processing activity. We are not entitled to debt financing from the afore-mentioned entities for our enterprise sales. For further details, see “Risk Factors – We cannot access debt financing to finance our working capital requirements. If we are unable to access adequate and cost-effective funding in a timely manner due to these restrictions, it may have an adverse effect on our business operations, liquidity position and overall financial performance.” on page 34.

Requirement of funds towards funding future working capital:

Our business is inherently working capital intensive, on account of the high value of transactions, volatility in gold and silver prices and the need to maintain sufficient inventory and margin deposits with suppliers. While we have historically funded these requirements through internal accruals and inter-corporate borrowings, our anticipated growth in scale, expansion of delivery centres, and increasing share of doré and scrap refining are expected to result in higher and more sustained working capital need.

The primary components towards which the working capital available with our Company at any point in time is utilised are: (i) procurement of pure gold and silver bars from domestic and international banks, jewellers, NBFCs, bullion aggregators and international bullion suppliers; (ii) procurement of doré bars from domestic and overseas suppliers; (iii) payment of advance remittances or margin funding to our suppliers for the purposes of securing orders placed by our customers; and (iv) costs incurred towards refining doré bars, recycled jewellery and scrap gold into pure gold.

Our Company proposes to utilise ₹4,650.00 million from the Net Proceeds towards: (i) funding towards advance margin payment to our suppliers for rolling basis; (ii) funding advance payments for import of doré bars; and (iii) scaling up of bullion inventory, in Fiscal 2027. The description of the aforementioned fund requirements are set out below:

a) Funding towards advance margin payments to our suppliers on rolling basis:

Our Company, in its ordinary course, is required to provide advance margin payments to our suppliers, primarily banking companies, towards future delivery of gold and silver to secure equivalent amount of gold or silver for orders placed by our customers through the 'Augmont SPOT' platform. When a customer places an order on the 'Augmont SPOT' platform and pays a nominal amount of ₹0.30 million per kilogram of gold and ₹0.30 million per thirty kilograms of silver of the total order value as advance to secure the order, we simultaneously place another order for the same quantity with our suppliers, primarily banking companies. For such orders, we are required to make advance margin payment of 100% of the total order value for securing the order. Subsequently, we deliver the order to our customer, post receipt of the balance consideration. Typically, we make such advance margin payments for delivery cycles ranging from half a day to two days, during which the funds paid as advance margin payments remain blocked with our suppliers, thereby restricting our working capital for such periods.

On account of the above, as we secure more orders on our Augmont SPOT platform, we are required to deploy higher working capital towards advancing margin payments to suppliers, which impacts our liquidity position and overall working capital for operations. Considering the recurring nature of such orders, where we are required to create rolling margins to secure orders, our Company requires dedicated working capital allocation to efficiently manage our cash exposure with our suppliers.

Accordingly, our Company proposes to allocate and deploy a portion of Net Proceeds towards advance margin funding, on a rolling basis in Fiscal 2027.

b) Working capital requirements for procurement of doré bars and scrap gold:

Our working capital cycle is primarily driven by the end-to-end process of procuring bullion, carrying out refining operations, managing inventory storage, and facilitating sales transactions through our proprietary 'Augmont SPOT' platform. Each stage in this cycle, beginning from acquiring raw materials to final sale directly impacts our liquidity position and operational efficiency. Further, as the bulk of our costs are directly linked to volume of orders processed through our 'Augmont SPOT' platform, the quantity of bullion required to be procured on a back-to-back basis is not a constant amount and can vary over periods. Additionally, the procurement of scrap gold involves a comprehensive end-to-end process starting from sourcing raw materials from individuals, jewellers, and jewellery auctions, followed by meticulous evaluation, grading, and purchase at competitive market rates. Such scrap gold procured is then collected, transported, and processed through refining to produce pure gold, which is subsequently stocked for sale on our 'Augmont SPOT' platform. This entire cycle demands careful management of working capital to ensure timely procurement, efficient processing, and steady inventory turnover. As part of our procurement strategy, we source bullion through (i) imports of doré bars from overseas aggregators, which are subsequently refined at our facilities at Rudrapur, Uttarakhand and Mumbai, Maharashtra, and (ii) procurement of scrap gold from individuals, jewellers, and at jewellery auctions, which we acquire at reduced duty for refining, compared to the duty levied on pure gold. Imports of doré bars, while allowing us to benefit from lower import duties (as compared to refined gold), typically require advance remittance to overseas suppliers, which results in a short-term blockage of working capital until the refined gold is sold. Similarly, procurement of scrap gold requires upfront deployment of working capital for acquisition, processing, and refining until the refined gold and silver is sold. The table below sets forth details of doré bars imported by our Company in line with the limits set under the import licenses granted to our Company by the Directorate General of Foreign Trade and volume of such doré bars refined into pure gold (purity of 995 and above) in the last three fiscals on a standalone basis:

Doré bars imported (in ₹ million)	117,568.24	66,408.19	69,394.83
Procurement cost of scrap gold (in ₹ million)	37,420.62	39,379.25	10,711.12
Doré bars imported (in MT)	10.78	10.48	14.63
Number of purchase orders for doré bars imported	225	562	914
Volume of gold refined (MT)	13.34	15.08	14.98

The import and refining of doré bars, scrap gold into pure gold and sale of such pure gold being a recurring function of our operations, we are exposed to continuous requirement of our working capital available for operations thereby impacting our liquidity positions of the Company.

To address our working capital requirement, our Company proposes to allocate and deploy a portion of the Net Proceeds towards funding our cost of imported doré bars and procurement of scrap gold, in Fiscal 2027.

c) Scaling up of bullion inventory:

Our Company has recurring customers who contribute to a significant share of our revenue from operations through sale of gold and silver on the ‘Augmont SPOT’ platform. Our top 10 customers accounted for 53.66%, 37.89% and 39.88%, of our revenue from operations for the Fiscals 2026, 2025 and 2024, respectively on a standalone basis. Typically, large customers place orders requiring delivery within an expedited timeframe often ranging from a few hours to a day to meet their operational demands. To meet such time sensitive orders without disruption and to preserve our customer relationships and market share, we are required to maintain adequate inventories of refined bullion, irrespective of the advance margin payments made to suppliers in the ordinary course of procurement. While advance margin funding represents a temporary cash exposure with suppliers until delivery, the maintenance of adequate physical inventory ensures that customer orders, particularly large or urgent orders, can be serviced without disruption and seasonal demand peaks can be addressed and helps us in balancing liquidity efficiency with the varying demands of our customers.

For details of our procurement operations, see, “Our Business – Procurement” on page 250. We process thousands of orders through our ‘Augmont SPOT’ platform each day, with volumes fluctuating each day, based on various factors, international and domestic.

To mitigate the effects of such fluctuations on our inventory requirements, our Company proposes to allocate and deploy a portion of Net Proceeds in Fiscal 2027 towards strengthening our bullion inventory levels, including funding of minimum order quantity commitments under long-term supply arrangements our Company may enter with miners and refiners, enabling us to efficiently serve demands from large customers and manage customer orders during peak demand periods.

Through allocation and deployment of Net Proceeds towards the aforementioned objects, our Company aims to: (i) ensure continuity in refinery operations, thereby supporting consistent revenues; (ii) maintain readiness to meet orders requiring short-notice delivery; (iii) ensure availability of adequate working capital to meet rolling margin requirements to secure orders with banks.

Key assumptions for working capital requirements

Current Assets
1	Inventories	Our Company's inventories primarily comprise bullion, jewellery, and doré gold, with historical holding periods of 0.52, 0.18 and 1.18 days in Fiscal 2024, 2025 and 2026, respectively. The unusually low level in Fiscal 2025 was attributable to subdued year-end activity due to multiple non-working days and holidays, which also reduced receivables and payables. Going forward, inventory levels are assumed at 1.25 days in Fiscal 2027 and 1.25 days in Fiscal 2028, reflecting plan of strategic expansion into Tier-3 and Tier-4 cities that require stock availability at decentralized locations, higher refinery utilization necessitating additional doré bar holdings to offset global supply-chain delays, supply chain disruptions or regulatory bottlenecks in bullion imports and increased reliance on scrap refining, which involves setting up collection centers and holding scrap inventory.
2	Trade receivables	Trade receivable days were 0.86, 0.11 and 0.54 in Fiscal 2024, 2025 and 2026, respectively, with the decline in Fiscal 2025 driven by lower year-end activity similar to the trend in inventories and payables. For future periods, receivables are projected at 0.90 days in Fiscal 2027 and 0.90 days in Fiscal 2028, factoring in marginally higher receivable levels due to support business expansion across Tier 3 and Tier 4 cities, where customer relationships often require credit support.

Serial No.	Particulars	Assumptions and Justifications
3	Other financial assets	Other financial assets primarily consist of margin money, with holding levels of 0.69, 0.27, and 0.38 days in Fiscal 2024, 2025 and 2026. The dip in Fiscal 2025 was in line with lower year-end activity, in line with reduction in inventories and trade receivables level. Our Company has assumed normalized levels of 0.68 and 0.69 days in Fiscal 2027 and 2028, consistent with historical averages.
4	Current Tax Assets (Net)	Historically the holding periods for current tax assets (net) have been 0.31 days, 0.05 days and 0.15 days at the end of Fiscal 2024, 2025 and 2026 respectively. Our Company going forward has assumed receivable of 0.11 and 0.11 days for the Fiscal year ending 2027 and 2028, respectively.
5	Other current assets	Other current assets mainly comprise balances with statutory authorities, supplier advances, and related items, with historical holding periods of 1.30, 0.79 and 0.19 days in Fiscal 2024, 2025 and 2026 respectively. For future periods, our Company has assumed holding levels of 1.12 and 1.16, while incorporating the increased advances that we will be paying for importing more doré bars, in Fiscal 2027, and 2028, which are broadly in line with historical trends.
Current Liabilities
6	Trade Payables	Trade payable days stood at 1.48, 0.46 and 0.25 in Fiscal 2024, 2025 and 2026 respectively, with the decline in Fiscal 2026 reflecting lower year-end business activity in line with receivables and inventories. Our Company, going forward, has assumed trade payables of 0.75 days and 0.75 days for Fiscal 2027 and 2028, respectively, envisaging timely and prudent payments of its liabilities with improved utilization of working capital balancing the need for uninterrupted raw material supply while maintaining prudent supplier relationship management.
7	Other current liabilities (including provisions, lease obligations and other financial liabilities)	Our Company's other current liabilities primarily include statutory payables, derivative financial liabilities, and margin money related liabilities. Historically, the holding periods for other current liabilities have been 0.24 days, 0.11 days and 0.14 days at the end of Fiscal 2024, 2025 and 2026, respectively. Our Company, going forward, has assumed other current liabilities of 0.08 days and 0.08 days for Fiscal 2027, and 2028, respectively, envisaging timely and prudent payments of its liabilities with improved utilization of working capital.

Note: As certified by M/s K.K. Mankeshwar & Co., Chartered Accountants, with firm registration number 106009W, pursuant their certificate dated August 25, 2026 (UDIN: 26156160HNPQTL3981).

VI. Comparison with Listed Industry Peers

Our Company generates substantial portion of our revenue from operations from B2B sale of bullion on ‘Augmont Spot’ platform. While there are certain listed players in India who primarily serve end-consumer jewellery demand, their business model is fundamentally different in both business model and risk profile from the business model and risk profile of our Company as such listed players: (i) hold their inventory for longer period of time; (ii) form part of the customers segment who procure bullion from refiners and wholesalers like our Company; (iii) do not import doré bars and refine them into pure gold; (iv) do not operate a technology-driven spot bullion exchange with integrated trading and settlement capabilities, and accordingly are not comparable with the business of our Company. In addition, there are no listed players globally who engage in a business similar to that of our Company. Accordingly, it is not possible to provide an industry comparison in relation to our Company.

The per capita GNI for India was ₹ 2,22,989 in Fiscal 2025, marking a 50.4% increase from ₹ 1,48,261 in Fiscal 2020, exhibiting a CAGR of 8.5% during the period. As per the provisional estimates released by the Government of India on 5th June, 2026, the per capita GNI was estimated at ₹2,40,147 for Fiscal 2026.

Private Final Consumption Expenditure

India is a private consumption-driven economy, where the share of domestic consumption is measured as PFCE. This private consumption expenditure comprises both goods (food, lifestyle, home, pharmacy, etc.) and services (food services, education, healthcare, etc.). The high share of private consumption to GDP has the advantage of insulating India from volatility in the global economy. It also implies that sustainable economic growth directly translates into sustained consumer demand for goods and services. India's domestic consumption has grown at a CAGR of 10.52% between 2020 and 2024, while China's growth is estimated at 6.94% during the same period.

In 2023, PFCE accounted for 56.50% of India's GDP, which was higher than that in China (39.57%), Germany (52.58%) and France (54.65%) but lower than other large economies such as US (67.72%) 2023 and UK (62.09%) during a similar period of 2023. With the rapidly growing GDP and PFCE, India is poised to become one of the top consumer markets globally. PFCE's contribution to India's GDP was 56.50% for 2024 and is estimated to be 56.67% in 2025.

Consumer Price Inflation (CPI)

Inflation, measured by the consumer price index ("CPI"), is defined as the change in the prices of a basket of goods and services that are typically purchased by specific groups of households. The world is expected to witness a significant rise in inflation during 2025 where the average global inflation can be recorded at 4.20%. As per the IMF report, the global inflation rate is expected to moderate further to 3.20% by 2030.

Due to a substantial increase in global crude oil and commodity prices, India along with other developed countries are facing significant challenges related to high levels of inflation in recent years. Further, the pandemic has led to disruptions in global supply chains, affecting the availability of goods and raw materials. In response to this inflationary pressure, these countries are compelled to raise their domestic interest rates.

Key growth drivers

Indian Population

India's population has been steadily growing over the years. India has surpassed China's population, thus making it the most populous country in the world with 1.46 billion population in 2025. Further projections suggest that India's population will continue to increase, reaching 1.53 billion by 2030.

Age-wise Population

India has one of the youngest populations globally compared to other leading economies. The median age in India was approximately 29.8 years for 2024, as compared to 38.9 years and 40.2 years in the USA and China respectively and is expected to remain under 30 years until 2030. The younger population is naturally predisposed to adopting the latest trends, given their educational profile and exposure to media and technology. This presents an opportunity for domestic consumption in the form of branded products and organized retail.

Women Workforce

Several factors such as improved healthcare, increased media visibility, and expanding educational opportunities are enabling women in both urban and rural India to exert greater influence within their households and the broader society. Among these, access to education remains the most significant driver of empowerment. The growing participation of women in the workforce has also led to notable changes in household consumption patterns, including a rising preference for branded products across fashion, lifestyle, and related categories.

The female labour force participation rate in India has seen a marked improvement, increasing by 8.9 percentage points from 32.8% in Fiscal 2022 to 41.7% in Fiscal 2024 and remained stable in Fiscal 2025 at 40.0%. This positive trend is attributed to enhanced access to education, expanded employment opportunities, and supportive government initiatives aimed at promoting gender inclusion in the economy.

Urbanization

Urbanization is one of the most important pillars of India's growth story, as these areas serve as the core drivers for consumption. India had the second-largest urban population in the world (in absolute terms) at 522 million in 2025. However, only approximately 35.4% of India's population is classified as urban, compared to a global average of approximately 58% in 2024. It is the pace of India's urbanization that is a key trend fuelling India's economic growth. The urban population contributes 63% to India's GDP in 2024. Looking ahead, it is projected that approximately 37.3% (571 million) of India's population will be living in urban centres by 2030.

Growing Middle Class

The increase in number of households with annual earnings ranging from U.S.$10,000 to U.S.$50,000 is poised to drive the Indian economy by fostering demand for a wide array of goods, improved services, housing, healthcare, education, and more. Households with an annual income between U.S.$10,000 and U.S.$50,000 accounted for 6 to 8% of the total population in Fiscal 2010, and this share increased to 24 to 26% in Fiscal 2025 and is expected to continue in the same manner rising to 33 to 35% of the total population by Fiscal 2030. The expanding middle-class sector in India is accompanied by a growing appetite for premiumisation across various sectors, including goods and services, construction, housing services, financial services, telecommunications, and retail.

India's household savings as a percentage of GDP

Over the past decade, there has been a downward trend in the savings rate within the Indian economy and a decrease in the proportion of gross domestic savings ("GDS") relative to the GDP. This decrease in gross savings was a global trend observed across most of the major economies. By the end of 2021, gross savings in India had further decreased to 27.6%, primarily due to increased individual spending. Despite this decline, India's domestic savings remained higher than the global average of 26.9% in 2023 and this trend continued in 2024 as gross savings as a percentage of GDP reached 28.4%.

Nuclearization

The growth in the number of households exceeds population growth, indicating an increase in nuclearization in India. Average household size has reduced from 5.3 in Fiscal 2001 to 4.1 in Fiscal 2025 and is further projected to reduce to 3.9 by Fiscal 2030. In 2011, 69% of households had less than five members, compared to 62% in Fiscal 2001. The growth in the number of nuclear families is leading to an increase in the number of households, thereby creating a strong demand for housing units and discretionary expenditure in India.

Internet Penetration in India

India's robust growth in internet penetration over the years, highlights a significant digital transformation journey. From 574 million users and 41% penetration in Fiscal 2019, internet adoption has steadily increased, reaching 958 million users and 62% penetration in Fiscal 2025. This upward trend reflects the impact of affordable data plans, rising smartphone usage, and digital inclusion efforts. While the penetration rate is improving, there is still enough room for expansion, suggesting continued opportunities for digital service providers, policymakers, and businesses aiming to tap into India's rapidly digitizing population.

Key Regulators related to Gold and Silver Trading in India

Below mentioned are the key regulators and their roles:

Regulator	Scope of Regulation
Reserve Bank of India (“RBI”)	The RBI is the principal regulator overseeing gold-related financial operations. It regulates gold imports by nominating banks and agencies authorized to import bullion. It also sets prudential norms for gold loans, including the Loan-to-Value (“LTV”) ratio to prevent over-leveraging against gold collateral like jewellery. Additionally, the RBI is responsible for administering the Gold Monetization Scheme (“GMS”), under which banks collect idle household gold deposits, channel them through refiners, and issue interest-bearing certificates.

Securities and Exchange Board of India (“SEBI”)	SEBI governs gold-related financial instruments such as Gold and Silver Exchange Traded Funds (“ETFs”), mutual funds investing in precious metals, and Electronic Gold Receipts (“EGRs”), which represent dematerialized units of physical gold traded on stock exchanges. SEBI also authorizes vault managers responsible for the safekeeping of physical gold underlying these securities, ensuring transparency, security, and audit compliance in exchange-based gold trading.
Directorate General of Foreign Trade (“DGFT”)	DGFT functions under the Ministry of Commerce and formulates India’s import-export policies, including those governing gold. It determines who can import gold (nominated banks and agencies), the quantity limits, the form of gold (bars, doré, coins), and the procedural conditions under which imports may be made. DGFT notifications directly influence trade dynamics by altering duty structures, licensing norms, or country-of-origin rules under FTAs.
International Financial Services Centres Authority (“IFSCA”)	IFSCA is the regulatory authority for financial products and services in the GIFT City IFSC (International Financial Services Centre). It oversees the trading and settlement of Bullion Depository Receipts (“BDRs”) on the India International Bullion Exchange (“IIBX”). These BDRs represent ownership of physical bullion stored in certified vaults and enable qualified jewellers and traders to source gold transparently through an exchange platform.
Bureau of Indian Standards (BIS)	BIS is responsible for setting and enforcing quality standards for gold and silver jewellery through hallmarking. It prescribes purity benchmarks (such as 22K or 18K for gold), oversees hallmarking centres, and has mandated the use of Hallmark Unique Identification (“HUID”) codes on jewellery to ensure traceability and consumer protection. BIS standards are crucial for maintaining trust and consistency in retail bullion transactions.
Central Board of Indirect Taxes and Customs (“CBIC”)	CBIC manages the collection of customs duty on imported gold and ensures compliance with import procedures at Indian ports and airports. It enforces applicable duties, tariffs, and exemptions as notified by the Ministry of Finance. CBIC also plays a key role in preventing gold smuggling through surveillance, seizure operations, and coordinating with customs intelligence units across entry points.
Gems and Jewellery Export Promotion Council (“GJEPC”)	GJEPC facilitates better interaction on trade related issues between the industry and Government of India, Ministry of Commerce and Industry, Ministry of Finance, DGFT, Dept. of Commerce and Dept. of Finance. It is the Nodal Agency appointed by the Government of India to execute the Kimberly Process Certification Scheme in the country ensuring ethical sourcing and trade of diamonds. It organizes international exhibitions, trade shows, and buyer-seller meets to showcase Indian jewellery and connect exporters with international buyers.
Indian Bullion and Jewelers Association (“IBJA”)	IBJA publishes daily Gold AM and PM Rates. It helps in the promotion and regulation of bullion trade, and address disputes and arbitrations between dealers. IBJA also plays a key role in interacting with all Government Departments on behalf of bullion traders, dealers and jewellers in its implementation of new policy matters, import export issues.

Role of Banks in Gold and Silver Trading in India

Banks play a multifaceted role in the gold and silver trading in India which is subject to strict regulatory guidelines issued by RBI and SEBI. Some of the key roles played by banks are:

Role of Banks in Gold and Silver Trading in India

Function	Description
Authorized Importers	Certain banks and agencies, nominated by the Reserve Bank of India (“RBI”) or the Directorate General of Foreign Trade (“DGFT”), are authorized to import gold bullion into India and supply it to jewellers across the country.
Providing Loans Against Jewellery	Banks and Non-Banking Financial Companies (“NBFCs”), such as Muthoot Finance and Manappuram, offer loans to individuals by accepting gold jewellery as collateral.
Gold Metal Loans to Jewellers	Banks also provide working capital to jewellery manufacturers in the form of physical gold, which the jewellers later return after manufacturing and sale, known as a Gold Metal Loan.
Custodians of Gold for ETFs	Some banks act as custodians by safely storing physical gold on behalf of mutual fund companies that offer Gold Exchange Traded Funds (“ETFs”) to retail and institutional investors

Function	Description
Participation in the Gold Monetization Scheme (“GMS”)	Banks collect idle gold from individuals under the Gold Monetisation Scheme, send it for refining, and issue interest-bearing certificates. This enables gold to enter the formal financial system while rewarding depositors. As of March 2025, only short-term bank deposits (1 years to 3 years) under the GMS will continue.
Ensuring Regulatory Compliance (“KYC” and “AML”)	Banks and financial entities are required to strictly follow Know Your Customer (“KYC”) and Anti-Money Laundering (“AML”) regulations. They must report any suspicious or high-value transactions under laws such as the Prevention of Money Laundering Act (“PMLA”) and the Foreign Exchange Management Act (“FEMA”).

Sourcing and Import of Gold in India

The government of India has recently tightened the import duty on gold from 6% to 15%, coupled with stricter controls on duty-free imports aimed at curbing non-essential imports and protecting foreign exchange reserves. Zero import duty on gold applies to specific agreement and situations, for e.g.- under India-ASEAN Free Trade Agreement, zero import duty is applicable to only unwrought and semi-manufactured gold forms like gold doré/bars, gold and silver jewellery, other precious metal products, satisfying origin requirements, and imported through nominated agencies, qualified jewellers via the bullion exchange. Gold dore imports specifically are limited to licensed refineries under an Actual User condition.

The India-UAE Comprehensive Economic Partnership Agreement (“CEPA”) allows for reduced duties on gold imports within a specified quota where 1% of duty concession is granted for imports upto a Tariff Rate Quota (“TRQ”) of 200 tonnes. Gold imports in India stood at U.S.$ 69 billion in Fiscal 2026 as against U.S.$ 53.52 billion in Fiscal 2025 and this precious metal accounted for approximately 8% of the country’s total imports in Fiscal 2025. However, in terms of volume, the gold imports dipped to approximately 757.03 tonnes in Fiscal 2026 against 757.09 tonnes in Fiscal 2025.

Further, India imports over majority of its gold demand from countries such as Switzerland, UAE, South Africa and others through nominated banks and agencies. In 2024, Switzerland accounted for the largest share of India's total gold imports at 35.3%, followed by the UAE (22.3%), South Africa (9.0%), Peru (7.5%), Australia (5.9%) and the USA (3.7%). In 2025, the UAE emerged as the largest source at 28.0%, followed by Switzerland (24.2%), Peru (9.9%), Ghana (7.6%), Hong Kong (4.7%) and Australia (3.8%).

Key Challenges/Restrictions in Import of Gold in India

Regulatory Restrictions

- Eligibility Criteria for Importers

Only entities authorized by RBI and DGFT including nominated banks, public sector undertakings such as MMTC, and agencies operating on the India International Bullion Exchange (“IBX”) are permitted to import gold. Private entities must obtain an Importer-Exporter Code (“IEC”) and, where applicable, comply with BIS recognition and other regulatory clearances. This limited eligibility constrains wider market participation and increases dependence on select importers.

- Quantity and Form Limitations

Individuals returning to India after a minimum stay of six months abroad are allowed to bring up to 1 kilogram of gold (including ornaments) provided it is declared at customs and duty is paid in convertible foreign currency. Additionally, male passengers can carry up to 20 grams of gold jewellery (valued up to ₹50,000) and female passengers up to 40 grams (valued up to ₹1,00,000) duty-free, if for personal use. However, the import of gold coins, medallions, and stone-studded jewellery is either restricted or prohibited under baggage rules. Failure to declare gold above permitted limits can result in seizure and penalties.

- End-use Restrictions for EOUs and SEZs

Gold imported by Export Oriented Units (“EOUs”) and Special Economic Zones (“SEZs”) must be used exclusively for the manufacture of jewellery or articles for export purposes. Use of such gold for domestic resale is allowed only if payment done for applicable import duties.

- Procedural and Documentation Requirements

All gold imports must be routed through customs-bonded warehouses and supported by a complete set of documentation, including invoices, bills of entry, purity certificates, and HSN code compliance. Refineries processing gold doré must hold valid BIS and NABL accreditation. These conditions necessitate stringent operational compliance from importing entities.

Key Challenges

- Regulatory Complexity and Fragmentation

Gold imports are regulated by multiple authorities with overlapping jurisdiction. The absence of a unified gold policy framework leads to inconsistent rulemaking, increased compliance burden, and regulatory ambiguity for importers and downstream stakeholders.

- Policy Volatility and Uncertainty

Frequent changes in import duties, tariff rate quotas (“TRQs”), and procedural rules contribute to unpredictability in the operating environment. This hinders long-term planning for importers, refiners, and jewellers, particularly small and medium-sized entities.

- Compliance Burden and Cost Intensiveness

Importers face a high compliance load due to the requirement for multiple licenses, KYC obligations, warehouse approvals, and documentary audits. These increase transaction costs and extend turnaround times for customs clearance and logistics handling.

- Data Inaccuracies and Reporting Gaps

Inconsistencies in data collection and reporting such as double counting or lack of system integration across DGFT, CBIC, and RBI platforms have resulted in statistical gaps that affect policy efficacy and transparency in trade monitoring.

- Exposure to Market Volatility and Currency Risk

Global fluctuations in gold prices, coupled with ₹-U.S.$ exchange rate movements, impact the profitability of gold imports. The volatility exposes importers to hedging and pricing challenges, particularly for bulk procurement linked to long shipping lead times.

OVERVIEW OF GOLD AND SILVER INDUSTRY

Global Gold Demand

Global gold demand rose from 4,951 tonnes in 2023 to 4,988 tonnes in 2024, despite elevated gold prices, which averaged U.S.$3,432 per ounce based on LBMA benchmarks. This increase reflects the continued appeal of gold as a safe-haven asset amid prevailing global economic uncertainties. Gold outperformed most major asset classes, including U.S. equities and bonds, underscoring its role as an effective risk-hedging instrument. Investment demands, comprising gold bars and coins, ETF and similar products became the largest contributor to overall gold demand in 2025, accounting for 43.5% of total demand, with an year on year share increase of approximately 19.6% from 2024. Whereas jewellery demand declined by approximately 8% year-on-year, primarily due to record-high prices dampening consumer purchases in volume terms in key markets such as India and China. Making jewellery demand the second-largest contributor, with share of 32.7% of total global gold demand in 2025.

Region Wise Gold Demand

China and India continued to be the leading gold consumers globally in 2024, underscoring their substantial influence on the international gold market. China emerged as the largest gold consumer, with total consumption reaching 830 tonnes, followed by India, which ranked second with 711 tonnes.

Global Silver Demand

Global silver demand was valued at 35,170 tonnes in 2025. This demand saw a slight decline in 2025 compared to previous year, however the investments in coin and bar increased by approximately 14% shaped by the sentiments of silver being a safe haven for investments, and with gold prices soaring, consumers are also shifting towards silver as a precious metal to invest in. Jewellery fabrication also saw a decline in 2025, mostly due to decline in demand in India owing to high spike in prices.

Impact of Fed Rates on International Gold Prices

The interest rate decisions of the U.S. Federal Reserve play a pivotal role in influencing international gold prices by affecting both the opportunity cost of holding non-yielding assets and the strength of the U.S. dollar. An increase in interest rates by the U.S. reserve typically enhances returns on fixed-income instruments such as bonds and savings accounts, thereby increasing investment in banks and moving money out of gold, exerting downward pressure on its price. On the other hand, when interest rates are cut, returns on savings go down and the U.S. dollar weakens, enhancing gold's appeal as a safe asset and hedge against currency depreciation and financial uncertainty.

In September 2024, the Federal Reserve implemented a 50-basis point rate cut. The global gold market responded sharply, with spot gold prices surging over 1% to reach U.S.$2,599 per troy ounce, marking a new historical high.

In 2025, the U.S. interest rate declined to 4.33%, to which gold prices surged, rising from an average of U.S.$2,386 per troy ounce in 2024 to U.S.$3,432 per troy ounce in 2025. This reaction underscored the sensitivity of gold prices to monetary policy shifts and reinforced gold's role as a preferred asset during periods of declining real interest rates and macroeconomic uncertainty.

Factors affecting gold price movement

- Currency Fluctuations: Gold prices often move inversely to the U.S. dollar. When the dollar weakens, gold becomes more affordable for investors, boosting demand.
- Key Consuming Nations: The United States, India, and China collectively account for over half of global gold demand. In India, cultural traditions drive gold purchases, especially during festivals and weddings. China's demand is influenced by gold's symbolism of wealth and security. In 2025, China's bar and coin investment surged by 28%, reflecting a shift towards gold as a financial asset amid economic uncertainties. India consumed 711 tonnes in 2025, with share of bars and coins increasing by 10% from 2024 to 2025.
- Inflation: Gold is traditionally viewed as a hedge against inflation. In 2024, the U.S. Consumer Price Index (CPI) rose by 2.9%, supporting gold's price increase that year. Even as inflation rates eased to 2.6-2.7% by 2025, gold maintained its upward trajectory. More recently, inflation has shown signs of re-acceleration (~3.3% in early 2026), reinforcing gold's hedge appeal.
- Geopolitical Events: Gold serves as a refuge during geopolitical tensions. In 2025 and early 2026, conflicts such as the ongoing Ukraine-Russia war and U.S-Israel war with Iran, heightened global uncertainties. These, rose fears of a global trade war and supply chain eruptions, prompting investors to seek safety in gold and impacting the demand and gold prices.
- Volatility and Performance of Other Assets: Gold often gains appeal when other assets, like stocks, become volatile. Gold gave a return of 60.6% as of November 2025 (year to date), outperforming all major asset classes, with the U.S. stock providing a return of approximately 17.4% and EM stocks approximately 30.4% in the same period. This inverse relationship highlights gold's role as a windbreak against market instability.

- Correlation with the Dollar Index (“DXY”): Beyond the direct impact of currency valuation, gold's inverse correlation with DXY highlights its dual function as both a currency and commodity hedge. A weakening DXY not only makes gold more affordable for holders of other currencies but also signals broad-based U.S. dollar depreciation. Market participants frequently monitor fluctuations in the DXY as a leading indicator to anticipate movements in gold prices, reinforcing the index's relevance in precious metals trading strategies.

Key Trends in Global Gold Market

- Exchange-traded funds (ETFs): ETFs are emerging as a critical barometer of investor confidence in gold, offering a hassle-free way to gain bullion exposure without handling physical gold. Globally, physically backed gold ETFs reported inflows in earlier Q1 2026. As a result, total Q1 inflows stood at approximately U.S.$ 12.3 to 12.6 billion, translating into a net addition of approximately 62 tonnes to global holdings. Despite volatility and decline in month of March, ETF demand remained positive, marking a continuation of the broader inflow trend.
- Central Bank Policies and Reserve Diversification: Central banks have become consistently large buyers of gold to diversify away from fiat currencies and hedge geopolitical or inflationary risks. Purchasing decisions are often driven by reserve-management strategies that prioritize uncorrelated assets, especially when dollar or euro exposure feels vulnerable. In Q4 2025, central banks added 175 tonnes of gold.
- Shift Toward Lighter Jewellery Due to High Prices: Surge in gold prices has led to a structural shift in gold jewellery demand, with global consumption declining by 19% to 1,638 tonnes in 2025. Consumers are increasingly opting for lighter weight jewellery and innovative product blends such as those incorporating enamel, pearls, etc. to maintain affordability.
- Investment Amid Global Instability: Heightened geopolitical tensions including the Russia-Ukraine war, US-China trade talks, and global monetary uncertainty have impacted the demand and prices of gold and despite sharp spikes in gold prices, with spot prices surpassing U.S.$3,000 per ounce in 2025, investor are purchasing gold as a haven asset.

Key Trends in Global Silver Demand

- Jewellery Coin and Bar Demand Grew backed by Investments as a Safe-Haven Asset: Silver coin and bar demand rebounded and grew by 14% in 2025, reaching 218 million ounces. This resurgence is driven by safe-haven buying amid geopolitical turmoil, macroeconomic uncertainty and silver's new designation as a critical mineral in the United States.
- Industrial Demand Restructuring: The industrial sector is experiencing a transition where rapid growth in new technologies is clashing with heavy cost-cutting in established ones. The use of silver is booming in AI-related data centers, high-performance computing, and electric vehicle infrastructure.
- Investment Demand via Silver ETPs Rebounded: Silver Exchange-Traded Products (“ETPs”) saw a notable rise in 2025. Total global holdings increased by 312% in 2025. Despite a 42% increase in silver prices, ETP demand remained resilient.

Gold and Silver Demand in India

Gold Demand in India

India's gold demand rose by 5% to 803 tonnes in 2024 as compared to 761 tonnes in 2023. Key factors driving this demand included reduction in import duties (from July 2024) which led to increased buying in late Q3 2024. The gold price dipped in November following the U.S. election, leading to increased inflows in digital gold/ETFs as well as accumulation of 8 tonne gold by RBI in November itself. Additionally, the RBI added 73 tonnes to its reserve in 2024 which was four times more as compared to the previous year, adding to the Indian gold demand.

India's gold demand reduced to 711 tonnes in 2025 from 803 tonnes in 2024, primarily due to a sharp increase in gold prices. The increase in prices reduced affordability and discretionary spending on jewellery, resulting in lower purchase volumes despite continued underlying consumer interest in gold.

Silver Demand in India

Silver demand in India in 2025 was characterized by a divergence between price-sensitive fabrication and high investment activity. Domestic silver prices surged in 2025 with a peak at ₹ 254,000/kg in December, dampening the demand for jewellery, silverware, and industrial use, and this surge simultaneously triggered a rise in physical investment with its share increasing from 27% in 2024 to 37% in 2025..

The demand for both gold and silver is seen on a rising trend in India with their prices also following an increasing trend. The gold and silver prices in India are influenced by several interrelated international and domestic factors. The international drivers include global gold and silver prices such as gold prices set by the LBMA, international supply and demand trends, international logistics and freight rates, the U.S. Dollar volatility index, futures and options, volatility in alternative digital assets and global gold ETF demand.

Whereas, the domestic factors that affect gold and silver prices include disparity between domestic and international gold and silver prices, domestic supply and demand fluctuations, the Indian Rupee to U.S. Dollar exchange rate, premiums charged by banks, applicable central and local taxes.

Global Gold Refining Market

The gold refining sector plays a key role in converting dore and recycled gold into high-purity bullion. In 2025, recycled gold supply reached 1,404 tonnes, up 3% year-on-year. Switzerland remains the global centre of gold refining, handling around 70% of newly mined gold through its four LBMA-accredited refineries-Valcambi, PAMP, Argor-Heraeus, and Metalor. Other major hubs include Rand Refinery (South Africa), Tanaka (Japan), and Perth Mint (Australia).

Rising investment and industrial demand from central bank buying to electronics and green technology has driven global refiners to increase capacity. From 2014 to early 2025, the number of LBMA-accredited refiners rose from 50 to 66, with additions across Asia, Africa, and the Middle East. Investments in advanced refining and testing technologies have improved efficiency and compliance with environmental standards.

Trade & Duty Incentives for Refiners

Free-zone and FTA-backed duty waivers play a pivotal role in gold refining. In the UAE's DMCC, zero customs duty on both doré imports and finished-bar exports incentivizes global miners to channel doré into Dubai for value-addition. Similarly, Singapore's Jurong Free-Trade Zone shields refining operations from GST and import duties under multiple FTAs, drawing regional flows into its LBMA-accredited Metalor facility.

Indian Gold Refining Market

India's gold refining sector has expanded over the past decade, evolving from a handful of small operations into a network of 57 BIS-accredited refineries as of March 2026 (up from 33 in 2022) and 1 LBMA-accredited refinery. These refineries work in collaboration with specialized logistics partners like Brink's G4S, Sequel, etc. for secure bullion transport and storage.

India's gold refining sector primarily processes two types of raw material: imported doré (semi-refined gold) and locally sourced scrap (recycled jewellery and other gold products and other sources of supply). In 2025, the refining market was valued at 333 tonnes including 226 tonnes from doré imports and the remaining through scrap gold supply.

Among the BIS-accredited refineries, MMTC-PAMP has the highest refining capacity at 300 tonnes per annum, followed by Augmont Enterprises with second highest capacity at 284 tonnes, making them two of the most prominent organised players in India's gold refining landscape.

Impact of duty differential on doré imports

Historically, despite fluctuations in overall gold import duties, the differential between bullion and doré imports has consistently remained close to 0.65%, ensuring a stable incentive for doré imports over refined bullion.

This duty differential has encouraged higher imports of doré, stimulating domestic refining capacity. Doré's share in total bullion imports rose from 22% to 34%, with volumes reaching 249 tonnes, post COVID duty restructuring and reduction of import duty on gold doré to 10.1% in 2022. In 2024, an additional cut reduced doré import duty further to 5.4%, resulting in a 17% year-on-year increase in doré imports from 221 tonnes in 2023 to 258 tonnes in 2024. In 2025, due to price surge, the volume of doré imports decreased, however, the share of doré imports to total bullion imports increased, reflecting sustained doré incentive. However, due to the revision of import duties in May 2026, may result in volume moderation in the near term.

Organised vs. Unorganised Gold Refining in India

India's gold refining sector is split between a highly organised segment which accounts for approximately 80% to 85% of formal refining capacity and a sizeable unorganised segment responsible for the remaining 15% to 20%.

Organised refiners in India operate under regulatory frameworks including the Indian Standards ("IS") defined by the Bureau of Indian Standards ("BIS") and testing certifications from NABL-accredited laboratories. While all organised refineries must comply with BIS standards to ensure purity and quality, only a select few meet the stricter India Good Delivery Standards ("IGDS"), a benchmark required for delivery of refined bullion on domestic commodity exchanges such as BSE, and MCX. Augmont's refining operations are certified under the India Good Delivery standards, and it is one of the few refiners in India authorised to deliver refined bullion on commodity exchanges operated by the BSE and MCX. Further, Augmont sells bars that comply with standards set by BIS, the London Bullion Market Association ("LBMA") or India Good Delivery standards through its SPOT Platform thus providing assurance in purity and weight.

Organised refineries operate under rigorous compliance, incorporating modern induction and plasma furnaces, NABL-accredited assay labs, stringent environmental and safety protocols. Organised refineries can import gold doré against a valid license bearing the 'Actual User' condition or through nominated agencies authorised by the RBI and DGFT. Their raw material supply is also supported by organised scrap collection centres and, by handling recycled gold through structured buy-back programs and digital payment channels.

Unorganised Refiners, by contrast, comprise hundreds of small melting shops, often jeweller run units, in bullion bazaars such as Mumbai's Zaveri Bazaar, Hyderabad's Pathargatti, and Kolkata's Burrabazar- that process approximately 200 tonnes of gold annually. These operators typically melt 2 kg to 3 kg of scrap per day, accept cash transactions, and turn around refined bars within hours to meet local jewellers' urgent needs.

The organised trade faces challenges such as:

- Cash-Driven Transactions: Accredited refiners cannot purchase scrap with cash, as they must demonstrate clear chains of custody. Small jewellers, particularly in rural areas, therefore, favour unorganised units that offer immediate payment and rapid turnaround.

- Logistical Hurdles: Though organised refiners have established scrap collection centres in major cities, these remain scarce and distant for many small jewellers. The time and cost of aggregating sufficient scrap volumes for formal processing push them toward local melting shops.

As IGDS compliance expands and exchange audits intensifies, the organised sector stands to gain further market share by building public trust and extending collection networks. Strengthening scrap aggregation, incentivizing digital payments, and improving rural outreach will shift volumes from unorganised to organised refiners.

Gold Distribution to Jewellers: Methods and Evolving Landscape

India's gold distribution network operates through a layered value chain, beginning with imports managed by nominated agencies, banks, authorized trading houses, and refineries. These entities import either bullion that is sold directly or dore gold (semi-pure form) which is first refined by organized refineries like MMTC-PAMP, Augmont, Rajesh Exports, and Kundan. The pure gold including both refined gold and pure bullions flows through a multi-tiered network of bullion dealers, and jewellers. Large bullion dealers in metro and Tier 1 cities source gold from banks, importers, or refineries and supply 100g bars to medium dealers. Medium dealers convert these into smaller denominations (50g, 10g) and supply them to manufacturers and local retailers. Small dealers source from higher tiers and cater to small jewellers and artisans in rural and unorganised markets.

Large jewellery brands like Tanishq, Malabar, and Kalyan procure gold directly from authorised sources, while regional and smaller jewellers rely on medium and small dealers.

Organised retailers with import licences via IIBX/IFSCA receive gold in SEZ vaults under CEPA-TRQ. After processing at in-house or partner refineries, the jewellery is distributed through stores and online platforms. Unorganised retailers buy 10–100g bars from local dealers, paying spot price plus GST/PAN, and manufacture jewellery either in-house or via job-workers.

Recycled gold from consumers, NBFC auctions, and retailers re-enters the system through both organised and unorganised refiners, supporting domestic supply.

The gold distribution landscape is undergoing significant transformation, driven by digital innovation and regulatory reforms:

- Digital Platforms: Jewellers can now access live global prices and place orders online through digital SPOT platforms enabling real-time, competitive pricing and instantaneous settlement. The availability of Futures and Options contracts on exchanges provides an effective tool for hedging against gold price volatility, allowing jewellers and bullion traders to lock in prices and reduce exposure to market fluctuations. Some players have developed proprietary platforms that function like formal exchanges. For instance, Augmont's SPOT platform operates like a marketplace- similar in spirit to how MCX or BSE facilitate trading, but purpose-built for India's bullion ecosystem. It enables real-time price discovery, trade execution, and settlement, backed by a fully hedged engine that eliminates price risk. Revenue is generated through bid-ask spreads, processing margins, and platform fees, rather than market speculation.

- Bullion Exchanges: Centralised, auction-based trading on exchanges such as IIBX, NCDEX, and MCX is becoming increasingly popular, offering transparency and traceability.
- Recycled Gold: Jewellers are sourcing more gold from consumer exchanges and recycling old jewellery, reducing reliance on imports and supporting sustainability.
- Gold Metal Loan Scheme ("GML"): The Gold Metal Loan scheme has been transformed into a financing and distribution channel for jewellers. Initially designed for large manufacturers, GMLs are now extended to a broader base of medium and regional jewellers, supported by improved risk frameworks and NBFC participation. GMLs are often clubbed with MCX hedging solutions, enabling jewellers to lock in procurement costs in ₹ while holding the loan in gold ounces. Banks now directly disburse metal through refiner-linked networks, enabling jewellers to receive ready-to-use metal without physically handling imported bullion.

Transition of Jewellery Retailing Towards Organized Retail

The shift from unorganised to organised jewellery retailing in India is being driven by rising consumer demand for transparency, quality, and branded experiences. Organised players have responded with wider reach, modern retail formats, efficient supply chains, and strong brand building catering to both urban and rural markets with trust, variety, and better value. In Fiscal 2025, Organized retail, comprising both national and regional players, comprised about 39% of the market. The unorganised market, comprising of over 500,000 local goldsmiths and jewellers, constituted the remaining 61%.

Several targeted initiatives have accelerated the shift from unorganised to organised jewellery retail in India:

- 100% FDI under Automatic Route: By allowing full foreign direct investment in jewellery retail, India has attracted global capital, cutting-edge design expertise, and best-in-class retail practices. This influx of international brands and investment has raised the bar for quality and store experience, making it harder for small, informal operators to compete on consumer trust and innovation.
- Jeweller Parks and Surat Diamond Bourse: The establishment of dedicated jewellery parks and the world-class Surat Diamond Bourse has modernized manufacturing and trading infrastructure. By co-locating processing units, assay labs, and export facilities, these hubs streamline supply chains.
- Gold TRQ under India-UAE CEPA: The transparent Tariff Rate Quota ("TRQ") for bullion imports from the UAE has reduced reliance on informal channels and ensured that supply enters through regulated banking and trading platforms. This has enhanced purity assurance and price transparency, further marginalizing unorganised dealers.
- Compulsory Hallmarking of Gold Jewellery: Historically, under-caratage has been a persistent issue in India's jewellery market, often giving unorganised retailers an edge due to the lack of mandatory purity disclosure. The rollout of compulsory hallmarking in June 2021, followed by the introduction of a unique Hallmark Unique Identification ("HUID") for each jewellery item in April 2023, has brought greater transparency and standardisation. While these measures have increased compliance requirements and operational costs for smaller, unorganised players, they are expected to enhance consumer trust and accelerate the shift towards the organised jewellery segment.

India's Gold Supply is Dominated by Imports

Gold continues to be a key part of India's trade profile, accounting for over 5% of total imports in 2024. With domestic mining contributing less than 1% of annual demand, India depends almost entirely on imports.

Imports dropped from 836.6 tonnes in 2019 to 430.1 tonnes in 2020 due to higher import duties, a weaker rupee, and Covid-related disruptions. In 2021, imports rebounded to 1,068.0 tonnes, supported by pent-up festival and wedding demand and gold's appeal as a hedge against inflation. Volumes declined to 774.1 tonnes in 2022 and 760.9 tonnes in 2023, as moderate duty hikes and a rise in recycling (now 114.3 tonnes in 2024) reduced import needs. In 2024, imports rose again to 812.7 tonnes, reflecting economic recovery and seasonal demand, but with surge in prices, imports reduced in terms of volume in 2025.

Despite being the world's second-largest gold consumer, India exports limited volumes. In 2025, exports of coins and bars stood at 14.0 tonnes, up from 4.4 tonnes in 2023. This wide gap of imports in the 600 to 800 tonnes range versus exports of around 12 to 14 tonnes highlights India's position as a net importer. Exports remain concentrated in specialised jewellery and re-exports of refined gold from SEZ-based refineries.

Fluctuation in Gold Prices

Domestic gold prices have demonstrated an upward trend, rising sharply from ₹37,174 per 10 grams in Fiscal 2020 to ₹76,068 per 10 grams in Fiscal 2025, while international gold prices followed a similar trajectory, increasing from U.S.$1,461 per ounce in Fiscal 2020 to U.S.$2,584 per ounce in Fiscal 2025. The steep rise in Fiscal 2025 is attributed to heightened geopolitical uncertainties like the US-China trade war and persistent global economic instability. Additionally, the Indian rupee's depreciation and sustained central bank gold purchases have further boosted the upward trend.

Indian Lab Grown Diamond (“LGD”) Market

The global diamond industry is undergoing transformation with lab grown diamond gaining market share and India is at the forefront leading this transformation. India was the largest LGD exporter in the world in 2023 as per the Gems and Jewellery Export Promotion Council (“GJPEC”). It produced approximately 1.5 million carats of lab grown diamonds in 2020 accounting for approximately 25% to 30% of the global market and is expected to contribute around 31% to 35% of the global lab grown diamond market by 2030 producing 6 million to 7 million carats of LGD. The Indian lab grown diamond jewellery retail market is smaller valued at ₹29.5 billion in Fiscal 2025, however, the market is projected to grow to ₹63.0 billion by Fiscal 2030, at a CAGR of 16.4%.

India's lab-grown diamond market includes a blend of manufacturers and retail-led brands. ALTR India, part of the R.A. Riam Group, focuses on lab-grown couture jewellery. Greenlab Diamonds, established in 2020, uses solar and hybrid windmill energy for production. Bhandari in Surat specialises in CVD diamonds under its own brand, while Dholakia Technologies operates Craft Lab Grown Diamonds with end-to-end control from growth to finished jewellery. Sonani Jewels, with decades of industry experience, markets its LGD line under Sonani Lab Grown Diamonds. Large jewellery retailers are also expanding into the segment. Kalamandir Jewellers and Senco Gold and Diamonds have added LGD products, while Augmont's Akoirah and Trent's Pome brands represent new retail-led LGD initiatives. This mix of players is shaping India's growing LGD ecosystem.

Government Initiatives and Industry Growth

The Indian government has taken several steps to support the growth of the lab-grown diamond ("LGD") industry. These measures aim to improve investment, reduce costs, and strengthen industry infrastructure.

Key Initiatives:

- 100% FDI via Automatic Route: The government allows full foreign direct investment in the LGD sector, encouraging both domestic and global investors.
- Duty Removal on Diamond Seeds: In February 2023, the 5% customs duty on diamond seeds was removed, lowering input costs for LGD manufacturers.
- Research Funding: ₹2,420 million was allocated to IIT Madras in Union Budget 2023 to advance LGD manufacturing technology.
- Infrastructure Development: The Surat Diamond Bourse, launched in 2023, is now the world's largest jewellery and diamond business hub, aiming to centralise trade and streamline operations.
- State-Level Support: The Gujarat government waived electricity duty for LGD production to lower operating costs.
- Improved Tracking: Introduction of separate import codes for lab-grown and natural diamonds has enhanced traceability and regulatory oversight.

These initiatives reflect a structured push to build India's position as a leading global hub for lab-grown diamonds.

Risks and Challenges

Industry-Wide Risks

- Bullion Price and Import Duty Volatility: Gold and silver prices are highly sensitive to macroeconomic events, central bank actions, and geopolitical tensions. In Fiscal 2025, the LBMA gold price peaked at U.S.$2,386 per troy ounce, while the ₹ depreciated approximately 2.4% against the U.S.$, amplifying domestic price fluctuations. Such volatility can impact inventory valuation, consumer sentiment, and trading margins. Additionally, changes in import duties can further increase domestic bullion prices and create short-term market disruptions, affecting demand patterns, procurement decisions, and inventory planning across the value chain. Frequent duty revisions can also amplify price volatility by altering the landed cost of precious metals and influencing import flows.
- Underutilisation of Refining Capacity: India has over 57 BIS-accredited gold refineries with a combined capacity exceeding 1,800 tonnes, yet utilisation hovers at less than 30%. High import duties on doré and tariff anomalies under CEPA with UAE have diverted demand toward bullion imports, directly impacting domestic viability.
- Dominance of Unorganised Gold Loan Segment: Despite increasing penetration of banks and NBFCs, approximately 55% to 60% of gold loans in India are still issued by informal lenders due to ease of access, cash-based disbursement, and flexible terms. This inhibits transparency, reduces recycling efficiency, and limits the reach of formal finance channels for the bullion ecosystem.
- Lab-Grown Diamond Export Headwinds: While the LGD market in India is growing domestically, exports declined by 9.64% in value in Fiscal 2025, driven by reduced demand from key markets like the U.S. and China. Additionally, G7 sanctions on Russian-origin natural diamonds and global inventory corrections have disrupted international supply chains.
- Structural Shift in Jewellery Retail: As India's jewellery market continues to formalise, organised players now account for approximately 35% to 40% of total retail. However, the unorganised sector remains sizeable, posing challenges for traceability, hallmarking compliance, and quality control. This fragmentation complicates standardisation in bullion distribution and customer service.
- High Entry and Operation Barriers: There are high entry barriers in place for existing and new companies operating within the industry. In terms of operations, companies require high working capital on account of funds to purchase gold and silver. Companies are required to hold multiple licenses and permits to conduct their operations and comply with stringent rules and regulations. Industry is technology intensive and requires continuous monitoring of systems and processes in line with the increase in business volume as well as changing regulations. Companies are required to adhere to stringent quality management processes to ensure that the gold and silver that they sell meet specific quality requirements. Possessing effective price discovery capabilities for gold and silver products acts as an additional entry barrier. Further, companies have to keep expanding their delivery network to efficiently service their end customers. Apart from regulatory and financial barriers, the consumer trust on domestic jewellers and traders built with years of experience also make it an additional challenge for new entrants.

Company-Specific Risks

- Exposure to Bullion Price Movements: Augmont's core trading and SPOT platform revenues are directly influenced by gold and silver prices. Sharp intraday price swings could result in inventory mark-to-market losses and affect buyer sentiment, especially with rising import costs and volatility post-July 2024's duty realignment.
- High Working Capital Requirements: Operating in a high-value, low-margin industry, Augmont faces significant working capital pressure. As of Fiscal 2025, gold prices averaged ₹76,068 per 10 grams, increasing capital lock-in across the refining, retail, and trading operations, particularly during procurement and settlement cycles.
- Low Refining Capacity Utilisation: Despite refining facilities in Mumbai and Uttarakhand, underutilisation remains a challenge. Competition from free-zone refineries in UAE, limited scrap supply due to an unorganised collection network, and past duty differentials on bullion vs. doré have affected throughput.

OVERVIEW OF BULLION TRADING INDUSTRY IN INDIA

Evolution of bullion trading

Bullion trading involves the purchase and sale of precious metals, primarily gold and silver, in either physical form or derivative form. In India, bullion trading is largely pursued as a means of investment in gold or silver. This trend is steadily gaining popularity among the younger generation, who increasingly view gold as an investment asset rather than something to be worn.

Bullion trading in India has evolved significantly from unorganized physical trade through unofficial channels to a more regulated and transparent electronic system with India having recently launched its own bullion exchange platform. The market has moved from restricted and controlled imports to more accessible options, including digital gold allowing investments as low as ₹1, as well as a growing interest in ETFs, coins, and bars. The bullion market continues to evolve in response to new investment schemes and fluctuating market prices.

Evolution of Bullion Trading in India

Period	Key Developments
Pre-1990s	Unorganised trade; gold imports largely through unofficial channels
1991	Economic liberalisation allowed greater gold imports and flexible pricing. Gold control act was revoked allowing free imports

Bullion trading market in India

The bullion trading market which includes bars, coins, and collectibles made from precious metals such as gold, silver, platinum, and others, was valued at approximately ₹ 949 billion in Fiscal 2020 and reached ₹ 2,160 billion by Fiscal 2025, the bars and coins market witnessed a strong structural growth from Fiscal 2025 to Fiscal 2026 growing year on year at 98.4% to reach a value of ₹ 4,285 billion and is expected to maintain the momentum and grow at a CAGR of 19.6% from Fiscal 2026 to Fiscal 2030 to reach a value of ₹ 8,768 billion by Fiscal 2030. This growth is largely driven by rising gold and silver prices, elevated macroeconomic uncertainty, and increased buying by central banks. As a result, both individuals and institutions are increasingly turning to precious metals as a hedge against inflation and a means of building long-term assets. However, the increase in import duties on gold and silver in May 2026 is expected to exert short-term pressure on demand and import volumes and may increase prices in Fiscal 2027. Consumer buying behaviour is also shifting, as gold bars and coins investment demand growth was much faster than the jewellery demand growth rate in Fiscal 2025 to 2026, reflecting a shift towards wealth preservation and investment-led consumption.

Gold dominates the bullion trading market, holding a substantial share of 86.9% in Fiscal 2026. Several factors contribute to its leading position gold is widely regarded as a reliable instrument of value and a hedge against economic uncertainty, it carries deep historical and cultural significance, and its high value-to-weight ratio which makes it a practical investment. Moreover, the fact that governments and financial institutions include gold in their reserves further strengthens investor confidence in its long-term value. These factors collectively make gold the preferred metal in bullion trading, surpassing other precious metals.

In India's gold and silver bullion trading market, bars hold the largest share at 64.5%, followed by coins at 31.5%. Coins are a popular choice, especially for gifting during festivals and special occasions, as they are available in smaller denominations, starting from as low as 0.1 grams being offered by players like Augmont. This makes them more affordable and accessible to a broader segment of buyers. In contrast, bars are typically favoured by investors seeking to purchase in larger quantities for long-term investment and are usually available in 24 carat (999.9 purity). Collectibles include specially minted coins, limited-edition pieces, and uniquely designed/customized items that may hold added value beyond their metal content.

The gold bars and coins market is segmented based on weight, with specific denominations exhibiting higher demand driven by affordability and intended use. Lighter-weight coins, such as 1 gram, 2 grams, and 5 grams, are frequently purchased during festive seasons and ceremonial occasions, primarily for gifting purposes. Mid-range denominations, notably the 10-gram and 20-gram segments, account for the highest volume of sales, as they offer an optimal balance between intrinsic value and investment attractiveness. In contrast, higher-weight denominations such as 50 grams and 100 grams witness relatively lower consumer demand due to their elevated cost, which limits accessibility for the average buyer. To broaden participation in gold investment, organized players such as Augmont have introduced ultra-lightweight options, including 0.5 gram and 0.1 gram coins. These innovations have facilitated incremental investment behaviour, enabling a wider consumer base to invest in gold in smaller, more affordable units over time.

In the silver bars and coins segment, demand trends reverses, favouring larger denominations. Above 20 gram and below 50-gram segment contribute the highest sales, followed by the 10 gram to 20 gram segments. Notably, silver continues to see consistent demand for large-format options, including 1-kilogram coins and bars, particularly among retail investors seeking bulk acquisitions. Given silver's lower price to weight relative to gold, higher-weight investments remain more accessible, supporting both long-term value storage and periodic accumulation.

Bullion trading market in India- Organized v/s Unorganized

The Indian bullion market is still driven by unorganized market accounting for 58.4% of the total market, though the share of organized retail is gradually rising and is expected to reach 44-46% by Fiscal 2030 from 41.6% in Fiscal 2026. The increase in the organized market share is supported by shifting consumer demands towards higher purity bars and coins for silver and trusted hallmarked gold coins and bars available through organized players. Additionally, regulatory changes such as mandatory PAN/GST compliance, digital trading through IIBX, and import schemes like CEPA-TRQ are making the market more favorable for organized players. These changes support better price discovery, ensure product quality, and reduce informal transactions, driving the growth of organized players in the bullion trading market.

Bullion trading through MCX, Other Trading Platforms- Value Chain, Price Mechanism

Bullion trading in India takes place through both commodity exchanges and digital platforms. Exchanges like MCX and NCDEX offer trading in gold and silver futures and options, where transactions are standardized and regulated by SEBI. These platforms follow a contract-based trading model, and settlement can be in cash or through physical delivery via vaults. On the other hand, platforms like Augmont SPOT enable trading of gold and silver, where buyers can purchase digital or physical bullion directly from online trading platforms in real time at live market prices. The key difference is that MCX and NCDEX operate through futures contracts, while Augmont SPOT facilitates direct purchase at live market prices.

Market participants on commodity exchanges like MCX and NCDEX include hedgers, speculators, and arbitrageurs. Hedgers, such as jewellers and bullion dealers, use futures contracts to manage price risk. Speculators trade to benefit from price movements, while arbitrageurs exploit price differences across markets. On platforms like Augmont SPOT, participants mainly include GST registered jewellers, bullion dealers and corporates who buy gold or silver in physical or digital form for investment, consumption, or resale. These participants trade based on current spot prices rather than through derivative contracts.

The key difference in both platforms is that in case of MCX, anyone can be a seller or buyer and a transaction can take place between any two parties and there is a clearing corporation that ensures smooth execution of these transactions whereas in platforms like Augmont's SPOT, in each case of buy or sell, Augmont Enterprise is always the transacting party, they sell directly to registered parties on the platform as well as purchase from these registered parties. Gold sold on SPOT platform may come from banks, IIBX or IGD refineries including Augmont and others but is channelled through Augmont to the registered party. Augmont SPOT is also one of the largest integrated gold and silver platforms in India in terms of revenue for Fiscal 2024. Augmont SPOT is also one of the largest integrated gold and silver trading platforms in India in terms of revenue, for FISCAL 2025. Also, 5049 jewellers were buying through the platform as of fiscal 2026. Players like Augmont have created an integrated presence across the gold and silver value chain through use of technology and by expanding their delivery networks, thereby creating established ecosystems which are difficult to replicate by newer players.

Bullion price trading mechanism on exchange platforms:

The pricing mechanisms employed by bullion trading platforms are shaped by distinct market structures. On commodity exchanges such as MCX, prices are established through futures contracts, wherein participants agree upon a delivery price for a specified future date. These prices are primarily influenced by global futures benchmarks, foreign exchange rates, and domestic demand dynamics. In contrast, bullion trading platforms, such as Augmont, determine prices based on the prevailing market value of gold or silver for immediate delivery. Spot prices are derived from real-time international rates, with adjustments for local taxation, logistics, and premium margins. The divergence in pricing structures arises from the inherent differences in contract types and delivery timelines.

While the BSE and MCX operate as broad-based exchange platforms serving multiple sectors, Augmont SPOT is a vertically integrated platform for all life stages of gold. It combines the roles of exchange, clearing house, logistics provider, and API infrastructure within a single framework, thereby creating a comprehensive, dedicated ecosystem for India's gold value chain with 20 physical delivery centres across India. Augmont has, over the years, developed and implemented a technology-based price discovery mechanism for the gold and silver products that are sold on their Augmont SPOT platform. This mechanism has enabled real-time access to market-linked spot prices, supporting transparent and competitive pricing. Pan-India player Augmont operates a fully regulated and dedicated bullion trading platform. Other platforms like Suvirdhi Gold, DP Gold and others operate regionally or in two to three states within a region with some having an online presence only for price dissemination and not for trading.

Futures Trading Market in India

Futures trading in gold and silver involves the agreement to fix prices in the present for the delivery of the commodity at a predetermined future date, serving as a tool for managing price volatility. These contracts are predominantly traded on platforms such as the MCX and the NCDEX. Participation is open to individuals, traders, jewelers, and institutional investors; however, active engagement is most commonly observed among commodity traders and hedgers within the bullion market. The market operates under the regulatory oversight of the Securities and Exchange Board of India (SEBI), which ensures adherence to fair trading practices and compliance standards. A related financial instrument is the 'option' contract, which grants the holder the right, but not the obligation, to buy or sell the underlying metal at a predetermined price before the contract's expiration. This contrasts with futures contracts, which are binding agreements.

Futures are traded with different contract types based on weight as below:

Gold and Silver Futures Contract Types based on Weight

Gold Futures	Silver Futures
Gold- 1kg	Silver-30 Kg
Gold Mini- 100gms	Silver Mini- 5Kg
Gold Guinea- 8gms	Silver Micro- 1Kg
Gold Petal- 1gms
Gold Ten-10gms

Futures trading market in India is experiencing a significant growth driven by increased retail investor participation. This increased participation is supported by advancements and regulatory measures that have made complex instruments such as these more easily accessible. The annual traded volume for gold futures and options in Fiscal 2026 stood at 4,590 tonnes as compared to 12,103 tonnes in Fiscal 2025 signalling towards the increasing inclination of investors and growth within the market.

Gold Smelting

Gold smelting refers to the process of melting ore or scrap gold to remove impurities and extract pure gold. It is done by heating gold to a high temperature and sometimes with the addition of chemical agents like flux to remove impurities, and the gold is converted into bars, ingots or other forms.

Smelting Process for Gold

Impact of Smelting and return of jewellery on quantity of gold imports

India's gold imports are being influenced by changing consumption patterns and increased recycling. With domestic mining being negligible, the country heavily relies on imports to meet demand. The recent price surges have led to a shift in consumer behavior, as the World Gold Council estimated 40–45% of buyers are now exchanging old jewellery or gold for making new purchases. This rise in jewellery returns may increase the supply of recyclable gold, thus supporting smelting activity. In response, organized refineries are expanding by setting up exchange and smelting outlets, offering doorstep pickup, instant assaying, and seamless remaking to source old gold more efficiently. The share of organized refineries in recycling is expected to rise as mandatory hallmarking of gold bullion is expected to come into effect resulting in re-routing of recycled gold from jewelers to NABL refineries instead of unorganized refineries. As this trend continues, recycling may play a larger role in meeting demand, potentially reducing the need for imports over time.

In 2025, recycled gold supply in exchange of cash stood at 92.7 tonnes, which account for 12% of the total gold supply in India.

Key Drivers of the Gold-Exchange Trend

- Record-High Prices: With domestic gold prices continuously rising, with a approximately 58% rise in 2026 from 2025, buyers are opting to trade in existing jewellery, paying only charges and tax on the differential rather than full metal cost.
- Cost and Tax Benefits: Exchange schemes provide heavy discount on making charges, and GST applies only to the value increment, making swaps materially cheaper than commissioning new pieces.
- Instant Liquidity: Certified buy-back platforms guarantee same-day payment for exchanged gold, appealing to consumers who need quick access to funds without selling through informal channels.

Growth Drivers for Organized Players

- Occasions Driving Purchase: Festivals and life events remain the primary drivers of gold and silver sales, with regional variations in demand and product preferences. Organized players launch targeted campaigns to capture festive and wedding demand, tapping into deep-rooted cultural practices and emotional buying triggers. Akshaya Tritiya 2026 saw sales of gold jewellery and related items worth approximately ₹37,000 Cr across India. In addition, the silver trade was estimated at around ₹7,000 Cr.
- Widespread Presence and Product Standardization: Organized players have expanded their reach across cities and regions, offering standardized products and reliable customer service. Thus, building consumer confidence and driving repeat purchases. Tanishq, Augmont and MMTC-PAMP now operate in over 200 cities, with hallmark-certified gold coins and bars ensuring purity and authenticity.

- Omnichannel and Service Excellence: Organized bullion players offer integrated online marketplaces, reliable home delivery, assured buyback commitments, and flexible payment options-meeting the needs of both digital-first shoppers and traditional investors with ease. Malabar Gold and Augmont Gold have tied up with Zepto, while Joyalukkas has joined hands with Zomato-owned Blinkit to offer gold coins in 10 minutes. Demand for gold bar and coins was up 21 per cent in October quarter 2025 at 92 tonnes against 76 tonnes logged in the same period last year.
- Price Transparency and Regulatory Compliance building Consumer Trust: Organized bullion players leverage real-time spot-price displays and seamless online platforms to build consumer confidence and expand reach beyond traditional storefronts. Real-time pricing (SPOT platforms, apps) plus clear billing under GST (3% on investment bars/coins) and mandatory PAN ensures a transparent, regulated marketplace.
- Product Innovation: Organized bullion players are increasingly introducing innovative, consumer-centric products — such as fractional gold coins (0.1 g to 0.5 g), ESG-linked silver bars with traceable supply chains, and QR-coded bullion — available through both offline and integrated digital channels. Simultaneously, they’ve secured refined sourcing through nominated banks and BIS-certified SEZ refineries, leveraging duty benefits and scale.

Key Demand Drivers for Gold and Silver Purchase in India

- Indian Tradition and Cultural Practices: Deeply embedded in Indian customs, gold and silver are more than commodities- they’re symbols of prosperity, purity, and blessings across life events and religious occasions. This enduring cultural association continues to drive consistent demand, especially during weddings and festivals. Leading jewellery retailers for the Jan–Mar 2025 quarter indicate 25% to 35% year-on-year revenue growth, primarily driven by wedding-related purchases and traditional festive buying.
- Savings and Investment Vehicle: Gold and silver serve as strategic investment instruments used for hedging inflation, diversifying portfolios, and preserving wealth during economic uncertainty. With increasing digitization, rising disposable incomes, and accessible investment formats like coins, bars, ETFs, etc., both metals are witnessing growing demand among millennials and seasoned investors alike. Q4 March 2026, Gold ETF net AUM recorded a jump of more than 200% as compared to same time in 2025, reflecting growing investor preference for paper-gold.
- Increasing Share of Working-Age Population: A growing, young, and aspirational working population is driving demand for gold and silver, both as fashion accessories and investment options. The rise in dual-income households and financial literacy has expanded the consumer base. In 2025, India’s silver bar and coin investment demand marked a 33% YoY increase as more savers chose physical silver for its liquidity and affordability.
- Increasing Disposable Income: Rising incomes across rural and urban segments have expanded the aspirational class, enhancing purchasing power for precious metals. World Gold Council data shows that for every 1% rise in GNI per capita, gold demand increases by approximately 0.9%. In tandem, higher rural income and government schemes (like PM-KISAN) helped boost silver demand, leading to increased demand in silver bullion in 2025, as people diversified savings through silver bullion.

Life Cycle of Gold

Gold moves through a full cycle from mining and refining to fabrication, retail, and finally, recycling as scrap. In India, domestic mining contributes less than 2% of demand, so refineries rely heavily on imported doré and bullions. After refining, gold is used in jewellery, and investment products (bars and coins). Scrap collected from consumers through exchange or selling is then reprocessed by refiners, feeding back into the supply chain.

GOLD AND SILVER TRADING IN INDIA- OTHER CATEGORIES

Jewellery

The gold and silver jewellery market, includes gold and silver jewellery sold through both organised and unorganised retail channels, covering national chains, regional players, and local goldsmiths. In addition to ornamental jewellery, the market also encompasses gold and silver coins, bars and collectibles which are commonly purchased for investment or gifting purposes. Furthermore, it includes silverware such as utensils and decorative artefacts made from silver.

In Fiscal 2025, India's gold and silver jewellery retail market reached approximately ₹ 6,448 billion, growing at a CAGR of 13.1% from ₹ 3,487 billion in Fiscal 2020. Organized retail, comprising both national and regional players, comprised about 39% of the market. The unorganised market, comprising of over 5,00,000 local goldsmiths and jewellers, constituted the remaining 61%. The market is projected to reach approximately ₹16,481 billion by Fiscal 2030, growing at a CAGR of approximately 20.6% between the period of Fiscal 2025 to Fiscal 2030. This growth is supported by a range of structural tailwinds, including the continued shift from unorganised to organised retail, wider adoption of hallmarking and digital payments, and increasing brand penetration across Tier 1 and Tier 2 towns. Additionally, evolving consumer preferences such as growing demand for lightweight and design-led jewellery, a broader culture of gifting beyond weddings, and greater acceptance of 18K/14K gold are expanding the use occasions for jewellery purchases and contributing to faster formal sector growth.

India a predominantly gold jewellery market

India has traditionally been a market predominantly inclined towards gold jewellery, witnessing a gradual rise in the popularity of studded jewellery. Regional preferences play a pivotal role in the acceptance of studded jewellery, influenced by cultural, religious, and trust factors. These varied considerations contribute to the enduring prominence of gold jewellery in the Indian market.

- Gold jewellery as a prominent savings asset class: The purchase of jewellery transcends mere fashion and holds a prominent savings connotation, particularly in rural areas, where limited access, lower literacy rates, and a preference for traditional savings methods further solidify gold jewellery's role as an asset.
- Indian tradition: Gold holds a profound cultural significance in India, deeply ingrained in the hearts and minds of its people. The practice of acquiring gold in small quantities over time, through advance purchase schemes, is a testament to their foresight. This tradition extends beyond bridal jewellery, encompassing personal consumption by friends and families. Festivals like Akshaya Tritiya, Navratri/Durga Puja, Ugadi, Karva Chauth, Onam, and Diwali Dhanteras witness a surge in gold purchases, symbolizing wealth and prosperity. The cultural sentiment driving the preference for gold jewellery is expected to persist, overshadowing investments in gold bars and coins.
- Social Status Symbol: In India, gold and jewellery are often viewed as a reflection of social status and financial prosperity. The quantity and quality of jewellery owned are perceived as indicators of wealth, prestige, and family legacy. Weddings, family gatherings, and festive occasions further reinforce this sentiment, driving demand for statement pieces and heirloom jewellery.
- Price discovery of gold is more transparent than studded jewellery: Gold prices, with their easy availability and universal acceptance, facilitate transparent price discovery. This transparency enhances liquidity and assures a more predictable return, a characteristic not necessarily shared by studded jewellery, where price discovery is less transparent, and resale values are comparatively restricted.
- Limited exposure and understanding of diamonds: Jewellery being a big-ticket item for majority and limited understanding of diamonds including size, cut and illumination leads to lesser trust value and higher perceived risk.

The Indian jewellery market is a diverse market dominated by two key segments of players, national and regional. Each segment has created its niche, shaped by consumer preferences, cultural influences, and market dynamics.

Pan-India Players:

- National presence: These players operate across multiple states, with a strong foothold in urban centres and growing expansion into tier-1 and tier-2 cities.
- Brand strength: Prominent names invest heavily in branding, celebrity endorsements, and national advertising campaigns.
- Product portfolio: Offer a mix of contemporary and traditional jewellery, appealing to a broad demographic with standardised designs and region-specific collections.
- Advantages: National players have an advantage in terms of economies of scale and in turn competitive pricing and strong brand recall.
- Examples: Tanishq, Kalyan Jewellers, Malabar Jewellers

Regional Players:

- Localized expertise: Deeply rooted in specific geographies, these players specialize in traditional and heritage jewellery unique to their regions, such as meenakari in Rajasthan or temple jewellery in Tamil Nadu.
- Customer loyalty: Rely on long-standing relationships and community trust, often built over generations.
- Focus on tradition: They put emphasis on preserving local cultural authenticity and traditions. Their collections often reflect inspiration from regional art forms and focus on local craftsmanship, making them highly sought-after during weddings, festivals, and other culturally significant occasions in their regions.
- Advantages: Regional players have an advantage in terms of strong cultural connections with local audiences, flexibility in catering to local tastes and preferences, and expertise in traditional design.
- Examples: Kalamandir Jewellers and P.N. Gadgil Jewellers in West, Senco Gold and Diamonds in East, Kalyan Jewellers in South.

Growth Drivers and Trends in Retailing of Jewellery Market in India

- Emergence of the online format: The growth of online jewellery retail is driven by rising internet penetration, competitive pricing, and the convenience of comparing products across multiple brands, specifications, and discounts. The market has evolved significantly in the past five years, with metro cities like Delhi, Mumbai, Bengaluru, and Chennai leading the adoption of online jewellery shopping. The young demographic (aged 23–35) forms the core consumer base. Key players in this space include CaratLane, Candere by Kalyan, Bluestone, and other organized brands. Consumers are increasingly purchasing gold, silver, diamond, and platinum jewellery online, aided by easy payment and delivery options, making the experience seamless and hassle-free.
- Increasing preference for lightweight jewellery: With the increasing number of working women and their exposure to global designs, there is a growing preference among younger consumers for lightweight jewellery as a fashion statement rather than an investment. This shift in preference has led to a decline in the popularity of traditional bulky pieces and an increased demand for contemporary lightweight fashion jewellery that is suitable for everyday wear. Jewellery retailers are responding to this trend by crafting exquisite lightweight pieces that cater to the needs of the modern consumer.
- Value-conscious shift to lower karatage gold is enhancing retail margins: The sustained rise in gold prices has prompted a visible consumer shift from 22K to 18K and even 14K gold jewellery, particularly in urban and semi-urban markets. While customers remain focused on affordability, jewellers have adapted by offering contemporary, lightweight designs in lower karatage that meet both aesthetic and budget considerations. This trend benefits organised retailers, as lower gold content allows for higher making charges and margins without significantly increasing the final ticket size for the consumer.
- Availability of BIS hallmark/ accredited jewellery: The government has made it mandatory for jewellers to sell only hallmarked jewellery, starting with the 256 districts that have assaying marking centres. However, jewellers with an annual turnover of up to Rs 40 lakh are exempt from this requirement. The BIS hallmark certification plays a crucial role in ensuring the quality and caratage of the jewellery, providing buyers with the assurance they need when making their purchasing decisions. As of December 2024, over 1,77,800 stores in India have registered with BIS to sell hallmarked gold jewellery, further enhancing consumer trust in the industry.

- Evolving Jewellery Gifting Norms: With over 65% of its population under the age of 35 and more than 308 million women aged 20 to 49, India boasts a youthful demographic. While traditional gold-based wedding and daily wear jewellery continue to dominate, younger consumers are increasingly influenced by global design sensibilities and lifestyle preferences. They now seek studded jewellery, contemporary aesthetics, and are triggered by diverse purchase occasions throughout the year—not just weddings, but also anniversaries, birthdays, and festivals. This shift marks a departure from the earlier norm where gold was primarily gifted during major life events.
- Buyback schemes: Various market players provide buyback options for their jewellery, subject to specific terms and conditions regarding timing and valuation. This not only underscores the product's quality but also provides buyers with a level of flexibility.
- Monthly investment plans: Monthly investment plans have gained traction as a significant offering among jewellery retailers. In this scheme, customers make equated monthly instalments, which are converted into a purchase at the end of the payment cycle. By opting to pay in advance, customers receive additional value benefits from retailers over the course of the instalment payments, facilitating the acquisition of high-value products.

Digital Gold

Digital gold is a modern investment method that allows individuals to buy and sell gold online without the need to physically handle or store it. When a customer purchases digital gold, they are essentially buying fractional ownership of physical gold that is stored securely in professional vaults by service providers. Additionally, independent facilitators act as a protector to ensure customer's gold or silver is safely stored in secured vaults. They verify and coordinate the day-to-day reconciliation, deposit and withdrawal of gold and silver stored in the vaults. This product format has grown rapidly due to its unique combination of accessibility, transparency, and security. The growth of digital gold has also been supported by broader formalisation trends in India's economy, which have reduced cash-based transactions and encouraged digital modes of investment. Increased adoption of UPI, mobile wallets, and digital banking has made online gold purchasing more accessible, even in semi-urban and rural regions. Key features include:

- Fractional Ownership: Consumers can invest in small amounts of gold, starting from as low as ₹1.
- Secure Storage: Gold is stored in insured vaults by the service provider, eliminating the need for personal storage.
- Purity Assurance: Typically, the gold is 24-karat with 99.9% purity, ensuring high-quality investment.
- Easy Liquidity: Consumers can buy or sell their digital gold anytime through the platform's website or app.
- Conversion to Physical Gold: Some platforms allow the consumers to convert their digital gold into physical gold.
- Insurance Coverage: The digital gold held in professional vaults is insured by the service provider to cover risks such as theft, fire, or other unforeseen events, ensuring added investor protection.

Two-Tiered Market Structure

India's digital gold ecosystem operates through a two-tiered model:

- Fintech Platforms such as NAVI, Gullak, Jar, Kreditbee, Paytm, PhonePe, and Google Pay act primarily as front-end distributors. They enable purchase, tracking, and redemption of digital gold through apps but do not own the gold. Instead, they partner with bullion providers (e.g., Augmont, MMTC-PAMP, SafeGold) via APIs.
- Integrated Platforms such as Augmont, MMTC-PAMP, and SafeGold play a dual role in the digital gold ecosystem, functioning as full-stack operators. Of these, Augmont and MMTC PAMP are also gold refineries, hence having a backward integration. They not only own, store, and certify the underlying physical gold but also offer digital gold directly to consumers via their proprietary web and mobile platforms. Simultaneously, they serve as backend infrastructure partners to fintech platforms like Navi, Paytm and PhonePe through B2B API integrations. This allows for end-to-end control across the value chain from sourcing and storage to pricing, purity assurance, and redemption enabling superior quality oversight, operational efficiency, and enhanced revenue potential across both B2B and B2C channels.

Key Players:

- Augmont: Augmont is one of the largest digital gold platforms in India by user base and infrastructure. It is the only player operating across the full value chain from digital gold, coin retailing, and gold loans to refining, vaulting, and settlement, along with operations catering both B2B and B2C markets. Augmont's refining operations are certified under the India Good Delivery standards, and it is one of the few refiners in India authorised to deliver refined bullion on commodity exchanges operated by the BSE and MCX. Beyond its proprietary platform, Augmont enables distribution via API and white label integrations. Its integrated bullion infrastructure supports a wide range of use cases including investment products, jewellery redemption, buy back, and gold backed lending, catering to both retail and institutional users.
- On the consumer side, Augmont's Gold For All initiative brings flexible, mobile first access to gold for consumers through 106 physical GFA stores and over 218 digital gold partners such as Jar, Gullak, KreditBee, Navi, and CoinBazaar. Users can start their investment journey with a minimal amount of ₹10, set up gold SIPs, lease idle gold to earn interest, redeem holdings for jewellery, or access gold backed loans. all through digital platform. For digital gold redemption, Augmont collaborates with players like CaratLane and Kalyan Jewellers. Additionally, its investment jewellery products are available across 3,700 physical branches of Muthoot Fincorp, making jewellery purchases on EMI accessible across non-metro and semi urban areas.
- MMTC-PAMP: Operates in partnership with several financial institutions and public-sector banks for digital gold distribution. It also provides backend services such as vaulting, redemption, and refining, supporting both retail and institutional use cases.
- SafeGold: Offers API-based digital gold services integrated with UPI and wallet-based apps. It has also expanded in Thailand.

Growth Drivers and Trends:

- Increased Digital Penetration and Fintech Adoption: The proliferation of smartphones and widespread use of UPI and mobile wallets (PhonePe, Paytm, Google Pay) has made gold accessible to millions through a few taps. Over 900 million smartphone users and more than 300 million UPI users have created a digital infrastructure that supports small-ticket, high-frequency gold investing.
- Low Entry Barriers via Fractional Investment: Digital gold platforms allow investments as low as ₹1, eliminating the need for large upfront capital. This has democratized gold ownership, especially for first-time investors and rural populations, driving both new customer acquisition and volume growth.
- Diversification of Investment Preferences: Amid increased financial literacy and economic uncertainties, investors particularly Gen Z and millennials are seeking alternative assets beyond traditional savings and fixed deposits. Digital gold has emerged as a preferred tool for diversification due to its low-ticket entry, liquidity, and alignment with long-term value preservation. It offers an accessible gateway to invest in gold without the logistical burdens of physical storage.

- Jewellery Conversion and Leasing Products: A growing trend in the digital gold ecosystem is the conversion of digital gold into physical jewellery, often around festive or gifting occasions. Another key growth avenue within the digital gold ecosystem is the emergence of gold leasing products, such as Gullak's Gold+. These platforms allow consumers to lease their idle digital gold to jewellers, enabling them to earn returns on their holdings like interest on a fixed deposit. This innovation helps in mobilising idle household gold for productive use, particularly benefiting the jewellery industry, while offering secure storage, tax benefits, and redemption flexibility to consumers.
- Millennial Preference for Liquid and Trackable Assets: Millennials and urban professionals are showing a clear shift away from physical gold towards digitally managed assets with instant liquidity, storage-free ownership, and transparent tracking. Digital gold is increasingly being used for festival gifting, saving goals, and planned jewellery conversion.
- Retail Investor Behaviour and Financial Inclusion: Digital gold has become an accessible entry point for first-time savers and retail users. Many fintech apps now include gold SIPs, goal-based saving options, and embedded gold purchase journeys, increasing engagement and cross-sell opportunities.
- Rise of Embedded Digital Gold in Ecosystems: Digital gold is now embedded in over 150+ platforms, including payment apps, e-commerce (e.g., Amazon Pay), micro-finance apps, and wealth-tech platforms like Jar and Gullak. This ecosystem approach is driving scale through everyday visibility and convenience.
- Shift Towards Goal-Based Products: Platforms are bundling digital gold with SIPs, jewellery conversion plans (e.g., Tanishq Golden Harvest + DigiGold), and digital lockers. This increases stickiness and promotes long-term investment behaviour over impulsive purchases.
- Partnership-Led Distribution Model: Digital gold is no longer limited to standalone apps. Leading backend providers operate on a B2B2C model, supplying vault-backed gold via APIs to over 100 partners. The rise of white-label solutions is a major scaling lever for SafeGold, MMTC-PAMP, and Augmont.

Government Policy: A Mixed Influence

Supportive Policy Enablers

- Digital Infrastructure Push: Nationwide adoption of UPI, Aadhaar-based e-KYC, and Jan Dhan accounts has significantly improved access to formal financial products, including digital gold. In Fiscal 2024, India has over 510 million Jan Dhan accounts, with more than 80% linked to Aadhaar and mobile numbers, enabling seamless digital onboarding and identity verification. UPI transactions too have witnessed growth from 1.2 billion in 2020 to 18.3 billion in 2025, growing at a CAGR of approximately 72%, according to NPCI data. This surge reflects increasing digital payment adoption, particularly among first-time investors and rural consumers. Together, these enablers have laid the foundation for greater penetration of digital gold by supporting small-ticket transactions, promoting transparency, and reducing friction in gold investing.
- GST Implementation: The application of 3% GST on digital gold transactions has aligned the category with the tax framework applicable to physical gold, facilitating easier auditing and traceability.
- SEBI's EGR Framework (2021): The announcement of the Electronic Gold Receipt ("EGR") platform paves the way for eventual convergence between digital gold and demat-tradable gold assets, improving price discovery and regulatory alignment. This framework aims to bring digital gold investments under a more structured, SEBI-regulated ecosystem, similar to securities markets. Over time, this convergence could enable greater interoperability between digital gold platforms, trading exchanges, and vault managers, thus formalising the gold value chain and unlocking broader investor participation.

Impact of Increasing Digital Gold Consumption and Formalization of Integrated Players

The accelerated adoption of digital gold in India has materially benefited integrated bullion refiners such as Augmont Enterprises and MMTC-PAMP. These entities operate as full-stack infrastructure platforms, combining physical bullion management with digital distribution capabilities, and are directly positioned to capture value from rising transaction volumes, recurring use cases, and embedded fintech integrations.

Augmont's performance underscores this structural tailwind. The company's digital gold revenue in Fiscal 2024 was ₹2,883.82 million. Furthermore, the company saw the revenue rising to ₹21,590.03 million in Fiscal 2026. This growth trajectory has been driven by a combination of B2B2C distribution (with over 218 partner platforms), micro-investment enablement, and cross-sell of downstream products such as gold SIPs, leasing, and jewellery recycling. The platform's registered user base crossed 49.62 million, with over 5500 jewellery partners facilitating exchange of Digi-gold with jewellery. For instance, Augmont's digital gold is available in all Carat Lane and Kalyan Jewellers stores.

The expansion of digital gold as a preferred savings and transaction instrument has also supported scale efficiencies across vaulting, fulfilment, and user acquisition, improving margin realizations in a traditionally low-margin industry. In parallel, integrated players are monetizing adjacent verticals, including lending APIs, EMI-based gold purchases, and scrap gold digitization, enhancing unit-level profitability and customer lifecycle value.

As transaction volumes grow and formalization intensifies, the digital gold ecosystem is transitioning from unstructured savings behaviour to a traceable, regulated asset class. Transactions increasingly follow GST-compliant routes, with full KYC linkage and real-time audit trails. Integrated players have proactively instituted third-party audits, trustee-based vault structures, and 24-karat certified purity standards to stay aligned with evolving governance expectations.

Regulatory clarity when introduced, is expected to reinforce this shift. SEBI's previous directives barring digital gold distribution through brokers, and policy advocacy by bodies such as the World Gold Council, indicate movement towards a unified regulatory framework. Such formalization will increase entry barriers, encourage market consolidation, and position capital-compliant operators like Augmont, MMTC-PAMP and Safe Gold to serve as long-term institutional enablers in India's gold digitization journey.

Platform Led Transformation in India's Gold Sector

Over the past decade, platform led models have been transforming similarly fragmented sectors by rebuilding infrastructure at a fundamental level. Infra.Market, for instance, is digitising construction procurement by integrating supply, logistics, and fulfilment, and achieved a revenue of ₹1,47,430 million in Fiscal 2024. OfBusiness has applied a similar full-stack model to SME procurement, combining sourcing with embedded finance and working capital solutions, reaching ₹1,95,280 million in Fiscal 2024. Alongside digitising transactions: these platforms are restructuring sectoral infrastructure by creating unified operating systems that connect fragmented supply and demand, while embedding real-time pricing, logistics, and settlement into the transaction layer. This has resulted in faster growth, improved margins, and scalable, capital-efficient business models.

India's gold industry, despite its cultural significance and high consumer demand, remains a highly fragmented sector. The value chain includes small refiners, local jewellers, wholesalers, logistics operators, and lenders, often operating independently with limited digital or institutional integration. Pricing varies across players, purity standards differ, and procurement and settlement processes are largely manual. Trust continues to be relationship based rather than system enforced, which makes it difficult to scale operations, access low-cost capital, or ensure traceable and standardized products. Consumer access is largely traditional, with limited adoption of newer mechanisms such as SIPs, leasing, buyback, or on-demand liquidity.

Digital platforms are increasingly entering this space, providing mechanisms that connect physical infrastructure with digital distribution leading to a similar change in this industry. Platforms like Augmont, Safegold etc. are leading this change bringing together physical infrastructure and digital distribution at scale, while redefining supply chain of Gold, LGD and Alloys with respect to procurement, storage, distribution and monetization. Augmont has over 49.62 million customers and more than 218 digital gold partners. Its product portfolio includes SPOT, Refinery, Gold Loan Tech, EMI Gold, Sell Old Gold, Gold FD, Digi Gold and Silver, Gold SIP, Gold and Silver ETF, Gold and Silver Coins.

Gold ETFs

A Gold Exchange-Traded Fund ("ETF") is a regulated, open-ended investment vehicle that is traded on stock exchanges like a share. It is designed to offer investors exposure to physical gold in paper form, without the need to physically store or manage the asset. Each Gold ETF invests in standardized physical gold bullion (minimum 99.5% purity), with the aim of mirroring domestic gold prices. These funds are managed by Asset Management Companies (“AMCs”) and traded on platforms such as NSE and BSE, providing investors the benefit of intraday liquidity and price transparency.

Unlike wallet-based digital gold which is primarily designed for micro-savings Gold ETFs are financial instruments tailored to institutional and retail investors looking for portfolio diversification, inflation hedging, or commodity exposure through formal financial markets.

Between Fiscal 2020 and Fiscal 2026, the number of Gold ETF folios in India grew from 0.53 million to 12.40 million, reflecting a CAGR of 69.3%. Over the same period, Assets Under Management (“AUM”) expanded from ₹ 794 billion to ₹ 17,147 billion, growing at a CAGR of 84.8%, highlighting growing investor preference for regulated, exchange-traded gold exposure.

Gold ETFs in India are structured to offer investors a secure, regulated, and efficient mechanism for gaining exposure to physical gold. The key features that define their attractiveness are outlined below:

Features of Gold ETF

Feature	Description
Liquidity	Gold ETFs are traded on NSE and BSE throughout the day, allowing investors to enter and exit positions at real-time prices, similar to equity shares.
Transparency	AMCs disclose daily Net Asset Value (“NAV”) and the quantity of physical gold held, ensuring full visibility into fund performance and underlying assets.
Affordability	Investors can start with a small amount, typically the price of 1 unit, which can be as low as ₹50 to ₹1,000, making it accessible to retail investors.
Digital Format	Units are held in demat accounts, allowing for seamless electronic transactions and portfolio consolidation with other market instruments.
Purity Assurance	ETFs are backed by physical gold of at least 99.5% purity, as mandated by SEBI, ensuring standardization and price integrity.
Physical Redemption (for large investors)	Institutional investors can redeem ETFs in physical gold (typically in “Creation Unit” sizes of 1kg or more), providing flexibility in form of settlement.
Secure Custody and Insurance	All physical gold is stored in SEBI-approved vaults and held by registered custodians. The assets are fully insured and regularly audited.

Authorised participants providing Gold ETFs

Authorised Participants (“APs”) play a critical role in ensuring the smooth functioning and price efficiency of Gold ETFs in India. They are institutional entities, typically large financial institutions, brokers, or clearing members appointed by Asset Management Companies (“AMCs”) to maintain the liquidity and alignment of ETF prices with the underlying value of gold, known as the Net Asset Value (“NAV”).

‘Authorised participants providing Gold ETFs

Activity	Description
Market Making and Liquidity	APs (a bullion dealer/refiner who is a member of SEBI) provide continuous buy and sell quotes for Gold ETF units on stock exchanges. This helps reduce the difference between the bid and ask prices (called the bid-ask spread) and ensures that investors can transact easily, even during volatile market conditions.
Creation of ETF Units	When ETF demand increases, APs like Augmont deliver physical gold to the fund house (“AMC”) in predefined denominations (typically in 1kg gold bars of 99.5% purity or higher). In return, they receive ETF units. This helps bring the market price back in line with NAV by increasing supply.
Redemption of ETF Units	Conversely, when there is an excess supply of ETF units in the market, clearing APs buy back these units from the market and return them to the AMC in exchange for equivalent physical gold and this reduces excess supply in the market, nudging the price back toward the NAV.
Arbitrage	Institutional APs including large financial institutions (“FIs”) also engage in arbitrage by taking advantage of price differences between the market price of ETF units and the NAV. Through timely creation and redemption, they ensure the ETF closely tracks the real value of the underlying gold.

To ensure credibility and efficiency in these transactions, APs must be formally appointed by the AMC and meet regulatory guidelines prescribed by SEBI. Their participation is foundational to maintaining investor trust, efficient price discovery, and overall market stability within the Gold ETF ecosystem.

Role of Authorised Participants (APs) in India’s Gold ETF Ecosystem

Authorized Participants (“APs”) such as Augmont, Kotak Securities, Motilal Oswal Securities etc. play a crucial role in maintaining liquidity, convertibility, and operational efficiency in India’s Gold ETF market. These APs facilitate the creation and redemption of ETF units by delivering or receiving SEBI-compliant, high-purity gold (typically 99.5% LBMA standard) to and from Asset Management Companies (“AMCs”). They also offer vaulting, logistics, and purity verification infrastructure ensuring seamless, compliant, and scalable execution across the ETF lifecycle.

Electronic Gold Receipt (EGR)

The Electronic Gold Receipt (“EGR”) market represents an emerging segment of India's regulated gold trading ecosystem. EGRs are dematerialized instruments that signify ownership of physical gold stored in a SEBI-approved vault. These receipts function similarly to securities and are traded on recognized stock exchanges, bringing transparency and formalization to spot gold trading in the country.

Each EGR unit corresponds to a specific quantity of gold commonly one gram and is fully backed by physical bullion held in secure storage. The ecosystem facilitating EGR transactions is built on a three-tiered structure comprising vault managers, depositories, and exchanges.

- Vault Managers are entities registered with SEBI and are responsible for accepting physical gold deposits, verifying purity, and issuing corresponding EGRs. They also manage the withdrawal of physical gold when investors opt for redemption.
- Depositories, such as CDSL and NSDL, hold EGRs in digital form within demat accounts and reconcile these with the actual bullion stock held in vaults daily.
- Stock Exchanges, including BSE and NSE, operate the EGR trading platforms. These exchanges enable buyers and sellers to transact EGRs in real time, with settlement executed on a same-day (T+0) basis.
- Clearing Corporations play a crucial role in managing the transfer of funds and EGRs between parties, ensuring smooth and risk-free settlements.
- Market Participants include a wide range of stakeholders such as banks, refiners, bullion traders, jewellery manufacturers, importers, retailers, and individual investors.

The introduction of EGRs aims to bridge the gap between physical gold ownership and capital markets, offering a standardised, regulated avenue for gold trading that enhances price discovery, transparency, and market efficiency.

Key Growth Drivers

The future growth of the EGR market in India is expected to be influenced by a combination of strong consumer demand, favourable regulatory support, and increased investor interest in gold-backed financial instruments.

- Policy Incentives and Tax Reforms: The government has introduced several measures to support the growth of the EGR ecosystem, including exempting capital gains tax on conversion between physical gold and EGRs when transacted through regulated vaults. Additionally, the reduction in import duties has made gold more affordable, potentially boosting consumption and trade volumes that could flow through EGR platforms.
- Improved Price Transparency: EGR trading on stock exchanges enables standardised pricing across the country, eliminating regional disparities in gold rates. Uniform benchmarks backed by LBMA or Indian Good Delivery standards ensure quality consistency and foster investor confidence.
- Financialization of Gold Assets: With rising digital penetration and increasing awareness about investment diversification, Indian investors are gradually shifting from holding physical gold to investing in gold-backed financial instruments. EGRs offer a combination of security of physical gold with the ease of demat trading and liquidity of equity markets.

Gold Futures vs EGRs

Gold futures on MCX and Electronic Gold Receipts (“EGRs”) both offer regulated exposure to gold but serve different investor needs and operate under distinct structures. Gold futures are derivative contracts where buyers agree to purchase gold at a future date and price. Traded on margin (typically 5% to 10%), these contracts are highly leveraged and suited for short-term traders or institutional participants. While physical delivery is possible, most contracts are settled in cash before expiry. Futures pricing reflects market expectations and may diverge from spot prices, introducing basis risk.

EGRs, on the other hand, are dematerialized representations of physical gold each unit backed by actual bullion stored in SEBI-approved vaults. Investors must pay the full amount upfront (100% funding), and EGRs are traded on stock exchanges with T+0 settlement. While physical delivery is permitted, if a redemption request is submitted before 10 AM on a working day, the vault manager typically processes delivery and extinguishes the corresponding EGRs by 3 PM the same day, with records updated on the same T-day. However, the actual timing of physical delivery may vary across vault managers depending on operational capacity and logistical arrangements. This makes EGRs well-suited for retail investors seeking transparent, gold-backed holdings without the complexity or risk of derivatives.

In essence, while gold futures cater to speculative and hedging strategies with higher risk and leverage, EGRs offer a secure, long-term investment avenue aligned with actual gold ownership.

Gold Loans

A gold loan is a secured form of credit where individuals pledge gold jewellery as collateral to access short- to medium-term financing. It is one of the oldest and most trusted credit instruments in India, deeply embedded in both rural and urban economies. Unlike unsecured loans, gold loans offer low default risk to lenders and fast disbursement to borrowers, often with minimal documentation. At present Loan-to-Value (“LTV”) ratio is tiered up to 85% for loans below ₹ 2.5 lakh, 80% for ₹ 2.5 to 5 lakh, and 75% for loans above ₹ 5 lakh, ensuring that credit risk is contained while still unlocking liquidity from dormant household assets.

Gold loans are widely used for purposes ranging from agricultural input financing, working capital for micro-enterprises, to urgent personal expenses such as healthcare, education, or family functions. Their success lies in their high accessibility, short turnaround time, and the cultural comfort Indians have with gold as an asset class.

Gold Loan market in India was valued ₹8,740 billion in Fiscal 2025 (excluding agricultural gold loan by banks). This gold loan market is further projected to grow at approximately 19.7% to reach a market size of ₹ 21,500 billion in Fiscal 2030P.

Organised Vs Unorganised Gold Loan Market

India's gold loan market has historically been dominated by the unorganised sector, comprising pawnbrokers, local moneylenders, and informal financiers. However, the last decade has witnessed a steady shift towards formalisation, with the organised sector (Banks and NBFCs) now commanding around 37% to 40% share by value and growing faster than the unorganised segment.

While unorganised lenders continue to serve niche needs in underserved areas, the organised segment led by NBFCs and banks is gaining ground rapidly. Regulatory support, digital penetration, and strategic innovation are tilting the balance toward formalisation.

NBFCs have gained a stronghold in the organised gold loan market by specialising in gold-focused lending models as seen with players like Muthoot and Manappuram, which enables operational scale, faster disbursals, and tighter cost control. Their reach has further expanded through digital-first ecosystems, with fintech-led platforms such as Rupeek unlocking access in Tier 2 to Tier 4 cities. Strategic partnerships with e-commerce players, retailers, and tech platforms have allowed NBFCs to tap into younger, digitally savvy customer bases. Simultaneously, product innovation including EMI-based repayment, top-up facilities, and micro-ticket gold loans has made these offerings attractive to salaried individuals and MSMEs. Aggressive branding, trust-building initiatives, and borrower education campaigns have helped formal lenders convert users from the informal sector, accelerating the sector's formalisation.

Purchase of Old Gold

Gold recycling refers to the process of reintroducing previously used gold mainly in the form of old jewellery, coins, or other articles back into the supply chain. This is done by smelting and refining the old gold to produce new gold products such as bullion, coins, digital gold, or fresh jewellery. Recycling of gold remains a regular source of supply to the Indian gold market, with volumes primarily driven by retail consumers liquidating or exchanging old jewellery.

India’s recycled gold supply is primarily composed of two segments:

- Gold-for-Gold: In this case, consumers exchange their old gold jewellery for new ornaments, usually at retail jewellery outlets (e.g., Tanishq, Kalyan etc). Rather than receiving cash, they pay only the making charges or the price difference for a new design while surrendering the weight of their old gold. This type of recycling is largely driven by fashion, lifestyle changes, or festive purchases, and is a common practice in India’s jewellery retail ecosystem. Gold-for-gold transactions typically occur within the same retail outlet and are seen as a form of product upgrade rather than liquidation.
- Gold-for-Cash: This refers to instances where individuals sell their gold, typically old jewellery, in exchange for cash. Such transactions are often prompted by financial distress, medical emergencies, or short-term liquidity needs. They are also influenced by gold price rallies, where consumers may choose to sell their holdings to benefit from high market prices. Gold-for-cash transactions are common in both urban and rural areas and are facilitated by local jewellers. The gold sold is usually melted and refined before re-entering the supply chain.

The volume of gold recycled for cash in India has shown year-on-year fluctuations, influenced by macroeconomic conditions, gold price movements, and consumer liquidity needs. While Fiscal 2020 witnessed a notable spike in volumes, likely driven by economic uncertainty, other years have seen relatively stable contributions. Post COVID, the gold-for-cash segment has consistently accounted for 11% to 15% of the country's total gold supply.

The recycling market remains predominantly unorganised, with local and regional jewellers accounting for a major share of gold-for-cash and exchange-based transactions. These transactions are often conducted informally and may lack standardised documentation or pricing disclosures. In the unorganised segment, which includes small-scale jewellers and local scrap buyers, transactions are typically not accompanied by detailed invoices, purity certificates, or digital payment trails. Pricing is frequently negotiated rather than benchmarked to prevailing market rates, and purity assessments may not follow uniform testing protocols. As a result, there is limited visibility into actual volumes recycled through these channels, and consumers may receive lower payouts relative to organised players.

However, the last decade has witnessed the emergence of organised recycling channels, particularly driven by:

- Refiners such as Augmont, having 20 delivery centres for Gold, 106 centres for “Sell Old Gold” (including 106 Augmont branded Gold For All centres). By sourcing gold directly from consumers, Augmont reduces its dependency on imported bullion, thereby saving on import duties, logistics, and hedging costs. This backward integration into gold sourcing helps lower input costs while ensuring a consistent supply of LBMA-compliant gold for its refining and digital gold operations. Augmont initiated this model in Fiscal 2023, generating revenue of ₹1,360 million in its first year. By Fiscal 2026, revenue from this vertical had exceeded ₹28,934.61 million, reflecting nearly twenty-fold growth.
- Branded jewellers (e.g., Tanishq, Malabar) offering old gold exchange programs that offer customers the ability to trade in their used gold jewellery for new ornaments. These programs typically include in-store gold purity testing using karat meters, transparent pricing based on prevailing gold rates. Added by offering trust, certification, and convenience, these exchange schemes have become a popular avenue for recycling gold among urban and semi-urban consumers, particularly during festive and wedding seasons.

Organised channels offer certified purity checks, real-time gold pricing, invoicing, and in some cases, GST credit, contributing to a gradual formalization of this segment.

Bullion Depository Receipts (BDR)

A BDR is an electronic receipt issued by a licensed depository with underlying high-purity bullion (gold or silver) in an approved vault. The BDR market operates through India's International Bullion Exchange (IIBX) in “GIFT City” (Gujarat International Finance Tec-City). In August 2020, the Government of India formally notified “Bullion Spot Delivery Contracts and Bullion Depository Receipts (with underlying bullion)” as financial products under IFSCA's regulatory ambit.

The IIFSC Authority (“IFSCA”) has created an integrated bullion-trading ecosystem that mirrors stock exchanges, comprising:

- India International Bullion Exchange (“IIBX”): India's first and only bullion spot exchange (launched July 2021) where BDRs are listed and traded. IIBX is recognised as a stock exchange under IFSC law and is regulated by IFSCA. It offers spot contracts in various gold (999/995 purity) and silver (999 purity) forms, all quoted and settled in US$.

- India International Depository Ltd. (“IIDI”): The approved depository holds BDRs in dematerialised (“Demat”) form and issues/extinguishes receipts against deposited or withdrawn bullion. IIDI plays an analogous role to CDSL/NSDL, ensuring demat safety and KYC compliance (Know Your Bullion Depositor) for market participants.
- Vault Managers: IFSCA-registered vault operators store the physical bullion backing the BDRs. The three approved vault managers in GIFT IFSC are the same as for EGRs: Brinks India, Malca-Amit JK Logistics, and Sequel Logistics. They handle receipt-taking, inventory auditing and issuance of BDRs to the depository.
- Trading/Clearing Members: Entities (Indian banks, bullion brokers, and other approved members) who trade on IIBX, clearing members ensure 100% funds pay-in (for buyers) or physical BDR pay-in (for sellers) on T+0 basis so settlement risk is nil. Clearing and settlement is done via multilateral netting as per IFSCA rules.
- Qualified Participants: Under the regulatory framework, only “Qualified Jewellers” (large bullion traders/jewellery companies meeting net-worth and turnover criteria) and “Qualified Suppliers” can import and trade through IIBX.

The BDR market has shown rapid growth since inception. During Fiscal 2022 to Fiscal 2023 (IIBX’s first year of operation) a total of 0.4 tonnes of gold was traded. This traded quantity rose up to 7.9 tonnes in Fiscal 2023 to Fiscal 2024. Further the market saw significant growth in Fiscal 2024 to Fiscal 2025, when IIBX reported 93.1 tonnes of gold traded, surpassing the cumulative volume recorded in the entire preceding period.

Key growth drivers:

- Strong structural demand: India remains the largest consumer of gold globally, accounting for over one-fourth of worldwide demand. The country’s jewellery manufacturing ecosystem and broader bullion-related industries rely on a steady inflow of high-purity gold and silver. A regulated exchange-based platform like IIBX offers an efficient and transparent alternative to traditional fragmented procurement channels.
- Eased access through import reforms: The introduction of direct participation rights for “Qualified Jewellers” under specific net-worth and turnover thresholds, along with the allocation of substantial Tariff Rate Quotas (“TRQs”) under the India–UAE CEPA framework, has simplified the bullion import process. Prominent industry players, including Titan Company Limited and Malabar Gold and Diamonds, have joined the platform, contributing to growing institutional participation.

- Policy-driven cost advantages: Bullion procurement through the IIBX benefits from several tax incentives, including exemption from customs duty, trading taxes, and long-term capital gains tax. These fiscal advantages significantly enhance the cost competitiveness of gold and silver imported via this route, making it an attractive proposition for market participants.
- Emerging as a regional bullion hub: With its establishment, IIBX joins a limited group of international bullion exchanges, including those in Shanghai and Istanbul. Its strategic location within the GIFT City IFSC and supportive regulatory framework position it to serve as a key regional bullion trading centre. The platform is also drawing interest from global bullion suppliers and non-resident investors, indicating its potential for broader international engagement. IIBX is also enabling companies to benefit from the transparent pricing available for the purchase of gold and silver, allowing them to make purchases across different weight categories. The gold is procured from sources such as LBMA-accredited refiners or UAE Good Delivery-accredited refiners providing quality assurance, and safe storage of bullion in vaults.

Procurement

We procure refined gold and silver from Indian banks and international banks. We import doré bars (which have lower duties on import by 0.65% as compared to directly importing refined gold) which are then refined and sold as our finished products. We also procure scrap gold and silver from individuals, jewellers and at jewellery auctions for our refining operations. We have set up a subsidiary, Augmont IFSC Private Limited, in the Gujarat International Finance Tec-City (“GIFT City”) for the import of refined gold and silver through the India International Bullion Exchange (“IIBX”). Our ability to procure gold and silver from multiple sources and in bulk quantities enables us to benefit from favourable pricing terms and sell our products throughout the year. Our Strengths

Deep domain knowledge of the gold and silver industry with an integrated model and a well-established brand

We have accumulated deep domain knowledge of the gold and silver industry through several years of our operations, which helped us build an integrated business model. Our operations span across multiple segments of the gold and silver value chain including procurement and refining, bullion trading, digital gold offerings, jewellery manufacturing, international sales and facilitating gold-backed financial services.

Our ‘Augmont SPOT’ platform, which is a fully electronic, over-the-counter delivery-based bullion platform became operational in 2012 and we sell gold and silver bars to businesses such as jewellers, bullion dealers and manufacturers. We developed and implemented a technology-based price discovery mechanism for the gold and silver products that are sold on this platform enabling real-time access to market-linked spot prices and provide transparent and competitive pricing. Our ‘Augmont SPOT’ platform integrates live market data with our algorithms to provide real-time bullion prices, which typically update every second, depending on market liquidity and data provided by users. We leveraged our experience of selling bullion to businesses and commenced serving retail consumers through our ‘Augmont Gold For All’ platform in Fiscal 2021. The experience that we gained over the years through these platforms helped us further expand our operations and enabled us to facilitate the trading of lab grown diamonds on our ‘Augmont SPOT’ platform in Fiscal 2026 to capitalize on the growing demand for such products.

We believe that having a strong recognizable brand is a key attribute in our business, which increases consumer confidence and influences purchase decisions. We sell bars that comply with standards set by BIS, the London Bullion Market Association (“LBMA”) or India Good Delivery standards, thus providing assurance in purity and weight. (Source: Technopak Report) We believe that the strength of the ‘Augmont’ brand and its association with trust, quality and reliability helps in many aspects of our business, particularly since our business involves selling gold and silver bullion and related products. Purchasers of such products typically look to procure their requirements from sellers they trust and we believe that our brand helps alleviate concerns about product authenticity and quality, thus encouraging purchases.

We have received several awards as an acknowledgement of our performance and value of our brand including the ‘Best Bullion Dealer – Gold’ awarded by the India Bullion and Jewellers Association (“IBJA”) at the 11th India Bullion & Jewellery Awards in 2026; the ‘India’s No. 1 Silver Platform for the Year 2025’ awarded at the India Silver Conference Excellence Awards 2026; the ‘Best Silver Bullion Dealer for the Year 2025 – All India’ awarded at the India Silver Conference Excellence Awards 2026; the ‘Best OTT Platform’ awarded by the IBJA in 2026, 2025 and 2024; the ‘Best Bullion Dealer – Gold in India’ awarded by the IBJA in 2025; the ‘Leading Gold Refiner (All India) of the Year’ by the India Gold Conference in 2024; and the ‘Silver Bullion Dealer (West & Central) of the Year’ by the India Silver Conference in 2024.

According to the Technopak Report, there are high entry barriers in the businesses in which we operate. For example, our operations require high working capital on account of funds required to purchase gold and silver. We are required to hold multiple licenses and permits to conduct our operations and comply with stringent rules and regulations. (Source: Technopak Report) Our business is technology intensive, requiring continuous monitoring of systems and processes in line with the increase in business volume as well as changing regulations. (Source: Technopak Report) We are required to adhere to stringent quality management processes to ensure that the gold and silver that we sell meet specific quality requirements. (Source: Technopak Report) Possessing effective price discovery capabilities for gold and silver products act as additional entry barriers. (Source: Technopak Report) Further, companies have to keep expanding their delivery network to efficiently service their end customers. (Source: Technopak Report) Our integrated presence across the gold and silver value chain supported by our scalable technology and a growing delivery network, creates an operationally complex and one of its kind business ecosystem. (Source: Technopak Report)

Diversified business model with synergies in operations

We have a diversified business model as our operations span across multiple segments of the gold and silver value chain including procurement and refining, bullion trading, digital gold offerings, jewellery manufacturing, international sales and facilitating gold-backed financial services. We operate in two business verticals through distinct online platforms: (i) enterprise sales (through our ‘Augmont SPOT’ platform), and international sales; and (ii) consumer-focused offerings, delivered through our ‘Augmont Gold For All’ platform.

In our enterprise sales business, we sell gold and silver bars online on our ‘Augmont SPOT’ platform to businesses such as jewellers, bullion dealers and manufacturers with valid GST registrations. Our revenues from the ‘Augmont SPOT’ platform were ₹ 817,505.69 million, ₹ 553,397.69 million and ₹ 318,389.03 million in Fiscals 2026, 2025 and 2024, respectively. In our international sales business, we have set up a manufacturing unit in Sitapur SEZ, Jaipur, Rajasthan to manufacture gold jewellery articles, primarily chains, and sell them to jewellery traders in international markets such as Hong Kong, Turkey and the UAE, based on orders placed with us.

Through our consumer-focused offerings, delivered through our ‘Augmont Gold For All’ platform, we serve our individual customers and those of our strategic partners by offering access to a range of gold and silver related services. Through this platform, users can buy, sell and store gold and silver digitally; purchase gold through systematic investment plans; liquidate and sell their old gold; and purchase jewellery starting from 1 gm. We have entered into an agreement with one of our Group Companies, Finkurve pursuant to which we provide technology, marketing and brand support through our platform for gold loans provided by them.

Our operations cover multiple segments of the gold and silver value chain, which has positioned us as a provider of multiple products and services to both, businesses and consumers. We also benefit from the synergies of operating in diverse but related businesses and ensure that we leverage existing inter-linkages between them. For example, the gold and silver that we procure for selling on our ‘Augmont SPOT’ platform, helps us with our raw material requirements for manufacturing jewellery as well as for the other products and services that we provide through our consumer-focused business, thereby serving multiple business verticals. Our synergies across diverse businesses provide us with the ability to drive growth, optimize capital efficiency and maintain our competitive advantage. We also derive operational efficiencies by centralizing and sharing certain key functions across our businesses such as finance, information technology, strategy and procurement.

Efficient procurement operations and a wide distribution network

We have setup an efficient procurement system where we procure (i) refined gold and silver from Indian and international banks; (ii) import doré bars (which have lower duties on import by 0.65% as compared to directly importing refined gold), refine them and sell them as our finished products; and (iii) scrap gold and silver from individuals, jewellers and at jewellery auctions for our refining operations. Further, we have set up a subsidiary, Augmont IFSC Private Limited, in the GIFT City for the import of refined gold and silver through the IIBX. Our presence in GIFT City enables us to save expenses associated with brokerage and commission on purchase of gold and silver since we execute transactions directly as a trading member. It also enables us to benefit from the transparent pricing available for the purchase of gold and silver, allows us to make purchases across different weight categories, the gold is procured from sources such as LBMA-accredited refiners or UAE Good Delivery-accredited refiners providing quality assurance, and safe storage of bullion in vaults.

These facilities have assaying laboratories to verify purity and composition and are accredited by the NABL under ISO/IEC 17025:2017 and hold hallmarking licences from the BIS. Our strong procurement base and large-scale operations have enabled us to maintain a consistent supply chain and sell our products throughout the year, cross-sell our products, ensure high-quality products for our customers and achieve economies of scale in sourcing of raw materials and the distribution of our products.

Scalable technology enabled ecosystem with robust price discovery mechanism

We have established a scalable technology enabled ecosystem to support our business. Our competitive technology advantage stems from the capability, functionality and scalability of our online platforms, ‘Augmont SPOT’ and ‘Augmont Gold For All’. We have a technology team of 40 personnel, as of March 31, 2026, and developed these platforms in-house with an easy-to-use interface to provide seamless and secure solutions to our users. Our platforms are designed to support growth in user base and transaction volumes without requiring proportionate increases in infrastructure or operational spend. These platforms have helped us grow our business, enhanced our operational efficiency and allowed us to respond to changes in customer requirements and industry trends.

We have developed a robust, technology-driven price discovery mechanism for the gold and silver products that are sold on our 'Augmont SPOT' platform that ensures real-time, competitive spot prices which serves as benchmark rates. According to the Technopak Report, gold and silver prices in India are influenced by several interrelated international and domestic factors. The international drivers include global gold and silver prices such as gold prices set by the LBMA, international supply and demand trends, international logistics and freight rates, the US Dollar volatility index, futures and options, volatility in alternative digital assets and global gold ETF demand. The domestic factors that affect gold and silver prices include disparity between domestic and international gold and silver prices, domestic supply and demand fluctuations, the Indian Rupee to US Dollar exchange rate, premiums charged by banks, applicable central and local taxes. (Source: Technopak Report)

In order to manage the complexity of such factors, our pricing engine monitors these inputs through a combination of our in-house technology, AI powered tools and human oversight. This includes live tracking, predictive analysis and efficient hedging strategies to ensure optimal pricing and risk control. Further, we do not charge users of our platform any brokerage or terminal fees and we include our margins in the prices that are quoted on our platform.

The following infographic explains our price discovery mechanism:

Expansion of Enterprise and International Sales

Our 'Augmont SPOT' platform had over 5,223 registered members who were jewellers, bullion dealers and manufacturers with valid GST registrations, as of March 31, 2026. Deliveries are typically fulfilled within two working days of an order being placed on the platform through 20 spot delivery centers. Our strategy for our enterprise business is to increase the number of customers to whom we sell gold and silver bullion, particularly in Tier 3 and Tier 4 cities where we believe there is demand for such products. In order to increase our customer base, we require additional capital since our operations are working capital intensive on account of funds required to purchase gold and silver, which are expensive commodities. We propose to utilise ₹4,650.00 million from the Net Proceeds towards funding future working capital requirements towards procurement of raw material, maintenance of inventory and funding advance margin requirements for procurement purposes by our Company.

We intend to expand our delivery network which comprised 20 spot delivery centers (of which nine were operated directly by us, while 11 were operated through franchisees) across 13 states in India, as of March 31, 2026 to strengthen our last-mile infrastructure and enhance our regional presence. We plan on setting up new physical delivery centers across Tier 3 and Tier 4 cities in India and set up 15 new centers by Fiscal 2029. Each of our new centers will be fully integrated with our technology and logistics infrastructure to ensure consistent and reliable services. These initiatives are expected to expand our delivery infrastructure, which may result in reduced delivery timelines, increased onboarding of jewellers in such regions, and wider regional presence.

We intend to introduce additional products for sale on our platform such as hallmarked, quality-assured finished and semi-finished jewellery and other alloy materials such as copper based and silver based alloys. We also intend to provide certain value added services to enhance customer experience and customer stickiness. These services will include providing reports with market information on the gold and silver industries, finance and insurance options from third party agencies and hallmark unique identification verification, which helps confirming the authenticity and purity of any gold jewellery.

In our international sales business, we manufacture and sell gold jewellery articles, primarily chains, to jewellery traders in international markets such as Hong Kong, Turkey and the UAE. We manufacture products at our unit located in Sitapur SEZ, Jaipur, Rajasthan, which had a capacity of 13.80 MTPA as of March 31, 2026. Going forward, we intend to sell such products to traders in additional international geographies.

Facilitate the sale of lab grown diamonds

We have facilitated the trading of lab grown diamonds on our 'Augmont SPOT' platform in Fiscal 2026 to capitalize on the growing demand for such products. According to the Technopak Report, the global diamond industry is undergoing transformation with lab grown diamonds gaining market share and India is at the forefront leading this transformation. India was the largest lab grown diamond exporter in the world in 2023 as per the Gems and Jewellery Export Promotion Council. (Source: Technopak Report) It produced approximately 1.5 million carats of lab grown diamonds in 2020 accounting for approximately 25% to 30% of the global market and is expected to contribute around 31% to 35% of the global lab grown diamond market by 2030 producing 6 to 7 million carats of lab grown diamonds. (Source: Technopak Report) The Indian lab grown diamond jewellery retail market is smaller valued at ₹ 29.5 billion in Fiscal 2025; however, the market is projected to grow to ₹ 63.0 billion by Fiscal 2030, at a CAGR of 16.4%. (Source: Technopak Report) We intend to leverage our platform to enable users to buy and sell such diamonds seamlessly, search for specific stones and view trading prices. Our technology will enable users to place trades through the web, use AI and machine learning enabled pricing tools, provide personalized suggestions based on previous trades and trends on best-selling stones.

Scale our Consumer Business through our Consumer-Focused Offerings

We serve our individual customers and those of our strategic partners by offering access to a range of gold and silver related services through our 'Augmont Gold For All' platform. Technology is core to our operations and we will continue to invest in our platform and introduce artificial intelligence and machine learning tools to gain deep customer insights and leverage data analytics to anticipate market trends. We believe that this proactive approach will allow us to offer a superior and customized experience leading to higher customer engagement and retention.

Our physical network comprised 106 Gold-For-All centers operated by Finkurve, where consumers can avail our gold and silver related services, as of March 31, 2026. These centers serve as technology enabled retail touch points where customers can access our comprehensive offerings and we maintain an asset light structure at these centers as they do not carry physical inventory, but are seamlessly connected to our central platform and logistics networks, enabling real-time access to gold and silver products and services. We aim to improve customer outreach, enhance brand visibility at the grassroots level, and deepen engagement with retail gold and silver consumers across different regions. We intend to work with Finkurve to open new Gold-For-All centers to cater to growing consumer demand particularly from underserved Tier 2 and Tier 3 markets, where customers seek trusted, local access to organized gold and silver services. We believe that such expansion will enable us to scale our service capabilities without the complexities of managing inventory at each center, ensuring a capital-efficient growth model supported by our robust technology and fulfilment backbone.

Further, we have onboarded 705 independent financial agents, as of March 31, 2026, to increase the sale of our products such as digital gold to consumers and will continue to engage with additional agents in different regions in India in the future to increase our sales.

Strengthen Procurement, Refining and Manufacturing Operations

We aim to strengthen our procurement, refining and manufacturing operations to continue to be a leading integrated gold and silver player. We intend to further diversify and scale our gold and silver procurement by leveraging multiple sourcing channels. Currently, we procure refined bullion from Indian and international banks, import doré bars (benefiting from lower import duties compared to refined bullion), and acquire scrap gold and silver from jewellers, individuals, and auctions. To enhance our international reach, we have established Augmont IFSC Private Limited at GIFT City, enabling direct imports through the India IIBX. Further, as we increase the volume of doré bars that we purchase, we believe that we will be able to negotiate better pricing terms from our vendors, maintain a consistent supply throughout the year, and increase our refining operations based on customer demand. Further, in order to mitigate fluctuations in our inventory requirements, our Company proposes to allocate and deploy a portion of Net Proceeds towards strengthening our bullion inventory levels, including funding of minimum order quantity commitments under long-term supply arrangements our Company may enter with miners, in Fiscals 2027, 2028 and 2029, enabling us to efficiently serve demands from large customers and manage customer orders during peak demand periods. For further information, see "Objects of the Offer- Funding future working capital requirements towards procurement, maintenance and scaling up of inventory and funding advance margin requirements for procurement of inventory by our Company" on page 132.

We also propose to expand our refining operations at our existing units in Rudrapur and Mumbai, while investing in advanced refining technology to improve recovery rates, reduce turnaround times and scale volumes in line with market demand. Our ability to refine both, doré and scrap gold enhances flexibility and helps us manage volatility in sourcing.

We plan to grow our jewellery manufacturing operations at Sitapur SEZ, Jaipur. We also intend to expand exports to high-demand international markets such as Hong Kong, Turkey and the UAE. By strengthening each link of our procurement, refining and manufacturing chain, we aim to achieve superior cost efficiency, higher value capture, and resilience against supply chain risks, thereby supporting long-term growth and market leadership.

Sale of old gold

We offer services to customers to ensure a seamless and efficient way to exchange their used gold jewellery, coins, or bars for cash. The process begins with an assessment of the gold's purity using x-ray fluorescence machines. We then weigh the gold and calculate its value based on the current market price. This service is designed to provide customers with a hassle-free and transparent way to convert their old gold into cash, ensuring they receive the optimum value for their items. The following infographic sets out the key steps involved in this service:

Coins

The coins that we sell are hallmarked and certified for purity, ensuring that customers receive high-quality products. Gold systematic investment plans

Investors can redeem the equivalent value in cash or gold bars or use it for jewellery purchases. Customers can start investing with a minimal amount of ₹500 per month, making gold investment accessible to a broader audience. Accumulated gold is secured in vaults, monitored by registered custodians, ensuring the safety and integrity of the investment. Customers have the option of requesting insured physical delivery of their accumulated gold in India, providing flexibility and security in their investment. The following infographic sets out the key steps in our gold SIP service:

Our gold systematic investment plans are structured as a facility enabling customers to make staggered purchases of physical gold at prevailing market prices. As on date, there is no specific regulatory framework in India governing gold systematic investment plans or staggered purchase arrangements for physical gold, and such offerings are not classified as collective investment schemes, deposit schemes or regulated investment products under the SEBI Act, 1992, the Companies Act, 2013 or the RBI framework. Also, see “Risk Factors – One of our Material Subsidiaries, Augmont Goldtech Private Limited, operates a digital gold business in an evolving regulatory environment, and any future regulatory framework, including potential convergence with electronic gold receipts and bullion exchange norms, may impose significant compliance requirements and adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.” on page 44.”

The following infographic illustrates the key steps involved in gold loan process:

Procurement

We procure refined gold and silver from sources such as Indian and international banks. We import doré bars (which have lower duties on import by 0.65% as compared to directly importing refined gold) and then refine them and sell our products. We also procure scrap gold and silver from individuals and jewellers and at jewellery auctions at reduced rates for our refining operations. We have set up a subsidiary, Augmont IFSC Private Limited, in the GIFT City for the import of refined gold and silver through the IIBX. Going forward, we intend to play a broader role by also acting as a supplier of bullion to the IIBX, which we believe will further enhance our visibility and participation in the international bullion ecosystem. We believe that this dual positioning of being a trader and a supplier will allow us to strengthen our bullion distribution capabilities and leverage cross-border opportunities.

The table below sets forth details of the gold, silver, doré bars, scrap gold and old gold we procured for the years indicated:

Inventory Management and Security

Our bullion is stored in accredited, insured vaults managed by reputed custodians, with access restricted through security protocols. Gold is further secured through insurance, and only a limited amount of bullion is brought to delivery centres based on orders received. At times, bullion is also transferred directly to customers through secured delivery partners. Deliveries are typically fulfilled within two working days of an order being placed on the platform and our inventory movements are tracked in real time through tracking provided by delivery partners, with daily reconciliations between physical stock, customer liabilities, and accounting records.

Information Technology (“IT”)

Our IT systems are essential to our operations since we primarily conduct our business through our two online platforms, ‘Augmont SPOT’ and ‘Augmont Gold For All’. We have a technology team of 40 personnel, as of March 31, 2026, and have developed these platforms in-house. We also engage third-party IT service providers for certain software applications and hardware related IT requirements. We have built a technology infrastructure and have implemented automated financial monitoring tools to ensure compliance and fraud prevention. Our platforms employ a layered security approach to secure trades, money transfers and customer accounts. This approach encompasses several key measures including secure user authentication and onboarding, conducting KYC procedures and verifications against government databases, data protection for sensitive data such as personal information and transaction details through encryption, secure payment gateway integration, cloud infrastructure security to protect our infrastructure, data and user accounts, and conducting regular security assessments to identify and address potential vulnerabilities. This multi-faceted approach ensures a high level of security across all critical aspects of our platforms. We store our transactional and operational data in a secure cloud-based repository with controlled access, in accordance with applicable laws and regulations. We use end-to-end encryption to protect data communication and financial transactions and conduct regular security audits. We utilize several digital tools that help us obtain meaningful insights for our business.

Also see “Risk Factors – We primarily conduct our business through our two online platforms ‘Augmont SPOT’ and ‘Augmont Gold For All’, which are owned and operated by us, and any significant disruptions in our information technology systems or breaches of data security could adversely affect our business and reputation.” on page 26.

Environmental, Social, and Governance Initiatives

We have implemented a robust ‘Ethical Gold Sourcing Policy’ covering the sourcing of doré bars and mined gold from conflict free and ethically compliant gold suppliers and mining companies. In 2023, we applied for the Responsible Jewellery Council Code of Practices Certification, to further cement our lasting commitment towards adopting environmentally responsible practices and building sustainable and scalable operations for the benefit of our Company and community, and the certificate is valid till September, 2026. Our Responsible Jewellery Council Code of Practices certification reflects our commitment to ethical business practices, human rights, labour rights, environmental stewardship and responsible sourcing across our operations.

Corporate Social Responsibility

In compliance with the requirements of Section 135 of the Companies Act read with the Companies (Corporate Social Responsibility) Rules, 2014, our Board has constituted a Corporate Social Responsibility (“CSR”) Committee pursuant to which we carry out various CSR activities. In Fiscals 2026, 2025 and 2024, our corporate social responsibility expenses were ₹ 31.04 million, ₹ 13.07 million and ₹ 7.94 million, respectively. Our CSR initiatives include supplying food to socially disadvantaged sections of society, working with local schools, colleges and other educational institutions providing students access affordable loan facilities, and donating funds to local charities and animal welfare organizations.

Competition

We operate in a highly competitive and rapidly evolving business environment across multiple verticals, including bullion trading, digital gold services, jewellery manufacturing and sales and refining. Each of these segments is characterized by intense competition from both organized and unorganized players, including large domestic and international companies, regional jewellers, fintech platforms, e-commerce marketplaces, and traditional bullion dealers. For more information on financial benchmarking of our peers, see “Industry Overview” on page 161. For further information on risks related to competition, see “Risk Factors – We operate in a competitive business environment and if we are unable to compete effectively, we may lose market share and our profits may decline, which may adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.” on page 54.

I. Industry Specific Regulations

The Bureau of Indian Standards Act, 2016, as amended (“BIS Act”)

The Bureau of Indian Standards Act, 2016 provides for the establishment of the Bureau of Indian Standards (“BIS”) for the standardization, marking and quality certification of goods. Under the BIS Act, the Central Government, after consulting the Bureau of Indian Standards (“BIS”), can notify the precious metal articles or other goods or articles which are required to be marked with a ‘Hallmark’ or ‘Standard Mark’, subject to certain conditions for sale and testing of such articles. The BIS Act provides for the functions of BIS which includes, inter-alia, (a) adopting as an Indian standard, any standard established for any goods, article, system, service or process by any other institution in India or elsewhere; (b) specifying a standard mark in relation each of ‘BIS’ conformity assessment schemes which shall be of such design and contain such particulars as may be prescribed to represent a particular Indian standard; and (c) conducting such inspection and taking such samples of any material or substance as may be necessary to see whether any article or process in relation to which the standard mark has been used in conformity with the relevant standard or whether the standard mark has been properly used in relation to any goods, article, process, system or service with or without a license. The BIS is also the licensing authority for quality standards. The BIS Act empowers the Central Government in consultation with the BIS to order compulsory use of standard mark for any goods or process if it finds it expedient to do so in public interest. The BIS Act also provides penalties in case there is a contravention of the provisions of the BIS Act. BIS is recognized as the sole agency in India to operate the BIS Certification Scheme for Hallmarking of Gold Jewellery (“BIS Hallmarking Scheme”). The BIS Hallmarking Scheme has been aligned with international criteria on hallmarking (Vienna Convention 1972). As per this scheme, licence is granted to the jewellers by BIS under BIS Hallmarking Scheme. The BIS certified jewellers can get their jewellery hallmarked from any of the BIS recognized Assaying and Hallmarking Centre. The recognition to an Assaying and Hallmarking Centre is given against BIS criteria Doc: HMS/RAHC/GO1 which is in line with International Convention on the Control and Marking of Articles of Precious metals.

The Bureau of Indian Standards (Hallmarking) Regulations, 2018, as amended (“BIS Hallmarking Regulations”)

The Bureau of Indian Standards (Hallmarking) Regulations, 2018 prescribe that all jewellers must obtain a certificate of registration from the BIS in order to sell precious metal articles notified under the BIS Act. The certificate of registration (“Certificate”) is granted to specific premises and is valid for a period of five years subject to the terms and conditions mentioned in the BIS Hallmarking Regulations. As per the notification dated June 14, 2018, issued by the Department of Consumer Affairs, Ministry of Consumer Affairs, Food and Public Distribution, precious metal articles that are required to be marked with hallmark include gold jewellery and gold artefacts and silver jewellery and silver artefacts. The details of certificate are required to be hosted on the website of BIS and such Certificate is only valid for the premises mentioned in the certificate of registration. The registered jewellers are responsible for purity and fineness of the hallmarked precious metal articles sold by them and are liable to pay compensation to the BIS or any shortage in purity or fineness as per rules.

The BIS vide notification dated March 4, 2022 has issued the Bureau of Indian Standards (Hallmarking) Amendment Regulations, 2022 which provide for the revised hallmarking fee for the following articles: a) Gold articles payable to recognised assaying and hallmarking centres by jewellers b) Hallmarking fee to be levied by the Bureau from Assaying and Hallmarking Centre for gold articles c) Silver articles payable to recognised Assaying and Hallmarking Centres by jewellers d) Hallmarking fee to be levied by the BIS from Assaying and Hallmarking Centre for silver articles. As of April 1, 2023, all gold jewellery and artefacts must have a 6-digit alphanumeric HUID (Hallmark Unique Identification). This number helps consumers trace the gold jewellery back to its jeweller, helps check its purity and also details of the hallmarking centre which tested and hallmarked the article.

The Hallmarking of Gold Jewellery and Gold Artefacts Order, 2020

The Hallmarking of Gold Jewellery and Gold Artefacts Order, 2020, which came into effect on June 16, 2021, prescribes that gold jewellery and gold artefacts shall be sold only by registered jewellers through certified sales outlets, after fulfilling the terms and conditions of certificate of registration as specified in the BIS Hallmarking Regulations. However, certain precious metal articles are excluded from the above order, including any article meant for export, which conforms to any specification required by the foreign buyer, any article of gold thread, an article with weight less than two grams, and an article which is in course of consignment from outside India to an assaying and hallmarking centre in India recognised as per the BIS Hallmarking Regulations, for hallmarking and gold bullion in any shape of bar, plate, sheet, foil, rod, wire, strip, tube or coin. Vide the Hallmarking of Gold Jewellery and Gold Artefacts (Second Amendment) Order, 2021, dated June 23, 2021, the aforementioned list of exceptions was extended to include (i) any article meant for export and re-import as per trade policy of the Government of India, (ii) any article meant for international exhibitions, (iii) any article meant for domestic business-to-business exhibitions, approved by the Government, (iv) special categories of jewellery, namely Kundan, Polki and Jadaau, (v) watch and fountain pen, and (vi) jewellers with the annual turnover of up to ₹4 million per annum. Further, the above order was amended to make it applicable to 14, 18 and 22 carats of gold jewellery and gold artefacts.

Further, vide Hallmarking of Gold Jewellery and Gold Artifacts (Amendment) Order, 2023 dated March 3, 2023, no person, after March 31, 2023, is allowed to sell or display or offer to sell any gold jewellery or artefacts unless it is hallmarked in accordance with the standards specified in IS 1417:2016. Further, vide Hallmarking of Gold Jewellery and Gold Artefacts (Second Amendment) Order, 2023 dated March 31, 2023, such persons who has provided a declaration as required by BIS declaring his old stock of gold jewellery or gold artefacts with old hallmarking is permitted to sell or display or offer to sell such declared stock up to June 30, 2023.

The Aadhaar Act establishes Unique Identification Authority of India (“UIDAI”), which is responsible for authentication and enrolment of individuals under the Aadhaar programme. The Aadhaar Act also provides for the appointment of Enrolling Agency, which would be responsible for the enrolment of individuals. The Aadhaar Act, to authenticate the Aadhaar Numbers, appoints a requesting entity, that would submit the Aadhaar Number along with demographic information or biometric information to the Central Identities Data Repository. Lastly, the Aadhaar Act also provides for the protection and confidentiality of identity information and authentication records of individuals.

Securities Contracts (Regulation) Act, 1956 (“SCRA”)

The Securities Contracts (Regulation) Act, 1956, regulates transactions in securities and seeks to prevent undesirable transactions in securities by providing for the recognition and regulation of stock exchanges and related matters. Electronic gold receipts have been notified as securities under Section 2(h)(ia) of the SCRA vide gazette notification dated December 31, 2021 and accordingly, the issuance and trading of EGRs are subject to the applicable provisions of the SCRA and the regulatory framework prescribed thereunder. The SCRA, inter alia, regulates the operation of recognised stock exchanges and provides the statutory framework within which securities, including EGRs, may be dealt in on recognised stock exchanges, subject to applicable laws, rules and regulations.

SEBI Master Circular for Electronic Gold Receipts (“SEBI EGR Circular”)

The Master Circular for Electronic Gold Receipts bearing reference number SEBI/HO/MRD/MRD-PoD-1/P/CIR/2024/87 dated June 24, 2024, issued by SEBI, consolidates the circulars and directions issued by SEBI from time to time in relation to the regulatory and operational framework for EGRs and supersedes the earlier master circular dated June 1, 2023. The SEBI EGR Circular, inter alia, sets out the regulatory and operational requirements applicable to the EGR ecosystem, including requirements relating to risk management and standard operating guidelines for vault managers and depositories, as well as the framework applicable to the trading, clearing and settlement of EGRs and their conversion into physical gold. The SEBI EGR Circular also prescribes requirements relating to transaction charges and risk management parameters applicable to the EGR segment.

Intellectual property laws

The Trade Marks Act, 1999, as amended (“Trade Marks Act”)

The Trade Marks Act governs the statutory protection of trademarks and prevention of the use of fraudulent marks in India. Indian law permits the registration of trademarks for both goods and services. It also provides for exclusive rights to marks such as brand, label, and heading and to obtain relief in case of infringement for commercial purposes as a trade description. Under the provisions of the Trade Marks Act, an application for trademark registration may be made with the Trade Marks Registry by any person or persons claiming to be the proprietor of a trademark, whether individually or as joint applicants, and can be made on the basis of either actual use or intention to use a trademark in the future. Once granted, a trademark registration is valid for 10 years unless cancelled, subsequent to which, it can be renewed. If not renewed, the mark lapses and the registration is required to be restored to gain protection under the provisions of the Trade Marks Act. The Trade Marks Act prohibits registration of deceptively similar trademarks and provides for penalties for infringement, falsifying and falsely applying trademarks among others. Further, pursuant to the notification of the Trade Marks (Amendment) Act, 2010 on September 21, 2010, simultaneous protection of trademark in India and other countries has been made available to owners of Indian and foreign trademarks. It also seeks to simplify the law relating to the transfer of ownership of trademarks by assignment or transmission and to bring the law in line with international practices.

Designs Act, 2000, as amended (“Designs Act”)

Industrial designs have been accorded protection under the Designs Act. A ‘design’ means only the features of shape, configuration, pattern, ornament or composition of lines or colour thereof applied to any article whether two dimensional or three dimensional or in both forms, by any industrial process or means, whether manual, mechanical or chemical, separate or combined, which in the finished article appeal to and are judged solely by the eye, but does not include any mode or principle or construction or anything which is in substance a mere mechanical device, and expressly excludes works accorded other kinds of protection like property marks, trademarks and artistic works enjoying copyright protection. Any person claiming to be the proprietor of a new or original design, not previously published in any country and which is not contrary to public order or morality, may apply for registration of the same under the Act before the Controller - General of Patents, Designs and Trademarks. On registration, the registered proprietor of the design attains a copyright over the same. The duration of the registration of a design in India is initially ten years from the date of registration, but in cases where claim to priority has been allowed the duration is ten years from the priority date. No person may sell, apply for the purpose of sale or import for the purpose of sale any registered design, or fraudulent or obvious imitation thereof.

The Copyright Act, 1957, as amended (“Copyright Act”)

The Copyright Act serves to create property rights for certain kinds of intellectual property, generally called works of authorship. The intellectual property protected under the Copyright Act includes copyrights subsisting in artistic works, original literary, dramatic, musical or artistic works, cinematograph films, and sound recordings, including computer programs, tables and compilations including computer databases. While copyright registration is not a prerequisite for acquiring or enforcing a copyright in an otherwise copyrightable work, registration under the Copyright Act acts as prima facie evidence of the particulars entered therein and may help expedite infringement proceedings and reduce delay caused due to evidentiary considerations. Upon registration, the copyright protection for a work exists for a period of 60 years following the demise of the author. Reproduction of a copyrighted work for sale or hire and issuing of copies to the public, among others, without consent of the owner of the copyright are acts which expressly amount to an infringement of copyright.

II. Legislations related to foreign investment and trade

Foreign Trade (Development and Regulation) Act, 1992

Imports and exports are governed by the Foreign Trade (Development and Regulation) Act, 1992, as amended (“FTDRA 1992”) and the Export and Import Policy (the “EXIM Policy”) formulated by the Central Government from time to time. The FTDRA, 1992 seeks to develop and regulate foreign trade by facilitating imports into and augmenting exports from India. The FTDRA 1992 prohibits a person or company from making any exports or imports unless such a person or company has been granted an importer- exporter code number. The importer-exporter code number may be suspended or cancelled in case of violation of the provisions of FTDRA, 1992 or the EXIM Policy or commission of any other economic offence under any other law. The licence may also, be suspended or cancelled if the Director General has reason to believe that any person has made an export or import in a manner gravely pre-judicial to the trade relations of India with any foreign country or to the interests of other persons engaged in imports or exports or has brought disrepute to the credit or the goods of the country.

Foreign Trade Policy 2023

The foreign trade policy 2023 issued by the Ministry of Commerce and Industry, Government of India includes gems and jewellery within a separate scheme for exporters of gems and jewellery. For the gems and jewellery sector, the foreign trade policy 2023 provides for broadly four schemes in relation to exports of gems and jewellery (i) advance procurement / replenishment of precious metals from nominated agencies; (ii) replenishment authorization for gems; (iii) replenishment authorization for consumables; and (iv) advance authorization for precious metals. Certain agencies have been permitted to import diamonds to their laboratories without any import duty, for the purpose of certification or grading reports, with a condition that the same should be re-exported with the certification or grading reports, as per predetermined procedure. Export of gold jewellery, including partly processed jewellery, and articles including medallions and coins (excluding legal tender coins), whether plain or studded, and articles, containing gold of 8 carats and above up to a maximum limit of 22 carats only shall be permitted by Export Oriented Units (“EOUs”). Gems and jewellery EOUs may source gold, silver or platinum through nominated agencies on loan or outright purchase basis. Units obtaining gold, silver or platinum from nominated agencies, either on loan basis or outright purchase basis shall export gold, silver or platinum within 90 days from the date of release of such metals by the nominated agencies.

The Foreign Trade Policy 2023 shall remain to be in operation unless otherwise specified or amended.

The FTDRA 1992 read with the Foreign Trade Policy 2023 prohibits anybody from undertaking any import or export except under an Importer-Exporter Code number (“IEC”) granted by Directorate General of Foreign Trade (“DGFT”). Hence, every person in India engaged in any activity involving import or export is required to obtain an IEC unless specifically exempted from doing so. IEC shall be valid until it is suspended/cancelled by the competent authority. IEC allotted to an applicant is valid for all its branches, divisions, units and factories. Failure to obtain IEC shall attract penalty under the FTA. DGFT may impose prohibition or restriction relating to the importations or exportations of gold or silver.

The Foreign Exchange Management Act, 1999 (“FEMA”) and regulations framed thereunder

Foreign investment in India is governed primarily by the provisions of the FEMA, and the rules, regulations and notifications thereunder, as issued by the RBI from time to time and the FEMA Rules and the consolidated FDI Policy (“FDI Policy”) issued by the Department for Promotion of Industry and Internal Trade, Ministry of Commerce and Industry, Government of India from time to time. The Reserve Bank of India has enacted the Foreign Exchange Management (Mode of Payment and Reporting of Non-Debt Instruments) Regulations, 2019 on October 17, 2019 (as amended) (“FEMA rules”) which regulates mode of payment and remittance of sale proceeds, among others. The FDI Policy and the FEMA Rules prescribe inter alia the method of calculation of total foreign investment (i.e., direct foreign investment and indirect foreign investment) in an Indian company. In terms of the FDI Policy and FEMA rules, foreign investment is permitted (except in the prohibited sectors) in Indian companies either through the automatic route or the Government route, depending upon the sector in which the foreign investment is sought to be made.

The FEMA Rules were enacted on October 17, 2019, in supersession of the Foreign Exchange Management (Transfer or Issue of Security by a Person Resident Outside India) Regulations, 2017, except for things done or omitted to be done before such supersession. The total holding by any individual NRI, on a repatriation basis, shall not exceed 10% of the total paid-up equity capital on a fully diluted basis or shall not exceed 10% of the paid-up value of each series of debentures or preference shares or share warrants issued by an Indian company and the total holdings of all NRIs and OCIs put together shall not exceed 24% of the total paidup equity capital on a fully diluted basis or shall not exceed 24% of the paid-up value of each series of debentures or preference shares or share warrants.

The total holding by each FPI or an investor group, shall be less than 10 percent of the total paid -up equity capital on a fully diluted basis or less than ten percent of the paid-up value of each series of debentures or preference shares or share warrants issued by an Indian company and the total holdings of all FPIs put together, including any other direct and indirect foreign investments in the Indian company permitted under these rules, shall not exceed twenty four per cent of paid-up equity capital on a fully diluted basis or paid-up value of each series of debentures or preference shares or share warrants. The said limit of ten percent and twenty four percent are called the individual and aggregate limit, respectively.

With effect from April 1, 2020, the aggregate limit shall be the sectoral caps applicable to Indian companies as laid out in paragraph 3(b) of Schedule I of FEMA Rules, with respect to paid-up equity capital on fully diluted basis or such same sectoral cap percentage of paid-up value of each series of debentures or preference shares or share warrants. Further, in accordance with Press Note No. 4 (2020 Series), dated October 15, 2020 issued by the DPIIT, all investments by entities of a country which shares land border with India or where the beneficial owner of an investment into India is situated in or is a citizen of any such country, will require prior approval of the Government of India, as prescribed in the Consolidated FDI Policy. Further, Master Direction on Foreign Investment in India, issued by the Reserve Bank of India on January 20, 2025, aims to streamline the foreign investment regime in India, particularly concerning downstream investments by Foreign Owned or Controlled Companies. The Foreign Exchange Management (Non-debt Instruments) Rules, 2019, were amended on June 11, 2025, by the Ministry of Finance. The amendment, titled Foreign Exchange Management (Non-debt Instruments) (Amendment) Rules, 2025, primarily addresses the issuance of bonus shares to non-resident shareholders in companies operating in sectors where foreign direct investment is prohibited.

On July 21, 2026, the RBI released for public consultation the draft Foreign Exchange Management (Foreign Investment) Rules, 2026, which proposes to rationalise and replace the existing Foreign Exchange Management (Non-Debt Instruments) Rules, 2019. Among other proposed changes, the draft rules propose to redefine the classification of “foreign direct investment” and “foreign portfolio investment”. Under the existing FEMA Non-Debt Instruments Rules, 2019, “foreign direct investment” is defined as investment through equity instruments by a person resident outside India in an unlisted Indian company, or investment of 10% or more of the post-issue paid-up equity capital on a fully diluted basis of a listed Indian company, and “foreign portfolio investment” is defined as investment of less than 10% of the post-issue paid-up share capital on a fully diluted basis of a listed Indian company. By contrast, the proposed rules define “foreign direct investment” simply as foreign investment of 10% or more in the equity of a company or LLP and “foreign portfolio investment” as foreign investment of less than 10% in the equity of a company or LLP. The draft rules also proposes to revise the framework for determining ownership and control, and provide for direct listing of equity securities of Indian companies on international exchanges. As the rules are currently subject to public consultation and may be revised prior to their finalisation and notification, the final scope and effect of the proposed changes cannot be determined at this stage.

III. General legislations

The Indian Contract Act, 1872

The Indian Contract Act, 1872 lays down the essentials of a valid contract, it provides a framework of rules and regulations that govern the validity, execution and performance of a contract and codifies the way in which a contract may be entered into, executed, implemented and the effects of breach of a contract. The Indian Contract Act, 1872 consists of limiting factors subject to which a contract may be entered into, executed and the breach enforced. The contracting parties themselves decide the rights and duties of parties and terms of agreement.

Legal Metrology Act, 2009, as amended and the Legal Metrology (Packaged Commodities) Rules, 2011 (“Legal Metrology Act”)

The Legal Metrology Act, repeals and replaces the Standard of Weights and Measures Act, 1976 and the Standards of Weights and Measures (Enforcement) Act, 1985. The Legal Metrology Act seeks to establish and enforce standards of weights and measures, regulate trade and commerce in weights, measures and other goods which are sold or distributed by weight, measure or number and for matters incidental thereto. The Legal Metrology Act, inter alia, provides for: (a) approval of model of weight or measure; (b) verification of prescribed weight or measure by Government approved test centre; (c) exempting regulation of weight or measure or other goods meant for export; (d) nomination of a director by a company who will be responsible for complying with the provisions of the enactment; (e) empowering the Central Government to make rules for enforcing the provisions of the enactment; and (f) penalty for offences and compounding of offences.

Sale of Goods Act, 1930, as amended (the “Sale of Goods Act”)

The Sale of Goods Act governs contracts relating to sale of goods in India. The contracts for sale of goods are subject to the general principles of the law relating to contracts. A contract of sale may be an absolute one or based on certain conditions. The Sale of Goods Act contains provisions in relation to the essential aspects of such contracts, including the transfer of ownership of the goods, delivery of goods, rights and duties of the buyer and seller, remedies for breach of contract and the conditions and warranties implied under a contract for sale of goods.

The Consumer Protection Act, 2019 (“Consumer Protection Act”), as amended, along with the Consumer Protection (E-Commerce) Rules, 2020 (“E-commerce Rules”)

The Consumer Protection Act, 2019, as amended, along with the Consumer Protection (E-Commerce) Rules, 2020 (“E-commerce Rules”), regulate matters relating to consumer rights, unfair trade practices and false or misleading advertising, and also establish regulatory authorities where customers can file complaints for investigation and adjudication. The Ministry of Consumer Affairs notified certain sections of the Consumer Protection Act, 2019 (“COPRA”) by way of the notification dated July 15, 2020 (with effect from July 20, 2020), including sections regulating the formation and functioning of the Consumer Protection Council at the national, state and district levels, the formation and functioning of Consumer Dispute Redressal Commissions at the national, state and district levels, product liability actions and punishment for manufacturing for sale or storing, selling or distributing or importing products containing adulterants and spurious goods.

The COPRA provides a mechanism for the consumer to file a complaint against a product manufacturer, trader, or service provider in cases of unfair contract or trade practices, restrictive trade practices, defective goods, goods and services which are hazardous or likely to be hazardous to life being sold in contravention to safety standards, deficiency in services and price charged being unlawful. It also places product liability on the product manufacturer or product service provider or product seller, to compensate for any harm caused by defective product or deficiency in services. It provides for a three-tier consumer grievance redressal mechanism at the national, state and district levels. Non-compliance of the orders of the redressal commissions attracts criminal penalties. The COPRA has, inter alia, also introduced a Central Consumer Protection Authority to regulate matters relating to violation of rights of consumers, unfair trade practices and false or misleading advertisements, which are prejudicial to the interests of public and consumers and promote, protect, and enforce the rights of consumers as a class. The COPRA has also brought e-commerce entities and their customers under its purview including providers of technologies or processes for enabling product sellers to engage in advertising or selling goods or services to a consumer, online marketplaces and online auction sites.

The Ministry of Consumer Affairs issued the Consumer Protection (E-Commerce) Rules, 2020 (“E-Commerce Rules”) under the COPRA on July 23, 2020, which govern the online sale of goods, services, digital products by entities which own, operate, or manage digital or electronic facility or platform for electronic commerce (“E-Commerce Entities”), all models of e-commerce (including marketplace or inventory based), and all ecommerce sellers. The E-Commerce Rules lay down the duties and liabilities of E-Commerce Entities.

The rules impose obligations on marketplace and inventory e-commerce entities and sellers relating to the conduct of business and disclosure of information. The rules apply to all goods and services that are bought or sold over digital or electronic networks, including digital products. Under the rules, E – Commerce Entities must ensure that the grievance redressal mechanism envisaged under it redresses any form of customer complaints within one month from the date of receipt of the complaint. Further, the E- Commerce Rules ensure essential safeguards for preventing manipulation of the price of goods or services offered on e-commerce platforms.

The Digital Personal Data Protection Act, 2023, as amended (“Data Protection Act”)

The Data Protection Act received the assent of the President of India on August 11, 2023. The Data Protection Act provides for collection and processing of digital personal data by persons, including companies. According to the Data Protection Act, companies collecting and dealing with high volumes of personal data will be defined as significant data fiduciaries. These significant data fiduciaries will be required to fulfil certain additional obligations under the Data Protection Act including appointment of a data protection officer who will be the point of contact between such fiduciaries and individuals for grievance redressal. Further such data fiduciaries will also be required to appoint an independent data auditor who will evaluate their compliance with the Data Protection Act. The Central Government has established the Data Protection Board of India (the “DPB”) on November 13, 2025. Key functions of the DPB include: (i) monitoring compliance and imposing penalties, (ii) directing data fiduciaries to take necessary measures in the event of a data breach, and (iii) hearing grievances made by data principals.

Further, the Digital Personal Data Protection Rules, 2025 (“DPDP Rules”) were notified by the Ministry of Electronics and Information Technology on November 13, 2025 to operationalise the DPDP Act. While the rules relating to the constitution, functioning and administration of the Data Protection Board of India (“DPB”) take effect from the date of publication, the remaining rules are being phased in, with certain requirements becoming effective one year from publication and the balance coming into force eighteen months thereafter. The DPDP Rules establish the procedural and compliance framework for processing digital personal data in India and apply to entities within and outside India that process such data in relation to offering goods or services to individuals in India. They set out obligations relating to notice and consent, rights of individuals to access, correct and delete their data, reasonable security safeguards, and mandatory breach notifications. Cross-border transfer of personal data is permitted subject to restrictions imposed by the Government of India, including additional conditions for significant data fiduciaries. The DPDP Rules also prescribe requirements for consent managers, processing of state-issued benefits, data protection impact assessments for high-risk processing, handling of children’s data, and the appellate mechanism through the DPB’s digital office.

IV. Taxation legislations

The Income Tax Act, 1961, as superseded by the Income Tax Act, 2025

Income-tax Act, 1961 is applicable to every company, whether domestic or foreign whose income is taxable under the provisions of this Act or rules made thereunder depending upon its ‘Residential Status’ and ‘Type of Income’ involved. Every assessee, under the Income-tax Act, which includes a company, is required to comply with the provisions thereof, including those relating to tax deduction at source, advance tax, minimum alternative tax and like. The Income Tax Act, 2025 that received presidential assent on August 21, 2025 has replaced the current Income Tax Act with effect from April 1, 2026. The new income tax Act aims to simplify the existing legislative framework and introduces several key reforms such as rationalisation of income tax return forms and consolidation of various TDS provisions to promote ease of compliance.

Goods and Services Tax Act, 2017, as amended

The Government of India has introduced the GST regime with effect from July 1, 2017. As per Section 8 of the Central Goods and Services Act, 2017, selling gold ornaments or jewellery to the common man is a composite supply of goods and services. The gold used is considered goods and making charges or value addition is towards job work. Since the principal supply is the sale of gold, the GST rate of 3% shall be levied instead of 5% on the total value of jewellery, whether or not making charges is shown separately. A GST exemption was announced at the 31st GST Council meeting on December 22, 2018. Accordingly, GST is not charged for the supply of gold made by the notified agency to GST-registered gold jewellery exporters. The move has minimised the GST burden on Indian exporters of gold jewellery and made Indian gold exports more competitive on the world market. The jeweller or gold merchant can claim input tax credit (ITC) paid on the raw materials used, i.e., gold and other job work charges incurred. Even when the gold merchant pays tax on a reverse charge basis for supply from an unregistered job worker, he can claim the ITC on such tax.

The Customs Act, 1962, as amended and the Customs Tariff Act, 1975

The provisions of the Customs Act, 1962 and rules made thereunder are applicable at the time of import of goods into India from a place outside India or at the time of export of goods out of India to a place outside India. The Customs Tariff Act, 1975 provides the rates at which duties of customs will be levied under the Customs Act, 1962. Any Company requiring importing or exporting goods is first required to get registered under the Custom Act and obtain an Importer Exporter Code. Imported goods in India attract basic customs duty, additional customs duty and education cess. Customs duty is calculated on the transaction value of the goods. Customs duties are administrated by Central Board of Excise and Customs under the Ministry of Finance.

Professional Tax, as amended

The professional tax slabs in India are applicable to those citizens of India who are either involved in any profession or trade. The State Government of each State is empowered with the responsibility of structuring as well as formulating the respective professional tax criteria and is also required to collect funds through professional tax. The professional taxes are charged on the incomes of individuals, profits of business or gains in vocations. The professional tax is charged as per the List II of the Constitution. The professional taxes are classified under various tax slabs in India. The tax payable under the state Acts by any person earning a salary or wage shall be deducted by his employer from the salary or wages payable to such person before such salary or wages is paid to him, and such employer shall, irrespective of whether such deduction has been made or not when the salary and wage is paid to such persons, be liable to pay tax on behalf of such person and employer has to obtain the registration from the assessing authority in the prescribed manner. Every person liable to pay tax under these Acts (other than a person earning salary or wages, in respect of whom the tax is payable by the employer), shall obtain a certificate of enrolment from the assessing authority.

Information Technology Act, 2000, as amended (“IT Act”) and the Information Technology (Reasonable Security Practices and Procedures and Sensitive Personal Data or Information) Rules, 2011 (“IT Security Rules”)

The IT Act was enacted with the sole purpose of providing legal recognition to transactions carried out by the means of various means of electronic data interchange involving alternatives to paper-based methods of communication and storage of information. The IT Act also seeks to facilitate electronic filing of documents and create a mechanism for the authentication of electronic records through digital signatures. The IT Act prescribes punishment for publishing and transmitting obscene material in electronic form. The IT Act has extraterritorial jurisdiction over any offence or contravention under the IT Act committed outside India by any person, irrespective of their nationality, if the act or conduct constituting the offence or contravention involves a computer, computer system or computer network located in India. The IT Act also prescribes civil and criminal liability including fines and imprisonment for computer related offences including those relating to unauthorized access to computer systems, tampering with or unauthorized manipulation of any computer, computer system or computer network and damaging computer systems.

The IT Act empowers the Government of India to formulate rules with respect to reasonable security practices and procedures and sensitive personal data. In exercise of this power, the Department of Information Technology, Ministry of Electronics and Information Technology, Government of India (“DoIT”), in April 2011, notified the Information Technology (Reasonable Security Practices and Procedures and Sensitive Personal Data or Information) Rules, 2011 (“IT Security Rules”) which prescribe directions for the collection, disclosure, transfer and protection of sensitive personal data by a body corporate or any person acting on behalf of a body corporate. The IT Security Rules require every such body corporate to provide a privacy policy for handling and dealing with personal information, including sensitive personal data, ensuring security of all personal data collected by it and publishing such policy on its website. The IT Security Rules further require that all such personal data be used solely for the purposes for which it was collected, and any third-party disclosure of such data is made with the prior consent of the information provider, unless contractually agreed upon between them or where such disclosure is mandated by law.

The Information Technology (Intermediaries Guidelines and Digital Media Ethics Code) Rules, 2021 (“IT Intermediaries Rules”)

The Department of Information Technology has also notified the IT Intermediaries Rules under the IT Act, in supersession of the Information Technology (Intermediary Guidelines) Rules, 2011, requiring intermediaries receiving, storing, transmitting, or providing any service with respect to electronic messages to not knowingly host, publish, transmit, select or modify any information prohibited under the IT Intermediaries Rules, to disable hosting, publishing, transmission, selection or modification of such information once they become aware of it, as well as specifying the due diligence to be observed by intermediaries. The IT Intermediary Rules also make it mandatory for an intermediary to publish its privacy policy, rules, and regulations on its website, to inform their users, at least once a year, in case of a non-compliance and to establish a grievance redressal mechanism.

Further, on March 15, 2024, an advisory on due diligence by intermediaries and platforms was announced under the IT Act and the IT Intermediaries Rules instructing intermediaries and platforms to make available undertested or unreliable artificial intelligence (“AI”) foundational models, large language models, generative AI, software, or algorithms to users in India only after accurately labelling the generated output. Additionally, they must label all artificially generated media and text with unique identifiers or metadata to facilitate easy identification.

(ii) Principles of Consolidation

The Restated Consolidated Financial Information comprises of the Financial Statements of Augmont Enterprises Limited (“the Company”) and its Subsidiaries (herein after referred together as “the Group”) and Associates. The Restated Consolidated Financial Information of the Group have been prepared in accordance with the Indian Accounting Standards on “Consolidated Financial Statements” (Ind AS 110), “Disclosure of Interest in Other Entities” (Ind AS 112), “Investment in Associates and Joint Ventures” (Ind AS 28) notified under Section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013.

a) Subsidiaries

Subsidiaries are entities controlled by the Group. The Group controls an entity when it is exposed to, or has rights to, variable returns from its involvement with the entity and has the ability to affect those returns through its power over the entity. The Financial Statements of subsidiaries are included in the Restated Consolidated Financial Information from the date on which controls commences until the date on which control ceases.

Subsidiary Companies Included in Consolidation: (Refer note 36 K)

1. Augmont Goldtech Private Limited
2. Augmont Trading Limited
3. Ideal Fiscal Services Limited
4. Augmont International Limited
5. Augmont IFSC Limited

b) Non Controlling Interest

Non-controlling interest in the net assets of the consolidated subsidiaries consists of:

- a) The amount of equity attributable to non-controlling shareholders at the date on which the investments in the subsidiary companies were made.
- b) The non-controlling share of movements in equity since the date the Parent-Subsidiary relationship comes into existence

The total comprehensive income of subsidiaries is attributed to the owners of the Group and to the non-controlling interests even if this results in the noncontrolling interest having deficit balance.

c) Loss of Control

When the Group loses control over a subsidiary, it derecognises the assets and liabilities of the subsidiary, and any related NCI and other components of equity. Any interest retained in the former subsidiary is measured at fair value at the date the control is lost. Any resulting gain or loss is recognised in the Restated Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss.

d) Transaction Eliminated on Consolidation

The Financial Statements of the Group used in the consolidation procedure are drawn upto the same reporting date, i.e., 31st March 2026.

The Financial Statements of the Parent Company and its subsidiary companies are combined on a line-by-line basis by adding together of like-items of assets, liabilities, income and expenses, after eliminating material intragroup balances and intra-group transactions and resulting unrealised profits or losses on intra-group transactions. Unrealised losses are eliminated in the same way as unrealised gains, but only to the extent that there is no evidence of impairment.

Business Combinations and Goodwill/ Capital Reserve

Business combinations are accounted for using the acquisition method. The cost of an acquisition is measured as the aggregate of the consideration transferred measured at acquisition date fair value and the amount of any non-controlling interests in the acquiree. Any excess of purchase consideration over the fair value of net identifiable assets is recognized as goodwill. If the net assets acquired exceed the consideration, the difference is recognized as a bargain purchase gain and treated as Capital Reserve. After initial recognition, goodwill is measured at cost less any accumulated impairment losses. For each business combination, the group elects whether to measure the non controlling interests in the acquiree at fair value or at the proportionate share of the acquiree's identifiable net assets. Acquisition-related costs are expensed as incurred. The interest of non-controlling shareholders is initially measured either at fair value or at the non-controlling interests' proportionate share of the acquiree's identifiable net assets. The choice of measurement is made on an acquisition-by acquisition basis. Subsequent to acquisition, the carrying amount of non-controlling interests is the amount of those interests at initial recognition plus the non-controlling interests' share of subsequent changes in equity of subsidiaries.

Business Combination under Common Control:

Business combinations involving entities that are ultimately controlled by the same part(ies) before and after the business combination are considered as Common control entities and are accounted using the pooling of interest method as follows:

- a) The assets and liabilities of the combining entities are reflected at their carrying amounts
- b) No adjustments are made to reflect the fair values, or recognise new assets or liabilities. Adjustments are made to harmonise accounting policies
- c) The financial information in the Financial Statements in respect of prior periods is restated as if the business combination has occurred from the beginning of the preceding period in the Financial Statements, irrespective of the actual date of the combination

The balance of the retained earnings appearing in the Financial Statements of the transferor is aggregated with the corresponding balance appearing in the Financial Statements of the transferee or is adjusted against general reserve

The identity of the reserves is preserved and the reserves of the transferor become the reserves of the transferee. The difference if any, between the amounts recorded as share capital plus any additional consideration in the form of cash or other assets and the amount of share capital of the transferor is transferred to capital reserve and is presented separately from other capital reserves.

(iii) Use of estimates and judgements

The preparation of Financial Information in conformity with Ind AS requires management to make judgements, estimates and assumptions that affect the application of accounting policies and the reported amount of assets and liabilities, revenues and expenses and disclosure of contingent liabilities at the date of consolidated financial statement. Such estimates and assumptions are based on management's evaluation of relevant facts and circumstances as on the date of Restated Consolidated Financial Information. The actual outcome may differ from those estimates.

The estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised in the period in which the estimate is revised if the revision affects only that period, or in the period of the revision and future periods if the revision affects both current and future periods.

This note provides an overview of the areas where there is a higher degree of judgment or complexity. Detailed information about each of these estimates and judgments is included in relevant notes together with information about the basis of calculation.

Following are the areas involving critical estimates and judgements:

Judgement:

- i) Leases (Note 19 & 22)
- ii) Evaluation of recoverability of deferred tax assets, and estimation of income tax payable and income tax expense in relation to an uncertain tax position (Note 36 I)
- iii) Provisions (Note 20 & 26)
- iv) Contingencies (Note 36 C)

Estimates:

- i) Accounting for Defined benefit plans (Note 36 B)
- ii) Useful lives of property, plant and equipment and intangible assets (Note 3 & 3B)
- iii) Fair value of financial instruments (Note 37 A)
- iv) Valuation of inventories (Note 8)

Notes to Restated Consolidated Financial Information

iv Functional and presentation currency and Rounding off of the amounts:

The functional and presentation currency of the group is Indian rupees (INR). This Restated Consolidated Financial Information is presented in Indian rupees and all values are stated in Millions of Rupees except otherwise indicated.

v Current and non-current classification

The group has classified all its assets and liabilities under current and non-current as required by Ind AS 1- Presentation of Financial Statements. The asset is treated as current when it is:

- Expected to be realized or intended to be sold or consumed in normal operating cycle;
- Held primarily for purpose of trading;
- Expected to be realized within twelve months after the reporting period; or
- Cash or cash equivalent unless restricted from being exchanged or used to settle a liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period.

All other assets are classified as non-current.

All liabilities are current when:

- It is expected to be settled in normal operating cycle;
- It is held primarily for the purpose of trading;
- It is due to be settled within twelve months after the reporting period; or
- There is no unconditional right to defer the settlement of liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period.

All other liabilities are classified as non-current.

The operating cycle is the time between the acquisition of assets for processing and their realization in cash and cash equivalents. Deferred tax assets (including Minimum Alternate Tax Credit) and liabilities are always classified as non-current assets and liabilities.

B Revenue Recognition :

a) Revenue from sale of goods

Revenue is recognised upon transfer of control of promised goods to customers and there are no longer any unfulfilled obligations in an amount that reflects the consideration which the group expects to receive in exchange for those goods. Revenue from the sale of goods is recognised at the point in time when control is transferred to the customer.

Revenue is measured based on the transaction price, which is the consideration, net of customer incentives, discounts, variable considerations, payments made to customers, other similar charges, as specified in the contract with the customer. Additionally, revenue excludes taxes collected from customers, which are subsequently remitted to governmental authorities.

b) Revenue from services

- Revenue from services is recognized pro-rata over the year of the contract as and when services are rendered and the collectability is reasonably assured. The revenue is recognized net of Goods and service tax.
- Income from services is accounted for on completion of rendition of service and as per terms and conditions of agreement.
- Commission income as a service agent is accounted for on accrual basis and as per the terms of agreement.
- Service fees are accounted for when the financial partner disburses the loan to the identified client.
- Charges on Cancellation of Equated Monthly Installments (EMI) orders are accounted for on accrual basis.

iii) Interest Income:

Interest is accrued on a time proportion basis, by reference to the principle outstanding and at the effective interest rate applicable, which is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash receipts through the expected life of the financial asset to that asset's net carrying amount on initial recognition.

iii) Dividend Income:

Dividend income from investments is recognised when right to receive payment is established (provided that it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the group and the amount of income can be measured reliably).

C Property Plant and Equipment, Intangible Assets & Depreciation

Land and buildings held for use in the production or supply of goods or services, or for administrative purposes, are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses. Freehold land is not depreciated.

Property, Plant and Equipment are stated at cost of acquisition including attributable interest and finance costs, if any, till the date of acquisition/ installation of the assets less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses, if any. The cost of property, plant and equipment comprises its purchase price/ acquisition cost, net of any trade discounts and rebates, any import duties and other taxes (other than those subsequently recoverable from the tax authorities), any directly attributable expenditure on making the asset ready for its intended use, other incidental expenses and interest on borrowings attributable to acquisition of qualifying property, plant and equipment up to the date the asset is ready for its intended use.

Augmont Enterprises Limited (formerly known as Augmont Enterprises Private Limited)

CIN No: U74120MH2012PLC237346

Notes to Restated Consolidated Financial Information

The cost and related accumulated depreciation are eliminated from the Financial Statements, either on disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected to arise from continued use of the asset and the resultant gain or loss are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss as the difference between the sales proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset.

The Group follows Cost Model for measurement of items of Property Plant and Equipment and has not revalued any items of Property Plant and Equipment

Advances paid towards the acquisition of property, plant and equipment outstanding at each balance sheet date is classified as capital advances under "Other Non-Current Assets".

Parts of an item having different useful lives and significant value and subsequent expenditure relating to Property, Plant and Equipment is capitalised only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the Group and the cost of the item can be measured reliably. The carrying amount of any component accounted for as a separate asset is derecognised when replaced. All other repairs and maintenance costs are charged to the Restated Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss as incurred.

On transition to Ind AS, the Group has opted to continue with the carrying values measured under the previous GAAP as at 1 April 2022 of its Property, Plant and Equipment and use that carrying value as the deemed cost.

Depreciation on PPE is calculated on a written down value using the rates arrived at based on the useful lives prescribed in the Schedule II to the Companies Act, 2013 or the technical life estimated by the management.

Leasehold land, factory building and electrical installation constructed on leased land is amortized on a straight line basis over the period of lease or the useful life of the asset, whichever is lower. The estimated useful lives, residual values and depreciation method are reviewed at the end of each reporting period, with the effect of any changes in estimate accounted for on prospective basis.

In respect of following category of plant and machineries based on technical estimates and justifications, irrespective of the number of hours the plant and machinery has been operated the life as per management is as follows:

Land- Lease hold - 65 Years

Factory Building - 30 Years

Plant & Machinery -15 Years

Furniture & fixtures- 10 Years

Office Equipments- 5 Years

Electrical Installations - 5 Years

Computers - 3 Years

Vehicles- 8 Years

Motor cycle - 10 Years

Motor car - 8 Years

Leasehold Improvements - Over lease period

In respect of additions to /deletions from the PPE, depreciation is calculated on pro-rata basis with reference to the month of addition/deletion of the assets.

The group reviews the residual value, useful lives and depreciation method annually and, if expectations differ from previous estimates, the change is accounted for as a change in accounting estimate on a prospective basis.

During the year the Ideal Fiscal Services Limited (subsidiary) has changed method of depreciation from SLM to WDV prospectively and additional depreciation due to

Intangible Assets

Intangible assets are recognised when it is probable that the future economic benefits that are attributable to the asset will flow to the Group and the cost of the asset can be measured reliably. Intangible assets are stated at original cost net of tax/duty credits availed, if any, less accumulated amortisation and cumulative impairment. Administrative and other general overhead expenses that are specifically attributable to acquisition of intangible assets are allocated and capitalised as a part of the cost of the intangible assets. Intangible development costs are capitalised as and when technical and commercial feasibility of the asset is demonstrated and future economic benefits are probable.

The useful lives of intangible assets are assessed as either finite or indefinite. Intangible assets with finite lives are amortized over the useful economic life and assessed for impairment whenever there is an indication that the intangible asset may be impaired. The amortization period and the amortization method for an intangible asset with a finite useful life are reviewed at least at the end of each reporting period.

Subsequent costs are included in the asset's carrying amount or recognised as a separate asset, as appropriate, only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the entity and the cost can be measured reliably.

Intangible assets with finite useful lives that are acquired separately are carried at cost less accumulated amortisation and impairment losses. Amortisation of the asset begins when development is complete, and the asset is available for use. Amortisation is recognised on a straight-line basis over the useful lives of the asset from the date of capitalisation as below:

'- Computer software 3 years

'- Customer base acquisition 5 years

The estimated useful life and amortisation method is reviewed at the end of each reporting period and the effect of any changes in estimate is accounted for prospectively. Intangible assets are derecognised on disposal, or when no future economic benefits are expected from use or disposal. Gains or losses arising from derecognition of an intangible asset are determined as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount and recognised in the Restated Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss.

On transition to Ind AS, the Group has opted to continue with the carrying values measured under the previous GAAP as at 1 April 2022 of its Intangible Assets and used that carrying value as the deemed cost.

D Borrowing costs

Borrowing costs, general or specific, that are directly attributable to the acquisition or construction of qualifying assets is capitalised as part of such assets. A qualifying asset is one that necessarily takes substantial period to get ready for intended use. All other borrowing costs are charged to the Restated Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss.

The Group determines the amount of borrowing costs eligible for capitalisation as the actual borrowing costs incurred on that borrowing during the year less any interest income earned on temporary investment of specific borrowings pending their expenditure on qualifying assets, to the extent that an entity borrows funds specifically for the purpose of obtaining a qualifying asset. In case if the Group borrows generally and uses the funds for obtaining a qualifying asset, borrowing costs eligible for capitalisation are determined by applying a capitalisation rate to the expenditures on that asset.

Borrowing cost includes exchange differences arising from foreign currency borrowings to the extent they are regarded as an adjustment to the finance cost.

E Impairment

i. Impairment of Non Financial Assets :

At the end of each reporting period, the group reviews the carrying amounts of non financial assets (other than inventories, contract asset and deferred tax assets) to determine whether there is any indication that those assets have suffered an impairment loss. If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount of the assets is estimated in order to determine the extent of the impairment loss (if any). When it is not possible to estimate the recoverable amount of an individual asset, the group estimates the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit to which the assets are also allocated to individual cash-generating units, or otherwise they are allocated to the smallest group of cash-generating units for which a reasonable and consistent allocation basis can be identified.

Recoverable amount is the higher of fair value less costs of disposal and value in use. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset for which estimates of future cash flows have not been adjusted.

If the recoverable amount of an asset (or cash generating unit) is estimated to be less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount of the asset (or cash generating unit) is reduced to its recoverable amount. An impairment loss is recognised immediately in the Restated Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss.

When an impairment loss subsequently reverses, the carrying amount of the asset (or cash generating unit) is increased to the revised estimate of its recoverable amount, but so that the increased carrying amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined had no impairment loss been recognised for the asset (or cash generating unit) in prior years. A reversal of impairment loss is recognised immediately in the Restated Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss.

ii. Impairment of Financial Assets

In accordance with Ind AS 109, the Group applies the expected credit loss ("ECL") model for measurement and recognition of impairment loss on financial assets and credit risk exposures, other than those measured at Fair Value Through Profit and Loss (FVTPL).

The Group follows 'simplified approach' for recognition of impairment loss allowance on trade receivables. Simplified approach does not require the Group to track changes in credit risk. Rather, it recognises impairment loss allowance based on lifetime ECL at each reporting date, right from its initial recognition.

For recognition of impairment loss on other financial assets and risk exposure, the group determines that whether there has been a significant increase in the credit risk since initial recognition. If credit risk has not increased significantly, 12-month ECL is used to provide for impairment loss. However, if credit risk has increased significantly, lifetime ECL is used. If, in a subsequent period, credit quality of the instrument improves such that there is no longer a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition, then the entity reverts to recognising impairment loss allowance based on 12-month ECL.

ECL is the difference between all contractual cash flows that are due to the group in accordance with the contract and all the cash flows that the entity expects to receive (i.e., all cash shortfalls), discounted at the original EIR (or historical default rates). At every reporting date these historical default rates are reviewed and changes in the forward-looking estimates are analysed. Lifetime ECL are the expected credit losses resulting from all possible default events over the expected life of a financial instrument. The 12-month ECL is a portion of the lifetime ECL which results from default events that are possible within 12 months after the reporting date.

ECL impairment loss allowance (or reversal) recognised during the period is recognised as income/ expense in the Restated Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss.

F Financial Instruments:

A financial instrument is any contract that gives rise to a financial asset of one entity and a financial liability or equity instrument of another entity.

i) Financial Assets

Initial Recognition

Financial assets are recognised when an entity becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument

Financial assets are initially recognised at fair value. Transaction costs that are directly attributable to financial assets and liabilities [other than financial assets and liabilities measured at fair value through profit and loss (FVTPL)] are added to or deducted from the fair value of the financial assets or liabilities, as appropriate on initial recognition. Transaction costs directly attributable to acquisition of financial assets or liabilities measured at FVTPL are recognised immediately in the Restated Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss.

In the case of financial assets, not recorded at fair value through profit or loss (FVPL), financial assets are recognised initially at fair value plus transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition of the financial asset. Purchases or sales of financial assets that require delivery of assets within a time frame established by regulation or convention in the market place (regular way trades) are recognised on the trade date, i.e., the date that the group commits to purchase or sell the asset.

On initial recognition, a financial asset is classified as measured at:

- amortised cost; or
- FVTPL
- Fair Value through Other Comprehensive Income (FVTOCI)

Effective interest rate method

The effective interest rate method is a method of calculating the amortised cost of a debt instrument and allocating interest income over the relevant period. The effective interest rate is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash receipts (including all fees and points paid or received that form an integral part of the effective interest rate, transaction costs and other premiums or discounts) through the expected life of the debt instrument, or, where appropriate, a shorter period, to the net carrying amount on initial recognition.

Subsequent Measurement

Financial Assets at Amortised Cost

Financial assets are subsequently measured at amortised cost, using the effective interest rate ("EIR") method less impairment, if these financial assets are held within a business model with an objective to hold these assets in order to collect contractual cash flows and the contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding. Interest income from these financial assets is included in finance income using the EIR method (amortization of EIR). Impairment gains or losses arising on these assets are recognised in the Restated Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss.

Financial Assets Measured at Fair Value Through Other Comprehensive Income (FVTOCI)

Financial assets, except trade receivables and contract assets that are measured at transaction price, are measured at fair value through OCI if these financial assets are held within a business model with an objective to hold these assets in order to collect contractual cash flows or to sell these financial assets and the contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding. Movements in the carrying amount are taken through OCI, except for the recognition of impairment gains or losses, interest revenue and foreign exchange gains and losses which are recognised in the Restated Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss. On derecognition of the asset, cumulative gain or loss previously recognised in OCI is reclassified from the equity to Restated Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss. Interest earned whilst holding FVTOCI debt instrument is reported as interest income using the EIR method.

On transition to Ind AS, the Group has opted to continue with the carrying values measured under previous GAAP as at 1 April 2022 of its equity investments in subsidiaries and used that carrying value as deemed cost of these investments on date of transition i.e. 1 April 2022.

Financial assets measured at Fair Value Through Profit or Loss (FVTPL)

Financial asset which is not classified in the above categories are measured at FVTPL. Financial assets are reclassified subsequent to their recognition, if the Group changes its business model for managing those financial assets. Changes in business model are made and applied prospectively from the reclassification date which is the first day of immediately next reporting period following the changes in business model in accordance with principles laid down under Ind AS 109 – Financial Instruments.

On transition to Ind AS, the Group has opted to continue with carrying values measured under the previous GAAP as at 1 April 2022 of its equity investments in subsidiaries and used that carrying value as deemed cost of these investments on date of transition i.e. 1 April 2022.

Other Equity Investments

All other equity investments are measured at fair value, with value changes recognised in Restated Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss. However, dividend on such equity investments are recognised in Restated Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss when the Group's right to receive payment is established.

Derecognition of financial assets

The Group derecognises a financial asset when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the asset expire, or when it transfers the financial asset and substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of the asset to another party, or it neither transfers or retains substantially all of the risks and rewards of ownership and it does not retain control of the financial asset and the Group recognizes its retained interest in the assets and an associated liability for amounts it may have to pay.

If the Group retains substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of a transferred financial asset, the Group continues to recognise the financial asset and also recognises a collateralised borrowing for the proceeds received.

The Parent Company holding in Gold ETFs is classified as financial asset under Ind AS 32 and Ind AS 109 since the Parent Company has a contractual right to either settle the ETF units on net cash basis or by delivering physical units of equivalent gold. These are measured at fair value through profit and loss account under Ind AS 109 based on the classification and measurement criteria.

Purchase and sales of these units are presented on net basis under "Purchase of Stock-in-Trade / COGS" in the Restated Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss

ii) Equity Instruments and Financial Liabilities

Financial liabilities and equity instruments issued by the Group are classified according to the substance of the contractual arrangements entered into and the definitions of a financial liability and an equity instrument.

Equity Instruments

An equity instrument is any contract that evidences a residual interest in the assets of the Group after deducting all of its liabilities. Equity instruments which are issued for cash are recorded at the proceeds received, net of direct issue costs. Equity instruments which are issued for consideration other than cash are recorded at fair value of the equity instrument.

Repurchase of the Parent Company's own equity instruments is recognised and deducted directly in equity. No gain or loss is recognized in Restated Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss on the purchase, sale, issue or cancellation of the Parent Company's own equity instruments.

Classification as debt or equity

Debt and equity instruments issued by a Group are classified as either financial liabilities or as equity in accordance with the substance of the contractual arrangements and the definitions of a financial liability and an equity instrument.

Financial Liabilities

1) Initial Recognition

Financial liabilities are classified, at initial recognition, as financial liabilities at Amortised cost or 'FVTPL'. All financial liabilities are recognised initially at fair value and, in the case of loans and borrowings and payables, net of directly attributable transaction costs.

2) Subsequent Measurement

The measurement of financial liabilities depends on their classification, as described below

Financial liabilities at FVTPL

Financial liabilities at FVTPL include financial liabilities held for trading and financial liabilities designated upon initial recognition as at FVTPL. Financial liabilities are classified as held for trading if they are incurred for the purpose of repurchasing in the near term. Gains or losses on liabilities held for trading are recognised in the Restated Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss. For liabilities designated as FVTPL, fair value gains/losses attributable to changes in own credit risk are recognised in OCI.

Financial liabilities at amortised cost

After initial recognition, interest-bearing loans and borrowings are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the EIR method. Any difference between the proceeds (net of transaction costs) and the settlement or redemption of borrowings is recognised over the term of the borrowings in the Restated Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss.

Amortised cost is calculated by taking into account any discount or premium on acquisition and fees or costs that are an integral part of the EIR. The EIR amortisation is included as finance costs in the Restated Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss.

3) De-recognition of Financial Liabilities

Financial liabilities are de-recognised when the obligation specified in the contract is discharged, cancelled or expired. When an existing financial liability is replaced by another from the same lender on substantially different terms, or the terms of an existing liability are substantially modified, such an exchange or modification is treated as de-recognition of the original liability and recognition of a new liability. The difference in the respective carrying amounts is recognised in the Restated Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss.

iii) Offsetting Financial Instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset and the net amount is reported in the Restated Consolidated balance sheet if there is a currently enforceable legal right to offset the recognised amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis to realise the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously.

iv) Derivative Financial Instrument and Hedge accounting group uses derivative financial instruments, such as forward currency contracts to mitigate its foreign currency fluctuation risks. Such derivative financial instruments are initially recognized at fair value on the date on which a derivative contract is entered into and are subsequently re-measured at fair value at each reporting date. Gain or loss arising from changes in the fair value of heading instrument is recognized in the Restated Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss.

Derivatives are carried as financial assets when the fair value is positive and as financial liabilities when the fair value is negative.

Derecognition:

On derecognition of hedged item, the unamortized fair value, of the hedging instrument adjusted to the hedged items is recognized in the Restated Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss.

Derivative financial instruments

a) Derivative instruments not designated as Fair value hedges: The Group enters into a variety of derivative financial instruments to manage its exposure to foreign exchange rate risks, including foreign exchange forward contracts, future contracts and Options. Derivatives are initially recognised at fair value at the date the derivative contracts are entered into and are subsequently remeasured to their fair value at the end of each reporting period. The resulting gain or loss is recognised in the Restated Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss immediately unless the derivative is designated and effective as a hedging instrument, in which event the timing of the recognition in profit or loss depends on the nature of the hedging relationship and the nature of the hedged item.

b) Hedge Accounting:

The Group designates certain hedging instruments as fair value hedges.

Fair Value Hedge:

The Group has adopted fair value hedge for the derivative contracts entered into and designated derivative contracts or non derivative financial liabilities as instruments to mitigate the risk of change in fair value of hedged item due to movement in interest rates, foreign exchange rates and commodity prices. Changes in the fair value of hedging instruments and hedged items that are designated and qualify as fair value hedges are recorded in the Restated Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss with an adjustment to the carrying value of the hedged item. Hedge accounting is discontinued when the Group revokes the hedge relationship, the hedging instrument or hedged item expires or is sold, terminated, or exercised or no longer meets the criteria for hedge accounting. The Group designates derivative contracts as hedging instruments to mitigate the risk of change in fair value of hedged item i.e. fixed gold inventory due to movement in gold prices.

G Investment in Associates and Joint Ventures

The Group has accounted for its investments in associates and joint venture at cost less impairment loss (if any). The investments in preference shares with the right of surplus assets which are in nature of equity in accordance with Ind AS 32 are treated as separate category of investment and measured at FVTOCI.

H Measurement of Fair Values:

The Group measures financial instruments at fair value in accordance with the accounting policies mentioned above. Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. The fair value measurement is based on the presumption that the transaction to sell the asset or transfer the liability takes place either:

- In the principal market for the asset or liability or;
- In the absence of a principal market, in the most advantageous market for the asset or liability.

All assets and liabilities for which fair value is measured or disclosed in the Financial Statements are categorized within the fair value hierarchy that categorizes into three levels, described as follows, the inputs to valuation techniques used to measure value. The fair value hierarchy gives the highest priority to quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (Level 1 inputs) and the lowest priority to unobservable inputs (Level 3 inputs).

Level 1 — quoted (unadjusted) market prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities

Level 2 — inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly

Level 3 — inputs that are unobservable for the asset or liability

For the purpose of fair value disclosures, the Group has determined classes of assets and liabilities on the basis of the nature, characteristics and risks of the asset or liability and the level of the fair value hierarchy as explained above.

I Inventories

Inventories are valued as follows:

- i Finished Goods are valued at lower of cost or net realisable value. Cost of finished goods and work in progress are valued at standard cost which approximates actual cost.
Raw Materials and traded goods are valued at lower of cost or net realisable value. However, materials and other items held for use in the production of inventories are not written down below cost if the finished products in which they will be incorporated are expected to be sold at or above cost. Cost is determined on a FIFO basis. Cost of raw materials and traded goods comprises of cost of purchase and other cost in bringing the inventory to their present location and condition.
- ii Cost comprises all costs of purchase including duties and taxes (other than subsequently recoverable by the Group), freight inwards and other expenditure directly attributable to acquisition. Work-in-progress and finished goods include appropriate proportion of overheads.
- iii Net realisable value represents the estimated selling price for inventories less costs necessary to make the sale.

J Employee Benefits

Employee benefits include salaries, wages, provident fund contributions, gratuity and leave encashment for un-availed leave. These are accounted for in accordance with Ind AS 19 – Employee Benefits. Short-term benefits are recognized in the period in which services are rendered, while defined benefit obligations are measured using actuarial valuation.

i) Short-term Benefits

Short-term employee benefits such as salaries, wages, performance incentives etc. including non-monetary benefits that are expected to be settled within 12 months after the end of the period in which the employees render the related service are recognised in respect of employees' services up to the end of the reporting period and are measured at the amounts expected to be paid when the liabilities are settled at the undiscounted amounts in the Restated Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss of the period in which the related service is rendered. Expenses on non-accumulating compensated absences is recognised in the period in which the absences occur. The liabilities are presented as current employee benefit obligations in the Restated Consolidated balance sheet.

Post Employment Benefit

ii) Defined Contribution Plan

Under a defined contribution plan, the Group's only obligation is to pay a fixed amount with no obligation to pay further contributions if the fund does not hold sufficient assets to pay all employee benefits. The related actuarial and investment risks fall on the employee. Contributions to defined contribution schemes such as provident fund, employees' state insurance, labour welfare are charged as an expense based on the amount of contribution required to be made as and when services are rendered by the employees. The above benefits are classified as Defined Contribution Schemes as the Group has no further obligations beyond the monthly contributions.

ii) Defined Benefit Plan

The Group also provides for gratuity which is based on present value of defined benefit obligation, the liabilities of which is determined based on valuations, as at the restated consolidated balance sheet date, made by an independent actuary using the projected unit credit method. The gratuity liability of the group is unfunded. Re-measurement, comprising of actuarial gains and losses, in respect of gratuity are recognised in the OCI, in the period in which they occur. Re-measurement recognised in OCI are not reclassified to the Restated Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss in subsequent periods. Past service cost is recognised in the Restated Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss in the year of plan amendment or curtailment. The classification of the Group's obligation into current and non-current is as per the actuarial valuation report.

K Accounting for Taxation of Income

The income tax expense or credit for the period is the tax payable on the current period's taxable income based on the applicable income tax rate for each jurisdiction adjusted by changes in deferred tax assets and liabilities attributable to temporary differences and to unused tax losses. Income tax is recognised as an expense or income in the Restated Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss, except to the extent it relates to items directly recognised in equity or in OCI.

i) Current taxes

The tax currently payable is based on taxable profit for the year. Current income tax is recognised based on the estimated tax liability (taxable profit) computed after taking credit for allowances and exemptions in accordance with the Income Tax Act, 1961. Taxable profit differs from 'profit before tax' as reported in the Restated Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss because of items of income or expense that are taxable or deductible in other years and items that are never taxable or deductible. Current income tax assets and liabilities are measured at the amount expected to be recovered from or paid to the taxation authorities. The tax rates and tax laws used to compute the amount are those that are enacted or substantively enacted, at the reporting date.

ii) Deferred taxes

Deferred tax is determined by applying the Balance Sheet approach. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognised for all deductible temporary differences between the Financial Statements' carrying amount of existing assets and liabilities and their respective tax base. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using the enacted tax rates or tax rates that are substantively enacted at the Balance Sheet date. The effect on deferred tax assets and liabilities of a change in tax rates is recognised in the period that includes the enactment date. Deferred tax assets are only recognised to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profits will be available against which the temporary differences can be utilised. Such assets are reviewed at each Balance Sheet date to reassess realisation and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profit will be available to allow all or part of the deferred tax asset to be utilised. Unrecognised deferred tax assets are re-assessed at each reporting date and are recognised to the extent that it has become probable that future taxable profits will allow the deferred tax asset to be recovered.. Such deferred tax assets and liabilities are not recognised if the temporary difference arises from the initial recognition (other than in a business combination) of assets and liabilities in a transaction that affects neither the taxable profit nor the accounting profit. In addition, deferred tax liabilities are not recognised if the temporary difference arises from the initial recognition of goodwill.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the year when the asset is realised or the liability is settled, based on tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted at the reporting date.

Deferred tax relating to items recognised outside profit or loss is recognised outside profit or loss (either in other comprehensive income or in equity). Deferred tax items are recognised in correlation to the underlying transaction either in Other Comprehensive Income or directly in equity.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset when there is a legally enforceable right to offset current tax assets and liabilities and when the deferred tax balances relate to the same taxation authority.

L Foreign Currency Transactions

- i) Foreign currency transactions are initially recorded in the reporting currency, by applying to the foreign currency amount the exchange rate between the reporting currency and the foreign currency at the date of the transaction. However, for practical reasons, the Group uses a monthly average rate if the average rate approximate the actual rate at the date of the transactions.
- ii) Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are reported using the closing rate at the reporting date. Non-monetary items which are carried in terms of historical cost denominated in a foreign currency are reported using the exchange rate at the date of the transaction.
- iii) Exchange differences arising on settlement/ restatement of short-term foreign currency monetary assets and liabilities of the Group are recognised as income or expense in the Restated Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss except those arising from investment in Non Integral operations.

M Provisions and Contingent Liabilities:

- i) Provisions: A provision is recognised when the Group has a present obligation as a result of past events and it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation, in respect of which a reliable estimate can be made.
The amount recognised as a provision is the best estimate of the consideration required to settle the present obligation at the end of the reporting period, taking into account the risks and uncertainties surrounding the obligation. When a provision is measured using the cash flows estimated to settle the present obligation, its carrying amount is the present value of those cash flows (when the effect of time value of money is material)
- ii) Contingent liabilities are disclosed in respect of possible obligations that arise from past events, whose existence would be confirmed by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events not wholly within the control of the Group. A contingent liability also arises, in rare cases, where a liability cannot be recognised because it cannot be measured reliably.
- iii) Contingent assets are disclosed in the Financial Statements when the economic benefits are probable or inflow becomes virtually certain.

N Events after reporting period

Events after the reporting period are those events, favourable and unfavourable, that occur between the end of the reporting period and the date when the Restated Consolidated Financial Information is approved by the Board of Directors in case of a Parent company, and, by the corresponding approving authority in case of any other entity for issue. Two types of events can be identified:

- i) those that provide evidence of conditions that existed at the end of the reporting period (adjusting events after the reporting period); and
ii) those that are indicative of conditions that arose after the reporting period (non-adjusting events after the reporting period).

The Group adjusts the amounts recognised in its Restated Consolidated Financial Information to reflect adjusting events after the reporting period.

The Group does not adjust the amounts recognised in its Restated Consolidated Financial Information to reflect non-adjusting events after the reporting period.

O Leases

The Group assesses whether a contract contains a lease, at the inception of the contract. A contract is, or contains, a lease if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration. To assess whether a contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset, the Group assesses whether (i) the contract involves the use of identified asset; (ii) the Group has substantially all of the economic benefits from the use of the asset through the period of lease and (iii) the Group has right to direct the use of the asset.

As a Lessee

As per Ind AS 116 – Leases As a lessee, the Group generally recognises for all leases a right-of-use asset and a corresponding liability at the date at which the leased asset is available for use by the Group.

As a general rule, the Group separates non-lease components, such as services from lease payments.

Lease liabilities are initially measured at the present value of the lease payments that are not paid at the commencement date, taking into account the incremental borrowing rate.

Lease payments are discounted using the interest rate implicit in the lease contracts if that rate can be determined from the lease contracts. If the discount rate cannot be readily determined, which is generally the case for leases in the group, the lessee's incremental borrowing rate is used, being the rate that the individual lessee would have to pay to borrow the funds necessary to obtain an asset of similar value to the right-of-use asset in a similar economic environment with similar terms, security and conditions.

A right-of-use asset is generally recognized at the same amount as the lease liability adjusted for any lease payments made at or before the commencement date, plus any initial direct costs incurred and an estimate of costs to dismantle and remove the underlying asset or to restore the underlying asset or the site on which it is located, less any lease incentives received. After capitalization at commencement date, whereby the right-of-use asset is measured at cost i.e. right-of-use asset at cost less accumulated depreciation and cumulative impairment, if any, the right-of-use asset is generally depreciated over the lease term using the straight-line method from the commencement date to the earlier of the end of the useful life of the right-of-use asset or the end of the lease term. The estimated useful lives of right-of-use assets are determined on the same basis as those of property, plant and equipment. In addition, the right-of-use asset is periodically reduced by impairment losses, if any, and adjusted for certain remeasurements of the lease liability. Lease payments are allocated between principal and finance cost. The finance cost is charged to consolidated profit and loss account over the lease period so as to produce a constant periodic rate of interest on the remaining balance of liability for each period.

The Group exercises the exemption for lease arrangements with a maximum term of 12 months (short term leases) and low-value assets. Payments associated with such short-term leases and low-value assets are recognised as an expense in Restated Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss. Variable lease payments that depend on usage and/or other variable conditions are recognised in the Restated Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss in the period in which the conditions that trigger those payments occur.

P Earnings Per Share

Basic earnings per share is computed by dividing the consolidated net profit or loss for the period attributable to the equity shareholders of the Group by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period. The weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period and for all periods presented is adjusted for events, such as bonus shares, other than the conversion of potential equity shares, that have changed the number of equity shares outstanding, without a corresponding change in resources.

Diluted earnings per share is computed by dividing the consolidated net profit or loss for the period attributable to the equity shareholders of the Group and weighted average number of equity shares considered for deriving basic earnings per equity share and also the weighted average number of equity shares that could have been issued upon conversion of all dilutive potential equity shares. The dilutive potential equity shares are adjusted for the proceeds receivable had the equity shares been actually issued at fair value (i.e. the average market value of the outstanding equity shares).

Q Cash and Cash Equivalents:

Cash and cash equivalents comprise of cash on hand and cash at banks including fixed deposit/ highly liquid investments with original maturity period of three months or less that are readily convertible to known amounts of cash and which are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value.

R Cash Flow Statements:

Cash flows are reported using the indirect method, whereby net profit before tax is adjusted for the effects of transactions of a non-cash nature, any deferrals or accruals of past or future operating cash receipts or payments and item of income or expenses associated with investing or financing cash flows. The cash flow from operating, investing and financing activities of group is segregated.

S Segments reporting

Operating segments are reported in the manner consistent with the internal reporting to the chief operating decision maker (CODM). The accounting policies adopted for segment reporting are in line with the accounting policies of the Group. The business of the Group falls within a single line of business i.e. manufacturing and trading of Gold, Silver, etc. All other activities of the Group around its main business. Hence no separate reportable primary segment.

T Employee stock compensation cost

Employees (including senior executives) of the Subsidiary Company ('Augmont Goldtech Private Limited (Formerly Known As Augmont Precious Metals Private Limited') receive remuneration in the form of share-based payments, whereby employees render services as consideration for equity instruments (equity-settled transactions). The cost of equity-settled transactions is determined by the fair value at the date when the grant is made using an appropriate valuation model. Further details are given in Note 39.

That cost is recognised, together with a corresponding increase in share options outstanding account in equity, over the period in which the performance and/or service conditions are fulfilled in employee benefits expense.

The cumulative expense recognised for equity-settled transactions at each reporting date until the vesting date reflects the extent to which the vesting period has expired and the Subsidiary Company's best estimate of the number of equity instruments that will ultimately vest. The expense or credit in the statement of profit and loss for a period represents the movement in cumulative expense recognised as at the beginning and end of that period and is recognised in employee benefits expense.

The dilutive effect of outstanding options is reflected as additional share dilution in the computation of diluted earnings per share.

Delta Effect of +1% Change in Rate of Employee Turnover	14.72	(10.30)	(9.47)
Delta Effect of -1% Change in Rate of Employee Turnover	15.72	11.50	10.81

The sensitivity analysis have been determined based on reasonably possible changes of the respective assumptions occurring at the end of the reporting period, while holding all other assumptions constant.

The sensitivity analysis presented above may not be representative of the actual change in the Defined Benefit Obligation as it is unlikely that the change in assumptions would occur in isolation of one another as some of the assumptions may be correlated

Furthermore, in presenting the above sensitivity analysis, the present value of the Defined Benefit Obligation has been calculated using the projected unit credit method at the end of the reporting period, which is the same method as applied in calculating the Defined Benefit Obligation as recognised in the balance sheet

There was no change in the methods and assumptions used in preparing the sensitivity analysis from the previous year except for rate discounting and rate of employee turnover .

B) Fair value hierarchy

The following is the hierarchy for determining and disclosing the fair value of financial instruments by valuation technique:

Inputs used in determining fair value measurements are categorised into different levels based on how observable the inputs used in the valuation technique utilised are (the 'fair value hierarchy')

- Level 1 - Quoted prices in active markets for identical items (unadjusted)
- Level 2 - Inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (i.e. as prices) or indirectly (i.e. derived from prices).
- Level 3 - Unobservable inputs (i.e. not derived from market data).

Fair value of Financial Assets and Liabilities measured at amortized cost:

The fair value of other current financial assets, cash and cash equivalents, trade receivables, other financial assets, trade payables and other financial liabilities approximate the carrying amounts because of the short-term nature of these financial instruments.

The amortized cost using effective interest rate (EIR) of non-current financial assets consisting of security deposits are not significantly different from the carrying amount.

Financial risk management objective

The group has in place a risk management framework to identify, evaluate business risks and challenges across the group both at corporate level as also separately for each business division. These risks include market risk, credit risk and liquidity risk.

The group minimises the effects of these risks by using derivative financial instruments to hedge risk exposures. The use of derivative financial instruments and investment of excess liquidity is governed by the group's policies approved by the Board of Directors, which provide written principles on the use of such instruments consistent with the group's risk management strategy.

a. Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk of financial loss to the group if a customer or counterparty to a financial instrument fails to meet its contractual obligations, and arises principally from the group's receivables from customers and investment securities. The carrying amounts of financial assets represent the maximum credit exposure.

Trade receivables

The group extends credit to customers in normal course of business. The group considers factors such as credit track record in the market and past dealings for extension of credit to customers. To manage credit risk, the group periodically assesses the financial reliability of the customer, taking into account the financial condition, current economic trends, and analysis of historical bad debts and ageing of accounts receivables. Outstanding customer receivables are regularly monitored to make an assessment of recoverability. Receivables are provided as doubtful / written off, when there is no reasonable expectation of recovery. Where receivables have been provided / written off, the group continues regular follow up, engage with the customers, legal options / any other remedies available with the objective of recovering these outstandings. The group is not exposed to concentration of credit risk to any one single customer since services are provided to vast spectrum. The group also takes security deposits, advances , post dated cheques etc from its customers, which mitigate the credit risk to an extent.

The group applies the Ind AS 109 simplified approach for measuring expected credit losses which uses a lifetime expected loss allowance (ECL) for trade receivables. The application of simplified approach does not require the group to track changes in credit risk. Rather, it recognises impairment loss allowance based on lifetime ECLs at each reporting date, right from its initial recognition. To measure the expected credit losses, trade receivables have been grouped based on shared credit risk characteristics and the days past due. The group's trade receivable are generally having credit period upto 60 days and historically, majority of trade receivables are recovered subsequently.

Computation of Allowance for impairment losses:

ECL is computed based on the trade receivable as at reporting period by applying the bucket wise lifetime loss rate (PDs) determined for each reporting period.

Other financial assets:

Balances with banks are considered to have negligible risk or nil risk, as they are maintained with high rated banks / financial institutions as approved by the Board of directors. Other financial assets mainly includes deposit given. Based on assessment carried by the group, entire receivable under this category is classified as "Stage 1". There is no history of loss and credit risk and the amount of provision for expected credit losses on other financial assets is negligible.

Investments in companies

The group does not perceive any credit risk pertaining to investments.

Cash and cash equivalents

The group held cash and cash equivalents with credit worthy banks of Rs. 868.94 millions as at 31st March 2026 Rs. 1736.12 millions as at 31 March 2025 and Rs. 1761.91 millions as at 31 March 2024 respectively. The credit worthiness of such banks and financial institutions is evaluated by the management on an ongoing basis and is considered to be good.

The group has no other financial assets that are past due but not impaired.

b. Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the group will encounter difficulty in meeting the obligations associated with its financial liabilities that are settled by delivering cash or another financial asset.

The group's approach to managing liquidity is to ensure, as far as possible, that it will have sufficient liquidity to meet its liabilities when they are due, under both normal and stressed conditions, without incurring unacceptable losses or risking damage to the group's reputation.

Exposure to liquidity risk

The table below summarises the maturity profile of the group's financial liabilities at the balance sheet date based on contractual undiscounted repayment obligations.

c. Market risk

The market risks to which the group is exposed are price risk {refer note (i) below} and foreign currency risk {refer note (ii) below}.

i) Price Risk:

The group is exposed to fluctuations in gold price (including fluctuations in foreign currency) arising on purchase/sale of gold.

To manage the variability, the group enters into derivative financial instruments to manage the risk associated with gold price fluctuations relating to the inventory lying with the group. Such derivative financial instruments are primarily in the nature of future commodity contracts and forward foreign exchange contracts.

The use of such derivative financial instruments is governed by the group's policies approved by the Board of Directors, which provide written principles on the use of such instruments consistent with the group's risk management strategy.

As the value of the derivative instrument generally changes in response to the value of the hedged item, the economic relationship is established.

Fair value hedge

The group designates derivative contracts as hedging instruments to mitigate the risk of change in fair value of hedged item due to movement in gold prices. Changes in the fair value of hedging instruments and hedged items that are designated and qualify as fair value hedges are recorded in the Statement of Profit and Loss. Therefore, there will be no impact of the fluctuation in the price of the gold on the group's profit for the period.

The table below shows the position of hedging instruments as on the balance sheet date for the Parent Company:

There are no open hedge positions for the year ended 31st March 2026

The table below shows the position of hedging instruments as on 31st March 2025:

ii) Foreign currency risk management

The group is exposed to foreign exchange risk arising through its sales and purchases denominated in various foreign currencies

I. The risk management strategy on foreign currency exchange fluctuation arising on account of purchase/sale of gold is covered in Note c (i) above.

II. In respect of normal purchase and sale transactions denominated in foreign currency, the group enters into forward foreign exchange contracts contracts to mitigate the risk of changes in exchange rates on foreign currency exposures. These contracts are measured at fair value through profit and loss.The group is mainly exposed to USD.

The carrying amounts of the Group's unhedged foreign currency denominated monetary assets and monetary liabilities at the end of the reporting period are as follows:

Currency	Liabilities as at			Assets as at

Note 42: Impact of New Labour Codes

On November 21, 2025, the Government of India notified four Labour Codes - the Code on Wages, 2019, the Industrial Relations Code, 2020, the Code on Social Security, 2020, and the Occupational Safety, Health and Working Conditions Code, 2020, collectively referred to as the 'New Labour Codes', consolidating 29 existing labour laws. The Ministry of Labour & Employment has published draft Central Rules and FAQs on December 30, 2025, to facilitate assessment of the financial impact arising from these regulatory changes. As per the managements estimates, the Company does not have any impact of the enacted labour code on the employee benefits that needs to be recognized during the year. The Company continues to monitor the finalisation of Central and State Rules and clarifications from the Government on the New Labour Codes and would provide appropriate accounting effect on the basis of such developments, as needed.

OVERVIEW

For information in relation to our business, see "Our Business" on page 233.

SIGNIFICANT FACTORS AFFECTING OUR RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

Our results of operations and financial condition are affected by a number of important factors including:

Prices of gold and silver and our ability to procure such materials

Our business is dependent on the continuous and cost-effective procurement of gold and silver. The prices of gold and silver are affected by several interrelated factors including prices set by the LBMA, international supply and demand trends, international logistics and freight rates, the US Dollar volatility index, futures and options open positions, and volatility in alternative digital assets. Domestic factors that affect gold and silver prices include disparity between domestic and international gold and silver prices, domestic supply and demand fluctuations, premiums charged by banks, applicable central and local taxes. (Source: Technopak Report)

We procure refined gold and silver from sources such as Indian and international banks. We import doré bars (which have lower duties on import by 0.65% as compared to directly importing refined gold) and then refine them and sell our products. We also procure scrap gold and silver from individuals and jewellers and at jewellery auctions at reduced rates for our refining operations. Further, we have set up a subsidiary, Augmont IFSC Private Limited, in GIFT City for the import of refined gold and silver through the IIBX. Our ability to procure such materials from multiple sources and in bulk quantities enables us to benefit from favourable pricing terms and sell our products throughout the year.

The majority of our cost structure is attributed to the procurement of such materials. Our cost of materials consumed, which represents the cost of the doré bars that we import and other unrefined gold and silver for our refining operations, was ₹ 207,001.69 million, ₹ 189,480.77 million and ₹ 95,779.14 million or 21.96%, 28.60% and 27.41%, of our total income for Fiscals 2026, 2025 and 2024, respectively. Our purchases of stock in trade, which represents the cost of the refined gold and silver that we buy and sell to customers, was ₹ 731,545.87 million, ₹ 468,497.85 million and ₹ 251,322.99 million or 77.59%, 70.71% and 71.91%, of our total income for Fiscals 2026, 2025 and 2024, respectively.

The gold and silver that we procure is typically on a purchase order basis and our ability to procure such materials is subject to a number of risks and uncertainties. These include volatility in global commodity prices, fluctuations in foreign exchange rates, changes in import duties and tariffs, and evolving regulatory frameworks governing bullion trade. Further, geopolitical tensions, trade restrictions, or sanctions affecting key bullion-exporting countries could disrupt international supply chains and affect our ability to source adequate amounts of gold and silver. Any inability on our part to procure sufficient quantities of gold and silver and on commercially acceptable terms, could lead to a change in our sales volumes and affect our results of operations. For further details, see “Risk Factors – Our business is dependent on the continuous and cost-effective procurement of gold and silver bullion. The countries or regions we currently import bullion from, may become subject to sanctions, import duties or export controls and our inability to procure sufficient quantities of bullion may have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.” on page 29.

Volume of products sold

The key driver in the growth of our revenue from operations has been the volume of gold and silver products sold by us. Increased sales volume favourably affects our results of operations as it enables us to benefit from economies of scale in procurement and manufacturing. In addition, in order to maximize our profits, we must maintain optimum levels of capacity utilization at our refining units and manufacturing facilities and an appropriate standard of quality in our equipment, processes and products. Attaining and maintaining this level of utilization and quality requires considerable expense and planning. If we are unable to achieve and maintain optimum levels of capacity utilization at our facilities in the future, our results of operations and financial condition may be adversely affected.

We do not enter into any long-term agreements with our customers and sell products when orders are raised by them. Hence, our actual production volumes may differ significantly from our estimates due to variations in customer demand for our products. Since the number of orders that our customers place with us may differ from quarter to quarter, our results of operations have fluctuated in the past and we expect this trend to continue in the future. Further, the demand for gold and silver is influenced by a variety of factors, including global and domestic economic conditions, inflation and interest rate trends, currency fluctuations, geopolitical tensions, and changes in disposable income and consumer sentiment. A sustained decline in gold prices or a shift in consumer or investor preference away from precious metals could reduce the attractiveness of our products and affect our sales volumes.

Our distribution network

Our online platforms ‘Augmont SPOT’ and ‘Augmont Gold For All’ are complemented by our physical distribution network, which helps us deliver our products to customers on a pan-India basis and increase our sales volumes. For Augmont SPOT, we have 20 spot delivery centers located in key hubs across 13 states in India to deliver the gold and silver bars that are purchased by businesses, as of March 31, 2026. Of these, nine spot delivery centers are operated directly by us, while 11 are operated through franchisees. We intend to set up new physical delivery centers across Tier 3 and Tier 4 cities in India and set up 15 new centers by Fiscal 2029.

For our consumer-focused offerings vertical, our physical network comprised 106 Gold-For-All centers that are operated by our Group Company, Finkurve, as of March 31, 2026. Further, we have arrangements in the form of agreements with leading jewellers such as Kalyan Jewellers and CaratLane pursuant to which consumers can redeem digital gold at their outlets. We also serve consumers through our alliances (in the form of agreements) with platforms such as Gullak and Candere, pursuant to which consumers can place orders for digital gold and silver products directly on these platforms. If our customers opt for redemption and delivery of digital gold (primarily, coins and jewellery), we fulfil such orders and our backend systems ensure automated order confirmation, packaging and dispatch of the products. Further, our investment jewellery products are available across 3,700 physical branches of Muthoot Fincorp. (Source: Technopak Report) We have also entered into an agreement with an NBFC pursuant to which customers can purchase our jewellery and bullion products at their stores, while we handle the fulfilment and secure delivery of such orders. We have also onboarded 705 independent financial agents to increase the sale of our products as of March 31, 2026. However, most of our arrangements for our consumer-focused offerings vertical are non-exclusive and may be subject to termination or non-renewal at the discretion of the counterparties.

We seek to grow the reach of our products and increase the penetration of our products in markets in which we are currently present. Consequently, our ability to expand our distribution network and effectively manage our existing network will affect our results of operations.

Government regulations and policies

Our operations span across multiple segments of the gold and silver value chain including procurement and refining, bullion trading, digital gold offerings, jewellery manufacturing, international sales and gold-backed financial services. We operate in highly regulated industries and are required to comply with a complex and evolving framework of laws, rules, and regulations. We are required to obtain and maintain numerous approvals, registrations, and licenses from various regulatory authorities including the Directorate General of Foreign Trade, Bureau of Indian Standards, Goods and Services Tax authorities, local municipal bodies, customs authorities, and securities market regulators. Our refining and manufacturing operations are also subject to environmental, health and safety, and labor laws. Further, our business could be affected by geopolitical tensions and tariffs imposed on India by other countries. Consequently, any adverse changes in the laws and regulations that we are subject to or our inability to comply with them could affect our business and results of operations.

The Restated Consolidated Financial Information for all periods upto and including year ended 31 March 2024 were prepared in accordance with the Companies (Accounting Standards) Rules, 2006 notified under Section 133 of the Act, read with Rule 7 of the Companies (Accounts) Rules, 2014 (as amended) ("previous GAAP"). The Consolidated Financial Statements for the year ended 31 March 2024 are the first Financial Statements prepared by our Company in accordance with Ind AS.

The Restated Consolidated Financial Information have been prepared on accrual basis under the historical cost convention with the exception of certain financial assets and liabilities (including derivative instruments) which have been measured at fair value as required by relevant Ind AS.

Accounting policies have been consistently applied except where a newly issued accounting standard is initially adopted or a revision to an existing accounting standard requires a change in the accounting policy hitherto in use.

The statement of cash flows have been prepared under indirect method.

Historical cost is generally based on the fair value of the consideration given in exchange for goods and services. Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at measurement date.

All the assets and liabilities have been classified as current and non-current as per normal operating cycle of our Company and other criteria set out in as per the guidance set out in Schedule III to the Act. Based on nature of services, our Company ascertained its operating cycle as 12 months for the purpose of current and non-current classification of asset and liabilities.

The Restated Consolidated Financial Information have been prepared in accordance with the Indian Accounting Standards notified under Section 133 of Companies Act, 2013 (the Act) read with Companies Indian Accounting Standards (Ind AS) Rules, 2015 and other relevant provisions of the Act and rules framed thereunder.

The Restated Consolidated Financial Statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention and on accrual basis, except for certain financial assets and liabilities measured at fair value and defined benefit plan assets that are measured at fair value as explained in accounting policies below.

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date, regardless of whether that price is directly observable or estimated using another valuation technique. In estimating the fair value of an asset or a liability, our Company takes into account the characteristics of the asset or liability if market participants would take those characteristics into account when pricing the asset or liability at the measurement date.

The Restated Consolidated Financial Statements are presented in ‘Indian Rupees’, which is also our Company’s functional currency. All amounts are rounded to the nearest million, unless otherwise stated.

Principles of Consolidation

The Restated Consolidated Financial Statements comprise the financial statements of our Company, Subsidiaries and Associates. The Restated Consolidated Financial Statements of our Company have been prepared in accordance with the Indian Accounting Standards on “Consolidated Financial Statements” (Ind AS 110), “Disclosure of Interest in Other Entities” (Ind AS 112), “Investment in Associates and Joint Ventures” (Ind AS 28) notified under Section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013.

a) Subsidiaries

Subsidiaries are entities controlled by our Company. Our Company controls an entity when it is exposed to, or has rights to, variable returns from its involvement with the entity and has the ability to affect those returns through its power over the entity. The Financial Statements of subsidiaries are included in the Restated Consolidated Financial Statements from the date on which controls commences until the date on which control ceases.

b) Non-Controlling Interest

Non-controlling interest in the net assets of the consolidated subsidiaries consists of:

- i) The amount of equity attributable to non-controlling shareholders at the date on which the investments in the subsidiary companies were made.
- b) The non-controlling share of movements in equity since the date the Parent-Subsidiary relationship comes into existence

The total comprehensive income of subsidiaries is attributed to the owners of our Company and to the non-controlling interests even if this results in the noncontrolling interest having deficit balance.

c) Loss of Control

When our Company loses control over a subsidiary, it derecognises the assets and liabilities of the subsidiary, and any related NCI and other components of equity. Any interest retained in the former subsidiary is measured at fair value at the date the control is lost. Any resulting gain or loss is recognised in the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss.

d) Transaction Eliminated on Consolidation

The Financial Statements of our Company used in the consolidation procedure are drawn upto the same reporting date, i.e., March 31, 2026.

The financial statements of our Company and our subsidiary companies are combined on a line-by-line basis by adding together of like-items of assets, liabilities, income and expenses, after eliminating material intragroup balances and intra-group transactions and resulting unrealised profits or losses on intra-group transactions. Unrealised losses are eliminated in the same way as unrealised gains, but only to the extent that there is no evidence of impairment.

Business Combinations and Goodwill/ Capital Reserve

Business combinations are accounted for using the acquisition method. The cost of an acquisition is measured as the aggregate of the consideration transferred measured at acquisition date fair value and the amount of any non-controlling interests in the acquiree. Any excess of purchase consideration over the fair value of net identifiable assets is recognized as goodwill. If the net assets acquired exceed the consideration, the difference is recognized as a bargain purchase gain and treated as Capital Reserve. After initial recognition, goodwill is measured at cost less any accumulated impairment losses. For each business combination, our Company elects whether to measure the non-controlling interests in the acquiree at fair value or at the proportionate share of the acquiree’s identifiable net assets. Acquisition-related costs are expensed as incurred. The interest of non-controlling shareholders is initially measured either at fair value or at the non-controlling interests’ proportionate share of the acquiree’s identifiable net assets. The choice of measurement is made on an acquisition-by acquisition basis. Subsequent to acquisition, the carrying amount of non-controlling interests is the amount of those interests at initial recognition plus the non-controlling interests' share of subsequent changes in equity of subsidiaries.

Business Combination under Common Control

Business combinations involving entities that are ultimately controlled by the same part(ies) before and after the business combination are considered as Common control entities and are accounted using the pooling of interest method as follows:

- a) The assets and liabilities of the combining entities are reflected at their carrying amounts
- b) No adjustments are made to reflect the fair values, or recognise new assets or liabilities. Adjustments are made to harmonise accounting policies
- c) The financial information in the Financial Statements in respect of prior periods is restated as if the business combination has occurred from the beginning of the preceding period in the Financial Statements, irrespective of the actual date of the combination

The balance of the retained earnings appearing in the Financial Statements of the transferor is aggregated with the corresponding balance appearing in the Financial Statements of the transferee or is adjusted against general reserve

The identity of the reserves is preserved and the reserves of the transferor become the reserves of the transferee. The difference if any, between the amounts recorded as share capital plus any additional consideration in the form of cash or other assets and the amount of share capital of the transferor is transferred to capital reserve and is presented separately from other capital reserves.

Use of estimates and judgements

The preparation of Financial Information in conformity with Ind AS requires management to make judgements, estimates and assumptions that affect the application of accounting policies and the reported amount of assets and liabilities, revenues and expenses and disclosure of contingent liabilities at the date of consolidated financial statement. Such estimates and assumptions are based on management's evaluation of relevant facts and circumstances as on the date of Restated Consolidated Financial Statements. The actual outcome may differ from those estimates.

The estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised in the period in which the estimate is revised if the revision affects only that period, or in the period of the revision and future periods if the revision affects both current and future periods.

This note provides an overview of the areas where there is a higher degree of judgment or complexity. Detailed information about each of these estimates and judgments is included in relevant notes together with information about the basis of calculation.

Following are the areas involving critical estimates and judgements:

Judgement:

- i) Leases
- ii) Evaluation of recoverability of deferred tax assets, and estimation of income tax payable and income tax expense in relation to an uncertain tax position
- iii) Provisions
- iv) Contingencies

Estimates:

- i) Accounting for Defined benefit plans
- ii) Useful lives of property, plant and equipment and intangible assets
- iii) Fair value of financial instruments
- iv) Valuation of inventories

Functional and presentation currency and rounding off of the amounts:

The functional and presentation currency of our Company is Indian rupees (INR). This Restated Consolidated Financial Information are presented in Indian rupees and all values are stated in millions of rupees except otherwise indicated.

Current and non-current classification

Our Company has classified all its assets and liabilities under current and non-current as required by Ind AS 1- Presentation of Financial Statements. The asset is treated as current when it is:

- Expected to be realized or intended to be sold or consumed in normal operating cycle;
- Held primarily for purpose of trading;
- Expected to be realized within twelve months after the reporting period; or
- Cash or cash equivalent unless restricted from being exchanged or used to settle a liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period.

All other assets are classified as non-current.

All liabilities are current when:

- It is expected to be settled in normal operating cycle;
- It is held primarily for the purpose of trading;
- It is due to be settled within twelve months after the reporting period; or
- There is no unconditional right to defer the settlement of liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period.

All other liabilities are classified as non-current.

The operating cycle is the time between the acquisition of assets for processing and their realization in cash and cash equivalents. Deferred tax assets (including Minimum Alternate Tax Credit) and liabilities are always classified as non-current assets and liabilities.

Revenue Recognition

Revenue from sale of goods

Revenue is recognised upon transfer of control of promised goods to customers and there are no longer any unfulfilled obligations in an amount that reflects the consideration which our Company expects to receive in exchange for those goods. Revenue from the sale of goods is recognised at the point in time when control is transferred to the customer.

Revenue is measured based on the transaction price, which is the consideration, net of customer incentives, discounts, variable considerations, payments made to customers, other similar charges, as specified in the contract with the customer. Additionally, revenue excludes taxes collected from customers, which are subsequently remitted to governmental authorities.

Revenue from services

- Revenue from services is recognized pro-rata over the year of the contract as and when services are rendered and the collectability is reasonably assured. The revenue is recognized net of Goods and Services tax.
- Income from services is accounted for on completion of rendition of service and as per terms and conditions of agreement.
- Commission income as a service agent is accounted for on accrual basis and as per the terms of agreement.
- Service fees are accounted for when the financial partner disburses the loan to the identified client.
- Charges on cancellation of equated monthly installments orders are accounted for on accrual basis.

Interest Income

Interest is accrued on a time proportion basis, by reference to the principle outstanding and at the effective interest rate applicable, which is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash receipts through the expected life of the financial asset to that asset's net carrying amount on initial recognition.

Dividend Income

Dividend income from investments is recognised when right to receive payment is established (provided that it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to our Company and the amount of income can be measured reliably).

Property Plant and Equipment, Intangible Assets and Depreciation

Land and buildings held for use in the production or supply of goods or services, or for administrative purposes, are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses. Freehold land is not depreciated.

Property, plant and equipment are stated at cost of acquisition including attributable interest and finance costs, if any, till the date of acquisition/ installation of the assets less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses, if any. The cost of property, plant and equipment comprises its purchase price/ acquisition cost, net of any trade discounts and rebates, any import duties and other taxes (other than those subsequently recoverable from the tax authorities), any directly attributable expenditure on making the asset ready for its intended use, other incidental expenses and interest on borrowings attributable to acquisition of qualifying property, plant and equipment up to the date the asset is ready for its intended use.

The cost and related accumulated depreciation are eliminated from the financial statements, either on disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected to arise from continued use of the asset and the resultant gain or loss are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss as the difference between the sales proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset.

Our Company follows cost model for measurement of items of property plant and equipment and has not revalued any items of Property Plant and Equipment

Advances paid towards the acquisition of property, plant and equipment outstanding at each balance sheet date is classified as capital advances under "Other Non-Current Assets".

Parts of an item having different useful lives and significant value and subsequent expenditure relating to property, plant and equipment is capitalised only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to our Company and the cost of the item can be measured reliably. The carrying amount of any component accounted for as a separate asset is derecognised when replaced. All other repairs and maintenance costs are charged to the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss as incurred.

On transition to Ind AS, our Company has opted to continue with the carrying values measured under the previous GAAP as at 1 April 2022 of its Property, Plant and Equipment and use that carrying value as the deemed cost.

Depreciation on PPE is calculated on a written down value using the rates arrived at based on the useful lives prescribed in the Schedule II to the Companies Act, 2013 or the technical life estimated by the management.

Leasehold land, factory building and electrical installation constructed on leased land is amortized on a straight line basis over the period of lease or the useful life of the asset, whichever is lower. The estimated useful lives, residual values and depreciation method are reviewed at the end of each reporting period, with the effect of any changes in estimate accounted for on prospective basis.

In respect of following category of plant and machineries based on technical estimates and justifications, irrespective of the number of hours the plant and machinery has been operated the life as per management is as follows:

Land- Lease hold	65 years
Factory Building	30 years
Plant & Machinery	15 years
Furniture & fixtures	10 years
Office Equipments	5 years
Electrical Installations	5 years
Computers	3 years
Vehicles	8 years
Motor cycle	10 years

Motor car	8 years
Leasehold Improvements	Over lease period

In respect of additions to /deletions from the PPE, depreciation is calculated on pro-rata basis with reference to the month of addition/deletion of the assets.

Our Company reviews the residual value, useful lives and depreciation method annually and, if expectations differ from previous estimates, the change is accounted for as a change in accounting estimate on a prospective basis.

During the year the Ideal Fiscal Services Limited has changed method of depreciation from SLM to WDV prospectively and additional depreciation due to change of method amounting to ₹ 286,103 is charged to profit and loss account.

Intangible Assets

Intangible assets are recognised when it is probable that the future economic benefits that are attributable to the asset will flow to our Company and the cost of the asset can be measured reliably. Intangible assets are stated at original cost net of tax/duty credits availed, if any, less accumulated amortisation and cumulative impairment. Administrative and other general overhead expenses that are specifically attributable to acquisition of intangible assets are allocated and capitalised as a part of the cost of the intangible assets. Intangible development costs are capitalised as and when technical and commercial feasibility of the asset is demonstrated and future economic benefits are probable.

The useful lives of intangible assets are assessed as either finite or indefinite. Intangible assets with finite lives are amortized over the useful economic life and assessed for impairment whenever there is an indication that the intangible asset may be impaired. The amortization period and the amortization method for an intangible asset with a finite useful life are reviewed at least at the end of each reporting period.

Subsequent costs are included in the asset's carrying amount or recognised as a separate asset, as appropriate, only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the entity and the cost can be measured reliably.

Intangible assets with finite useful lives that are acquired separately are carried at cost less accumulated amortisation and impairment losses. Amortisation of the asset begins when development is complete, and the asset is available for use.

Amortisation is recognised on a straight-line basis over the useful lives of the asset from the date of capitalisation as below:

- Computer software - 3 years

The estimated useful life and amortisation method is reviewed at the end of each reporting period and the effect of any changes in estimate is accounted for prospectively.

Intangible assets are derecognised on disposal, or when no future economic benefits are expected from use or disposal. Gains or losses arising from derecognition of an intangible asset are determined as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount and recognised in the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss.

On transition to Ind AS, our Company has opted to continue with the carrying values measured under the previous GAAP as at 1 April 2022 of its Intangible Assets and used that carrying value as the deemed cost.

Borrowing costs

Borrowing costs, general or specific, that are directly attributable to the acquisition or construction of qualifying assets is capitalised as part of such assets. A qualifying asset is one that necessarily takes substantial period to get ready for intended use. All other borrowing costs are charged to the consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss.

Our Company determines the amount of borrowing costs eligible for capitalisation as the actual borrowing costs incurred on that borrowing during the year less any interest income earned on temporary investment of specific borrowings pending their expenditure on qualifying assets, to the extent that an entity borrows funds specifically for the purpose of obtaining a qualifying asset. In case if our Company borrows generally and uses the funds for obtaining a qualifying asset, borrowing costs eligible for capitalisation are determined by applying a capitalisation rate to the expenditures on that asset.

Borrowing cost includes exchange differences arising from foreign currency borrowings to the extent they are regarded as an adjustment to the finance cost.

Impairment

Impairment of Non Financial Assets

At the end of each reporting period, our Company reviews the carrying amounts of non-financial assets (other than inventories, contract asset and deferred tax assets) to determine whether there is any indication that those assets have suffered an impairment loss. If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount of the assets is estimated in order to determine the extent of the impairment loss (if any). When it is not possible to estimate the recoverable amount of an individual asset, our Company estimates the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit to which the assets are also allocated to individual cash-generating units, or otherwise they are allocated to the smallest group of cash-generating units for which a reasonable and consistent allocation basis can be identified.

Recoverable amount is the higher of fair value less costs of disposal and value in use. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre_x0002_ tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset for which estimates of future cash flows have not been adjusted.

If the recoverable amount of an asset (or cash generating unit) is estimated to be less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount of the asset (or cash generating unit) is reduced to its recoverable amount. An impairment loss is recognised immediately in the consolidated statement of profit and loss.

When an impairment loss subsequently reverses, the carrying amount of the asset (or cash generating unit) is increased to the revised estimate of its recoverable amount, but so that the increased carrying amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined had no impairment loss been recognised for the asset (or cash generating unit) in prior years. A reversal of impairment loss is recognised immediately in the consolidated statement of profit and loss.

Impairment of Financial Assets

In accordance with Ind AS 109, our Company applies the expected credit loss ("ECL") model for measurement and recognition of impairment loss on financial assets and credit risk exposures, other than those measured at Fair Value Through Profit and Loss ("FVTPL").

Our Company follows 'simplified approach' for recognition of impairment loss allowance on trade receivables. Simplified approach does not require our Company to track changes in credit risk. Rather, it recognises impairment loss allowance based on lifetime ECL at each reporting date, right from its initial recognition.

For recognition of impairment loss on other financial assets and risk exposure, our Company determines that whether there has been a significant increase in the credit risk since initial recognition. If credit risk has not increased significantly, 12-month ECL is used to provide for impairment loss. However, if credit risk has increased significantly, lifetime ECL is used. If, in a subsequent period, credit quality of the instrument improves such that there is no longer a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition, then the entity reverts to recognising impairment loss allowance based on 12-month ECL.

ECL is the difference between all contractual cash flows that are due to our Company in accordance with the contract and all the cash flows that the entity expects to receive (i.e., all cash shortfalls), discounted at the original EIR (or historical default rates). At every reporting date these historical default rates are reviewed and changes in the forward-looking estimates are analysed. Lifetime ECL are the expected credit losses resulting from all possible default events over the expected life of a financial instrument. The 12-month ECL is a portion of the lifetime ECL which results from default events that are possible within 12 months after the reporting date.

ECL impairment loss allowance (or reversal) recognised during the period is recognised as income/ expense in the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss.

Financial Instruments

A financial instrument is any contract that gives rise to a financial asset of one entity and a financial liability or equity instrument of another entity.

Financial Assets

Initial Recognition

Financial assets are recognised when an entity becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument

Financial assets are initially recognised at fair value. Transaction costs that are directly attributable to financial assets and liabilities other than financial assets and liabilities measured at fair value through profit and loss are added to or deducted from the fair value of the financial assets or liabilities, as appropriate on initial recognition. Transaction costs directly attributable to acquisition of financial assets or liabilities measured at FVTPL are recognised immediately in the consolidated statement of profit and loss.

In the case of financial assets, not recorded at fair value through profit or loss ("FVPL"), financial assets are recognised initially at fair value plus transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition of the financial asset. Purchases or sales of financial assets that require delivery of assets within a time frame established by regulation or convention in the market place (regular way trades) are recognised on the trade date, i.e., the date that our Company commits to purchase or sell the asset.

On initial recognition, a financial asset is classified as measured at:

- amortised cost; or
- FVTPL
- Fair Value through Other Comprehensive Income ("FVTOCI")

Effective interest rate method

The effective interest rate method is a method of calculating the amortised cost of a debt instrument and allocating interest income over the relevant period. The effective interest rate is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash receipts (including all fees and points paid or received that form an integral part of the effective interest rate, transaction costs and other premiums or discounts) through the expected life of the debt instrument, or, where appropriate, a shorter period, to the net carrying amount on initial recognition.

Subsequent Measurement

Financial Assets at Amortised Cost

Financial assets are subsequently measured at amortised cost, using the effective interest rate ("EIR") method less impairment, if these financial assets are held within a business model with an objective to hold these assets in order to collect contractual cash flows and the contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding. Interest income from these financial assets is included in finance income using the EIR method (amortization of EIR). Impairment gains or losses arising on these assets are recognised in the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss.

Financial Assets Measured at Fair Value Through Other Comprehensive Income (FVTOCI)

Financial assets, except trade receivables and contract assets that are measured at transaction price, are measured at fair value through OCI if these financial assets are held within a business model with an objective to hold these assets in order to collect contractual cash flows or to sell these financial assets and the contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding. Movements in the carrying amount are taken through OCI, except for the recognition of impairment gains or losses, interest revenue and foreign exchange gains and losses which are recognised in the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss. On derecognition of the asset, cumulative gain or loss previously recognised in OCI is reclassified from the equity to consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss. Interest earned whilst holding FVTOCI debt instrument is reported as interest income using the EIR method.

On transition to Ind AS, our Company has opted to continue with the carrying values measured under the previous GAAP as at 1 April 2022 of its equity investments in subsidiaries and used that carrying value as the deemed cost of these investments on the date of transition i.e. 1 April 2022.

Financial assets measured at Fair Value Through Profit or Loss (FVTPL)

Financial asset which is not classified in the above categories are measured at FVTPL. Financial assets are reclassified subsequent to their recognition, if our Company changes its business model for managing those financial assets. Changes in business model are made and applied prospectively from the reclassification date which is the first day of immediately next reporting period following the changes in business model in accordance with principles laid down under Ind AS 109 – Financial Instruments.

On transition to Ind AS, our Company has opted to continue with the carrying values measured under the previous GAAP as at 1 April 2022 of its equity investments in subsidiaries and used that carrying value as the deemed cost of these investments on the date of transition i.e. 1 April 2022.

Other Equity Investments

All other equity investments are measured at fair value, with value changes recognised in Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss. However, dividend on such equity investments are recognised in Consolidated Statement of Profit and loss when our Company's right to receive payment is established.

Derecognition of financial assets

Our Company derecognises a financial asset when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the asset expire, or when it transfers the financial asset and substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of the asset to another party, or it neither transfers or retains substantially all of the risks and rewards of ownership and it does not retain control of the financial asset and our Company recognizes its retained interest in the assets and an associated liability for amounts it may have to pay.

If our Company retains substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of a transferred financial asset, our Company continues to recognise the financial asset and also recognises a collateralised borrowing for the proceeds received.

Our Company's holding in gold ETFs is classified as financial asset under Ind AS 32 and Ind AS 109 since our Company has a contractual right to either settle the ETF units on net cash basis or by delivering physical units of equivalent gold. These are measured at fair value through profit and loss account under Ind AS 109 based on the classification and measurement criteria.

Purchase and sales of these units are presented on net basis under "Purchase of Stock-in-Trade / COGS" in the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss

Equity Instruments and Financial Liabilities

Financial liabilities and equity instruments issued by our Company are classified according to the substance of the contractual arrangements entered into and the definitions of a financial liability and an equity instrument.

Equity Instruments

An equity instrument is any contract that evidences a residual interest in the assets of our Company after deducting all of its liabilities. Equity instruments which are issued for cash are recorded at the proceeds received, net of direct issue costs. Equity instruments which are issued for consideration other than cash are recorded at fair value of the equity instrument.

Repurchase of our Company's own equity instruments is recognised and deducted directly in equity. No gain or loss is recognized in Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss on the purchase, sale, issue or cancellation of our Company's own equity instruments.

Classification as debt or equity

Debt and equity instruments issued by a Group are classified as either financial liabilities or as equity in accordance with the substance of the contractual arrangements and the definitions of a financial liability and an equity instrument.

Financial Liabilities

Initial Recognition

Financial liabilities are classified, at initial recognition, as financial liabilities at Amortised cost or 'FVTPL'. All financial liabilities are recognised initially at fair value and, in the case of loans and borrowings and payables, net of directly attributable transaction costs.

Subsequent Measurement

The measurement of financial liabilities depends on their classification, as described below

Financial liabilities at FVTPL

Financial liabilities at FVTPL include financial liabilities held for trading and financial liabilities designated upon initial recognition as at FVTPL. Financial liabilities are classified as held for trading if they are incurred for the purpose of repurchasing in the near term. Gains or losses on liabilities held for trading are recognised in the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss. For liabilities designated as FVTPL, fair value gains/losses attributable to changes in own credit risk are recognised in OCI.

Financial liabilities at amortised cost

After initial recognition, interest-bearing loans and borrowings are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the EIR method. Any difference between the proceeds (net of transaction costs) and the settlement or redemption of borrowings is recognised over the term of the borrowings in the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss.

Amortised cost is calculated by taking into account any discount or premium on acquisition and fees or costs that are an integral part of the EIR. The EIR amortisation is included as finance costs in the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss.

De-recognition of Financial Liabilities

Financial liabilities are de-recognised when the obligation specified in the contract is discharged, cancelled or expired. When an existing financial liability is replaced by another from the same lender on substantially different terms, or the terms of an existing liability are substantially modified, such an exchange or modification is treated as de-recognition of the original liability and recognition of a new liability. The difference in the respective carrying amounts is recognised in the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss.

Offsetting Financial Instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset and the net amount is reported in the Consolidated Balance Sheet if there is a currently enforceable legal right to offset the recognised amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis to realise the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously.

Derivative Financial Instrument and Hedge accounting

We use derivative financial instruments, such as forward currency contracts to mitigate its foreign currency fluctuation risks. Such derivative financial instruments are initially recognized at fair value on the date on which a derivative contract is entered into and are subsequently re-measured at fair value at each reporting date. Gain or loss arising from changes in the fair value of heading instrument is recognized in the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss.

Derivatives are carried as financial assets when the fair value is positive and as financial liabilities when the fair value is negative.

Derecognition

On derecognition of hedged item, the unamortized fair value, of the hedging instrument adjusted to the hedged items is recognized in the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss.

Derivative financial instruments

Derivative instruments not designated as fair value hedges

Our Company enters into a variety of derivative financial instruments to manage its exposure to foreign exchange rate risks, including foreign exchange forward contracts, future contracts and Options. Derivatives are initially recognised at fair value at the date the derivative contracts are entered into and are subsequently remeasured to their fair value at the end of each reporting period. The resulting gain or loss is recognised in the consolidated statement of profit and loss immediately unless the derivative is designated and effective as a hedging instrument, in which event the timing of the recognition in profit or loss depends on the nature of the hedging relationship and the nature of the hedged item.

Hedge Accounting

Our Company designates certain hedging instruments as fair value hedges.

Fair Value Hedge

Our Company has adopted fair value hedge for the derivative contracts entered into and designated derivative contracts or non-derivative financial liabilities as instruments to mitigate the risk of change in fair value of hedged item due to movement in interest rates, foreign exchange rates and commodity prices. Changes in the fair value of hedging instruments and hedged items that are designated and qualify as fair value hedges are recorded in the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss with an adjustment to the carrying value of the hedged item. Hedge accounting is discontinued when our Company revokes the hedge relationship, the hedging instrument or hedged item expires or is sold, terminated, or exercised or no longer meets the criteria for hedge accounting. Our Company designates derivative contracts as hedging instruments to mitigate the risk of change in fair value of hedged item i.e. fixed gold inventory due to movement in gold prices.

Investment in Associates and Joint Ventures

Our Company has accounted for its investments in associates and joint venture at cost less impairment loss (if any). The investments in preference shares with the right of surplus assets which are in nature of equity in accordance with Ind AS 32 are treated as separate category of investment and measured at FVTOCI.

Measurement of Fair Values

Our Company measures financial instruments at fair value in accordance with the accounting policies mentioned above. Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. The fair value measurement is based on the presumption that the transaction to sell the asset or transfer the liability takes place either:

- In the principal market for the asset or liability or;
- In the absence of a principal market, in the most advantageous market for the asset or liability.

All assets and liabilities for which fair value is measured or disclosed in the Financial Statements are categorized within the fair value hierarchy that categorizes into three levels, described as follows, the inputs to valuation techniques used to measure value. The fair value hierarchy gives the highest priority to quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (Level 1 inputs) and the lowest priority to unobservable inputs (Level 3 inputs).

Level 1 — quoted (unadjusted) market prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities

Level 2 — inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly

Level 3 — inputs that are unobservable for the asset or liability

For the purpose of fair value disclosures, our Company has determined classes of assets and liabilities on the basis of the nature, characteristics and risks of the asset or liability and the level of the fair value hierarchy as explained above.

Inventories

Inventories are valued as follows:

i) Finished Goods are valued at lower of cost or net realisable value. Cost of finished goods and work in progress are valued at standard cost which approximates actual cost.

ii) Raw Materials and traded goods are valued at lower of cost or net realisable value. However, materials and other items held for use in the production of inventories are not written down below cost if the finished products in which they will be incorporated are expected to be sold at or above cost. Cost is determined on a FIFO basis. Cost of raw materials and traded goods comprises of cost of purchase and other cost in bringing the inventory to their present location and condition.

Cost comprises all costs of purchase including duties and taxes (other than those subsequently recoverable by our Company), freight inwards and other expenditure directly attributable to acquisition. Work-in-progress and finished goods include appropriate proportion of overheads.

Net realisable value represents the estimated selling price for inventories less costs necessary to make the sale.

Net realizable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business, less estimated costs of completion and estimated costs necessary to make the sale.

Employee Benefits

Employee benefits include salaries, wages, contribution to provident fund, gratuity, leave encashment towards un-availed leave, compensated absences, post-retirement medical benefits and other terminal benefits.

Short-term Benefits

Short-term employee benefits such as salaries, wages, performance incentives etc. including non-monetary benefits that are expected to be settled within 12 months after the end of the period in which the employees render the related service are recognised in respect of employees' services up to the end of the reporting period and are measured at the amounts expected to be paid when the liabilities are settled at the undiscounted amounts in the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss of the period in which the related service is rendered. Expenses on non-accumulating compensated absences is recognised in the period in which the absences occur. The liabilities are presented as current employee benefit obligations in the Consolidated balance sheet.

Post Employment Benefit

Defined Contribution Plan

Under a defined contribution plan, our Company's only obligation is to pay a fixed amount with no obligation to pay further contributions if the fund does not hold sufficient assets to pay all employee benefits. The related actuarial and investment risks fall on the employee. Contributions to defined contribution schemes such as provident fund, employees' state insurance, labour welfare are charged as an expense based on the amount of contribution required to be made as and when services are rendered by the employees. The above benefits are classified as Defined Contribution Schemes as our Company has no further obligations beyond the monthly contributions.

Defined Benefit Plan

Our Company also provides for gratuity which is based on present value of defined benefit obligation, the liabilities of which is determined based on valuations, as at the consolidated balance sheet date, made by an independent actuary using the projected unit credit method. The gratuity liability of our Company is unfunded. Re-measurement, comprising of actuarial gains and losses, in respect of gratuity are recognised in the OCI, in the period in which they occur. Re-measurement recognised in OCI are not reclassified to the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss in subsequent periods. Past service cost is recognised in the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss in the year of plan amendment or curtailment. The classification of our Company's obligation into current and non-current is as per the actuarial valuation report.

Accounting for Taxation of Income

The income tax expense or credit for the period is the tax payable on the current period's taxable income based on the applicable income tax rate for each jurisdiction adjusted by changes in deferred tax assets and liabilities attributable to temporary differences and to unused tax losses. Income tax is recognised as an expense or income in the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss, except to the extent it relates to items directly recognised in equity or in OCI.

Current taxes

The tax currently payable is based on taxable profit for the year. Current income tax is recognised based on the estimated tax liability (taxable profit) computed after taking credit for allowances and exemptions in accordance with the Income Tax Act, 1961. Taxable profit differs from 'profit before tax' as reported in the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss because of items of income or expense that are taxable or deductible in other years and items that are never taxable or deductible. Current income tax assets and liabilities are measured at the amount expected to be recovered from or paid to the taxation authorities. The tax rates and tax laws used to compute the amount are those that are enacted or substantively enacted, at the reporting date.

Deferred taxes

Deferred tax is determined by applying the balance sheet approach. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognised for all deductible temporary differences between the Financial Statements' carrying amount of existing assets and liabilities and their respective tax base. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using the enacted tax rates or tax rates that are substantively enacted at the Balance Sheet date. The effect on deferred tax assets and liabilities of a change in tax rates is recognised in the period that includes the enactment date. Deferred tax assets are only recognised to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profits will be available against which the temporary differences can be utilised. Such assets are reviewed at each Balance Sheet date to reassess realisation and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profit will be available to allow all or part of the deferred tax asset to be utilised. Unrecognised deferred tax assets are re-assessed at each reporting date and are recognised to the extent that it has become probable that future taxable profits will allow the deferred tax asset to be recovered. Such deferred tax assets and liabilities are not recognised if the temporary difference arises from the initial recognition (other than in a business combination) of assets and liabilities in a transaction that affects neither the taxable profit nor the accounting profit. In addition, deferred tax liabilities are not recognised if the temporary difference arises from the initial recognition of goodwill.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the year when the asset is realised or the liability is settled, based on tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted at the reporting date.

Deferred tax relating to items recognised outside profit or loss is recognised outside profit or loss (either in other comprehensive income or in equity). Deferred tax items are recognised in correlation to the underlying transaction either in Other Comprehensive Income or directly in equity.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset when there is a legally enforceable right to offset current tax assets and liabilities and when the deferred tax balances relate to the same taxation authority.

Foreign Currency Transactions

i) Foreign currency transactions are initially recorded in the reporting currency, by applying to the foreign currency amount the exchange rate between the reporting currency and the foreign currency at the date of the transaction. However, for practical reasons, our Company uses a monthly average rate if the average rate approximate the actual rate at the date of the transactions.

ii) Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are reported using the closing rate at the reporting date. Non-monetary items which are carried in terms of historical cost denominated in a foreign currency are reported using the exchange rate at the date of the transaction.

iii) Exchange differences arising on settlement/ restatement of short-term foreign currency monetary assets and liabilities of our Company are recognised as income or expense in the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss except those arising from investment in non-integral operations.

Provisions and Contingent Liabilities

i) Provisions: A provision is recognised when our Company has a present obligation as a result of past events and it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation in respect of which a reliable estimate can be made.

The amount recognised as a provision is the best estimate of the consideration required to settle the present obligation at the end of the reporting period, taking into account the risks and uncertainties surrounding the obligation. When a provision is measured using the cash flows estimated to settle the present obligation, its carrying amount is the present value those cash flows (when the effect of time value of money is material).

ii) Contingent liabilities are disclosed in respect of possible obligations that arise from past events, whose existence would be confirmed by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events not wholly within the control of our Company. A contingent liability also arises, in rare cases, where a liability cannot be recognised because it cannot be measured reliably.

iii) Contingent assets are disclosed in the Financial Statements when the economic benefits is probable or inflow becomes virtually certain.

Events after reporting period

Events after the reporting period are those events, favourable and unfavourable, that occur between the end of the reporting period and the date when the Restated Consolidated Financial Information are approved by the Board of Directors in case of a Parent company, and, by the corresponding approving authority in case of any other entity for issue. Two types of events can be identified:

i) those that provide evidence of conditions that existed at the end of the reporting period (adjusting events after the reporting period); and

ii) those that are indicative of conditions that arose after the reporting period (non-adjusting events after the reporting period).

Our Company adjusts the amounts recognised in its Restated Consolidated Financial Information to reflect adjusting events after the reporting period.

Our Company does not adjust the amounts recognised in its Restated Consolidated Financial Information to reflect non-adjusting events after the reporting period.

Leases

Our Company assesses whether a contract contains a lease, at the inception of the contract. A contract is, or contains, a lease if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration. To assess whether a contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset, our Company assesses whether (i) the contract involves the use of identified asset; (ii) our Company has substantially all of the economic benefits from the use of the asset through the period of lease and (iii) our Company has right to direct the use of the asset.

As a Lessee

As per Ind AS 116 – Leases As a lessee, our Company generally recognises for all leases a right-of-use asset and a corresponding liability at the date at which the leased asset is available for use by our Company.

As a general rule, our Company separates non-lease components, such as services from lease payments.

Lease liabilities are initially measured at the present value of the lease payments that are not paid at the commencement date, taking into account the incremental borrowing rate.

Lease payments are discounted using the interest rate implicit in the lease contracts if that rate can be determined from the lease contracts. If the discount rate cannot be readily determined, which is generally the case for leases in our Company, the lessee's incremental borrowing rate is used, being the rate that the individual lessee would have to pay to borrow the funds necessary to obtain an asset of similar value to the right-of-use asset in a similar economic environment with similar terms, security and conditions.

A right-of-use asset is generally recognized at the same amount as the lease liability adjusted for any lease payments made at or before the commencement date, plus any initial direct costs incurred and an estimate of costs to dismantle and remove the underlying asset or to restore the underlying asset or the site on which it is located, less any lease incentives received. After capitalization at commencement date, whereby the right-of-use asset is measured at cost i.e. right-of-use asset at cost less accumulated depreciation and cumulative impairment, if any, the right-of-use asset is generally depreciated over the lease term using the straight-line method from the commencement date to the earlier of the end of the useful life of the right-of-use asset or the end of the lease term. The estimated useful lives of right-of-use assets are determined on the same basis as those of property, plant and equipment. In addition, the right-of-use asset is periodically reduced by impairment losses, if any, and adjusted for certain remeasurements of the lease liability. Lease payments are allocated between principal and finance cost. The finance cost is charged to consolidated profit and loss account over the lease period so as to produce a constant periodic rate of interest on the remaining balance of liability for each period.

Our Company exercises the exemption for lease arrangements with a maximum term of 12 months (short term leases) and low-value assets. Payments associated with such short-term leases and low-value assets are recognised as an expense in Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss. Variable lease payments that depend on usage and/or other variable conditions are recognised in the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss in the period in which the conditions that trigger those payments occur.

Earnings Per Share

Basic earnings per share is computed by dividing the consolidated net profit or loss for the period attributable to the equity shareholders of our Company by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period. The weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period and for all periods presented is adjusted for events, such as bonus shares, other than the conversion of potential equity shares, that have changed the number of equity shares outstanding, without a corresponding change in resources.

Diluted earnings per share is computed by dividing the consolidated net profit or loss for the period attributable to the equity shareholders of our Company and weighted average number of equity shares considered for deriving basic earnings per equity share and also the weighted average number of equity shares that could have been issued upon conversion of all dilutive potential equity shares. The dilutive potential equity shares are adjusted for the proceeds receivable had the equity shares been actually issued at fair value (i.e. the average market value of the outstanding equity shares).

Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents comprise of cash on hand and cash at banks including fixed deposit/ highly liquid investments with original maturity period of three months or less that are readily convertible to known amounts of cash and which are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value.

Cash Flow Statements

Cash flows are reported using the indirect method, whereby net profit before tax is adjusted for the effects of transactions of a non-cash nature, any deferrals or accruals of past or future operating cash receipts or payments and item of income or expenses associated with investing or financing cash flows. The cash flow from operating, investing and financing activities of group is segregated.

Segments reporting

Operating segments are reported in the manner consistent with the internal reporting to the chief operating decision maker (CODM). The accounting policies adopted for segment reporting are in line with the accounting policies of our Company. The business of our Company falls within a single line of business i.e. manufacturing and trading of gold, silver, etc. All other activities of our Company around its main business. Hence no separate reportable primary segment.

Employee stock compensation cost

Employees (including senior executives) of our Subsidiary, Augmont Goldtech Private Limited (formerly known as Augmont Precious Metals Private Limited) receive remuneration in the form of share-based payments, whereby employees render services as consideration for equity instruments (equity-settled transactions). The cost of equity-settled transactions is determined by the fair value at the date when the grant is made using an appropriate valuation model.

That cost is recognised, together with a corresponding increase in share options outstanding account in equity, over the period in which the performance and/or service conditions are fulfilled in employee benefits expense.

The cumulative expense recognised for equity-settled transactions at each reporting date until the vesting date reflects the extent to which the vesting period has expired and the Subsidiary Company's best estimate of the number of equity instruments that will ultimately vest. The expense or credit in the statement of profit and loss for a period represents the movement in cumulative expense recognised as at the beginning and end of that period and is recognised in employee benefits expense.

The dilutive effect of outstanding options is reflected as additional share dilution in the computation of diluted earnings per share.

First Time Adoption of IND AS

These Consolidated Financial Statement includes Group's first Financial Statements prepared in accordance with Ind AS.

The accounting policies set out above have been applied in preparing the consolidated Financial Statements for the year ended March 31, 2024, the comparative information presented in these consolidated Financial Statements for the year ended March 31, 2023 and in the preparation of an opening Ind AS balance sheet as at April 1, 2022 (our Company's date of transition). In preparing its opening Ind AS balance sheet, our Company has adjusted the amounts reported previously in consolidated Financial Statements prepared in accordance with accounting standards notified under Companies(Accounting Standards) Rules, 2006 (as amended) and other relevant provisions of the Act (previous GAAP or Indian GAAP).An explanation of how the transition from previous GAAP to Ind AS has affected our Company's financial position, financial performance and cash flows is set out in the following notes :

Exemptions and Exceptions Availed

Ind AS optional exemptions

Ind AS 101 allows first time adopters certain exemptions from the retrospective application of certain requirements under Ind AS. Our Company has applied the following exemptions:

a) Deemed cost

Ind AS 101 permits a first time adopter to elect to fair value of its property, plant and equipment as recognised in consolidated Financial Statements as at the date of transition to Ind AS, measured as per previous GAAP and use that as its deemed cost as at the date of transition or apply principles of Ind AS retrospectively. Ind AS 101 also permits the first time adopter to elect to continue with the carrying value for all of its property, plant and equipment as recognised in the consolidated Financial Statements as at the date of transition to Ind AS. This exemption can be also used for intangible assets covered by Ind-AS 38.

b) For financial instruments, wherein fair market values are not available (viz. interest free and below market rate security deposits or loans) our Company has elected to adopt fair value recognition prospectively to transactions entered after the date of transition.

Ind AS mandatory exceptions

a) Estimates

An entity estimates in accordance with Ind AS at the date of transition to Ind AS shall be consistent with estimates made for the same date in accordance with previous GAAP (after adjustments to reflect any difference in accounting policies), unless there is objective evidence that those estimates were in error. Ind AS estimates at April 1, 2022 are consistent with the estimates as at the same date made in conformity with previous GAAP.

b) Derecognition of financial assets and financial liabilities

Ind AS 101 requires a first time adopter to apply the derecognition provisions of Ind AS 109 prospectively for transactions occurring on or after the date of transition to Ind AS. Accordingly, our Company has applied the derecognition requirement for financial assets and financial liabilities in Ind AS 109 prospectively for transactions occurring on or after date of transition to Ind AS.

c) Classification of financial assets and liabilities

Ind AS 101 requires an entity to assess classification and measurement of financial assets on the basis of facts and circumstances that exist on the date of transition to Ind AS. Accordingly, our Company has applied the above requirement prospectively. Ind AS 101 requires an entity to assess classification of financial assets on the basis of facts and circumstances existing as on the date of transition. Further, the standard permits measurement of financial assets accounted at amortised cost based on facts and circumstances existing at the date of transition if retrospective application is impracticable. Accordingly, our Company has determined the classification of financial assets based on facts and circumstances that exist on the date of transition. Measurement of financial assets accounted at amortised cost has been done retrospectively except where the same is impracticable.

d) Impairment of financial assets

Ind AS 101 requires an entity to assess and determine the impairment allowance on financial assets as per Ind AS 109 using the reasonable and supportable information that is available without undue cost or effort to determine the credit risk at the date that financial instruments which were initially recognised and compare that to the credit risk at the date of transition to Ind AS. Our Company has applied this exception prospectively.

Ministry of Corporate Affairs ("MCA") notifies new standards or amendments to the existing standards under Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules as issued from time to time. As on 12th August 2024, the MCA amended the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Amendment Rules, 2024, introducing a new standard, Ind AS 117 - Insurance Contracts, which replaces the existing Ind AS 104 - Insurance Contracts. Consequential amendments have also been made to the following standards to align them with Ind AS 117:

Ind AS 101 - First time Adoption of Indian Accounting Standards

Ind AS 103 - Business Combinations

Ind AS 105 - Non-current Assets Held for Sale and Discontinued Operations

Ind AS 107 - Financial Instruments : Disclosures

Ind AS 109 - Financial Instruments

Ind AS 115 - Revenue from Contracts with customers

Our Company has evaluated the impact of these amendments, and, in the opinion of the management, they do not have any material impact on its Restated Consolidated Financial Information.

FISCAL 2026 COMPARED TO FISCAL 2025

Total Income

Our total income increased by 42.31% from ₹662,520.50 million in Fiscal 2025 to ₹942,824.68 million in Fiscal 2026, primarily on account of an increase in our revenue from operations.

Revenue from operations

Our revenue from operations increased by 42.21% from ₹662,307.79 million in Fiscal 2025 to ₹941,862.12 million in Fiscal 2026, primarily on account of an increase in sales of product (bullion and jewellery) from ₹662,089.80 million in Fiscal 2025 to ₹941,495.08 million in Fiscal 2026. This increase was primarily due to: (i) an increase in the amount of gold and silver bullion sold, and (ii) an increase in the sale of jewellery. Further, the increase was also on account of an increase in the price of gold from Fiscal 2025 to Fiscal 2026.

Other income

Our other income increased from ₹212.71 million in Fiscal 2025 to ₹962.56 million in Fiscal 2026, primarily due to an increase in gain on derivative financial instrument from nil in Fiscal 2025 to ₹772.37 million in Fiscal 2026 on account of profit on commodity futures.

Expenses

Cost of materials consumed

Our cost of materials consumed increased by 9.25% from ₹189,480.77 million in Fiscal 2025 to ₹207,001.69 million in Fiscal 2026, primarily on account of expenses incurred to purchase higher volumes of doré bars and other unrefined gold and silver for our refining operations as well as an increase in the average price of such materials during Fiscal 2026 as compared to Fiscal 2025.

Purchases of stock in trade

Purchases of stock in trade increased by 56.15% from ₹468,497.85 million in Fiscal 2025 to ₹731,545.87 million in Fiscal 2026, primarily on account of expenses incurred to purchase higher volumes of refined gold and silver that we sold to customers as well as an increase in the average price of such materials during Fiscal 2026.

Changes in inventories of finished goods and stock in trade

Changes in inventories of finished goods and stock in trade was ₹(2,492.75) million in Fiscal 2026 as compared to ₹10.49 million in Fiscal 2025, primarily attributable to excess of closing inventory as compared to opening inventory due to the timing of manufacturing and sale of our products.

Employee benefits expense

Our employee benefits expense increased by 22.00% from ₹239.72 million in Fiscal 2025 to ₹292.45 million in Fiscal 2026, primarily due to: (i) an increase in salary to employees from ₹206.36 million in Fiscal 2025 to ₹243.84 million in Fiscal 2026, primarily on account of an increase in the number of employees; and (ii) increase in director remuneration from ₹11.20 million in Fiscal 2025 to ₹22.05 million in Fiscal 2026.

Finance costs

Our finance costs decreased by 84.48% from ₹119.37 million in Fiscal 2025 to ₹18.53 million in Fiscal 2026, primarily due to discontinuance of the practice of bill discounting on account of taking advances instead of giving credits and lower borrowings, leading to better management of funds during the year.

Depreciation and amortization expense

Our depreciation and amortization expense decreased by 10.90% from ₹81.44 million in Fiscal 2025 to ₹72.56 million in Fiscal 2026.

Other expenses

Our other expenses increased by 59.46% from ₹1,038.08 million in Fiscal 2025 to ₹1,655.36 million in Fiscal 2026, primarily due to an increase in: (i) commission and brokerage expenses from ₹385.81 million in Fiscal 2025 to ₹755.45 million in Fiscal 2026; (ii) loss on settlement /cancellation charges from ₹92.90 million in Fiscal 2025 to ₹201.02 million in Fiscal 2026; (iii) donation expenses from ₹14.72 million in Fiscal 2025 to ₹132.85 million in Fiscal 2026; and (iv) advertisement and business promotion expenses from ₹32.63 million in Fiscal 2025 to ₹56.70 million in Fiscal 2026.

Profit before tax for the year

Revenue from operations

Our revenue from operations increased by 89.66% from ₹349,214.93 million in Fiscal 2024 to ₹662,307.79 million in Fiscal 2025, primarily on account of an increase in sales of product (bullion and jewellery) from ₹348,948.29 million in Fiscal 2024 to ₹662,089.80 million in Fiscal 2025. This increase was primarily due to (i) an increase in the amount of gold and silver bullion sold, and (ii) an increase in the sale of jewellery. This was partially offset by a decrease in sale of services from ₹215.33 million in Fiscal 2024 to ₹194.98 million in Fiscal 2025 on account of a decrease in commission rate charged by our Subsidiary, Augmont Goldtech Private Limited, from 2% in Fiscal 2024 to 1% in Fiscal 2025, due to the transfer of backend operations from our Subsidiary to Finkurve Financial Services Limited.

Other income

Our other income decreased by 22.38% from ₹274.03 million in Fiscal 2024 to ₹212.71 million in Fiscal 2025, primarily due to decreases in: (i) foreign exchange fluctuation (net) from ₹94.89 million in Fiscal 2024 to ₹32.31 million in Fiscal 2025 on account of our export sales being denominated in Indian rupees instead of U.S. dollars in Fiscal 2025 pursuant to changes in regulations prescribed by the RBI, through its circular RBI/2022-2023/90 A.P. (DIR Series) Circular No.10, dated July 11, 2022; (ii) dividend income from ₹70.40 million in Fiscal 2024 to ₹42.88 million in Fiscal 2025 on account of a decrease in dividend received on our investments; and (iii) profit on sale of investment from ₹22.32 million in Fiscal 2024 to ₹0.49 million in Fiscal 2025 on account of sale of listed equity shares. This was partially offset by an increase in our interest income from loans from ₹32.38 million in Fiscal 2024 to ₹89.45 million in Fiscal 2025 on account of additional loans given.

Expenses

Cost of materials consumed

Our cost of materials consumed increased by 97.83% from ₹95,779.14 million in Fiscal 2024 to ₹189,480.77 million in Fiscal 2025, primarily on account of expenses incurred to purchase higher volumes of doré bars and other unrefined gold and silver for our refining operations as well as an increase in the average price of such materials during Fiscal 2025 as compared to Fiscal 2024.

Purchases of stock in trade increased by 86.41% from ₹251,322.99 million in Fiscal 2024 to ₹468,497.85 million in Fiscal 2025, primarily on account of expenses incurred to purchase higher volumes of refined gold and silver that we sold to customers as well as an increase in the average price of such materials during Fiscal 2025.

Changes in inventories of finished goods and stock in trade

Changes in inventories of finished goods and stock in trade was ₹70.41 million in Fiscal 2024 as compared to ₹10.49 million in Fiscal 2025, primarily attributable to the timing of manufacturing and sale of our products.

Employee benefits expense

Our employee benefits expense increased by 15.86% from ₹206.91 million in Fiscal 2024 to ₹239.72 million in Fiscal 2025, primarily due to increases in salary expenses from ₹178.31 million in Fiscal 2024 to ₹206.36 million in Fiscal 2025 on account of an increase in our number of employees as a result of growth in our business and compensation increments given to our employees.

Finance costs

Our finance costs decreased by 35.66% from ₹185.52 million in Fiscal 2024 to ₹119.37 million in Fiscal 2025, primarily due to a decrease in interest expenses from ₹185.45 million in Fiscal 2024 to ₹119.34 million in Fiscal 2025. This was on account of export sales being denominated in Indian rupees instead of U.S. dollars in Fiscal 2025 pursuant to changes in regulations prescribed by the RBI, through its circular RBI/2022-2023/90 A.P. (DIR Series) Circular No.10, dated July 11, 2022, which led to a decrease in interest expenses on bill discounting and packing credits.

QUANTITATIVE AND QUALITATIVE DISCLOSURES ABOUT MARKET RISK

We have established a risk management framework to identify and evaluate business risks, namely, market risk, credit risk and liquidity risk. We aim to minimize the effects of these risks by using derivative financial instruments to hedge risk exposures. The use of derivative financial instruments and investment of excess liquidity is governed by our policies approved by our Board of Directors, which provide written principles on the use of such instruments consistent with our risk management strategy.

Market risk

The market risks to which we are exposed are price risk and foreign currency risk. We are exposed to fluctuations in gold price (including fluctuations in foreign currency) arising on purchase/sale of gold. We are also exposed to foreign exchange risk arising through our sales and purchases denominated in various foreign currencies.

Trade receivables

We extend credit to customers in the normal course of business. We consider factors such as credit track record in the market and past dealings for extension of credit to customers. To manage credit risk, we periodically assesses the financial reliability of the customer, taking into account the financial condition, current economic trends, and analysis of historical bad debts and ageing of accounts receivables. Outstanding customer receivables are regularly monitored to make an assessment of recoverability. Receivables are provided as doubtful / written off, when there is no reasonable expectation of recovery. Where receivables have been provided / written off, we continue regular follow up, engage with the customers, legal options or other remedies available with the objective of recovering these outstandings. We are not exposed to concentration of credit risk to any one single customer since services are provided to a vast spectrum of customers. (i) Criminal proceedings

Except as disclosed below, as on the date of this Prospectus, there are no criminal proceedings initiated by our Company:

1. Our Company has on January 22, 2025 filed a miscellaneous application number 600242 of 2025 under Section 156 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 before the Additional Chief Metropolitan Magistrates Court at Girgaon, Mumbai ("Court") against Eskaybee International Pvt. Ltd. and others ("Accused" and such miscellaneous application, the "Application"), alleging that the Accused have committed offenses under Sections 403, 406, 407, 417, 418, 420, 425, 463, 465 and 120 (B) read with 34 of the Indian Penal Code, 1860, including criminal breach of trust, cheating, and mischief as they failed to honor the payment commitments, and provided dishonored cheques and fabricated documents, in relation to purchase of goods from our Company. Our Company through the Application seeks the Court to direct the Tardeo Police Station in Mumbai to register a first information report and investigate the matter and any other orders deemed fit by the court. Alternatively, our Company seeks the court's cognizance of the complaint and the issuance of process against the Accused after recording the verification statement. The matter is currently pending.
2. An FIR No. 0010 dated April 30, 2024 was registered at the Punjab State Cyber Crime Police Station, SAS Nagar, pursuant to a complaint lodged by Col. Sanjay Bhatia, alleging cyber fraud involving ₹36.01 million during the period February 14, 2024 to April 16, 2024 ("FIR"). As part of the investigation, our Company's bank account with SBI Bank, Nariman Point, Mumbai ("Bank Account"), was frozen to the extent of ₹13.90 million, due to allegations that ₹0.5 million of the fraudulently transferred monies had passed through layered accounts to our Company from M/s Chetan Jewellers, as consideration for a gold sale transaction. To seek relief, our Company filed an application before the Judicial Magistrate First Class, SAS Nagar, Mohali ("JMIC"), requesting de-freezing of the Bank Account. Subsequently, an order dated May 17, 2025 was passed by the JMIC ("JMIC Order") in CRM 2379-2025 allowing the de-freezing of the Bank Account only upon creation of a fixed deposit receipt of ₹8.58 million as surety, which exceeded the disputed amount and our Company considered the same to be disproportionate. Hence, our Company filed a criminal revision petition in 3693 of 2025 on June 12, 2025 ("Criminal Petition") before the District and Sessions Judge, SAS Nagar, Mohali ("Sessions Judge"), seeking modifications to the terms of de-freezing of the Bank Account as detailed under the order of the JMIC. Vide judgment dated October 24, 2025, the Sessions Judge allowed the Criminal Petition, set aside the JMIC Order, and remanded the matter to the JMIC for fresh consideration after seeking a detailed report from the investigating agency. Pursuant to remand, the JMIC reconsidered the matter and, vide final order dated December 3, 2025, allowed the application and directed de-freezing of the Bank Account subject to furnishing a Fixed Deposit Receipt (“FDR”) of ₹0.5 million only, corresponding to the disputed amount. Upon submission of the FDR, the Bank Account was directed to be de-frozen and the proceedings accordingly stand disposed of. However, the adjudication of the FIR is currently pending.

3. A search was conducted on January 10, 2019 at the principal place of business of our Company by officers of the CGST & Central Excise, Mumbai Central Commissionerate in connection with an investigation into certain alleged circular trading transactions involving gold bullion. During the course of the investigation, apprehending potential coercive action including arrest, Criminal Writ Petition No. 1309 of 2019 (“Writ Petition”) was filed by inter alia our Company and our Promoter and Whole-time Director, Ketan Bhawarlal Kothari, before the Hon’ble High Court of Judicature at Bombay (“Bombay High Court”) seeking protection against arrest in connection with the investigation. By an order dated March 11, 2019, the Bombay High Court directed that the petitioners therein and their officers, employees, agents, sellers and purchasers shall not be arrested in connection with the above investigation without following the procedure prescribed under the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973, subject to cooperation with the investigation and compliance with notices or summons.

Subsequently, a Show Cause Notice bearing No. 51/ADC/AE/MC/CGST/2023-24 dated November 2, 2023 was issued to our Company alleging wrongful availment of input tax credit (“ITC”) aggregating to ₹1,141.99 million and wrongful passing on of ITC aggregating to INR 1,465.32 million, along with proposed recovery of tax, interest and penalties under the CGST Act and corresponding state and integrated GST laws. Our Company filed a detailed reply and made submissions before the adjudicating authority. Thereafter, by Order-in-Original No. 145/JC(MS)/CGST&CEX/MC/2024-25 dated February 5, 2025, the Joint Commissioner, CGST & Central Excise, Mumbai Central Commissionerate dropped the proceedings in entirety, holding that the allegations were not substantiated by sufficient evidence. Accordingly, no demand of tax, interest or penalty survives against our Company pursuant to the aforesaid notice, and as of the date of this Prospectus, no appeal or further proceedings have been communicated to our Company in relation to the said order. However, Writ Petition in connection with the investigation remains pending as of the date of this Prospectus.

(ii) Material Civil Proceedings

Except as disclosed below, as on the date of this Prospectus, there are no material civil proceedings initiated by our Company:

1. Our Company, on February 16, 2017, filed Commercial Summary Suit No. 180 of 2017 (“Suit”) before the High Court of Judicature at Bombay under Order XXXVII of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 against Eskaybee International Private Limited and others (“Defendants”) initially seeking the recovery of ₹325.45 million along with interest at 18% per annum, and further remedies arising from non-payment for goods supplied and dishonoured cheques. Subsequent to inter alia a payment of ₹58.97 million by the Defendants, the amount sought to be recovered from the Defendants under the Suit was amended to restrict the claim to ₹192.21 million. On January 9, 2019, the High Court passed a decree in relation to the Suit in favour of our Company for ₹192.21 million as principal, ₹1.80 million as costs of the suit, and ₹43.79 million as interest (at 12% p.a. from February 16, 2017 to January 9, 2019), which amounted to an aggregate of ₹237.79 million.

Further, as of June 30, 2024, the amount due and payable under the decree, inclusive of accrued interest, stood at ₹364.12 million. Our Company has on September 3, 2024, filed execution application number 35166 of 2024 before the High Court of Judicature at Bombay seeking execution of decree dated January 09, 2019, and for the recovery of the decretal amount from the Defendants. Subsequently, our Company, has on September 3, 2024, interim application number 37222 of 2024 before the High Court of Judicature at Bombay seeking inter alia disclosure and attachment of assets, lifting the corporate veil, and injunctions to prevent dissipation of assets by the Defendants, their directors, ex-directors, and shareholders. The aforementioned applications are currently pending.

2. Our Company has, on January 28, 2026, filed Writ Petition No. 2534 of 2026 (“Writ Petition”) under Article 226 of the Constitution of India before the High Court for the State of Telangana at Hyderabad (“High Court”) against (i) Union of India, (ii) Metal Scrap Trade Corporation Limited (“MSTC”), and (iii) Security Printing and Minting Corporation of India Limited (“SPMCIL”) (collectively, the “Respondents”), challenging the unilateral cancellation of the e-auction bearing No. MSTC/HYD/SECURITY PRINTING AND MINTING CORPORATION OF INDIA LIMITED/4/CHERLAPALLY/25-26/49639 dated December 17, 2025.

Our Company was declared the successful highest bidder for lot nos. 01, 08 and 09 aggregating 906.932 kgs of refined silver bars, having a total transaction value of approximately ₹182.30 million, pursuant to the e-auction conducted on December 17, 2025. A sale intimation letter dated December 17, 2025, and a digitally signed acceptance letter dated December 19, 2025 were issued confirming the sale in favor of our Company. However, on December 22, 2025, MSTC issued emails cancelling the sale of the said lots citing “administrative reasons”. By email dated January 3, 2026, our Company objected to the cancellation, asserted that it was contrary to the auction terms and reiterated its readiness and willingness to pay the balance consideration and take delivery of the goods. Subsequently, by email dated January 5, 2026, SPMCIL relied on Clause 22 of the e-auction catalogue (reserving the right to cancel without assigning reasons) as the basis for such cancellation. Prior to the cancellation, our Company had deposited an aggregate amount of ₹17.69 million towards pre-bid earnest money deposit and security deposit.

Aggrieved by the cancellation of a concluded contract, our Company has sought, inter alia, (i) quashing of the cancellation emails dated December 22, 2025, (ii) a declaration that the cancellation is arbitrary, illegal and violative of Article 14 of the Constitution of India, and (iii) a direction to the Respondents to deliver 906.932 kgs of refined silver bars upon payment of the balance consideration of ₹164.65 million. In the Writ Petition, our Company has stated that it would incur a loss of ₹106.28 million in the event the cancellation is not set aside on account of further downstream commercial commitments.

Our Company has also filed interlocutory applications seeking interim relief restraining the Respondents from dealing with, auctioning, or creating third-party rights in respect of the said refined silver bars pending disposal of the Writ Petition. By order dated January 29, 2026, the High Court has directed the Respondents not to create third-party rights in respect of the said 906.932 kgs of refined silver bars until February 26, 2026. The matter is currently pending.

(b) Actions by statutory or regulatory authorities

As on the date of this Prospectus, there are no outstanding actions by statutory and regulatory authorities against our Subsidiaries.

(c) Outstanding legal proceedings by our Subsidiaries

(i) Criminal proceedings

Except as disclosed below, as on the date of this Prospectus, there are no criminal proceedings initiated by our Subsidiaries.

1. Augmont Goldtech Private Limited has on August 14, 2024 instituted criminal case number 700526/2024 before the Seventh Metropolitan Magistrate's Court at Dadar, Bhoiwada, Mumbai ("MMC") against Mr. Senthil N V, proprietor of R S Jewel Tech ("Accused"), alleging offences under Sections 138 and 142 of the Negotiable Instruments Act, 1881, in relation to the dishonour of a cheque for ₹12.25 million. The complaint arises from a business transaction where the Accused, after receiving advance payment for gold and partially delivering the contracted quantity, failed to deliver the balance and subsequently issued a cheque towards the outstanding amount, which was dishonoured due to insufficient funds. The Complainant seeks the issuance of process under the Negotiable Instruments Act, 1881 against the Accused, imposition of maximum imprisonment and compensation, and any other reliefs that the MMC may deem fit. The matter is currently pending.
2. An unauthorized-transaction dispute arose on the digital gold and silver trading platform of Augmont Goldtech Private Limited ("Petitioner"), which operates through authorized channel partners and integrated fintech platforms, including a partner mobile application known as "Navi". Between February 7, 2026 and February 11, 2026, approximately 250 transactions carried out by end users through Navi were subsequently disputed, with the aggregate disputed amount quantified at ₹10.84 million ("Disputed Transactions"). The Disputed Transactions became the subject matter of various complaints filed with police authorities by the end users, and on this basis, the Senior Inspector of Police, Cyber Crime Department, Bandra West, Mumbai ("Respondent No. 1") caused Axis Bank, Zaveri Bazar Branch ("Respondent No. 2"), to debit freeze the Petitioner's entire settlement bank account and impose a lien of ₹10.84 million on it, without prior notice to the Petitioner ("Impugned Debit Freezing").

The Petitioner discovered the Impugned Debit Freezing on February 9, 2026 during a routine account check, and thereafter made repeated communications through emails and letters to Respondent Nos. 1 and 2 between February 10, 2026 and February 16, 2026 seeking transaction-wise particulars, the statutory basis for the freeze, and restoration of debit functionality, retaining only the disputed amount by way of lien. Despite these representations, Respondent No. 2 confirmed that the freeze was pursuant to a statutory notice from a government agency and directed the Petitioner to coordinate directly with the concerned Cyber Crime Police Station for removal of the freeze. The Petitioner's bank statement reflects an available balance of approximately ₹83.68 million against the lien of ₹10.84 million, which the Petitioner contends renders the blanket freeze of the entire account manifestly disproportionate to the disputed amount.

The Petitioner has accordingly filed a writ petition before the High Court of Bombay against Respondent No. 1, Respondent No. 2, Axis Bank Corporate Office and the State of Maharashtra under Articles 14, 19(1)(g) and 226 of the Constitution of India, alleging that the blanket debit freeze was imposed without notice or disclosure of the underlying particulars, is disproportionate to the alleged disputed amount, has paralysed legitimate business operations and customer settlements, and is contrary to Section 106 of the Bharatiya Nagarik Suraksha Sanhita, 2023, particularly as the Petitioner is not an accused in the underlying complaints. The Petitioner has sought inter alia quashing and setting aside of the Impugned Debit Freezing or, in the alternative, its restriction to a lien limited to the disputed amount of ₹10.84 million, together with interim reliefs staying the Impugned Debit Freezing and directing disclosure of particulars. The matter is currently pending.

Our Company has obtained authentication on the SEBI SCORES platform and has complied with the SEBI circular bearing number SEBI/HO/OIAE/IGRD/CIR/P/2023/156 dated September 20, 2023 in relation to redressal of investor grievances through SCORES.

SEBI, by way of SEBI ICDR Master Circular, has identified the need to put in place measures, in order to manage and handle investor issues arising out of the UPI Mechanism inter alia in relation to delay in receipt of mandates by Bidders for blocking of funds due to systemic issues faced by Designated Intermediaries/SCSBs and failure to unblock funds for cancelled / withdrawn / deleted cases in the stock exchange platforms, failure to unblock funds in cases of partial allotment by the next working day from the finalisation of basis of allotment, failure to unblock the funds in cases of non-allotment by the Issue Closing Date, SCSBs blocking multiple amounts for the same UPI mechanism, and SCSBs blocking more amount in the investors’ accounts than the application amount. The compensation to investors for delay in unblocking of ASBA application monies (if any) shall be computed from T+3 day.

As per the SEBI ICDR Master Circular, SEBI has prescribed certain mechanisms to ensure proper management of investor issues arising out of the UPI Mechanism, including (i) identification of a nodal officer by SCSBs for the UPI Mechanism; (ii) delivery of SMS alerts and invoice in the inbox by SCSBs for blocking and unblocking of UPI Mandate Requests; (iii) periodic sharing of statistical details of mandate blocks/unblocks, performance of apps and UPI handles, network latency or downtime, etc., by the Sponsor Bank to the intermediaries forming part of the closed user group wide email; (iv) limiting the facility of reinitiating UPI Bids to Syndicate Members only to once per Bid; and (v) mandating SCSBs to ensure that the unblock process for non-allotted/partially allotted applications is completed by the closing hours of one Working Day subsequent to the finalisation of the Basis of Allotment.

In case of any delay in redressal of the investor grievance in relation to unblocking of amounts in the ASBA Accounts (including amounts blocked through the UPI Mechanism) exceeding two Working Days from the Bid / Offer Closing Date, in accordance with the SEBI ICDR Master Circular, the Bidder shall be compensated at a uniform rate of ₹100 per day or 15% per annum of the application amount, whichever is higher for the entire duration of delay exceeding two Working Days from the Bid / Offer Closing Date by the intermediary responsible for causing such delay in unblocking. The BRLMs shall, in their sole discretion, identify and fix the liability on such intermediary or entity responsible for such delay in unblocking.

In terms of SEBI ICDR Master Circular and subject to applicable law, any ASBA Bidder whose Bid has not been considered for Allotment, due to failure on the part of any SCSB, shall have the option to seek redressal of the same by the concerned SCSB within three months of the date of listing of the Equity Shares. SCSBs are required to resolve these complaints within 15 days, failing which the concerned SCSB would have to pay interest at the rate of 15% per annum or such other rate of interest as may be prescribed under applicable law for any delay beyond this period of 15 days.

Anchor Investors are required to address all grievances in relation to the Offer to the BRLMs.

The following compensation mechanism shall be applicable for investor grievances in relation to Bids made through the UPI Mechanism for public issues, for which the relevant SCSBs shall be liable to compensate the investor:

Scenario	Compensation amount	Compensation period
Delayed unblock for cancelled / withdrawn / deleted applications	₹100 per day or 15% per annum of the Bid Amount, whichever is higher	From the date on which the request for cancellation / withdrawal / deletion is placed on the bidding platform of the Stock Exchanges till the date of actual unblock
Blocking of multiple amounts for the same Bid made through the UPI Mechanism	1. Instantly revoke the blocked funds other than the original application amount; and 2. ₹100 per day or 15% per annum of the total cumulative blocked amount except the original Bid Amount, whichever is higher	From the date on which multiple amounts were blocked till the date of actual unblock
Blocking more amount than the Bid Amount	1. Instantly revoke the difference amount, i.e., the blocked amount less the Bid Amount; and 2. ₹100 per day or 15% per annum of the difference amount, whichever is higher	From the date on which the funds to the excess of the Bid Amount were blocked till the date of actual unblock
Delayed unblock for non – Allotted/ partially Allotted applications	₹100 per day or 15% per annum of the Bid Amount, whichever is higher	From three Working Days from Bid/Offer Closing Date till the date of actual unblock

Further, in the event there are any delays in resolving the investor grievance beyond the date of receipt of the complaint from the investor, for each day delayed, the post-Offer BRLM shall be liable to compensate the investor ₹100 per day or 15% per annum of the Bid Amount, whichever is higher. The compensation shall be payable for the period ranging from the day on which the investor grievance is received till the date of actual unblock.

The processing fees for applications made by UPI Bidders using the UPI Mechanism may be released to the remitter banks (SCSBs) only after such banks provide a written confirmation on compliance with SEBI RTA Master Circular.

Further, in terms of SEBI ICDR Master Circular, the payment of processing fees to the SCSBs shall be undertaken pursuant to an application made by the SCSBs to the BRLMs, and such application shall be made only after (i) unblocking of application amounts for each application received by the SCSB has been fully completed, and (ii) applicable compensation relating to investor complaints has been paid by the SCSB.

None among our Company, the Promoter Selling Shareholders or any member of the Syndicate is liable for any failure in (i) uploading the Bids due to faults in any software/ hardware system or otherwise; and (ii) the blocking of Bid Amount in the ASBA Account on receipt of instructions from the Sponsor Bank(s) on account of any errors, omissions or non-compliance by various parties involved in, or any other fault, malfunctioning or breakdown in, or otherwise, in the UPI Mechanism.

The Designated Intermediaries could modify select fields uploaded in the Stock Exchange Platform during the Bid/Offer Period till 5.00 pm on the Bid/Offer Closing Date after which the Stock Exchange(s) sends the bid information to the Registrar to the Offer for further processing.

In case of discrepancy in data entered in the electronic book vis-à-vis data contained in the Bid cum Application Form for a particular Bidder, the details as per the Bid file received from the Stock Exchanges were taken as the final data for the purpose of Allotment.

Phased implementation of Unified Payment Interface Mechanism as per the UPI Circulars

SEBI has issued the UPI Circulars in relation to streamlining the process of public issue of, inter alia, equity shares. Pursuant to the UPI Circulars, the UPI Mechanism has been introduced in a phased manner as a payment mechanism (in addition to mechanism of blocking funds in the account maintained with SCSBs under ASBA) for applications by UPI Bidders through Designated Intermediaries with the objective to reduce the time duration from public issue closure to listing from six Working Days to up to three Working Days. Considering the time required for making necessary changes to the systems and to ensure complete and smooth transition to the UPI payment mechanism, the UPI Circulars have introduced the UPI Mechanism in three phases in the following manner:

Phase I: This phase was applicable from January 1, 2019 until March 31, 2019 or floating of five main board public issues, whichever was later. Subsequently, the timeline for implementation of Phase I was extended till June 30, 2019. Under this phase, an RII had the option to submit the ASBA Form with any of the Designated Intermediary and use his/ her UPI ID for the purpose of blocking of funds. The time duration from public issue closure to listing continued to be six Working Days.

Phase II: This phase was applicable from July 1, 2019 and the continuation of this phase was extended until March 31, 2020 vide SEBI circular no. SEBI/HO/CFD/DCR2/CIR/P/2019/133 dated November 8, 2019. Under this phase, submission of the ASBA Form by UPI Bidders through Designated Intermediaries (other than SCSBs) to SCSBs for blocking of funds was discontinued and replaced by the UPI Mechanism. However, the time duration from public issue closure to listing continued to be six Working Days during this phase. Further, pursuant to SEBI circular no. SEBI/HO/CFD/DIL2/CIR/P/2020/50 dated March 30, 2020, this phase was extended till further notice.

Phase III: This phase has become applicable on a voluntary basis for all issues opening on or after September 1, 2023 and on a mandatory basis for all issues opening on or after December 1, 2023, vide SEBI circular bearing number SEBI/HO/CFD/TPD1/CIR/P/2023/140 dated August 9, 2023 ("T+3 Notification"). In this phase, the time duration from public issue closure to listing has been reduced to three Working Days. The Offer shall be undertaken pursuant to the processes and procedures as notified in the T+3 Notification as applicable, subject to any circulars, clarification or notification issued by the SEBI from time to time, including any circular, clarification or notification which may be issued by SEBI.

The Offer was made under Phase III of the UPI (on a mandatory basis) in accordance with the SEBI ICDR Master Circular and the T+3 Notification.

All SCSBs offering facility of making application in public issues shall also provide facility to make application using UPI. Our Company was required to appoint one of the SCSBs as a sponsor bank to act as a conduit between the Stock Exchanges and NPCI in order to facilitate collection of requests and / or payment instructions of the UPI Bidders using the UPI.

Pursuant to the SEBI ICDR Master Circular, SEBI has set out specific requirements for redressal of investor grievances for applications that have been made through the UPI Mechanism. The requirements of the UPI Circular include, appointment of a nodal officer by the SCSB and submission of their details to SEBI, the requirement for SCSBs to send SMS alerts for the blocking and unblocking of UPI mandates, the requirement for the Registrar to submit details of cancelled, withdrawn or deleted applications, and the requirement for the bank accounts of unsuccessful Bidders to be unblocked no later than one Working Day from the date on which the Basis of Allotment is finalised. Failure to unblock the accounts within the timeline would result in the SCSBs being penalised under the relevant securities law.

The processing fees for applications made by UPI Bidders using the UPI Mechanism was released to the SCSBs only after such banks provided a written confirmation on compliance with the SEBI ICDR Master Circular. NPCI vide circular reference no. NPCI/UPI/OC No. 127/ 2021-22 dated December 09, 2021, inter alia, has enhanced the per transaction limit in UPI from more than ₹0.20 million to ₹0.50 million for UPI based ASBA in initial public offerings.

RESTRICTIONS ON FOREIGN OWNERSHIP OF INDIAN SECURITIES

Foreign investment in Indian securities is regulated through the Industrial Policy, 1991 of the Government of India and FEMA. While the Industrial Policy, 1991 prescribes the limits and the conditions subject to which foreign investment can be made in different sectors of the Indian economy, FEMA regulates the precise manner in which such investment may be made. Under the Industrial Policy, 1991 unless specifically restricted, foreign investment is freely permitted in all sectors of the Indian economy up to any extent and without any prior approvals, but the foreign investor is required to follow certain prescribed procedures for making such investment. The RBI and the concerned ministries/departments are responsible for granting approval for foreign investment. The Government has from time to time made policy pronouncements on foreign direct investment (“FDI”) through press notes and press releases. The regulatory framework, over a period of time, thus, consists of acts, regulations, press notes, press releases, and clarifications among other amendments. The Department for Promotion of Industry and Internal Trade, Ministry of Commerce and Industry (formerly Department of Industrial Policy and Promotion), Government of India (“DPIIT”), issued the Consolidated FDI Policy Circular of 2020 (“FDI Policy”), which, with effect from October 15, 2020, subsumes and supersedes all press notes, press releases, clarifications, circulars issued by the DPIIT, which were in force as on October 15, 2020. The FDI Policy will be valid until the DPIIT issues an updated circular. Bidders are advised to make their independent investigations, seek independent legal advice about its ability to participate in the Offer and ensure that the number of Equity Shares Bid for do not exceed the applicable limits under laws or regulations.

The transfer of shares between an Indian resident and a non-resident does not require the prior approval of the RBI, provided that: (i) the activities of the investee company are under the automatic route under the foreign direct investment policy and transfer does not attract the provisions of the SEBI Takeover Regulations; (ii) the non-resident shareholding is within the sectoral limits under the FDI policy; and (iii) the pricing is in accordance with the guidelines prescribed by the SEBI/RBI.

On October 17, 2019, Ministry of Finance, Department of Economic Affairs, had notified the FEMA Rules, which had replaced the Foreign Exchange Management (Transfer and Issue of Security by a Person Resident Outside India) Regulations 2017. Foreign investment in this Offer shall be on the basis of the FEMA Rules. Further, in accordance with Press Note No. 3 (2020 Series), dated April 17, 2020 read with Press Note No. 2 (2026 Series) issued by the DPIIT and the Foreign Exchange Management (Non-debt Instruments) Amendment Rules, 2020 which came into effect from April 22, 2020, any investment, subscription, purchase or sale of equity instruments by entities of a country which shares land border with India or where the beneficial owner of an investment into India is a citizen of any such country, will require prior approval of the Government, as prescribed in the Consolidated FDI Policy and the FEMA Rules. Further, in the event of transfer of ownership of any existing or future foreign direct investment in an entity in India, directly or indirectly, resulting in the beneficial ownership falling within the aforesaid restriction, such subsequent change in the beneficial ownership will also require approval of the Government. Pursuant to the Foreign Exchange Management (Non-debt Instruments) (Fourth Amendment) Rules, 2020 issued on December 8, 2020 read with Press Note No. 2 (2026 Series) issued by the DPIIT, a multilateral bank or fund, of which India is a member, shall not be treated as an entity of a particular country nor shall any country be treated as the beneficial owner of the investments of such bank or fund in India. Provided further that the investments into India from an investor entity having any direct or indirect ownership by a citizen or an entity of a country sharing land border with India and not requiring prior government approval shall be subject to reporting requirements specified by the RBI. These investment restrictions shall also apply to subscribers of offshore derivative instruments.

As per the FDI Policy and the FEMA Rules, the sectoral cap for foreign investment in companies engaged in the sector that we operate in is up to 100% of the paid-up share capital of such company under the automatic route. Our Board and Shareholders have set the limit of foreign investment to 49% of the issued and paid up share capital, at any point of time, pursuant to their resolutions dated June 12, 2025 and June 13, 2025, respectively.

As per the existing policy of the Government of India, OCBs cannot participate in this Offer. For further details, see “Offer Procedure” on page 476.
